THIS PROGRAM ORIGINATED WITH OUR WEATHFUG ACTIVITIES, HOWEVER, THE FRAUDULENT USE OF DECEASED INFANT IDENTITY PAPERS HAS EXPANDED TO SUCH A DEGREE THAT THE VAST MAJORITY INVOLVE CRIMINAL ACTIVITIES OTHER THAN SECURITY WORK. SEVEN OF THE 56 AGENTS ON SECURITY ARE INVOLVED FULL TIME IN FUGITIVE INVESTIGATIONS WHICH ORIGINATE WITH SOME DEMONSTRATION OR ACT OF TERROR, ETC, BUT AT THE PRESENT THEY ARE CLEAR CUT CRIMINAL FUGITIVE INVESTIGATIONS. ONE OF THE 56 IS INVOLVED FULL TIME IN THE HANDLING OF FOREIGN POLICE COOPERATION MATTERS WHICH IS TECHNICALLY AN APPLICANT-TYPE INVESTIGATION, BUT THE 163 CLASSIFICATION WAS INCLUDED IN THE SECURITY CLASSIFICATIONS. Memorandum captioned as above, 3/27/75, from Legal Counsel to you, noted that you and Wannall were to meet with Mr. Hills and Mr. Phillip Buchen, Counsel to the President, on 3/28/75. Your addendum to the memorandum pointed out the results of this meeting and the various matters discussed.

As a follow-up to this meeting, you, Legal Counsel Mintz and Wannall met on 4/4/75 with Mr. James Wilderotter, who is presently working under Mr. Buchen in coordinating intelligence community matters relating to the inquiries underway by the Senate Select Committee. Mr. Wilderotter was given a briefing similar to that which had been afforded to Buchen and Hills. In addition, the discussion covered matters of a sensitive nature relating to the ORCHID and similar programs, electronic surveillances, specialized handling of informants, and Bureau Source 4 (access to social security records). Many of these matters discussed covered topics with which Mr. Wilderotter had become familiar when he was assigned to the Department as an Assistant to former Deputy Attorney General Silberman. (S)

Wilderotter said it was the feeling at The White House that while raw FBI files should not be made available to the Committee, it might be necessary to permit the Committee to review a few such files in order that the integrity of the FBI could be established with the Committee. It was pointed out to him that we did not agree to this, that we could furnish summaries of material from the files. Wilderotter said he did not feel that furnishing reports and letterhead memoranda which had been prepared for dissemination would satisfy the Committee's needs. He was advised by both you and Mr. Mintz that it was our feeling that we should not furnish the raw material but summaries could be prepared for the Committee's purposes and if necessary, Bureau officials could be placed under oath and attest to the correctness of the summaries. Wilderotter said that this was a matter which he would afford further consideration.

As during the conference with Buchen and Hills, it was obvious as the result of our meeting with Wilderotter that The White House was most anxious that it not be caught by surprise by revelations of activities which in any way might be considered questionable. The White House is making every effort possible to become cognizant of any such situation prior to the Committee hearings.

UNITED STATES SENATE SELECT COMMITTEE TO STUDY GOVERNMENTAL OPERATIONS WITH RESPECT TO INTELLIGENCE ACTIVITIES

Reference is made to letter dated March 19, 1975, to the Attorney General from the Chairman of captioned Committee, which enclosed certain requests for documents and other information from the Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI).

One of the requests contained in referenced letter was for a list of names and titles of all Intelligence Division personnel at FBI Headquarters down to and including unit chiefs, together with a number of personnel below the level of unit chief categorized by unit. At a meeting on April 1, 1975, Inspector John B. Hotis and Special Agent Paul V. Daly discussed this request with Mr. William Miller, Staff Director of the Senate Select Committee. It was agreed that the request as stated would be modified and that the FBI would prepare a list of personnel in the Intelligence Division down to the level of unit chief, with names included, which would be made available for review by appropriately cleared personnel of the committee staff at FBI Headquarters.

This is to advise that the list has been prepared and is available for review under the above conditions.

SUBJECT: JOHN T. ELLIFF
ASSOCIATE PROFESSOR OF POLITICS
BRANDEIS UNIVERSITY
WALTHAM, MASSACHUSETTS

On 3-18-75 Professor John T. Elliff advised Inspector John B. Hotis that he had been contacted by William Miller, Staff Director for the Senate Select Committee on Intelligence Activities, and was asked to serve as Director of the Committee's Task Force on Domestic Intelligence. This is one of four Task Forces being formed by the Select Committee and it will focus primarily on the activities of the FBI. The other Task Forces are on Foreign Intelligence, Military and Technological Intelligence, and Command and Control.

Elliff said he had not decided whether to accept the offer and believed that others were also being considered for the position. He said he was reluctant to do anything that would interfere with the excellent working arrangements he had developed with the Bureau. He feels that his initial obligation is to the Director, and the purpose of going to the Police Foundation was to get formal support for a project that would be of primary benefit to the Bureau and only secondarily to the Attorney General and Congress. He said he would be guided by our judgment in this matter and not want to break any commitments that he might have made with the Bureau.

ORIGINAL FILED IN 62-11[illegible]-26

If he accepts the appointment Elliff said he would, of course, suspend work on his research project until he had terminated his employment with the Committee. He said he would also agree not to use any classified material that he acquired in his capacity as Task Force Director. Elliff has discussed this matter with John Heaphy, Assistant Director of the Police Foundation. Heaphy said the Foundation had no objections whatsoever for his accepting the position with the Senate Select Committee, and he would be free to resume his project after the Committee work was done.

It should be noted that the Select Committee considered offering the position to Larry Baskir, Counsel to the President's Clemency Board. Mr. Baskir formerly served as Chief Counsel to Senator Ervin's Subcommittee on Constitutional Rights, and we had numerous contacts with him in that capacity. Our purpose was to reach some common agreement on privacy legislation that Senator Ervin planned to introduce in the 93rd Session of Congress. There were numerous meetings with Baskir on the same subject in the Deputy Attorney General's office. These efforts proved unsuccessful and after several months we discontinued the discussions. In our opinion, Mr. Baskir was unwilling to work out any reasonable compromise and seemed unsympathetic to the ~~legislation~~ legitimate concerns of law enforcement.

B.C.

It is clear that this is a matter for Professor Elliff to determine and the Bureau should not express an official opinion. Although we have not always agreed with his views on intelligence matters, we have had no occasion to question his objectivity or his integrity as a scholar. Mr. Miller knows that Professor Elliff enjoys our confidence and it is our understanding that he offered Elliff the position in order to avoid an adversary relationship between the Bureau and the Committee.

Professor Elliff said he would make no commitments to the Senate Committee until he hears from us.

RECOMMENDATION:

That Professor Elliff be advised that it would be inappropriate for us to express an opinion on whether he should accept the appointment offered by the Senate Select Committee.

SUBJECT: SENSTUDY 75

This memorandum reports the results of a meeting of the Ad Hoc Coordinating Group on Congressional Review of the Intelligence Community (hereafter referred to as the Group), held at CIA Headquarters on the afternoon of 3/25/75.

This meeting was chaired by Mr. Colby in his role as the Director of Central Intelligence. In attendance were Mr. Philip Buchen, Counsel to the President; the then Deputy AG Laurence Silberman, Associate Deputy AG James Wilderotter; Mr. John Clarke, as well as officials from Defense, Treasury, National Security Council, Office of Management and Budget, and the Energy Research and Development Administration.

The following items of interest were discussed:

Mr. William G. Miller, Staff Director of the Senate Select Committee (SSC), and the Committee's Counsel, Mr. F.A.O. Schwarz, III, visited CIA Headquarters to discuss SSC business. Mr. Miller suggested that a tactic the SSC was considering is the identification of several key issues that the Committee could look into in-depth. For example, the SSC might propose to identify two or three covert actions engaged in by CIA and examine them in-depth rather than try to cover each and every covert action CIA might identify. Colby advised that this appeared to be an encouraging development and possibly each agency of the Intelligence Community might be asked to provide a series of key issues from which the Select Committee could select one or two for an in-depth study.

EX 104 REC-10 62-116395-51

The question of the SSC staff signing a Secrecy Agreement is still not settled. The Staff Director raised some constitutional questions regarding the Secrecy Agreement. Mr. Schwarz admitted, however, that some type of arrangement would have to be made to insure that the Intelligence Community had some protection against unauthorized disclosures by staff members of the SSC.

ENCLOSURE
APR 14 1976

Both Miller and Schwarz accepted the Third Agency Rule and agreed to abide by it. For the record, the SSC's interpretation of the Third Agency Rule (which is consistent with the Intelligence Community) is as follows: Classified information or material originating in one department shall not be disseminated outside any other department to which it has been made available without the consent of the originating department.

The Security Committee of the United States Intelligence Board (USIB) will meet to develop some ground rules and standardization for sanitizing documents to be furnished to the Select Committees.

The question of Intelligence Community personnel being represented by counsel was discussed. The position of the White House on this issue has been fully reported in a memorandum from the Legal Counsel to Mr. Adams, dated 3/27/75, entitled "Senate Select Committee on Intelligence Activities, Rodney Hills Associate Counsel to the President."

It was also agreed at the meeting of 3/25/75 that the President's Counsel would attempt to negotiate with the SSC to insure that all interviews of Intelligence Community personnel would be conducted on the premises of the bureau, agency or department employing the persons to be interviewed.

Attached also for the record are the following:

A letter dated 3/20/75 from Staff Director William G. Miller to Mr. John Clarke advising that Mr. Ben Marshall has been designated as the Security Officer of the SSC;

A letter dated 3/17/75 from Mr. Miller to Mr. Clarke listing employees of the SSC who have been cleared by the Committee for certification by CIA for access to classified information up to and including "Top Secret";

A letter from Mr. Miller to Mr. Clarke dated 3/20/75 advising that Mr. Ben Marshall was cleared for access to classified information up to and including "Top Secret";

CONTINUED - OVER

A memorandum from the Chairman of the USIB Security Committee advising that arrangements had been perfected for the delivery of classified documents to the SSC and describing how such documents should be delivered.

1. On 19 March 1975 I telephonically inquired of Mr. Benjamin C. Marshall, Security Officer of the Senate Select Committee, whether he was in a position to begin receiving classified documents. He advised that arrangements had been perfected and that effective 20 March 1975 such documents could be delivered as follows:

2. Mr. Marshall requested that prior to delivery he or someone in his office be telephonically advised (224-1700) of the impending delivery and the estimated time of arrival so that he or someone from his office can be available. He also stated that if delivery was desired to a specific staff member, Mr. Marshall would try and have such person available, but stated he was authorized to accept documents for members of the Committee and staff.

3. The Committee has not yet advised as to compartmented clearances but Mr. Marshall has been designated Compartmentation

INFORMATIVE NOTE

Date 4/25/75

You were previously advised that Douglas Durham, former MP 4115-E, who has furnished high-level information regarding activities of the American Indian Movement (AIM), after being confronted by AIM leaders, admitted being a confidential informant for the FBI. This information has been made public.

Attached teletype from Omaha advises that Assistant U. S. Attorney Keith E. Uhl, Office of Special Prosecutor, stated he received a telephone call 4/24/75 from Durham and that Durham told him he had been contacted by representatives of the Office of Senator Frank Church, Washington, D. C., requesting Durham's presence in Washington during the week of April 28, 1975, for purpose of attending staff meetings to determine his potential as a witness before committee investigating operations of the FBI. Durham indicated he intended to comply and would have no further contact with the FBI. We are following this matter closely and you will be kept advised.

SUBJECT: INTELLIGENCE DIVISION POSITION PAPER ON AUTHORITY TO CONDUCT NATIONAL SECURITY INTELLIGENCE INVESTIGATIONS

~~Security~~ Jurisdiction

The purpose of this memorandum is to summarize investigative efforts to authenticate Hoover memoranda dated 8/24-25/36.

Document Section, FBI Laboratory, determined the type appearing on Hoover memorandum dated 8/25/36 was prepared on a Remington typewriter with an elite type used since October, 1935. Hoover memorandum to Tamm dated 9/10/36, was prepared on an IBM typewriter with pica-style type used since 1930.

The letterhead used on both Hoover memoranda of 8/24-25/36 was authorized FBI stationery effective August 14, 1936.

On 3/10/75, Mr. Donald B. Schewe, Assistant Librarian, Reference Archives, Franklin D. Roosevelt Library, Hyde Park, New York, advised that The White House Ushers Appointment Book contained entries showing that on Thursday, August 24, 1936, from 9:20 a.m. to 10:12 a.m., President Roosevelt met with Mr. Hoover in his residence at The White House prior to leaving for his office. Schewe pointed out that this meeting was significant since President Roosevelt met Mr. Hoover immediately after returning from an extended trip, a departure from his usual practice. There was no entry on 8/25/36, other than the President's departure for the Dakotas at 10:40 p.m.

On 4/2/75, review of Cordell Hull Papers, Library of Congress, reflected that a Desk Diary (container #68, folder #295, microfilm #38) of Secretary Hull contained an entry on 8/25/36 that the Secretary had luncheon with the President between 1:00 p.m. to 3:15 p.m.

MEMORANDUM FOR MR. TAMM
FROM JOHN EDGAR HOOVER
DATED SEPTEMBER 10, 1936;
CONFIDENTIAL MEMORANDUM BY JOHN EDGAR HOOVER DATED AUGUST 25, 1936.

On this date, SA Alonzo L. Lacey of the Intelligence Division delivered the above-captioned memoranda to the Laboratory with a request to determine the make of typewriter employed in the preparation of the memoranda and the date of introduction of the type styles employed. The purpose of this investigation was to ascertain whether or not the type styles on the typewriters used to write the memoranda were in use on the dates appearing on the memoranda.

It was determined that the "Memorandum For Mr. Tamm from John Edgar Hoover dated September 10, 1936" was prepared on an IBM typewriter equipped with a pica style of type which has been in use since 1930. The typewriting comprising the "Confidential Memorandum by John Edgar Hoover dated August 25, 1936" was determined to have been prepared on a Remington typewriter equipped with an elite style of type that has been in use since October, 1935.

The memoranda were returned to SA Lacey.

RESEARCH CONDUCTED AT FRANKLIN D.
ROOSEVELT LIBRARY, HYDE PARK, NY
ON 3/10-12/75

On 3/10/74, Mr. DONALD B. SCHEWE, Assistant Librarian in the Reference Archives, Franklin D. Roosevelt Library, Hyde Park, NY, was advised of our interest in locating any communications bearing upon a conversation between former President FRANKLIN D. ROOSEVELT and former Secretary of State CORDELL HULL in the latter part of August, 1936. Mr. SCHEWE was advised that this conversation was concerned with the security of the US and that Mr. J. EDGAR HOOVER of the FBI may have participated in this conversation. Mr. SCHEWE was also advised that Mr. ROOSEVELT allegedly reduced the subject matter of above conversation to a memorandum and that we were interested in locating this memorandum or some information bearing upon above conversation. Arrangements were made to meet with Mr. SCHEWE at the Franklin D. Roosevelt Library in Hyde Park, NY, on 3/12/75. Mr. SCHEWE indicated that in the meantime he would conduct some research in this matter.

On 3/12/75, Mr. SCHEWE advised that he had conducted some research relative to our telephone call on 3/10/75, and inquired if we could be more specific with regard to the dates of the information desired. SCHEWE was advised that to the best of our knowledge the conversation we were interested in involving FRANKLIN D. ROOSEVELT (FDR), HULL and Mr. HOOVER, occurred on approximately 8/24-26/36 and that the conversation concerned the internal security of the US.

Mr. SCHEWE, at this point, furnished a Xerox copy of a "buck slip" dated 8/24/36, (copy of which is attached) on White House stationery, classified "Confidential and addressed to the Secretary of State from FDR". Mr. SCHEWE stated that "buck slips" are nothing more than a cover memorandum utilized to transmit communications which are attached thereto. It is to be noted that this "buck slip" indicates that attached to it was a memorandum for the Secretary of State, unsigned, undated and recommending coordination of activities of all agents of the Government in foreign countries. SCHEWE advised that the synopsis of this memorandum which appears on the "buck slip" was the usual practice at that time to identify the documents attached to it. SCHEWE added that this was the only document he was able to locate which may have some bearing on the desired information. SCHEWE stated that the possibility exists that the referred to memorandum may be located among the collection of papers of CORDELL HULL which are now stored at the Library of Congress, Washington, D.C.

Mr. SCHEWE then exhibited to interviewing personnel the White House Ushers Appointment Book which was hand-written and kept on a daily basis. This appointment book contained the following pertinent information:

> Thursday, August 13, 1936, at 9:50 AM FDR departed the White House for a visit to the flood areas in NY, Ohio and Pennsylvania.
> Thursday, August 24, 1936, FDR returned to White House at 8:45 AM.
> 9:20 AM FDR met with Mr. HOOVER from 9:20 AM to 10:12 AM.
> (Note * - There is no entry in this book for Aug. 24, 1936, indicating that Mr. HULL was there. Mr. SCHEWE advised that it is interesting to note that FDR met Mr. HOOVER in his residence in the White House on 8/24/36, prior to leaving for his office in the White House. SCHEWE also pointed out that this meeting was significant since FDR met with Mr. HOOVER on 8/24/36, immediately after returning from an extended trip. This, according to SCHEWE was a departure from FDR's usual practice.

There was no record in the White House Usher's Appointment Book for 8/25/36, which would indicate that FDR met with either Mr. HULL or Mr. HOOVER on that date. This book indicates that FDR departed the White House on Tuesday, 8/25/75, at 10:40 PM for a trip to the draught areas, in upper Maine, South Dakota and North Dakota, as well as a visit to Mt. Rushmore. FDR did not return to the White House until Sunday, Sept. 6, 1936, at 10:02 AM.

The White House Usher's Appointment Book further reflects that FDR, during the period July 10, 1936, to Aug. 10, 1936, was away from the White House campaigning. FDR returned to the White House on 8/10/36, and remained there until 8/13/36, when he again departed on a trip and returned on 8/24/36. FDR also departed from the White House on 8/25/36, and returned on 9/6/36.

Mr. SCHEWE also produced to interviewing personnel the appointment book of FDR's private secretary, GRACE TULLY for the pertinent period. This appointment book reflects all of FDR's office appointments. A review of this appointment book fails to reflect that FDR met or had an appointment with Mr. HOOVER in his office during the period 8/13/36 to 9/6/36. However, this appointment book does reflect that during this period FDR did have a meeting with CORDELL HULL on 8/25/36, at 1:00 PM.

Mr. SCHEWE further advised that he personally reviewed the following and was unable to locate any documents or references which could possibly shed some light on the matter of interest to us:

1.) Papers kept in FDR's safe.

2.) Papers kept by his secretary in a separate White House safe.

3.) Papers kept in FDR's official presidential file.

4.) Papers kept in FDR's alphabetical file maintained by his secretary.

6.) J. EDGAR HOOVER's file.

7.) Attorney General's file.

8.) Assistant Attorney General's file.

9.) National Security file.

10.) Internal Security file.

11.) FBI file.

In conclusion, Mr. SCHEWE stated that after reviewing all of the above data, he concluded that the pertinent document of interest to us is not at the FDR Library at Hyde Park, NY. SCHEWE added that if any such document is at the Library, it is misfiled and as there are approximately 21 million pages of manuscripts and documents at the Library, it would be impossible to locate same.

It is to be noted that on the enclosed "buck slip" there are four penciled notations, i.e. 285-C, X20, X285 and X67. SCHEWE stated that these notations are part of the FDR Library cross-reference system. SCHEWE added that he checked these references and could locate nothing further regarding the matter of interest to us. SCHEWE stated that these references pertained to the enclosed "buck slip".

FARRINGTON

On 2/6/75 Mr. Kelley and I met with Senator Church and Bill Miller, Staff Director of the Senate Select Committee. Senator Church pointed out that he intended to run the Committee in a very responsible manner, had no intention of destroying or impairing the effectiveness of the intelligence community and, in fact, hoped that the efforts of the Committee would help to reestablish public confidence in the intelligence agencies.

Parameters have not been drawn but Senator Church feels that the Committee will confine its activities largely to inquiries into domestic activities. The inquiries will be designed to determine whether agencies have acted outside the law and the type of remedial legislation necessary to prevent such abuses in the future.

Study will be largely concerned with the activities of the Central Intelligence Agency but will, of course, involve the FBI and other agencies involved in domestic intelligence.

The Committee hopes to have a nonpartisan staff of approximately 40 employees headed up by Mr. Miller and would appreciate having necessary background investigations expedited to permit an early clearance. Miller indicated he has already been in touch with Mr. Hotis and Mr. Bowers in this regard. It was explained that the contemplated procedure involved the FBI conducting the full-field investigation necessary with the results being furnished to the Chairman, after which he would, upon being personally satisfied as to their loyalty, furnish the results to CIA for final clearance. Senator Church appeared satisfied with this arrangement. He stated that he wanted to prevent leaks and be hopefully as successful as the Judiciary Committee was on the impeachment inquiry. Our experience in this regard was pointed out wherein the Judiciary Committee in connection with the 17 wiretaps had written us a letter indicating that if we made classified information available they would afford it appropriate security restricted to members only, excluding staff, and would not make the information public. Subsequent to the hearings, the Committee published its report which contained our classified documents right along with the Top Secret classifications. Senator Church was not aware of this, appeared surprised by it, and stated surely the information must have been declassified. I advised him that not by us and it was our information.

Senator Church was asked whether in his opinion the formation of the Select Committee would have any effect on the proliferation of committees seeking to obtain testimony from the FBI and it was his opinion that this would have a favorable effect. He said he had been in touch with other members of the Senate who felt that it was a waste of time to have repetitious testimony on the same subject matter before a variety of committees and he had the feeling that the other committees would hold off until after the Senate Select Committee completed its hearings. He indicated that he could not vouch for what would happen in the House, however, he intended to speak to the House leadership in order to try to effect some coordinated approach there also, because he was well aware of the large number of committees seeking to provide oversight or obtain information from the intelligence agencies.

A question arose as to the extent of cooperation with the Committee and Senator Church was assured that the FBI would be completely responsive subject to certain limitations which would have to be delineated by the President in order to protect sensitive sources and information. Senator Church indicated that he was going to talk to the President in this regard in order to secure his complete cooperation, and it was Senator Church's feeling that the Committee should be entitled to answers to any questions they might ask without restriction other than, of course, the identities of informants. He felt the progress of the Committee would be severely impaired if it were necessary to go to Court over such questions to obtain enforcement of their right to have access to whatever information they need.

This memorandum for record purposes reports discussion 4/25/75 between Bureau's Liaison Agent, L. F. Schwartz, and Mr. Jack E. Thomas, Chief, Coordination Staff, Intelligence Community Staff, relating to Abstracts we are to prepare for the Central Community Index (CCI) in connection with Senstudy 75.

Attached are (1) memorandum 4/11/75 re CCI and its attachments, memorandum 4/10/75 and Abstract format; and (2) letter 4/21/75 from Thomas to Schwartz and its attachment, Abstract format. On 4/25/75 Schwartz and Thomas discussed applicability of instructions in attachments and arrived at the following understandings.

The FBI will provide Abstracts only, not documents, to have on record in the CCI a summary of what we have furnished to the Select Committees. Abstracts should be dated when typed without regard to delivery date of Abstract or date of communications to which they pertain. Under item number nine of format, enter date of communication involved, not date it is delivered to a Select Committee. We may use an abbreviated version for the Select Committees' names, such as "Senate Select Committee." We will title Abstracts as near as possible in a manner keyed to the language of the request from the Select Committee. Inasmuch as we will honor only written requests from the Select Committees, the "Requester" will always be shown as the name of the requesting Committee and not the name of any Committee personnel.

MEMORANDUM FOR: USIB Principals

SUBJECT: Community Aspects of Inputs to Congressional Committees Investigating Intelligence

1. The Intelligence Community Staff, with John M. Clarke, Associate Deputy/IC, as my representative in these matters, will keep the Board and other appropriate officials advised as to progress of the investigations conducted by the Senate and House Select Committees investigating intelligence activities. In particular, it will ensure that we are kept informed as to materials which are formally being provided to the Select Committees by all elements of the Community. The USIB Ad Hoc Group will assist on this matter and provide the mechanism for regular and constant communications.

2. In response to this assignment, the Intelligence Community Staff is establishing a registry for documentation relating to the investigations. This registry will be a source of reference of all responses, testimony, et cetera, provided by USIB agencies and available to your designated representatives.

3. In order to make the registry useful to the Board, it is essential that it include:

a. File copies of documents or other materials which each Intelligence Community element provides to one of the Select Committees where the originating agency considers the materials to involve aspects of Community activities, and/or which may result in follow-on queries concerning the functioning of the Community. The availability of this documentation will be of particular importance if it is expected there will be subsequent inquiries relating to the materials provided and involving elements of the Community other than the originating element.

b. An abstract of each formal input to a Select Committee - unless the Intelligence Community registry is provided with an actual copy of the material itself. A proposed format for such abstracts is attached.

Dear Frank:

Reference is your request for comments on the sample abstracts prepared in the FBI as a report on materials being provided to the Senate Select Committee.

As you know, we want to make the Community Registry as complete a record as possible of what is provided to the Committee, and for this reason hope that the actual copy of special reports and particularly important documents will be provided to the Registry. Where this is not done, an abstract or summary of each document or homogenous set of documents.

We have amended the abstract format slightly to include an entry for "Document Classification." A copy of the amended format is enclosed.

Your sample abstracts require a few alterations to make them more "indexable."

a. Item 1, "TITLE/SUBJECT" refers to the subject matter of the material which is being provided. The abstract on the FBI Manual of Instructions should have an entry here something like "Instructions covering FBI Investigations in the Security Field," rather than the title of the Senate Committee.

b. The date at the head of the page should be the date of preparation of the abstract. The date of submission to the Committee is listed at Item 9.

c. The entry "ORIGINATING ORGANIZATION" identified the organization with authority to release the document.

d. The "SUMMARY OF CONTENTS" section should be brief, but also should clearly indicate what is being provided to the Committee. I wonder, for instance, whether your sample on the letterhead memoranda was issued in widely separated time periods. The summary as written gives no indication as to the particular subject of any of the memoranda and the single sentence now used to describe all of them covers the waterfront.

e. If the request for information comes officially from the Committee, the Committee title should be entered under "REQUESTOR," but if the requestor is an individual member of the Staff, his name should be indicated.

f. The last entry in the format, "PROBLEM AREAS," has particular significance since it is important to know if there are Third Agency, or sources and methods, or other sensitivity problems involved, and this is the place to identify them. We are beginning to use the abstracts prepared in our office as an aid to obtaining release clearance when we are dealing with the document for which another agency must concur in the release. The "PROBLEM AREAS" section gives such other agency an idea as to whether we see any important reason why they should be concerned about release of the document. The entry in this final section of the format is expected to prove useful for this purpose.

5. One copy of the document or its abstract is all that is needed by the registry.

6. The mailing address of the registry is:

RE: INTERVIEW OF RETIRED FBI

STAFF MEMBER

Set out below is information available to the FBI concerning captioned matter.

SSC Interview of Retired FBI SA Lish Whitson

On the afternoon of April 23, 1975, Mr. Lish Whitson personally appeared at the office of an FBI official, stated that he had just been interviewed by Mr. Michael Epstein, Staff Member of the SSC, and was desirous of reporting the results of that interview which Whitson related as follows:

Epstein first asked Whitson when he entered the FBI, when he first arrived for assignment at FBI Headquarters, to which Headquarters Division he had been assigned, and when he retired. (FBI records reveal that Whitson joined the FBI as an SA November 20, 1933, and retired June 19, 1972. He was assigned at Headquarters December 16, 1941, attached to the Domestic Intelligence Division and served in that Division until his retirement. The current name for that Division is Intelligence Division). Epstein then told Whitson that he knew that Whitson had at one time mailed a package to Mrs. Martin Luther King from Tampa, Florida, and asked Whitson to relate the details concerning this matter. Whitson thereupon told Epstein that in the late Summer of 1964, former FBI Assistant to the Director William C. Sullivan had telephoned Whitson at his home one Saturday and told him that late FBI Director Hoover wanted Whitson to deliver a package to Miami, Florida, by plane and on arrival at the Miami airport to telephone Sullivan for further instructions. Whitson did as directed and upon calling Sullivan, was instructed to address the package to Mr. Martin Luther King. Accordingly, Whitson had the package weighed, put postage stamps on it, and addressed it to Martin Luther King (not Mrs. Martin Luther King as Epstein had indicated). The following day, Sunday, Whitson flew back to Washington and on the next day, Monday, he informed Sullivan that his instructions had been carried out. Sullivan commented to Whitson "Someday I will tell you about that."

Epstein asked Whitson who had paid for the stamps to mail the package and Whitson said that he had probably done so utilizing per diem money. Epstein asked whether he had put a return address on the package and Whitson replied in the negative. Epstein asked if Whitson had gone to the Miami FBI Office, whether any Agent had met him at the Miami airport, and whether Whitson had discussed this matter with anyone. Whitson told Epstein that he had not gone to the Miami Office, that no Agent had met him, and that he had discussed the matter only with Sullivan. At this point, Whitson asked Epstein how he got the story. Epstein merely laughed and did not reply to the question.

Epstein also asked Whitson whether he had ever written a memorandum regarding this matter, to which Whitson replied in the negative. Epstein asked if Whitson had ever seen a memorandum on this matter and Whitson again replied in the negative.

On April 24, 1975, Whitson telephoned the FBI official referred to above on two occasions to report additional information which Epstein had secured from Whitson by telephone on April 24, 1975. This additional information was as follows:

Epstein asked how Whitson had made the trip to Miami; that is, how it was paid for. Whitson told him he had issued a Government Transportation Request (GTR). Epstein asked whether there was any prior written authorization for Whitson to make the trip and Whitson told him there was none. Epstein asked what kind of record would have been made covering the trip and Whitson explained that the only record he knew of would be the expense voucher he submitted covering the expenses involved and possibly the copy of the GTR which he had issued. Whitson explained to Epstein that the voucher would merely show that the GTR had been issued for a round-trip to and from Miami and how much per diem had been claimed in connection with the trip. Epstein inquired as to whether Whitson had registered at the Airport Hotel in Miami, and, if so, whether it was under his own name. Whitson told Epstein that he had registered under his name at this hotel.

Additional Information Furnished to FBI By Whitson

In addition to the foregoing, Whitson furnished to the FBI official the following information on April 23, 1975, which information he did not furnish to Epstein.

When Sullivan told Whitson he wanted him to fly the package to Miami, he stated that only he, Sullivan, Mr. Hoover, Mr. Tolson, (then FBI Associate Director) and Mr. Belmont (then FBI Assistant to the Director) knew of this situation. (At the time, 1964, Sullivan was an Assistant Director.) Sullivan never did explain to Whitson anything more regarding this incident.

Whitson said that when he arrived at the North Terminal at National Airport, following Sullivan's telephonic instructions, a young man who was unknown to Whitson but who addressed him as "Mr. Whitson," turned over to him a package which was wrapped in brown paper and sealed with sealing tape. It is Whitson's recollection the package measured approximately eight inches by eight inches by one inch.

It is Whitson's further recollection that at the time the foregoing occurred, King was either just about to go abroad to receive the Nobel Peace Prize or probably had already gone abroad. It was Whitson's recollection that sometime shortly after the mailing of the package, Sullivan commented to Whitson that the package had not yet been received by King. Because of this remark, Whitson is of the belief that the package was mailed to King at the headquarters of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference and not to King's residence. Further, it was Whitson's recollection that it was not long after he had mailed the package that King had a personal meeting with Mr. Hoover in the latter's office.

Whitson observed that in his opinion, the information which was in the possession of Epstein prior to interviewing Whitson must have originated with Sullivan. Whitson noted that Mr. Hoover and Mr. Tolson are both deceased and that he has heard nothing to indicate that Mr. Belmont has been contacted by members of the Staff of the SSC. One other factor that causes Whitson to feel that Sullivan was the source of the information was a question Epstein raised as to whether Whitson had put a return address on the package when he addressed it to King. Whitson said he recalls that when he was in Miami and received the telephonic instructions from Sullivan, Sullivan told him that he should put a return address on the package and Whitson then pointed out to Sullivan that if he did so, and the name of the addressee became smeared, the package would end up at someone's return address rather than in the dead letter office. Sullivan concurred that no return address should be used. Thus, Sullivan would probably have reason to have commented regarding the use or nonuse of a return address.

On April 24, 1975, Whitson furnished by telephone to the aforementioned Bureau official the following additional information which he had not furnished to Epstein. Whitson stated it was now his recollection he had made the Miami trip either in the late Summer or early Fall of 1964 and that King was "away" at the time.

FBI Records Concerning Whitson's Travel

The following information is on record in the FBI concerning the travel of Whitson discussed above. On December 9, 1964, a Travel Voucher was processed for payment to Whitson the sum of $19.40 for travel during the period November 1-30, 1964. On record also is a memorandum copy of a Government Transportation Request issued November 21, 1964, to National Airlines in the sum of $107.40 for air coach travel, Washington, D. C., to Miami, Florida, and return. November 21, 1964, has been determined to have been a Saturday. There is not available in the FBI any copy of the actual voucher submitted by Whitson.

FROM The Attorney General

SUBJECT: MICROPHONE SURVEILLANCE 155-26

declassified 4/28/7[illegible] TEB/[illegible]

The recent decision of the Supreme Court entitled Irvine v. California, 347 U.S. 128, denouncing the use of microphone surveillances by city police in a gambling case makes appropriate a reappraisal of the use which may be made in the future by the Federal Bureau of Investigation of microphone surveillance in connection with matters relating to the internal security of the country.

It is clear that in some instances the use of microphone surveillance is the only possible way of uncovering the activities of espionage agents, possible saboteurs, and subversive persons. In such instances I am of the opinion that the national interest requires that microphone surveillance be utilized by the Federal Bureau of Investigation. This use need not be limited to the development of evidence for prosecution. The FBI has an intelligence function in connection with internal security matters equally as important as the duty of developing evidence for presentation to the courts and the national security requires that the FBI be able to use microphone surveillance for the proper discharge of both of such functions. The Department of Justice approves the use of microphone surveillance by the FBI under these circumstances and for these purposes.

I do not consider that the decision of the Supreme Court in Irvine v. California, supra, requires a different course. That case is readily distinguishable on its facts. The language of the Court, however, indicates certain uses of microphones which it would be well to avoid, if possible, even in internal security investigations. It is quite clear that in the Irvine case the Justices of the Supreme Court were outraged by what they regarded as the indecency of installing a microphone in a bedroom. They denounced the utilization of such methods of investigation in a gambling case as shocking. The Court's action is a clear indication of the need for discretion and intelligent restraint in the use of microphones by the FBI in all cases, including internal security matters. Obviously, the installation of a microphone in a bedroom or in some comparably intimate location should be avoided wherever possible. It may appear, however, that important intelligence or evidence relating to matters connected with the national security can only be obtained by the installation of a microphone in such a location. It is my opinion that under such circumstances the installation is proper and is not prohibited by the Supreme Court's decision in the Irvine case.

Previous interpretations which have been furnished to you as to what may constitute trespass in the installation of microphones, suggest that the views expressed have been tentative in nature and have attempted to predict the course which courts would follow rather than reflect the present state of the law. It is realized that not infrequently the question of trespass arises in connection with the installation of a microphone. The question of whether a trespass is actually involved and the second question of the effect of such a trespass upon the admissibility in court of the evidence thus obtained, must necessarily be resolved according to the circumstances of each case. The Department in resolving the problems which may arise in connection with the use of microphone surveillance will review the circumstances in each case in the light of the practical necessities of investigation and of the national interest which must be protected. It is my opinion that the Department should adopt that interpretation which will permit microphone coverage by the FBI in a manner most conducive to our national interest. I recognize that for the FBI to fulfill its important intelligence function, considerations of internal security and the national safety are paramount and, therefore, may compel the unrestricted use of this technique in the national interest.

The Intelligence Division has reviewed the attached figures prepared by the Administrative Division. Under the criteria of the current Classification Act it would be impossible to justify classification of these figures; however, should they be made public or fall into the hands of a hostile foreign intelligence service, it would reveal the current capability the FBI employs in the field of counterintelligence against the total foreign threat. In view of the above, the Intelligence Division strongly recommends that the Legal Counsel Division discuss this with the staff of the Senate Select Committee pointing out the vulnerability implicit in this attachment in an effort to have the Committee withdraw its request identified as III C.

Regarding the observations of the Intelligence Division concerning the making available the amount of manpower dedicated to counterintelligence and domestic intelligence work in the FBI, the Legal Counsel Division has the following observations:

OK to classify Confidential

(1) Based on our analysis and conversations this Division has had with Fred B. Griffith of the Inspection Division, it appears that the information contained in this memorandum may be classified confidential under Executive order 11652.

(2) Before making any determination as to whether we make such information available to the Senate Select Committee, it would appear we should determine from CIA what their response to such a request will be so that our position and that of CIA will be consistent in this area. In this regard SA Paul V. Daly has contacted Leon F. Schwartz, Liaison Section of Intelligence Division, and requested he determine from CIA what their position in this regard is.

(3) It is not believed that we should take a hard and fast position that this information not be made available to the Committee or that we make an effort to have the Committee withdraw their request for this information. We should rather develop some fallback position such as that this information will be made available to the Chairman of the Committee or will be made available during an oral briefing, etc.

Mr. L. C. Groover to Mr. Walsh memorandum dated 3/4/75 entitled "Senate Select Committee on Intelligence Activities" forwarded to the Intelligence Division for review the titles and numbers of FBI field office Agents assigned to internal security, intelligence collection, and/or counterintelligence matters, operations or activities. This was in response to requirement IIIC of Senator Church's letter dated 3/19/75.

By addendum dated 4/4/75 the Intelligence Division recommended that the Legal Counsel Division discuss with the staff of the Senate Select Committee (SSC) our reluctance to provide these type figures to the SSC.

On 4/11/75 I discussed with Mr. John Clark, Associate Deputy to the Director of Central Intelligence for the intelligence community, the request of Senator Church. Specifically, Mr. Clark was asked if Central Intelligence Agency (CIA) had received such a request and how they responded. Mr. Clark advised that CIA had not received a specific request for the titles and numbers of CIA officers assigned to intelligence collection or counterintelligence matters. However, CIA had received a request to identify the names and numbers of CIA covert officers assigned overseas.

Mr. Clark advised that CIA intended to advise the Staff Director of the SSC that CIA was unwilling to provide such names and numbers to the SSC for retention in its files. However, CIA would be willing to allow a senior staff member or the Staff Director to review the names and numbers of CIA covert officers overseas at the CIA headquarters building.

On 4/11/75, from 10:00 am until 12:20 pm, staff members of the Senate Select Committee on Intelligence Activities were briefed by Assistant Director Wannall and members of his staff in the Conference Room at INTD. Briefed from the Committee were Mr. William Miller, Staff Director; Mr. Frederick A. O. Schwarz III, Chief Counsel; and Messrs. Mark Gitenstein, Marvin Epstein, Patrick Shea, Britt Snider and Loch Johnson, all staff members.

The first hour of the briefing was occupied with the showing of the INTD slide presentation and commentary which provided highlights of the work of the INTD, both in the counterintelligence and internal security field. Following this presentation a question and answer period ensued for the rest of the briefing. Mr. Miller and Mr. Schwarz posed most of the questions.

In the counterintelligence field the thrust of the questioning was directed toward the continuing growth of the hostile intelligence presence in the United States and its short-term and long-term effect on the FBI's operations. Mr. Wannall pointed out that the Director on previous occasions had indicated his intention to "beef up" the counterintelligence effort of the FBI by the addition of some 250 Special Agents, and that INTD had also effected certain programs designed to assign certain counterintelligence functions to non-Agent personnel, thereby freeing additional Special Agents to function as case officers. In response to a question as to whether the additional investigative effort necessary to counter the mounting hostile intelligence threat might not involve investigation of more and more American citizens, Mr. Wannall conceded that this was inevitable. He stressed, however, the investigative policies of the FBI which protected the constitutional rights and right of privacy of such individuals.

On the domestic internal security side the thrust of the questioning appeared to indicate an interest in the predication, duration and administrative controls of investigations of domestic organizations and individuals. Again, Mr. Wannall stressed the precautions inherent in FBI policy and instructions to the field in these matters, pointing out, in effect, that these investigations are founded on statutory authority and are closely supervised by experienced personnel at Headquarters level. The Committee staff appeared to accept these answers and no critical or hostile attitudes on their part were evident.

The briefing was terminated at 12:20 pm, due to commitments on the part of the staff. Mr. Miller and Mr. Schwarz both expressed their appreciation for the briefing and indicated it had been most instructive. They indicated a desire to continue these discussions at some later date and Mr. Wannall assured them that he would be happy to continue the briefing at any future mutually agreeable time.

Perhaps most significant of all questions posed was the final question by Mr. Schwarz in which he inquired as to what advantages and disadvantages to the FBI could be anticipated as a result of the Committee fulfilling its mandate. Mr. Wannall replied that any statutory authority defining and affirming the FBI's role in the intelligence collection field would certainly be a positive achievement. He also stated that any result of the Committee's investigation which would tend to limit the investigative resources or the investigative effectiveness of the FBI would surely be an unfortunate negative factor.

~~FORMER~~ SUPERVISOR LISH WHITSON
ASSIGNED INTELLIGENCE DIVISION

At 3:17 p.m., 4/22/75 former Special Agent Lish Whitson who for many years was a supervisor in the Intelligence Division telephoned me to advise that he had received a request to appear for an interview by Michael Epstein, staff member of the Senate Select Committee. The interview was scheduled for 4/23/75.

In response to a question by Mr. Whitson, he was advised that to the writer's knowledge this was the first former Bureau employee who had been requested to appear for an interview by any member of the staff of the Select Committee. Whitson stated that he was proceeding on the basis that he would respond to questions propounded to him but he had some reservation in his mind concerning answering questions which would involve material which he knew to be classified at the time he retired. He commented he had noted in the news media that staff members of the Committee were reportedly to be granted clearances through TOP SECRET - Q (Atomic Energy Matters).

Whitson was advised by the writer that while it was true staff members were being granted clearances, the Bureau was endeavoring to establish procedures through the Attorney General whereby highly sensitive and classified material could be revealed on a restricted basis in response to Committee inquiries; for example, in some instances we would request that only the Majority and Minority leaders on the Committee be furnished certain types of material and in other instances only the Senators themselves as opposed to all staff members.

Mr. Whitson said in view of this, it was his intention to be as responsive and candid during the interview by Mr. Epstein as he could be but if any questions arose in his mind with respect to revelation as to what he, Whitson, considered to be sensitive material, he anticipated he would express his concern to Mr. Epstein and advise him he felt it would be appropriate to check with the Bureau since he is aware of regulations by the Attorney General which preclude revealing FBI information without the Attorney General's specific

NOTE:

The Senate Select Committee's 3/19/75, letter was transmitted with an attachment, prepared by the Committee's staff, which set forth examples of the type of information concerning domestic intelligence jurisdiction of interest to it. Among those items cited in the attachment to the Committee's 3/19/75, letter was a study on jurisdiction prepared for former Acting FBI Director Louis Patrick Gray III by the Office of Legal Counsel, dated 5/18/72. Representatives of the Legal Counsel Division do not believe the 5/18/72 study is, in itself, appropriate to furnish in response to the question of the Senate Select Committee on legal authority. However, Legal Counsel Division believes that two internal FBI memoranda, prepared in connection with the drafting of the 5/18/72, study, would be pertinent to the Senate Select Committee's inquiry. Accordingly, these two documents, items one and two of attached memorandum for the Committee, are being furnished.

UBJECT: FBI JURISDICTION: CRIMINAL INTELLIGENCE INFORMATION

#m0e16

ALL INFORMATION CONTAINED
HEREIN IS UNCLASSIFIED
DATE 1/18/01 BY SP2ALM/MG

You requested analysis of the legal authority for FBI criminal intelligence collection and its relationship to our statutory jurisdiction in criminal matters.

"The gathering of criminal intelligence information" describes activity not subject to precise definition. However, its general objective is well understood by those engaged in law enforcement. There exist individuals and groups whose daily occupations are directed toward profit without regard to the restraints of the law. Yet, by the very nature of their associations, little actual participation in criminal acts may be observed by the most astute law enforcement observer. Their existence and contribution to the sum of criminal behavior has been detected and to some degree measured by the collection of data concerning their personal life-styles, property holdings, associates, influence, and access to capital. Such information has been characterized as "criminal intelligence."

For years, the FBI has been aware of the need to identify these resources of the criminal element. Congress responded to this need through the Organized Crime Control Act of 1970. The Congressional findings were that organized crime in the United States is a highly sophisticated, diversified, and widespread activity that annually drains billions of dollars from America's economy by unlawful conduct and by the illegal use of force, fraud and corruption. Legitimate business and labor unions are infiltrated and corrupted and our democratic processes are subverted. The problem was declared to be of of national concern both as to our economy and the domestic security.

ENCLOSURE

The Act attempted to attack organized crime by making criminal the management of syndicated gambling and by prohibiting racketeering activity characteristic of organized crime including the use of illegal proceeds for investment in legitimate business enterprises.

The long-established suspicions of law enforcement officers were confirmed by the Congressional findings but statutory enactments did not eliminate the conduct described as evil therein. There remains the task of establishing the identities of those constituting the national menace and developing prosecutable evidence of their guilt. "Criminal intelligence" collection is one means by which this responsibility may be fulfilled. It may be the only practical means in view of the scarcity of witnesses willing to testify and of the high mortality potential of those who do appear. A classic example of such intimidation is reported in United States v. Addonizio, 451 F2d 49 (3rd Cir. 1972) where a prospective witness in a corruption case found an anonymous note on the seat of his car which read "This could have been a bomb. Keep your mouth shut."

Accepting the need for intelligence gathering as a practical necessity, the issue remains as to its propriety in the face of Constitutional protections. If the Supreme Court announces that individuals have a Constitutionally protected right of privacy that may be overcome only through established arrest, search, and subpoena procedures, the issue will be settled. But, thus far, the Court has only drawn upon the concept of Constitutional privacy to resolve cases involving special circumstances such as marital affairs (Griswold v. Connecticut, 381 U.S. 479 (1965)) and interception of communications (Katz v. United States, 389 U.S. 347 (1967))

More specific Constitutional limitations on the criminal intelligence function may be found in the First Amendment protections of speech and assembly; the Fourth Amendment prohibitions of unreasonable searches and seizures; and the Fifth Amendment privilege against compulsory self-incrimination.

The theme consistently found in decisions having a bearing on th relationship between these rights and the collection of criminal intelligence is that, when in direct conflict, the collection efforts must yield. Such is not to label criminal intelligence as necessarily the product of malpractice, but to recognize the paramount nature of the Constitutional interests being safeguarded. Other incidents of government regulatory authority have been required to yield as well when confronted with legitimate claims of Constitutional protection, e.g. the administrative search cases, Camara v. Municipal Court, 387 U.S. 523 (1967).

Overt and obtrusive conduct susceptible of being characterized as harassment may well be enjoined as, for example, was the case of an obvious 24-hour-a-day physical surveillance of an individual, his home, relatives, friends, and associates (Giancana v. Johnson, 335 F2d 366 (7th Cir. 1964) cert. den. 379 U.S. 1001. Similar results might be expected where an identified officer loiters in the subject's place of business (Bee See Books, Inc. v. Leary, 291 F. Supp. 622 (SD N.Y. 1968) or openly attends organizational meetings where his presence inhibits communication and the transaction of the business of the assembly (Local 309, United Furniture Workers v. Gates, 75 F. Supp. 620 (ND Ind. 1948)). However, open photographic surveillance of public gatherings (Donahoe v. Duling, 330 F. Supp. 308 (ED Va. 1971)) and secret monitoring of criminal activities through the use of undercover agents (Lewis v. United States, 385 U.S. 206 (1966)) and informants (Hoffa v. United States, 385 U.S. 295 (1966)) have met with judicial approval.

Obviously, criminal intelligence information gained by unreasonable search and seizure or through compelled self-incrimination is tainted and subject to judicial condemnation upon complaint of one having the requisite standing.

Perhaps, the decision coming nearest to discussing the legality of criminal intelligence collection was Anderson v. Sills, 106 N.J. Super. 545, 256 A2d 298 (1969), (reversed on the ground more complete record was needed to support the decision) 56 N.J. 210, 265 A2d 678 (1970). New Jersey had responded to the threat of continuing civil disorders by collecting intelligence information on persons and events alleged to have some relationship to such activities. The trial court held the collection effort to be unconstitutional because it conflicted with the First Amendment.

However, the court order to destroy the intelligence files excepted instances "where such information will be used to charge persons with specifically defined criminal conduct." 256 A2d at 305. Thus, the decision may be interpreted as drawing a distinction between collection of intelligence information where political or social factors are involved and First Amendment freedoms therefore may be directly inhibited and collection of criminal intelligence information where the objective is the establishment of criminal conduct and the identities of the offenders. While the Fourth and Fifth Amendment may be enjoyed by the guilty and innocent alike, it is improbable that the First Amendment would be stretched so far as to protect freedom of speech and assembly when such speech and assembly constitute elements of a criminal offense. On appeal, the Supreme Court of New Jersey returned the case for further development of the record and observed ". . . the executive branch may gather whatever information it reasonably believes to be necessary to enable it to perform the police roles, detectional and preventive. A court should not interfere in the absence of proof of bad faith or arbitrariness." 265 A2d at 688.

A tentative conclusion may be stated, subject to further development of the case law. The gathering of criminal intelligence information for the purpose of developing evidence of specific offenses characteristic of organized crime is legally justified as well as practically necessary. Where there is diversion from the proper objective and such collection efforts are manipulated to cause harassment or where such activity conflicts with Constitutional rights, to that extent the criminal intelligence program must be reformed.

UBJECT: FBI AUTHORITY IN DOMESTIC INTELLIGENCE MATTERS

#MDR16

ALL INFORMATION CONTAINED
HEREIN IS UNCLASSIFIED
DATE 1-18-01 BY SP2 ALM/[illegible]

You requested an analysis of the Bureau's authority to conduct domestic intelligence investigations. The question of the jurisdictional basis for these investigations is being examined at length by the Domestic Intelligence Division and will not be discussed here.

It is fair to say that the domestic intelligence program is one of the more controversial areas of the Bureau's activities. For one thing, an intelligence investigation casts a broader net than inquiries that are directed toward the proof of a specific offense. A large amount of raw data is collected, much of which has no immediate bearing on potential offenses or offenders. But seemingly trivial information may later become important in the detection and prevention of violence or civil disorder. There are also fears that these investigations may eventually touch upon one's political beliefs, habits or associations; or that information collected for proper purposes may eventually be misused at the hands of Government. Each is a legitimate concern. The notion of Government prying into the personal lives of its citizens is repellent to all of us. And yet there is a strong sense that the Government must acquire necessary intelligence information if it is to meet its responsibilities in connection with the national security.

One of the major concerns about our domestic intelligence activities is that they are not supervised or monitored by any outside agency. The claim is made that the Executive Branch has been left wide discretion to define its own authority, and to choose the directions, methods, and focus of its investigations. For one thing, the law has never made clear what facts and circumstances must be present to authorize an intelligence investigation, nor how far such an investigation may lawfully proceed without being directed toward proof of a specific offense.

ENCLOSURE

And unlike the practice in criminal cases, our electronic surveillances in security matters are not submitted for prior court approval. For another, the exclusionary rule which provides the usual method of judicial control over investigative procedures, is not often available in security cases. Since the goal is largely preventive, these cases seldom come before the courts. As a result, the public, the courts, and the Congress have very little information about how we operate in domestic intelligence matters and what we do with the information acquired.

In response to this situation, some members of the Congress have pressured for tighter controls over the Bureau, perhaps in the form of a watchdog committee to oversee our operations. Senator Ervin, who chairs the Senate Subsommittee on Constitutional Rights has expressed particular concern about the right of privacy and the authority of the Government to gather information. In an exchange of correspondence with the Department of Justice, the Senator has requested specific documentation of the Department's guidelines for the gathering and retention of domestic intelligence information. He has also suggested that legislation might be enacted, requiring a showing of probable cause before an investigation can be initiated by the Government. It is doubtful that any such measure would pass the Congress, but the proposal does show the mood of the times.

A parallel trend may be developing in the courts. In several recent cases, plaintiffs have made the claim that Government information gathering, which goes beyond the effort to apprehend criminal suspects, may have a "chilling effect" on the exercise of First Amendment rights. These challenges thus far have not been successful. Anderson v. Sills, 56 N.J. 210, 265 A2d 678 (1970); Donahoe v. Duling, 330 F. Supp. 308 (E.D. Va. 1971); American Civil Liberties Union v. Westmoreland, 323 F. Supp. 1153 (N.D. Ill. 1971).

The courts have generally recognized that one of the principal functions of the Bureau is to gather information law violators, agitators of violence and possible subversives.. Tatum v. Laird, 444 F2d 947, 957 (D.C. Cir. 1971) cert. granted, 404 U.S. 955 (1971); The Fifth Avenue Peace Parade Committee, et al. v. J. Edgar Hoover, et. al., 70 Civ. 2646 HRT, decided February 16, 1972. The Court of Appeals for the District of Columbia Circuit, has observed that the identity of the agency gathering such information is determinative of the significance of any alleged chill to to First Amendment rights. Thus, in Davis v. Ichord, 442 F2d 1207 (D. C. Cir. 1970) although appellants allegedly felt chilled by a Congressional Committee's investigation of them, the Court of Appeals found there was insufficient justiciability in their claims to create a viable case or controversy. This was because appellants had "failed to bring the fear of investigation by the present Committee home to themselves," their fears were wholly speculative; there were no criminal proceedings confronting them; nor was any action pending. Moreover, the Court in Davis found that the power of a Congressional Committee began and ended with the investigation; whenever a Committee of the Congress seeks punitive action, the Judiciary must become involved, and thus every investigation has a judicial check which operates to guarantee the protection of constitutional rights.

This latter aspect of the Davis decision was given perspective by the Court of Appeals in Tatum. In contrasting the potential impact on First Amendment rights occasioned by investigations conducted by the military with investigations conducted by a civilian investigative agency, such as the Federal Bureau of Investigation, the Court observed:

> The compilation of data by a civilian investigative agency is thus not the threat to civil liberties or the deterrent on the exercise of the constitutional right of free speech that such action by the military is, because a civil investigative agency has no inherent power always being subject to the well-defined restrictions of law and the approval of the courts. * * *

There, the Court pointedly examined the "source of the chill" as it had in Davis, and in applying the "chilling effect doctrine", singled out the FBI as a source which does not generate a reasonable basis for inhibitions or apprehensions. In this connection the Court stated,

> Referring to our holding in Davis that the "source of the chill" is important in determining whether there is any inhibiting effect on the exercise of First Amendment rights, we think that there is a significant difference between investigative actions taken by a military agency in reference to civilians and similar investigative actions taken by a regular investigative agency of a civilian branch of the Government.
> One of the functions of a civilian investigative agency, such as the Federal Bureau of Investigation, is to compile information on law violators, agitators of violence, and possible subversives. It has always been recognized that this is a delicate function, and it is exercised under the direction of the Attorney General. Investigation is performed by men a majority of whom are under the direction of lawyers in the Justice Department, and the information compiled is only usable and effective through court action. The FBI is powerless to imprison or to affect his liberty in any way except through the action of the courts.

As to the surveillance of public meetings through the use of informants, it has been held that such surveillance is not per se actionable. See Donahoe v. Duling, 330 F. Supp. 308 (E.D. Va. 1971) (police surveillance of street demonstrations held not to offend First Amendment rights).

The Supreme Court in Hoffa v. U.S., 385 U.S. 293 (1966), held that the use of secret informants is "not per se unconstitutional", and does not violate the Fifth Amendment privilege against self-incrimination, nor the Fourth Amendment prohibition against unreasonable searches and seizures. The Court upheld, as reasonable under the Fourth Amendment, admission at trial of evidence obtained by an undercover informant to whom a defendant spoke without knowledge that he was in the employ of the police. 385 U.S. at 300-303. See also Lewis v. U.S., 385 U.S. 206 (1966) and Lopez v. U.S., 373 U.S. 427 (1963).

Moreover, the Supreme Court in U.S. v. White, 401 U.S. 745 (1971), recently held that the use of secret informants does not violate any constitutionally justifiable expectation of privacy under the Fourth Amendment, even when an informant uses electronic equipment to transmit his conversations with defendants to other agents.

If the use of undercover government informants without a warrant does not violate the Fourth Amendment and invade a defendant's constitutionally justifiable expectations of privacy, Hoffa v. U.S., supra, and such informants may write down their conversations with defendants and testify concerning them, or simultaneously record and transmit such conversations to others, who may testify against them, On Lee v. U.S., 343 U.S. 747 (1952); U.S. v. White, supra, then clearly mere visual "surveillance" of plaintiffs in plain view by informants at public meetings would not violate their constitutional rights.

It would seem that those who elect to present their views actively in the public arena deliberately expose themselves to the public. See Associated Press v. Walker, 388 U.S. 130 (1967). Any recording of their activities by the defendants does not invade their privacy any more than does a newspaper, radio, or television story, and, indeed, much less since any information compiled is usable and effective only through court action. Tatum v. Laird, 444 F2d 947, 957 (D.C. Cir. 1971).

More difficult questions are presented where the investigation delves into the private affairs of the individuals or organizations. But even here, the courts have generally sustained our procedures so long as they comport with the restrictions of the Fourth, Fifth and Sixth Amendments. The Fifth Avenue Peace Parade Committee, et. al. v. J. Edgar Hoover, et. al., 70 Civ. 2646 HRT, decided February 16, 1972. (examination of bank records) U.S. v. Gerhart, 275 F. Supp. 443 (S.D. W. Va. 1967) (examination of bank records); Minker v. U.S., 312 F2d 632 (3d Cir. 1962) (trash covers); Cohen v. U.S., 378 F2d 751 (9th Cir. 1967) (mail covers); U.S. v. Van Leeuwen, 397 U.S. 249 (1970) (detention and examination of packages in the mail); Mancusi v. DeForte, 392 U.S. 364 (1968) (seizure of union records); Hoffa v. U.S., supra; U.S. v. White, supra; (use of informants).

In summary, it is premature to say that the First Amendment line of cases, dealing with the "chilling" concept offers any substantial impediment to our intelligence investigations. There is less reason for optimism, however, with regard to congressional intervention. We should be prepared, therefore, to meet arguments regarding the need for outside supervision. The sound answer, which should satisfy governmental needs and individual rights, is found in tight internal controls and carefully developed guidelines.

INTELLIGENCE COLLECTION

The FBI's intelligence function is well established and documented. Yet, our work in gathering intelligence has been the subject of continuing criticism from segments of the press with charges being made [illegible] the FBI is conducting without authority security investigations of persons who are not in violation of the law. It has also been charged that our intelligence collection is uncontrolled, capricious and dwells on personal idiosyncrasies without there being any security interest involved. Fragments of information, distorted and twisted to convey the false impression that the FBI is wantonly disregarding the privacy of citizens, have been published.

The FBI does not conduct security investigations of individuals without clear-cut authority and tight controls. Critics have taken fragments of intelligence which have come to their attention and built them up into what is represented as the end product of security investigations with political overtones. In these instances, the items upon which such importance was placed have been fragmentary intelligence from substantive investigations and could not be viewed in their real significance, except as they fit into the overall perspective of the case. This is indicative of the danger of using piecemeal intelligence taken out of context; properly used, however, intelligence is a legitimate and necessary part of all security investigations.

Intelligence is information and the collection of it is inseparable from efficient investigative operations. In fact the two--investigation and intelligence--are mutually dependent.

In the security field, it is vital that the Federal Government detect factors which have a direct bearing on possible violations of law related to the overthrow or destruction of the Government. Intelligence developed to identify individuals who have a propensity for revolutionary or racial violence or have affiliations with subversive or revolutionary groups is essential in the enforcement of the laws designed to protect the integrity of the Government. Intelligence is also essential to the detection of attempts or conspiracies to move against the Government, actions which may themselves be crimes.

No constitutional provisions, statutory enactments or judicial rulings have attempted to deprive law enforcement of its intelligence function, although various attempts have been made to define or limit the areas encompassed by intelligence and particularly the techniques of collection. It is also recognized that some intelligence gathering activities may have an incidental "chilling" effect on individual citizens. The spectre of the Government's investigatory presence may cause a reaction in citizens, inhibiting the exercise of their full constitutional rights. Therefore, a balance between the requirements of the Government and the constitutional rights of citizens must be maintained.

The intelligence function of investigation, must be both reasonable and practical. It varies in scope and intensity with the seriousness of the provision it seeks to enforce. It is neither reasonable nor practical to launch an aggressive intelligence collection effort concerning the activities of those who might potentially violate a local antilittering ordinance. Detection of a conspiracy to bomb the White House, on the other hand, certainly justifies a continuous and intensive intelligence effort to identify the participants and gain knowledge of any specific plans.

It is mandatory that a Government protect its integrity and this has been recognized by judicial authorities. Ordinary crimes victimize an individual or groups; crimes against the existence of the government victimize society. Carrying these crimes to their ultimate produces the ultimate crime against society--the destruction of that society.

It is clear that the aspirations of most revolutionary groups far exceed their capability to achieve their ultimate objectives. They are, however, quite capable of eroding the integrity of the democratic system by lesser acts and, if not discouraged or thwarted, might well accumulate the will and power for more decisive action. The dramatic success of the Castro revolution is a sufficient example. Consequently, continuing intelligence collection relating to all revolutionary individuals and organizations, commensurate with the immediate threat posed, is imperative to proper vigilance.

The FBI serves as a prime producer of intelligence for the Executive Branch. Over the years it has provided information concerning hostile actions directed against the U. S.

by foreign governments, their intelligence services and others acting in their behalf. On the domestic scene the FBI has penetrated conspiracies ranging from the communist underground to the hooded night riders of the Klan who terrorized our black citizens. But, in the 1960's explosive changes occurred in the internal security problems faced by the country. These changes were reflected in both the scope and nature of the FBI's response and in the intelligence requirements levied upon the FBI by the Executive Branch.

In the decade of the '60's, social change and upheaval added to the critical areas of the FBI's intelligence responsibilities the problems of revolutionary and extremist ✓ activities. America was stunned by violent student disruptions, bombings and riots. Spanning the decade were civil rights protests, reactions against them, and tragically, the burning and looting of Watts in 1965 and the conflagrations in Detroit, Newark and Washington, D. C. And, what had been the youthful idealism of the emerging new left in the 1962 Port Huron Statement was drowned out by the obscene Weatherman war cries as they took their revolution to the streets of Chicago in 1969 during their "Days of Rage."

As the tide of crime and disruption swelled, it brought with it new and pressing problems on the domestic security scene. FBI domestic security investigations increased accordingly. There was also an immediate increase in FBI intelligence collection concerning the lawlessness and violent tactics of these emerging revolutionary elements.

Intelligence collection was essential in contending with these new domestic security problems. This fact was recognized by the reports of two Presidential Commissions. The report of the National Advisory Commission on Civil Disorders (Kerner Commission, 1968) stressed that the absence of accurate information before and during disorders created special control problems. It emphasized that law enforcement organizations must develop the means to obtain adequate intelligence for planning purposes and that law enforcement should "gather, evaluate, analyze and disseminate information on potential as well as actual civil disorders."

Similarly, the President's Commission on Campus Unrest (1970) took special note of the need for intelligence in effective law enforcement. The Commission stated in its report, "It is an undoubted fact that on some campuses there are men and women who plot, all too often successfully, to burn and bomb, and sometimes to maim and kill." The report concluded that the best, AND sometimes the only, means law enforcement has to thwart or prevent such plots is through "clandestine intelligence work."

Prevention is the very essence of the proper use of intelligence. To be forewarned is to be placed in a position to carry out countermeasures to meet a threat. During the mass actions and violent confrontations of the 1960's, FBI intelligence collection was crystallized in dissemination of information to other government agencies. This intelligence provided them with an essential working tool to contend with public disorders and activities of a revolutionary nature.

In a memorandum to the Director of the FBI, 9/14/67, Attorney General Clark stressed the importance of intelligence. The Attorney General asserted, "It is most important that you use the maximum available resources, investigative and intelligence, to collect and report all facts bearing upon (riot activity)." Elaborating on this point, he said, "In these circumstances we must be certain that every attempt is being made to get all information bearing upon these problems; to take every step possible to determine whether the rioting is pre-planned or organized; and, if so, to determine the identity of the people and interests involved; and to deter this activity by prompt and vigorous legal action." The Attorney General's evaluation of the importance of intelligence in this instance applies with equal force to other areas of the FBI's security work.

In December, 1967, the Department of Justice, aware of the high priority of intelligence in dealing with civil disorders, created the Inter-Division Information Unit. This is a repository for "reports which relate to individual or organizational activities which may play a part in instigating or spreading civil disorders" and includes intelligence "relating to black power and black nationalist organizations, officers and members thereof, racial incidents throughout the country, and any specific demonstrations which are being planned and are of such nature as to render them subject to the possibility of violence." Quick retrieval of this intelligence was emphasized through the use of computers.

Attorney General Mitchell wrote to the FBI Director on May 17, 1971, concerning the Intelligence Evaluation Committee, created to analyze and evaluate intelligence for the guidance of the White House and other departments of the Executive Branch. In this memorandum, the Attorney General stated, "Intensified activities on the part of militant groups here in Washington, D. C., and elsewhere in the country clearly point up the need not only for the gathering of the highest quality intelligence available but also for an expert analysis and evaluation of the intelligence product itself."

Presidential Directives

Directive of the President - 6/26/39 directing that investigation of all espionage, counterespionage, and sabotage matters are handled by FBI.

Directive of the President - 9/6/39 requesting the Attorney General to instruct FBI to take charge of investigative matters relating to espionage, sabotage, and violations of the neutrality regulations.

Presidential Directive - 1/8/43

reiterated instructions of previous directive of 9/6/39 and requested law enforcement officers, patriotic organizations and individuals turn over to FBI all information regarding espionage, sabotage and violations of neutrality regulations.

Presidential Directive - 7/24/50

reiterated substance of 9/6/39 and 1/8/43 directives, noting they provided for FBI to take charge of investigative work in matters relating to espionage, sabotage, subversive activities and related matters.

Directive of President 12/15/53 referred to previous Presidential Directives and added investigation by FBI of violations of Atomic Energy Act.

Executive Order 10450 4/27/53

established programs to insure that the employment and retention of any Government employee is clearly consistent with the interests of national security. Requires check of FBI Fingerprint Files and, in cases where derogatory information develops, FBI conducts a full-field investigation.

Executive Order 11605 7/2/71

calls for Subversive Activities Control Board, when petitioned by the Attorney General, to determine after hearings if any organization is totalitarian, fascist, communist, subversive, or whether it has adopted a policy of advocating the commission of acts of force or violence to deny others their Constitutional or statutory rights. By inference, the FBI, as investigative arm of the Attorney General, would develop evidence for hearings required. Also, FBI, by inference, would develop evidence of membership in such organizations, which may be basis for denial of Government employment.

Policy Instructions of Attorney General

September 14, 1967: instructions of then Attorney General Ramsey Clark for FBI to investigate possibility of conspiracy to plan, promote, or aggravate riot activity.

February 18, 1969: instructions from the Assistant Attorney General, Internal Security Division, for FBI to obtain information concerning possibility that underlying subversive groups were giving illegal directions or guidance to numerous campus disorders.

(Other policy instructions from Attorney General and Department have been received, amplifying points set forth above; many of these concerned specific cases.)

National Security Council Directives

Directive on Internal Security, March 23, 1949, establishing Interdepartmental Intelligence Committee (IIC) responsible to coordinate investigation of domestic espionage, counterespionage, sabotage, subversion and other related intelligence matters affecting internal security. FBI represented on IIC.

United States Intelligence Board (USIB) established September 15, 1958, to maintain coordination between CIA and other intelligence agencies. FBI a member of USIB to provide domestic intelligence for correlation with foreign intelligence.

Interagency Agreements

Delimitations Agreement signed by IIC members March 23, 1949, to establish jurisdiction in investigations by members of espionage, counterespionage, subversion, and sabotage and to provide for exchange of information on above matters.

FBI-Secret Service Agreement signed November 26, 1971, to provide for transmittal of information from FBI to Secret Service regarding individuals and organizations who, because of their propensities, represent or may represent a danger to the safety of the President and certain other persons.

IMPLEMENTATION OF AUTHORITY

The criteria and guidelines for FBI investigations are furnished to the field in a "Manual of Instructions," the "F. B. I. Handbook," and in Letters to all Special Agents in Charge. In addition, instructions and guidance are given to the field in Headquarters communications on specific cases. Compliance with criteria and guidelines is obtained by supervision in both the field and at Bureau Headquarters. In addition, regular inspections of field and Headquarters Divisions assure that Bureau policies concerning investigations are being followed.

In the security field, the basic responsibility of the FBI is to investigate revolutionary organizations dedicated to the violent overthrow or destruction of the United States Government. These include old-line Marxist groups, for example, the Communist Party, USA, and the Trotskyist Socialist Workers Party; and such new revolutionary groups as the Students for a Democratic Society, the Black Panther Party and the Weatherman. In the investigation of subversive individuals a determination is made of the dangerousness of the individual and efforts are made to obtain evidence of violations of any applicable Federal laws. To assist in cataloguing the level of dangerousness of those individuals and to retrieve quickly information concerning them, the Domestic Intelligence Division maintains a card file known as the Administrative Index.

Administrative Index

Title II of the Internal Security Act of 1950 (Emergency Detention Act) before it was repealed on September 25, 1971, provided for emergency detention of subversive individuals in the event of a national emergency. To implement that provision of the act, the FBI and the Department of Justice maintained the Security Index. This Index was, of course, discontinued with the repeal of the Emergency Detention Act. By memorandum of October 22, 1971, however, the Attorney General noted that the repeal of Title II "does not alter or limit the FBI's authority and responsibility to record, file and index information secured" in this field and concurred in the establishment of an administrative index to assist in "making readily retrievable and available the results of its (the FBI's) investigations into subversive activities."

To this end, such an index (called Adex) was instituted for making quickly retrievable information on four categories of individuals in order of dangerousness:

I) National leaders of revolutionary or extremist groups, members who have exhibited a propensity for violence, members with training in sabotage, espionage, or guerrilla warfare,. unaffiliated revolutionaries with a propensity for violence, and revolutionaries with access to key facilities.

II) Secondary leadership of revolutionary and extremist groups, active members of these groups, and unaffiliated revolutionaries or extremists with a propensity for violence against property rather than persons.

III) Rank-and-file members of revolutionary groups within the previous five years, leaders of fronts for revolutionary groups, and individuals with revolutionary ideologies likely in a national emergency to commit acts of espionage, sabotage, or terrorism.

IV) Persons likely to assist, financially or otherwise, revolutionary groups, or persons in a position to influence others to commit acts inimical to the national defense.

Investigation of an individual is conducted to determine whether or not he should, consistent with the criteria of these categories, be listed on the Adex. If, as the result of the investigation, it is determined he does not meet the criteria the case is closed. If, on the other hand, he does meet the criteria, he is listed in the Adex according to the determined degree of dangerousness. Category I cases continue under investigation for as long as the individual continues to warrant that Category listing. When an individual is listed in Categories II, III, and IV, however, the investigation is closed, subject to periodic reopening to verify his location, to determine his activities and to ascertain whether he still qualifies for inclusion in the Adex. Provision is made for upgrading, downgrading and purging an individual from the Adex as his activities and level of dangerousness fluctuate.

Revolutionary Groups

Investigations of individuals for a determination of whether or not they meet the criteria for Adex generally involve their degree of affiliation with revolutionary and extremist groups. The purpose of investigations of basic revolutionary and new-left type groups is to: (1) provide intelligence to the Executive Branch which will enable the President to fulfill his Constitutional responsibilities;

(2) detect developing conspiracies to violate substantive laws and initiate prosecutive action whenever possible to prevent such conspiracies from being carried out; and (3) develop evidence necessary for the Attorney General to file petitions before the Subversive Activities Control Board in accordance with provisions of the Internal Security Act of 1950 and Executive Order 11605.

The criteria, guidelines and restrictions on the investigations of revolutionary groups are outlined below:

> Investigation is initiated upon receipt of information indicating that organization advocates overthrow of Government or engages in activity to deny others their Constitutional or statutory rights.
> Investigation is conducted to establish aims and objectives, location and size, domination and control by hostile foreign power, identities of all leaders and members.

In regard to their front groups and organizations which they have infiltrated:

> Investigation is initiated upon receipt of information that organization is dominated, controlled or influenced to substantial degree by revolutionary organization.
> Investigation is conducted to determine degree of infiltration, aims and objectives, location and size and identities of all leaders.

Extremist Groups

The purpose of investigations of white hate and black extremist organizations is to: (1) provide intelligence to the Executive Branch which will enable the President to fulfill his Constitutional responsibilities; and (2) detect developing conspiracies to violate substantive laws and initiate prosecutive action whenever possible to prevent such conspiracies from being carried out. Investigations of white hate groups are confined to those which have actually or allegedly committed or have conspired to commit acts of violence or have adopted a policy of advocating or inciting the use of violence to deny others their rights under the Constitution. Investigations of black extremist organizations concern those groups which take extremist, anti-U. S. Government, anti-white positions and whose activities have involved them or may involve them in civil unrest and/or subversive activity.

Subversive, Revolutionary and Extremist Individuals

Individuals referred to as subversives are generally affiliated with old-line basic revolutionary organizations; those termed revolutionaries are usually new left types; and those called extremists are fundamentally involved in violent or revolutionary activities based on race. Procedures for the investigation of these types of individuals are similar and the criteria are outlined as follows:

Membership in a basic revolutionary organization

Espousing the LINE OF REVOlutionary movements

Special trainING ABROAD, or leadership training, in a revolutionary group

Individuals having access to key facilities who have been members of a revolutionary group at any time

Persons with revolutionary, terrorist, anarchistic or extremist beliefs who are likely to seize upon a national emergency to endanger public safety

Individuals who have actually or allegedly committed, conspired to commit, or adopted policy to commit acts of violence to deny others their rights under the Constitution

Extremists and revolutionaries who have demonstrated a propensity for violence, have involved or may involve themselves in civil unrest, or who advocate violent overthrow of the Government

Persons who influence others to engage in acts inimical to the national defense or who are likely to furnish financial or other assistance to revolutionary or extremist elements because of their sympathies, associations or ideologies

Unaffiliated Individuals

In the areas of revolutionary (new left) and extremist activities, some investigations are conducted of individuals who are not affiliated with organizations. Investigation of an individual is undertaken when information is received that the person:

Is a revolutionary and adheres to the Weatherman ideology of advocating a revolution now and uses terrorist tactics in furtherance of revolution

Is a revolutionary or extremist and demonstrates by acts or statements propensity for violence against property

Exhibits revolutionary or extremist ideology and is likely to seize opportunity in national emergency to commit espionage, sabotage, terrorism or otherwise interfere with Federal or local governments or defense efforts

Influences others to engage in acts inimical to national defense or likely to furnish financial or other assistance to revolutionary or extremist elements

Espionage and Foreign Intelligence Investigations

The mission of the FBI in the foreign intelligence field is one of counterintelligence. The objectives and priorities of counterintelligence have been variously stated and evaluated. Generally, these objectives may be listed in declining priority as follows: (1) the detection and identification of intelligence operations and agents; (2) the penetration of these operations for the purpose of control and the development of intelligence information; (3) neutralization of hostile intelligence operations through disruption and disinformation; and, (4) prosecution. Whatever the assigned priority, the overall objective is to deny access to information sought by whatever practical means are available.

Foreign intelligence investigations are grounded in the Espionage statute and related laws including the Registration and Atomic Energy Acts. Individual investigations are initiated usually on the basis of a known or suspected connection with a foreign intelligence service, foreign country or subversive organization with such connections. Since these investigations emanate from various sensitive sources and involve special considerations, extensive criteria and limitations are defined and enumerated in current instructions.

In general terms, the governing criteria are designed to preclude initiation and continuance of investigations which are not justified. The limitations are designed to control the scope of investigation in order to insure security of our interests through close supervisory scrutiny.

Restrictions on Investigations

FBI guidelines go beyond the rules for opening, investigating and closing cases; they also impose restrictions to make certain that we do not violate the constitutional rights of any individual and to preclude investigations from becoming "fishing expeditions." In the security field these are some of the restrictions WHICH are applied:

Security cases are evaluated continually to determine if we are fulfilling our responsibilities. Those cases not warranting further investigation are closed promptly.

There are no investigations of members of an organization which does not advocate use of force to bring about existing changes in the Government. Examples are the Socialist Party, the Independent Workers of the World and Independence Party of Puerto Rico.

Persons arrested during disruptive demonstrations are identified since circumstances of an arrest, in some cases, may indicate a propensity for violence. However, a mere arrest in connection with a demonstration is an insufficient basis in itself for security investigation. The arrest must be coupled with a demonstrated propensity for violence or with subversive or revolutionary activity on the part of the individual arrested.

When it is determined that a security subject is a member of the armed services, the investigation is discontinued immediately and the military advised.

Civil rights organizations are not investigated.

Ambassadors or heads of permanent missions to the United Nations are not investigated.

No surveillances are conducted at the White House, the Capitol, the Supreme Court, the House and Senate Office Buildings or the United Nations.

No telephone or microphone surveillances are operated without prior written approval of the Attorney General.

Bureau authority is REQUIRED for:

Investigations of officials and diplomatic representatives of foreign countries. (Department of State authority is also required.)

Investigation of communist infiltration of a political organization.

Developing sources connected with an institution of learning.

Interviews of subjects of active, current security investigations.

Investigations of faculty members. If approval is granted, only established sources functioning in an administrative capacity may be contacted on the campus. Other established sources and informants must be contacted away from the campus. Contacts with students, graduate students and faculty members must also have Bureau authority.

Interviews of labor leaders and persons in educational, mass media or publishing fields.

These examples demonstrate a consciousness of the need to impose limitations on investigations and the continuing imposition of them.

Information Storage and Retrieval

The storage and retrieval of information is a basic operational necessity of any investigative or intelligence-gathering agency. Procedures within the FBI for these functions provide for written records of information received from a variety of sources--confidential informants, confidential INVESTIGATIVE techniques, and open sources--and the storage of this information in different types of files. These include active investigative files on organizations and individuals and some general files. These "raw" files are maintained both at the Seat of Government and in the various field offices. Information in the files is thoroughly indexed so that data can be retrieved.

In the intelligence field, when an allegation within the jurisdiction of the FBI is received, a case on an individual or on an organization may be opened, depending on the quality of the allegation. Nonspecific information that is received on an individual or organization is placed in the pertinent file, if one exists, or is placed in a general file if the organization or individual is not the subject of a specific file.

These files are an integral part of the intelligence-gathering function. By the very nature of the FBI's assignment to coordinate internal security information, the maintenance of data over a period of time is required and it is necessary that a system for retrieving this information be used.

Because these files OFTEN contain derogatory information that may not SUBSTANTIATED by further investigation (the derogatory information received may not be germane to a matter within the FBI's jurisdiction), the Attorneys General have long taken the position that these files should not be available for public scrutiny. Incalculable damage to individual reputations could result from the disclosure of single items of information without knowing the full background concerning the receipt of a particular item and the context within which it was recorded.

The late Justice Robert Jackson, in his capacity as Attorney General, wrote in 1941:

> Disclosure of information contained in the reports (FBI files) might also be the grossest kind of injustice to innocent individuals. Investigative reports include leads and suspicions, and sometimes even the statements of malicious or misinformed people. Even though later and more complete reports exonerate the individuals, the use of particular or selected reports might constitute the grossest injustice, and we all know a correction never catches up with an accusation.

Dissemination

The Bureau's general policy on dissemination is that information developed by or coming to the attention of the FBI is promptly referred to all agencies of the Executive Branch of the Federal Government having a potential interest in it or responsibility for taking action concerning it, whenever that interest or responsibility is apparent or known. This policy is in accordance with numerous formal agreements entered into between the Bureau and other Government agencies. It is also in accordance with Presidential directives obligating the Bureau to act as clearing house for information affecting the internal security of the U. S.

Despite this general liberal policy of dissemination, we have recognized that with regard to highly sensitive information a determination must be made on an individual basis as to what information should be disseminated and how it should be transmitted. The degree of sensitivity and/or the security classification will determine level of dissemination to any interested agency and the method of transmittal. In certain instances, sensitive information may be furnished to a high-level official with a request that dissemination in his agency be restricted to his personnel on a need-to-know basis. Such information might be disseminated by secure teletype, courier, liaison, and where necessary, by secure telephone. Information furnished orally is confirmed in writing.

During our meeting on July 26, 1973, you referred to a discussion you had with Senator Charles McC. Mathias, Jr., of Maryland during your confirmation hearings as to the statutory authority of the FBI and the Department of Justice in the field of domestic intelligence investigations. You then asked Mr. William D. Ruckelshaus to work with the FBI in weighing the pros and cons with regard to statutory authority in this area. I mentioned that research was being performed on this subject at the present time and that we would be in touch with Mr. Ruckelshaus with regard to this matter when we have completed the results of our consideration and findings within the FBI.

Actually, a study has been going on in the FBI for more than two years as to the scope of FBI jurisdiction and authority in domestic intelligence investigations. When Mr. L. Patrick Gray, III, was designated as Acting Director of the FBI, he instructed that a position paper be prepared concerning the jurisdiction and authority of the FBI to conduct domestic intelligence investigations. A position paper was prepared which in essence stated that authority of the FBI in this field is based on legislative enactments, even though we may have publicly relied heavily on Presidential directives as the basis for such authority. Mr. Gray ordered an in-depth study made of the position and in August, 1972, a detailed report was furnished to him. The following is a summary of that report.

Over a period of several months there were a number of public statements questioning authority and jurisdiction of the FBI to conduct domestic intelligence-type investigations, particularly where there is no clear-cut legislative authority apparent. One of the most searching inquiries was contained in a paper presented by Professor John T. Elliff at a two-day conference at Princeton University in October, 1971, sponsored by the Committee for Public Justice.

ENCLOSURE

A major thrust of Professor Elliff's paper concerned FBI authority derived from legislative enactments as opposed to that derived from Presidential directives, beginning with a directive issued by President Roosevelt in September, 1939. Professor Elliff is of the opinion that the 1939 directive, which was reiterated on three subsequent occasions, was magnified by the FBI from its original purpose to a definitive order to conduct intelligence-type investigations.

Senator Sam J. Ervin, as you know, had been probing into the nature and extent of FBI intelligence-type investigations. Senator Ervin had even announced that he intended to propose legislation to prohibit the FBI from investigating any person without that individual's consent, unless the Government has reason to believe that person has committed a crime or is about to commit a crime. Other Congressmen indicated a similar interest in FBI investigative activities.

Our study revealed that the FBI had declared publicly over a long period of time that its responsibilities in the domestic intelligence field are authorized under legislative enactments, Presidential directives, and instructions of the Attorney General. The Presidential directives are obviously the 1) directive dated September 6, 1939, and reiterated January 8, 1943; July 24, 1950; and December 15, 1953, and 2) Executive Order 10450 dated April 27, 1953 (and amended but not yet implemented by Executive Order 11605 dated July 2, 1971).

In carefully analyzing the language of the first directive, dated September 6, 1939, and considering that the subsequent directives are all hinged on that one, we believe that there is a misconception as to the extent of jurisdiction or authority conveyed to the FBI by these directives. It appears that while the 1939 directive fixed responsibility on the FBI to handle espionage, sabotage, and neutrality matters, it did not convey any authority or jurisdiction which the FBI did not already have from legislative enactments. It is difficult to read into this directive or in any of those which followed any authority to conduct intelligence-type investigations which would or could not be conducted under an umbrella of legislative enactments.

As a matter of historical fact, President Roosevelt in August, 1936, did request former Director J. Edgar Hoover to conduct investigations of subversive activities in this country, including communism and fascism. This request, however, was a confidential oral request and there is doubt that any record of it was made outside the FBI. This request, or Presidential mandate, was based, incidentally, on the fact that the law provided that the FBI could conduct such investigations if the Secretary of State should so request.

The study revealed that while the 1939 et seq. directives did not grant any special intelligence-gathering authority to the FBI, we were responsible under these directives to collect all intelligence information furnished by local, state, and Federal law enforcement agencies and patriotic citizens and to sift and coordinate all such information for indications of subversive activity covered by Federal statutes.

The study concluded that the FBI has the responsibility to conduct whatever investigations are necessary to determine if statutes relating to espionage, sabotage, insurrection or rebellion, sedition, seditious conspiracy, advocacy of overthrowing the Government, and other such crimes affecting the national security have been violated. In this connection we note that in a letter dated September 14, 1967, the Department of Justice advised that the FBI is continually alert to the problem of recurring riots and is submitting intelligence reports to the Department of Justice concerning such activity. This letter enumerated several Federal statutes and stated these could be applicable in using maximum available resources, investigative and intelligence, to collect and report all facts bearing on the question of schemes or conspiracies to plan, promote or aggravate riot activity.

In other words, the Department was requesting all possible intelligence-type investigative activity based on the existence of certain statutes. We see this as being no different from our intelligence-type investigations relating to plans of groups or individuals to overthrow, destroy, interfere with or threaten the survival of effective operation of national, state, and local governments.

Based on this study, we believe that had there never been a single one of the Presidential directives in question the FBI would have conducted and will, through necessity, continue to conduct the same intelligence-type investigations as were conducted from 1939 to the present date. We also believe, however, that in order to counter the criticism and skepticism of such individuals as Professor Elliff and Senator Sam J. Ervin that an up-to-date Executive order should be issued clearly establishing a need for intelligence-type investigations and delineating a clear authority for the FBI to conduct such investigations based on guidelines established by the Attorney General and adhering to constitutional principles.

The study concluded with two basic recommendations. 1) That the Department of Justice be requested to sponsor comprehensive legislation spelling out the FBI's investigative authority in the collection of intelligence information relating to the national security and; 2) that the Department of Justice be requested to seek a comprehensive Executive order which would cover any possible gap between statutory authority and Executive necessity in protection of the national security.

At first glance these recommendations may appear to contradict our position that we already have statutory authority to conduct security-type investigations; that this being the case we do not need additional legislative enactments, nor do we need an Executive order. But being realistic we think that the basic statutes upon which we rely for our authority to conduct domestic intelligence investigations need to be updated to fit 1973 needs. Title 18 U.S.C. Sections 2383, 2384, and 2385 relate to the national security, but the legislative history of 2383 and 2384 indicates that they were designed for the Civil War era, not the Twentieth Century, and Section 2385 has been reduced to a fragile shell by the Supreme Court. These statutes are unquestionably still valid, but updating is certainly indicated. The bills introduced as H.R. 6046 and S. 1400 in the 93rd Congress appear to contain language which should fill our statutory needs, except perhaps for those groups, such as the Ku Klux Klan, which do not seek to overthrow the Government, but nevertheless are totalitarian in nature and seek to deprive constitutionally guaranteed rights.

As to the need for an Executive order, we think that two issues are involved. We have statutory authority, but what we need is a definitive requirement from the President as to the nature and type of intelligence data he requires in the pursuit of his responsibilities based on our statutory authority. In other words, there is a need, from our standpoint, for both authoritative and definitive guidelines. The statutes give us the authority. The Executive order would define our national security objectives.

Members of Congress, including such men as Senator Robert C. Byrd of West Virginia, have proposed legislation to spell out jurisdiction and authority of the FBI in this field. It would appear that the President would rather spell out his own requirements in an Executive order instead of having Congress tell him what the FBI might do to help him fulfill his obligations and responsibilities as President.

The political climate of suspicion and distrust resulting from disclosures coming out of the Watergate hearings could present an obstacle to getting any such Executive order signed in the immediate future. However, the rationale is nevertheless valid and when scrutinized closely, the language in the Executive order we hereinafter propose establishes definitive guidelines which have heretofore been unclear. It is my belief that we should go forward with this.

We therefore propose and recommend that an Executive order along the following lines be submitted to the White House with a strong recommendation for approval. The language which follows is merely to illustrate the type of Executive order which we think would be appropriate and does not necessarily represent an ideal format or style which should be submitted to the White House.

EXECUTIVE ORDER

"Whereas the Constitution of the United States was established to insure, among other things, domestic tranquility; to provide for the common defense; and to promote the general welfare for the people of the United States; and

"Whereas the President of the United States has the constitutionally imposed responsibility of defending the Constitution and the existence of the Government thereunder; and

"Whereas there have been continuing unlawful acts of violence perpetrated against the Government of the United States or against citizens of the United States or against persons entitled to the protection of the United States thereby endangering the domestic tranquility, threatening the common defense, and jeopardizing the general welfare of the people of the United States; and

"Whereas the Congress has enacted laws prohibiting acts such as treason, sedition, sabotage, espionage, insurrection and rebellion, seditious conspiracy, civil disobedience, rioting, assassination, kidnaping, deprival of civil rights, and conspiracies to commit such acts; and

"Whereas the President of the United States as Chief Executive in the maintenance of the Government thereunder must have intelligence information for appropriate decisions in the discharge of his constitutionally imposed responsibilities;

"Now by authority vested in me by the Constitution and statutes of the United States and in the interest of orderly operation of this Government and in furtherance of the domestic tranquility, common defense, and general welfare of the people of the United States it is ordered that;

"The Attorney General prepare and issue guidelines, conforming to the principles of the Constitution and the Bill of Rights, and outlining the necessary direction, coordination, and guidance of investigations to assure that the Federal Bureau of Investigation provides on a continuing basis intelligence information essential to the execution of laws pertaining to subversive activity and other such activity affecting the national security, domestic tranquility, and general welfare of the United States."

The Nation has been going through a time of terror. The concept of urban guerrilla terrorism has been adopted by various extremist elements in the United States. Bombings of public buildings and national institutions; killing of police officers who, by their uniform, are a symbol of the democratic establishment; hijacking of aircraft in furtherance of revolutionary movements; terrorist assaults on foreign diplomatic personnel and establishments; and open declaration of war on our form of government are only a few of the violent acts which have been perpetrated by domestic subversives who seek to destroy or seriously cripple our Government. Terrorist guerrilla attacks which were once confined to far away places and related to problems of no immediate concern of ours are now possible in this country. Foreign terrorist groups in collusion with domestic terrorists have laid plans for an airport massacre of the type which recently occurred in Israel. Other foreign terrorist elements have laid plans for terrorist attacks on American soil. Already one foreign official has been assassinated, possibly by terrorists.

It would be folly to adopt an investigative policy based on the concept of investigation only when there is reason to believe a crime involving the national security has been committed. The FBI must obviously anticipate the crimes described above. We believe that in order for the Government to be in position to defend itself against revolutionary and terrorist efforts to destroy it, the FBI must have sufficient investigative authority to conduct intelligence-type investigations not normally associated with enforcement of the statutes. In other words we think the President has the inherent Executive power to expand by further defining the FBI's investigative authority to enable it to develop advance information concerning the plans and aspirations of terrorists and revolutionaries who seek to overthrow or destroy the Government. However, we also believe that such expanded authority must be formally set forth in an Executive order and that this recommendation is responsive in the Attorney General's expressed interest in laying more formal guidelines to our work in areas where definition is not now clear.

We consider the issuance of a new Executive order delineating our jurisdiction, authority, and responsibility to gather and report intelligence information relating to the national security to be a very important and high priority matter. We believe the issuance of guidelines by the Attorney General under Title 28, Section 533, United States Code, to be equally important.

The Attorney General

For your information, our own investigative guidelines as contained in our Manual of Instructions relating to domestic subversive investigations have been completely rewritten to conform with the concept that our domestic intelligence-type investigations are based on Federal statutes. These guidelines provide that in each instance, the domestic intelligence investigation must be predicated on information indicating that the organization or individual is engaged in activity which could involve a violation of specific statutes relating to the national security. A copy of the new guidelines was previously provided to the Department of Justice in connection with the request of Senator Edward M. Kennedy to obtain a copy of the FBI's Section 87 of the Manual of Instructions. The effective date of the new guidelines was August 1, 1973.

SUBJECT: SENATE SELECT COMMITTEE ON INTELLIGENCE ACTIVITIES

Reference Legal Counsel to J. B. Adams memorandum dated 3/20/75 captioned as above and letter of Senator Frank Church dated 3/19/75.

Relet requested, among other things, the titles and number of FBI field office agents assigned to internal security, intelligence collection and/or counterintelligence matters, operations or activities, together with the percent of total agent man-hours devoted to such matters, operations and activities (page 3, item IIIC of relet).

The purpose of this memorandum is to forward to the Legal Counsel Division, through the Intelligence Division, the response, attached herewith, to the above request.

It is noted the request specifically mentions internal security, intelligence collection and counterintelligence matters. Our response has been constructed in the traditional two categories of internal security and counterintelligence. Intelligence collection (informants) is included in the data for both of the other categories as appropriate.

RECOMMENDATION:

That this memorandum with enclosure be forwarded to the Intelligence Division for review, classification and approval and, thereafter, forwarded to the Legal Counsel Division which is coordinating replies to the Senate Select Committee.

Re: Senate Select Committee on

ADDENDUM: Intelligence Division, WOC:aso, 4/4/75

The Intelligence Division has reviewed the attached figures prepared by the Administrative Division. Under the criteria of the current Classification Act it would be impossible to justify classification of these figures; however, should they be made public or fall into the hands of a hostile foreign intelligence service, it would reveal the current capability the FBI employs in the field of counterintelligence against the total foreign threat. In view of the above, the Intelligence Division strongly recommends that the Legal Counsel Division discuss this with the staff of the Senate Select Committee pointing out the vulnerability implicit in this attachment in an effort to have the Committee withdraw its request identified as III C.

ADDENDUM: LEGAL COUNSEL DIVISION PVD:dkg 4-14-75

Regarding the observations of the Intelligence Division concerning the making available the amount of manpower dedicated to counterintelligence and domestic intelligence work in the FBI, the Legal Counsel Division has the following observations:

(1) Based on our analysis and conversations this Division has had with Fred B. Griffith of the Inspection Division, it appears that the information contained in this memorandum may be classified confidential under Executive order 11652.

(2) Before making any determination as to whether we make such information available to the Senate Select Committee, it would appear we should determine from CIA what their response to such a request will be so that our position and that of CIA will be consistent in this area. In this regard SA Paul V. Daly has contacted Leon F. Schwartz, Liaison Section of Intelligence Division, and requested he determine from CIA what their position in this regard is.

(3) It is not believed that we should take a hard and fast position that this information not be made available to the Committee or that we make an effort to have the Committee withdraw their request for this information. We should rather develop some fallback position such as that this information will be made available to the Chairman of the Committee or will be made available during an oral briefing, etc.

SUBJECT: SENATE SELECT COMMITTEE ON INTELLIGENCE ACTIVITIES

In connection with our investigations of staff members for captioned Committee, we have developed derogatory information on two individuals which has been brought specifically to the attention of William Miller, Staff Director of the Committee. One of these involved Mrs. Diane Eloise LaVoy whose sister-in-law questioned her loyalty and declared she "does not love America." The sister-in-law said Mrs. LaVoy constantly criticized the U. S. Government and its policy and underlying weaknesses of our society. Another individual said she was highly critical of CIA activities. This information was pointed out to Miller on 3-25-75 when the results of the investigation were delivered to him, and he also was advised that the CIA would be furnished the same data in accordance with our agreement concerning these matters.

On 3-24-75 and 3-28-75 results of the investigation concerning Mrs. Betty Dale Ellison were delivered to Miller and he was advised that a prior supervisor with eight years of training and experience in psychiatric care states he felt Mrs. Ellison needs psychological examination. He termed her a trouble maker and said he would have fired her if he had the authority. He described her definitely as a security risk due to her mental and emotional instability. It also was pointed out to Miller that other former supervisors described her as unstable when working under pressure and unable to get along with fellow employees. Miller was told that this information also would be furnished to CIA.

UNRECORDED COPY FILED IN

On 4-2-75 Miller advised Inspector Bowers he had considered the matter involving Mrs. LaVoy and had discussed it with the Committee Chairman, and they had decided to proceed with her as a staff member since they did not feel the derogatory remarks by her sister-in-law were sufficiently strong enough to disqualify her since the remainder of the investigation was favorable.

Miller also advised on 4-2-75 that their review of the Ellison investigation showed justifiable concern for her being cleared for the staff, and he asked for any guidance we might give him. It was pointed out that the only real solution to the situation seemed to be that she not be added to the staff. Miller said he would appreciate any comments from the CIA also in this regard. This request was conveyed to CIA by Section Chief William Cregar of the Intelligence Division who subsequently advised that Charles Kane, Director of Security, CIA, had reviewed the file on Ellison and agreed there was sufficient cause to question her suitability for assignment to the Select Committee staff. Kane stated CIA Director Colby concurred in this observation.

These views were conveyed to Miller on 4-9-75. Miller stated at that time that they had resolved the situation by assigning Mrs. Ellison to purely administrative tasks and that she would be fully isolated from any sensitive or classified information in connection with her responsibilities.

On 3-19-75 Inspectors John B. Hotis, David W. Bowers, and Special Agent Paul V. Daly met with William Miller, Staff Director; Frederick A. O. Schwarz, Jr., Chief Counsel; and Michael T. Epstein of the Senate Select Committee (SSC) staff. During the meeting Mr. Schwarz requested a briefing be arranged for staff members of SSC concerning the operations of the Intelligence Division, that they be furnished copies of training documents pertaining to matters handled by the Intelligence Division, and that they be furnished a glossary of terms used in the intelligence field. He pointed out the aforementioned material would greatly assist in the SSC staff developing an understanding of the Intelligence Division operations and hopefully prevent misunderstandings or needless requests of the FBI.

Mr. Miller advised that Senators Frank Church and John Tower intended to contact the Director in the immediate future to discuss arrangements relating to the SSC's review of the FBI activities.

RECOMMENDATIONS:

(1) Intelligence Division review ~~and where possible make~~ available training documents relating to training concerning Intelligence Division matters and a glossary of terms used in the intelligence field, or recommend a counter offer.

(2) Legal Analysis Office in conjunction with the Intelligence Division arrange a briefing for Senate Select Committee staff members.

At 11:00 a.m. on April 17, 1975, Inspector John B. Hotis Special Agent Paul V. Daly and I met with Deputy Attorney General Tyler and Associate Deputy Attorney General James Hutchinson at the request of the Deputy Attorney General.

Deputy Attorney General Tyler advised that he had been requested by Burke Marshall and F.A.O. Schwarz, III, who are consultant and General Counsel, respectively, for the Senate Select Committee, to meet with him on Monday afternoon, April 21, 1975, to discuss matters relating to the Committee's activities. The Deputy Attorney General said that he has been personally acquainted with Mr. Marshall for a long time and also is acquainted with Mr. Schwarz. He considered the possibility of having a Bureau representative attend the meeting, but then decided it would be best if he would meet with Marshall and Schwarz privately to determine whether they desire to discuss details of the Committee's responsibilities and if it became necessary, he would request the Bureau to send a representative to the meeting.

The Deputy Attorney General inquired as to the procedure currently being employed in responding to the Committee's requests and Inspector Hotis explained the current procedures. I mentioned to the Deputy Attorney General the existence of the Ad Hoc Committee of Intelligence Agencies and suggested to him that he might desire to designate a representative to attend those meetings in order to be on notice as to the policies being developed by the White House and the intelligence community in responding to Committee requests. I explained to him that James Wilderotter, formerly Associate Deputy Attorney General, was the

I told him that Assistant Attorney General Scalia had been scheduled to attend the last meeting of the Committee, although he was unable to attend. The Deputy Attorney General said that he would discuss with Mr. Scalia the possibility of having Mr. Scalia attend as the Department's representative.

I asked the Deputy Attorney General whether he was undertaking the principal responsibility in the Department for matters relating to the Senate Select Committee and other committees that may be inquiring into the FBI and he said that that was not clear as yet because the Attorney General has taken a personal interest in these matters and it appeared that the responsibilities are still fragmented within the Department. It was his opinion that the responsibilities should be centralized and he appeared to be willing to undertake that responsibility.

It was my impression that the Deputy Attorney General was interested in being of assistance to the FBI in these matters and expressed a willingness to cooperate by having the FBI participate as much as possible with the Deputy Attorney General.

SUBJECT: SENSTUDY 75

My memorandum to you 4/10/75, tickler copies as above, advised of the formal establishment of a task force called Project Senstudy 75 for the purpose of implementing responses to requests for information from Senate and House Select Committees on Intelligence Activities.

From time to time, requests will be made of various Divisions at FBIHQ for assistance in preparing responses. The Office of Legal Counsel has already contributed considerably in support of Senstudy 75 and is an integral part of the Project.

In order that we may keep an up-to-date record of the cost to the Bureau in handling this Project, each Assistant Director is requested to effect the necessary procedures to maintain such records and by the third of each month furnish by routing slip to W. O. Cregar, Room 4063, JEH Building, the following information: (1) Name of Division reporting; (2) Month for which reporting, which will be month just ended; (3) Man days devoted to Project assistance, broken down by (a) Agent and (b) clerical, including GS level for both Agent and clerical. An example submitted by 5/3/75 would be as follows: (1) GID; (2) Report for 4/75; (3)(a) one-half day @ GS-16; one day @ GS-15; three days @ GS-14; (3)(b) two days @ GS-7; two days @ GS-5.

This is effective commencing 4/1/75 and first routing slip report due 5/3/75 will be for the month of April, 1975.

If a Division has not participated during the preceding month, merely submit a routing slip to this effect.

The cooperation of all is urged so that the necessary cost data may be compiled each month. It is recognized that exact figures will not be feasible and that estimates will be most practical and will suffice.

This memorandum records the formal establishment of a task force entitled Project Senstudy 75.

The concept behind the establishment of this Project is to develop a capability of implementing requests received from Select Committees of the Congress in a comprehensive and timely fashion but yet allow the Bureau to continue to conduct its day-to-day business in as normal a manner as possible. We believe that by creating this facility we will be able to meet the requirements of these Select Committees with the exception of the research that will have to be done in the substantive Divisions.

While the Project will direct internal work and related liaison with the intelligence community and the White House staff, we envision the Legal Analysis Unit Office of Legal Counsel Division as continuing to be the primary point of direct contact with the Select Committees of the Congress. They will receive all requests and deliver all responses to these Committees. In addition, they will meet with the staffs of the Committees to insure the reasonableness of requests. If necessary, they will call upon the expertise of the substantive Division for determination as to whether a proposed request from the Committees can be responded to within a reasonable period of time and within the capabilities of the FBI's information retrieval system.

At the present time four Supervisors have been delegated to work exlusively on the Project. They are as follows:

12 APR 23 1975

The Project Manager will be Section Chief William O. Cregar, CI-2 Section, Intelligence Division. His duties will encompass the review of all incoming requests from the Select Committees in an effort to identify policy questions; ambiguities requiring recontact with Committee staffs; the assignment of research responsibilities to substantive Divisions; following such responsibilities to insure timely responses; as well as representing the FBI on the Executive Committee of the Ad Hoc Coordinating Group for Congressional Review of the Intelligence Community. Assistant Director John A. Mintz is also a member of the Executive Committee. This latter responsibility will provide Cregar and Mintz with direct liaison not only with senior officials of the intelligence community but also with the President's counsel.

Mr. Elmer W. Larson, Unit Chief, Training Unit, IS-3 Section, Intelligence Division will act as Cregar's Number One Man; will administer the work of the Project; and act in the absence of Cregar.

Seymor F. Phillips, Unit Chief, Civil Disorders Reporting Unit, IS-1 Section, Intelligence Division will serve as the Review Coordinator for the Project. His responsibilities will be to review all research; coordinate all responses; be available to consult with substantive Divisions as to proper form of our responses; identify any conflicts in FBI positions where several Divisions are responding to a particular question; as well as to insure the quality, completeness and adequacy of responses to Select Committees requests. Additionally, Phillips will be responsible for the preparation of abstracts to be furnished to the Interagency Registry maintained at CIA Headquarters. This Registry established by the Executive Committee of the Ad Hoc Group at the suggestion of and with the concurrence of the White House will serve as the coordinating mechanism for the entire intelligence community.

Mr. Leon F. Schwartz, Liaison Officer with CIA, CI-4 Section, Intelligence Division will function as the Liaison Officer with the intelligence community responsible for coordinating and clearing all information under the third agency rule where FBI responses are of interest to or are of a proprietary interest to other agencies of the intelligence community. Schwartz will serve as the Bureau's representative on the Ad Hoc Coordinating Group for Congressional Review of the Intelligence Community.

Because of the White House insistence that all requests and responses be completely coordinated and available for review by White House representatives, it is imperative that the Project have a self-sustained records facility to insure immediate access to requests received from and responses furnished to the Select Committees. In addition, in those instances where certain FBI documents furnished to the Select Committees must be sanitized (excised), it is imperative this records facility not only retain copies of the sanitized documents but also copies of the original text. For these reasons a senior clerical employee has been requested to function as a Records Manager for the Project.

In addition to the above, there will be stenographic and clerical personnel assigned to the Project to support the work of the Bureau Supervisors. We have not committed any more personnel to the Project than are absolutely necessary at the present time. Should the requests of the Select Committees require additional personnel, appropriate memoranda will be submitted with a complete justification for additional personnel assigned to the Project.

Although the physical space for the Project is limited, all personnel connected with Project Senstudy 75 will be located in Room 4063, J. Edgar Hoover Building. This space is physically located within the Intelligence Division.

As a matter of interest, Mr. James Wilderotter, Associate Counsel to the President, has requested that should any member of the intelligence community get requests from other Committees of the Congress which impact on the intelligence community; could be of interest to the White House; or are of such sensitivity that coordination is required, copies of both the requests and an abstract of the responses should be made available to the Interagency Registry.

NOTE:

Sections 105, 107, Part I and Part II, and Section 130 are not being furnished to the Committee, but the Committee will be allowed to examine these Sections at FBIHQ. Section 36, dealing with espionage, although classified, does not contain sensitive material involving sources and we feel in the spirit of the requirement we should furnish this Section to the Committee.

As a matter of interest, all of the material with respect to the Manual of Instructions which has been made available to GAO is actually maintained in FBI space.

BRIEFING FOR STAFF MEMBERS
BY INTELLIGENCE DIVISION
APRIL 11, 1975

As you were previously advised, William Miller, Staff Director of the Senate Select Committee on Intelligence Activities, requested that we provide a briefing for certain staff members of the Committee on the functions of the Intelligence Division. He asked that the briefing cover both internal security and foreign counterintelligence operations and that it provide a broad overview of our investigative responsibilities.

The Intelligence Division is prepared to offer a two-hour briefing beginning at 10:00 a.m. on Friday, 4-11-75. It will include a slide show to be followed by a general discussion and an opportunity to afford questions and answers. After a luncheon break, the staff members will be given a brief tour of the Files and Communications Division.

Since the briefing will cover classified materials, no staff members will be invited unless they have appropriate security clearances. As a consequence Professor John Elliff, who has been tentatively named Director of the Committee's Task Force on Domestic Intelligence, will not attend. It is hoped that we may provide him with a private meeting at some later date.

It is expected that those attending the briefing will include: Mr. Miller, F. A. O. Schwarz III, Chief Counsel, Mark Gitenstein and Marvin Epstein, staff members. Since no Committee members will be present, we are not recommending that the staff meet with the Director.

"The Washington Post," Thursday, 4-10-75, edition on page A31 contains an article reporting an interview of Senator Frank Church, Chairman of the Senate Select Committee on Intelligence Activities. Senator Church, according to this article, stated that the Committee is reserving the right to make public eventually any documents it gets and is accepting nothing with "strings attached."

Inasmuch as this Committee is also the Committee which the FBI is furnishing information to, it is believed a clarification of Senator Church's statement must be obtained and in the interim we should furnish the Senate Select Committee only those documents which do not have a caveat such as classified documents or documents bearing the property stamp.

Section Chief William O. Cregar advised that he had contacted Dr. John M. Clarke, Associate Deputy to the DCI for the Intelligence Committee concerning Senator Church's reported statement. Clarke stated that CIA Director William E. Colby was highly upset at Church's remark and that this statement would be a topic of a discussion of the Executive Committee meeting of the Ad Hoc Coordinating Group on Congressional Review the morning of 4-11-75. We will be represented at that conference by Section Chief William O. Cregar and Assistant Director John A. Mintz. Clarke indicated the position that the CIA will apparently take regarding this problem is that the White House should obtain the clarification although CIA Director Colby initially was prepared to send a letter over his signature to Senator Church to obtain such clarification.

Senate CIA Committee Says White House Stalls on Data

By George Lardner Jr.
Washington Post Staff Writer

The Senate Committee on Intelligence Operations disclosed yesterday that the White House is still stalling on a month-old request for the directives involving covert activities by the Central Intelligence Agency and other arms of the Government.

Sen. Frank Church (D-Idaho), the committee chairman, told reporters after a closed, 2½-hour meeting that he had been authorized to write another letter to President Ford asking him to expedite the request.

The committee asked Mr. Ford on March 12 for all the executive orders and top-secret National Security Council directives concerning the CIA and the rest of the intelligence community, including the command structure at the White House.

The President was also asked to supply the committee with a copy of CIA Director William E. Colby's January report to Mr. Ford on allegations of illegal domestic spying by the agency.

But all the committee has gotten so far, Church said, has been what the White House evidently regards as the least sensitive documents on the list.

Church said he did not know "what the hang-up is" since White House aides have indicated they consider the committee's entire request as "perfectly proper."

Church did not spell out all of "the more sensitive data" that is still being withheld, but he said it includes both the Colby report and the top-secret White House and National Security Council directives dealing with covert operations, both foreign and domestic.

The Idaho senator said the committee is reserving the right to make public eventually any documents it gets and is accepting nothing with "strings attached." But he declined to speculate on whether this might be the reason for the administration's hesitance.

Church said all of the records were essential to the committee's mandate to investigate the CIA and the rest of the government's intelligence community. He said he still had no reason to think at this point that the White House would refuse to give them up, but he emphasized that he saw no reason for further delay.

Church said the committee also authorized its staff of about 35 lawyers and investigators to start gathering evidence and interviewing witnesses as the prelude to a projected round of public hearings this summer. The House has also ordered a similar inquiry but its committee, headed by Rep. Lucien Nedzi (D-Mich.), has yet to choose a staff director.

The Senate committee's chief counsel, Fritz Schwarz, said directors have now been named for all four of its task forces. They are William Bader, head of the foreign intelligence task force; John Elliff, head of the domestic intelligence task force; Alton H. Quanbeck, head of the Military intelligence task force, and David Aaron, head of the task force that will study the intelligence community's "command and control structure."

Bader is a former Senate Foreign Relations Committee aide and has recently been working with the Ford Foundation. Elliff is a Brandeis University professor and expert in domestic law enforcement activities. Quanbeck has been director of the Brookings Institution's defense analysis project and Aaron has served on the National Security Council staff.

Schwarz said that each of the task forces will cut across the lines of various intelligence agencies and focus on general avenues of inquiry, such as the "legal authority and legal restraints" for intelligence work; the targets and techniques of intelligence-gathering, counterintelligence and covert operations, and the question of who orders and controls those activities.

This memorandum reports the results of a meeting of the Executive Committee of the Ad Hoc Coordinating Group on Congressional Review of the Intelligence Community (hereafter referred to as the EXCOM), held at CIA Headquarters on the morning of 4/4/75.

This meeting was chaired by Mr. Colby in his role as the Director of Central Intelligence. In attendance were Mr. Roderick Hills, Assistant Counsel to the President; Associate Deputy AG Wilderotter; Mr. John Clarke; as well as senior officials from Defense, Treasury, National Security Council, Office of Management and Budget, and the Energy Research and Development Administration.

The following items of interest were discussed:

Mr. Roderick Hills reported that he had a meeting with the Counsel and Staff Director of the Senate Select Committee (SSC) to discuss having Legal Counsel present when members of a particular agency were being interviewed by SSC staff personnel. The essence of this meeting resulted in the SSC being receptive to such an arrangement but it would be incumbent upon each agency, department or bureau to negotiate the specific arrangements for such representation with the SSC. Hills also discussed the problem of the unknown employee or former employee who might request to be interviewed unbeknownst to the parent agency. It was suggested to the Counsel and Staff Director by Hills that such an employee be interviewed by only one staff member, that the staff member attempt to determine the scope of this individual's testimony and then discuss such testimony with the parent agency to insure the agency could provide advice as to the sensitivity of the unknown employee's testimony. No firm decisions were made but it would appear the Counsel and Staff Director will agree to allow Counsel to be present during the testimony of a secret employee and following such testimony the employee will be allowed to meet with staff members of the SSC in an Executive Session. It is anticipated more definitive information on the final decisions regarding this aspect will be forthcoming from the White House.

The question was raised by the Bureau representative as to whether the Ad Hoc Group and/or the interagency registry should be notified as to requests members of the Intelligence Community receive from other Congressional committees. Mr. Wilderotter advised that this would be a judgment question; however, if a request from a Congressional committee other than the Select Committees impacted on the Intelligence Community, involve sensitive issues or would be of interest to the White House, such requests should be provided to the interagency registry along with an abstract of the response.

Attached is a list of those members of the SSC staff who have been certified for access to compartmented information. Also attached is a paper identifying 10 issues likely to grow out of Select Committee deliberations. The pencil notation in the right-hand column identifies those agencies of the Intelligence Community responsible for preparing a paper which addresses these issues. It is noted that issue identified as number eight is entitled, "Intelligence Files and Privacy." Mr. Colby asked that the FBI prepare this paper. Assistant Director Mintz advised that the Bureau has a study underway on this very subject and agreed that the Bureau would prepare this study. The deadline for completion of the study is 4/25/75.

Also attached is a copy of the survey of the SSC facility, Room G-308, Dirksen Building, covering all aspects of physical and technical security. None of the participants of the EXCOM had any objection to the facility and we presume the SSC will abide by the procedures outlined in the attached survey report.

Attached also for information is a draft of an employee notice and agreement concerning treatment of confidential material being considered by the SSC. It is to be noted that to date neither the Committee nor its staff has signed any such Secrecy Agreement.

SURVEY REPORT

Senate Select Committee Facility
Dirksen Bldg. 1st & C Street, N. E.
Washington, D. C.

1. In response to a request from Mr. Ben Marshall, Security Director, Senate Select Committee, (tele. 224-1700) Messrs. Nicholas R. Zubon and Robert E. Burgener conducted a comprehensive security survey of the Senate Select Committee's Facility on 24 March 1975.

2. Mr. Marshall provided both a comprehensive tour of the facility and a detailed explanation of the operation.

3. The following are pertinent facts concerning the security procedures as related to the Senate Select Committee Facility:

A. Type of Facility

The Committee is in the auditorium (Room G 308) of the Dirksen Building at 1st and C Streets, N. E., Washington, D. C. Access to the auditorium is gained easiest by entering the building from the 1st and C Streets entrance. A 24-hour guard post is located just inside this entrance. The Select Committee facility is 40' east of the building guard post. It is nearly in direct line of sight, however, a foyer surrounded by a 6' high temporary partition precludes the auditorium entrance door from being visible. The entrance to the auditorium is protected by a 24-hour guard post.

The auditorium (Room G 308) is approximately 100' long x 45' wide. The floor, ceiling and walls are made of 6" to 8" solid masonry. The ceiling has a false ceiling approximately 18" deep in which the air handling equipment and sundry other service components are housed. All major air handling equipment is on the roof above the auditorium. Access to the roof which is strictly controlled by the Director of Security, is gained by a stairway in the southeast corner of the auditorium. The sidewalls each have a 2' x 3' register approximately 12' above the floor through which air is passed from the auditorium to the air handling equipment on the roof. These registers are solidly bolted into the walls.

The front of the auditorium (south wall) is covered by a large movie screen. To the right and left of the movie screen are two rooms 6' wide and approximately 15' long used by the research section clerical personnel. These rooms have countertop openings approximately 3' above the floor for access from within the auditorium. Countertop openings exist along both sidewalls for approximately three quarters of the length of the wall. The sidewalls have intercorridors on the opposite side of the countertops which have been converted into unpartitioned office space. The only reproduction machine, a xerox model 3100, is located in the west corridor. The east corridor has been converted into a compartmented information storage room and a compartmented document reading room. The Security Director indicated that he may move his office to the head of the compartmented reading room to provide a larger measure of access control to this sensitive area.

The auditorium has six wooden exterior doors, 7' high and 3" thick. The entrance door into the auditorium (west and north wall) will have an electrical push-button lock installed. A similar door in the east end of the north wall will be barred and bracketed on the inside to prevent unauthorized entry. The west wall has 2 exterior doors leading into the Capitol Police offices. The east wall has two exterior doors with one leading to the roof while the second door exits into the Capitol Police Garage. All exterior doors will be alarmed. The doors now have Yale 197 1/4 locks with the keys controlled by Mr. Marshall. The fire safety factor concerning these locked doors was discussed with him.

The auditorium has a small second floor area at the north end. Access is gained by two stairways on the east and west side of the auditorium. The second floor space consists of a large projection room, currently filled with projection equipment, and five small private film viewing rooms.

The five small rooms will be converted into witness interview rooms. The windows in each of these rooms will be covered during the stay of the Select Committee in the auditorium.

B. Access Controls

Access to the Dirksen Building is gained by either the main entrance on 1st and C Streets, ground level, or the Basement Tunnel Entrance at the rear of the building. Both entrances have a 24-hour guard post where persons entering are checked for identification. Brief cases and packages are processed through x-ray machines. Vendors entering the main entrance are checked for ID, however, all boxes are not checked.

Entry into the auditorium is controlled by a guard at the door. His instructions are that all persons entering must show an ID card. Visitors are permitted only by appointment. They are logged in and escorted at all times while in the auditorium. From 1800 hours Friday through 0800 hours Saturday, and from 1300 hours Saturday to 0700 hours Monday everyone must sign the log in and out and show an ID. In the event an access problem arises at the guard post, regardless of the hour, Mr. Marshall is alerted.

C. Guards

The Dirksen Building and the auditorium are protected by members of the U. S. Capitol Police Department. The Building has two 24-hour/7day-a-week guard posts at the entrances while the Senate Select Committee has one 24-hour/7 day-a-week guard post at the entrance and an after-hours roving patrol inside the auditorium. All police officers are well trained, wear the Capitol Police uniform and carry Smith and Wesson 38 caliber revolvers. After-hour patrols check all doors, the entire auditorium for classified material that may not have been secured, and the second floor hourly during the night. The guards on duty at the time of the survey were alert and responsive to their duties. During off-duty hours, guard supervisors make at least two unscheduled visits to the guard posts during each shift. In addition the guard at the stationary post has four telephones, two of which have a pickup and automatic ring feature with Capitol Police Headquarters. There will be no rotation of police officers during the occupancy of the Committee. The same officers will be assigned to these posts.

D. Alarms

All exterior doors to the auditorium will have contact (microswitch) alarms. The Remington Rand safes, being obsolete, will be protected by a proximity alarm. The compartmented storage room and an adjacent reading area will be protected by a volumetric alarm. For fire protection a smoke detector/rate of rise alarm will be installed in the compartmented area. All alarms will enunciate at the guard desk at the entrance to the auditorium. The ADT Company will install and maintain the alarms.

E. Safes

The facility has 22 safes. Sixteen 4-drawer Remington Rand Safes located below the movie screen. Three class six Mosler 5-drawer, two class 1 Diebold 2-drawer, and one class 2 Diebold four-drawer are located in the compartmented storage room. With the exception of the Remington Rand safes, all other safes are in good working order.

The safe combination and repairs are under contract with the Safemaster Company. The safe combinations were recently changed by that company. All safe combinations are under the control of Mr. Marshall. However, an assist on day-to-day operations is provided by Mr. Pat Shea, Assistant Staff Director, who acts as backup for safeguarding the combinations to the safes in the compartmented storage room. Messrs. Larry Kieves, John Petersen and Ms. Jan Orloff are backup for the combinations to the sixteen Remington Rand Safes. Mr. Marshall was given two change keys in the event he decides to change the combination himself should staff personnel rotate.

F. Document Control

Incoming CIA documents will be delivered by Agency courier to the guard at the entrance door to the auditorium. The registry officer will receipt for them and take them to the Registry Section where all documents will be logged. Compartmented and Top Secret material will be taken to the Compartmented Storage Room and placed in a safe after it has been logged in Registry. Individuals, on an access list promulgated by Mr. Marshall draw the compartmented documents from the safes but must read them in the adjacent area dedicated for this purpose. Documents classified below TS/Codeword will be stored in the Remington Rand safes. The documents in the Remington Rand safes can be drawn by anyone on the staff, but must be receipted for with the Registry Officer. The documents are to be read on the tables placed there for that purpose in the Research Section.

Further control of classified documents is directed through the assigning of a staff employee given responsibility for the reproduction of documents on the xerox machine. He will control the number of copies made on typewriters.

All classified material is secured in safes at the end of the working day.

H. Classified Waste

It is estimated that one 50-pound bag of classified waste will be generated each week while the Committee is in session. Once the bag is filled with classified waste, it will be placed in the locked trunk of Mr. Marshall's automobile and taken to the Federal Reserve Building incinerator where he will witness destruction by burning. In the event this incinerator is booked to capacity, he will take the classified waste and burn it at the D. C. incinerator. Should either incinerator become unavailable to the Committee, Mr. Marshall was assured that CIA would consider assisting him in the secure disposition of Committee classified waste.

I. Compartmented/TS Storage

A room dedicated as the codeword/TS storage room is in the northeast corner of the auditorium. Its five walls are solid masonry ranging from 6" to 8" thick. A 1/8" stainless steel door frame is bolted to the masonry walls. A prefabricated 9 gage wire cross-patch metal frame door is attached to the steel frame serving as access control to the dedicated room. The door will be secured by lock and key once classified material arrives for storage. This room will be alarmed.

J. Telephone

The Facility has six standard telephones in the auditorium. Five of the telephones will be equipped with conversation masking devices. A central switch installed ahead of the telephone instruments will disconnect all telephones simultaneously, should the need arise. The telephone system is maintained by the local telephone company.

K. Security Briefings

All new members of the committee receive a thorough briefing from Mr. Marshall on security procedures and security responsibilities. Briefings are periodically reinforced when conditions warrant.

L. Security Duty Check Procedures

Custodians secure the safe cabinets assigned to them, i.e. Mr. Shea, codeword room, Messrs. Kieves, Petersen, and Ms. Orloff, Research area. Mr. Marshall double checks behind them. The custodian, Security Director and the roving guard patrol check the entire auditorium to ensure all classified material has been secured at the end of the day.

M. Counteraudio Inspection

Mr. Marshall has taken action on this requirement and continues to monitor this area to provide the Committee with as much security protection against the Audio threat as possible.

N. Shredder

The facility has one Destroyit Model 51 Shredder used only for shredding the most sensitive documents. Other documents are not shredded in this machine because of its limited shredding capability.

O. General Observations

The security procedures implemented within the Senate Select Committee facility are sufficient to provide a proper environment for the protection of classified materials. The survey officers were pleased with the security director's dedication to the objective of providing the best security possible for the Committee.

NOTES FOR SESSION

In previous sessions we discussed the importance of highlighting issues likely to grow out of Commission or Committee deliberations. We observed that we should identify some of those on which a legal brief or annex would be helpful to Executive Branch initiatives. The idea was to select a few where a solid research paper with options, pros and cons, etc., could help us develop a firm grip on the questions in the issue and identify options. For example, the question of Executive privacy presents itself, and I gather is being worked on.

There are others we feel it would be useful for the group to address and assign responsibility for further work. For example:

	Suggested Action
1. Economic Intelligence and National Security--new discussion —	Treasury
2. Covert action and the law —	CIA
3. The Intelligence Budget--open, black, or closed--rational and procedures for handling past, present and future —	OMB
4. Joint Congressional oversight committee for Intelligence —	CIA.
5. GAO and the audit authorities of U.S. Intelligence Agencies —	IC Staff help from legal counsel
6. Confidential funds authorities, contingency reserves, legal base, history and uses —	CIA-DOD
7. Cover for Foreign Intelligence Actions legal and administrative issues —	CIA-State
8. Intelligence files and privacy —	FBI [illegible]
9. The "fact of" question--international, legal and political considerations —	State
10. "Sources and methods" legislation —	OMB & Justice

This memorandum reports the results of a meeting of the Ad Hoc Coordinating Group on Congressional Review of the Intelligence Community (hereafter referred to as the Group), held at CIA Headquarters on the morning of 4/2/75.

The study prepared for the President's Foreign Intelligence Advisory Board (PFIAB) entitled, "Human Intelligence," has come to the attention of the Senate Select Committee (SSC). The major contributors to this report were the FBI and CIA. It is an extremely sensitive document and for that reason any requests from any committees of the Congress for copies of this report should be referred to the White House. At the present time, the consensus of those persons in the White House dealing with the subject of release of information to the committees of Congress is that this report will not be provided Congressional committees at this time.

The SSC does recognize a requirement to comply with the Third Agency Rule which states in effect that classified information or material originating in one department shall not be disseminated outside any other department to which it has been made available without the consent of the originating department. CIA's General Counsel has produced a paper entitled "The Third Agency Rule," copy attached, which they have requested be reviewed by the Legal Counsels of all agencies making up the Intelligence Community. A copy of CIA's paper referred to above has been made available to Assistant Director Mintz who has indicated he will be in direct contact with Mr. Warner, CIA's General Counsel.

objections be furnished to the Security Committee of the United States Intelligence Board (USIB) for consideration. A copy of these guidelines has been furnished to the Freedom of Information Unit of the Legal Counsel Division for review. Their comments will be furnished to the Bureau's representative, Mr. Frank Schwartz, on the USIB Committee in compliance with the mandate from the Ad Hoc Group.

Also attached is a copy of the abstract which all agencies of the Intelligence Community are being required to use in abstracting information that agency has provided one of the Select Committees. These abstracts will be retained in an interagency registry to be available for review by any members of the Intelligence Community as well as the White House. The purpose of this interagency registry is to have available in one location all information in abstract form that members of the Intelligence Community have provided the SSC.

Attached is a memorandum for Mr. John Clarke, Chairman of the Group, advising the names and titles of individuals on Congressman Nedzi's staff or on the staff of the House Armed Services Committee who have been approved for access to classified material. It is assumed that these persons will have continuing close relations with Congressman Nedzi and may be officially associated with the House Select Committee.

Also attached is a letter from Senator Church, Chairman of the Select Committee, addressed to the President enclosing a list of documents which the SSC is requesting from the White House.

ACTION:

For information and record purposes.

The Third Agency Rule

1. As early as November 1953, the third agency rule was included in Executive Order 10501, which has now been revoked. Section 7(c) prohibited the dissemination of "classified defense information originating in another Department or agency" to an agency "outside the receiving Department or agency without the consent of the originating Department or agency". The only exception to this rule is that dissemination may be made under the authority of Section 102 of the National Security Act. This section authorizes the Director of Central Intelligence "to correlate and evaluate intelligence relating to the national security, and provide for the appropriate dissemination of such intelligence within the Government using, where appropriate, existing agencies and facilities".

2. Historically, the responsibility of the DCI to disseminate intelligence has referred to "finished intelligence". This product is the end result of contributions from members of the Intelligence Community. Therefore, in this situation the finished product is a~~n~~ homogenous product and therefore the approval for further dissemination beyond the receiving agency must come from the Central Intelligence Agency.

3. Executive Order 10501 was superseded by Executive Order 11652 which became effective 1 June 1972. This Executive order did not specifically cover the third agency rule. However, it does provide the following controls: Sec. 9. Special Departmental Arrangements. The originating Department or other appropriate authority may impose, in conformity with the provisions of this order, special requirements with respect to access, distribution and protection of classified information and material, including those which presently relate to communications intelligence, intelligence sources and methods and cryptography.

4. In anticipation of the implementation of Executive Order 11652, a directive was issued on May 17, 1972 entitled "National Security Council Directive Governing the Classification, Downgrading, Declassification and Safeguarding of National Security Information". This directive does not contain the term "third agency rule" but does have four subsections which relate to procedures which are similar to what historically had been called the third agency rule. These sections are:

> A.(2) Determination of Need-to-Know. In addition to a security clearance, a person must have a need for access to the particular classified information or material sought in connection with the performance of his official duties or contractual obligations. The determination of that need shall be made by officials having responsibility for the classified information or material.

D. Consent of Originating Department to Dissemination by Recipient. Except as otherwise provided by Section 102 of the National Security Act of 1947, 61 Stat. 495, 50 U.S.C. 403, classified information or material originating in one Department shall not be disseminated outside any other Department to which it has been made available without the consent of the originating Department.

E. Dissemination of Sensitive Intelligence Information. Information or material bearing the notation "WARNING NOTICE -- SENSITIVE INTELLIGENCE SOURCES AND METHODS INVOLVED" shall not be disseminated in any manner outside authorized channels without the permission of the originating Department and an assessment by the senior intelligence official in the disseminating Department as to the potential risk to the national security and to the intelligence sources and methods involved.

F. Restraint on Special Access Requirements. The establishment of special rules limiting access to, distribution and protection of classified information and material under Section 9 of the Order requires the specific prior approval of the head of a Department or his designee.

5. Examples of the application of the Third Agency Rule are:

(a) In a national security estimate, contributions are received from all members of the Intelligence Community and then disseminated to members of the community under the authority of the DCI;

(b) A CIA intelligence report disseminated to the State Department may not be sent by the State Department to the Department of Commerce without the permission of the CIA;

(c) Information which the CIA furnishes the President's Commission may not be disseminated to other agencies or to the Congress without the concurrences of CIA. Thus, a request from the Congress to the Commission for CIA information should be referred to CIA for action so that the necessary protection of the information can be insured.

(d) If the Navy Department discusses one of its operations with CIA, CIA may not include information about that operation in papers it disseminates to other agencies unless it has received the permission of the Navy Department. The distinction here is that a Navy operation would not be considered part of the finished intelligence mechanism and therefore would not fall within the statutory authority of CIA to disseminate intelligence.

THE DIRECTOR OF CENTRAL INTELLIGENCE

28 March 1975

MEMORANDUM FOR: USIB Ad Hoc Group

SUBJECT: Handling of Third Agency Matters in Response to Congressional Select Committees

1. As you are aware, Senator Church already has submitted to me a long list of materials which he requests be provided to his Senate Select Committee to Study Governmental Operations with Respect to Intelligence Activities. He has submitted other lists to the Federal Bureau of Investigation and to the White House. It is expected that other elements of the Intelligence Community will be hearing from Senator Church.

2. The scope of the investigation necessarily is going to involve Third Agency relationships to a considerable degree.

3. In the implementation of Executive Order 11652, "Classification and Declassification of National Security Information and Material," the President directed the following:

> "D. Consent of Originating Department to Dissemination by Recipient. Except as otherwise provided by Section 102 of the National Security Act of 1947, 61 Stat. 495, 50 U.S.C. 403, classified information or material originating in one Department shall not be disseminated outside any other Department to which it has been made available without the consent of the originating department."

4. As regards Section 102 of the 1947 Act, the following quotes 102 (e) in full:

> "(3) To the extent recommended by the National Security Council and approved by the President, such intelligence of the departments and agencies of the Government, except as hereinafter provided, relating to the national security, shall be open to the inspection of the Director of Central Intelligence, and such intelligence as relates to the national security and is possessed by such departments and other agencies of the Government, except as hereinafter provided, shall be made available to the Director of Central Intelligence for correlation, evaluation and dissemination: Provided, however, that upon the written request of the Director of Central Intelligence, the Director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation shall make available to the Director of Central Intelligence such information for correlation, evaluation and dissemination as may be essential to the national security."

5. If I am requested to provide certain materials and investigation indicates that the material asked for involves a document which originated within an organization other than the Intelligence Community Staff or the Central Intelligence Agency, the requestor will be asked to redirect his inquiry to the office of origin.

6. It already is apparent, however, that the documentation being requested inevitably is going to include references to interrelationships among various of the elements of the intelligence community. Clearing each and every such reference with every agency mentioned could manifestly be extremely consuming of time and manpower.

7. I propose the Ad Hoc Group agree on the following procedure. Where it appears that truly sensitive matters are involved, the material will be sanitized by the agency concerned and a check will be made with the appropriate Third Agency organizations before release. Where the reference concerns a Third Agency indirectly or is not considered sensitive and does not pose policy concerns, the agency concerned may forward the material to the requesting Select Committee without an item-by-item, mention-by-mention clearance with Third Agencies. However, in all cases notification that such material has been forwarded will be made to the central index and

1. agency receiving request
2. originating agency

all agencies alerted through that mechanism. Agencies will designate on their submissions to the central index, the name and telephone number of the releasing party.

8. Ad hoc members should be prepared to discuss and come to some agreement on this matter at the next meeting.

SUBJECT: Sanitization Guidelines for Documents Provided Congressional Select Committees

1. Attached is a copy of a statement, "Guidelines for Sanitizing Certain Documents Provided Select Committees" prepared by the Chairman, USIB Security Committee, for consideration by the Ad Hoc Group. This step is a follow on to the understanding the DCI has with Senator Church that sanitization of selective documents will be undertaken before the documents are released to the Committee. Similar understandings have been discussed with House Staff as well.

2. It is important that, to the extent possible, all intelligence organizations follow generally the same sanitization guidelines. Accordingly, the USIB Ad Hoc Group should consider utilizing these or similar guidelines within their respective organizations.

3. If requested by the Chairman, the DCI will discuss orally with the Chairman and Vice Chairman of the Senate and House Select Committees the content of the sensitive USIB or CIA material excised from documents. Where appropriate, the DCI may discuss this sensitive material with the entire Select Committee. He considers it essential that the written record provided to the Committee staff not include such sensitive information for the protection of intelligence sources and methods.

GUIDELINES FOR SANITIZING CERTAIN DOCUMENTS PROVIDED SELECT COMMITTEES

1. The Director of Central Intelligence has recently discussed with Senator Church the need for special consideration and treatment by the Select Committee of certain sensitive aspects of intelligence activities and the Senator has expressed his recognition of this need. Included in such matters are the identities of sensitive sources, the material provided to the United States by cooperating foreign intelligence services, the details of technical devices and systems and of operational methods, the identities of certain employees whose safety could be jeopardized if revealed, the identities of American citizens and organizations who have cooperated with US intelligence and some additional materials the public disclosure of which would create serious foreign policy or national security problems. Such material should be protected not only from exposure but indeed the risk of exposure. Further, recognition should be given to the need to protect certain other information which, if improperly disclosed, might impair the privacy rights of individuals.

ALL FBI INFORMATION CONTAINED
DATE 1/18/01 BY SP2 ALM/JG

2. One form of this special consideration may include use of sanitization procedures to avoid the risk of exposing such matters and at the same time satisfy the Select Committee's need for a full understanding of the community's activities.

3. What May Be Sanitized

While it is not possible to anticipate all requirements which may be levied by the Committees for document~~ing~~ary material and not possible to determine specifically what material should be excised from these documents, the following illustrations are offered in certain likely categories. The criteria in all cases should meet the test mentioned above.

4. Collection of Intelligence

(a) The Committee will probably address the matter of how intelligence activities or methods have or may impinge upon individual rights. Documents supporting responses may be sanitized by removal of identities of sensitive agents and informants, covert personnel, and contractual cover arrangements. A descriptive phrase may be substituted, i.e., a foreign journalist, a political official in the opposition party. No sanitization should be used in connection with names of individuals whose employment or former employment by, or association with a department or agency, does not remain secret or for individuals whose present or future activities on behalf of the department or agency do not require that previous cover arrangements remain secret.

(b) Some information may be required with respect to technical intelligence systems including cryptologic and communications activities and reconnaissance capabilities. Almost all of such material is currently handled in compartmentation control channels under various codewords or nicknames. No security threat is perceived by release of these codenames or nicknames in documents. Details of the technical systems involved, contractual arrangements, funding and/or names of companies or consultants whose participation was obtained under agreement of continued secrecy may be excised from documents. Any question on release of codeword material should be referred to the Program Manager who in turn may consult with the Director of Central Intelligence to ensure a consistent approach in the community's sanitization procedure. While documentary samples of intelligence obtained by technical means may be used in support of verbal testimony, no raw product should be provided the Committees for retention. If absolutely required by the Committees, sanitization of such raw product should be conducted to mask the degree of technical capabilities.

5. Intelligence Estimates

Finished intelligence reports of departments and agencies and estimates do not usually contain source identifications and will not normally require sanitization. However, departments and agencies should review such publications to ensure deletion of source identities.

6. Administration

Information concerning the internal administration arrangements of intelligence agencies may be requested. This may include staffing charts with occupants identified. ~~Sanitization of individual,~~ Identities of personnel formerly not under cover and now functioning in a cover assignment should be deleted as well as those who may in the future be considered for a covert assignment.

7. General

The following categories of information or specific examples may arise in any number of circumstances in documentation requested by the Select Committees. In all cases, serious consideration should be given by the department or agency concerned to the necessity of deletion or sanitization of this type of information, prior to providing the document.

(a) Agent or informant names or operational information revealing them.

(b) Details which would reveal the effectiveness of sensitive methods and techniques (1) ~~employed overseas in human source~~ collection, (2) employed for the physical security protection of the department's or agency's personnel or physical environment.

(c) The numbers, locations, times and other indications of recruitment or emplacement of personnel within targetted foreign organizations.

(d) The success or failure of recruitment attempts in any given targetted foreign organization.

(e) Names of particular employees whose physical safety or future career might be placed in jeopardy by exposure.

(f) Foreign or US sources, official or otherwise who agreed to cooperate under terms of explicit or implied confidentiality, who would be embarrassed or endangered by disclosure of their role.

(g) Identifying information on intelligence services in friendly and neutral countries.

(h) Identifying collaborative operations between the United States intelligence agencies and other foreign intelligence liaison services against targets within the country extending the collaborations or within a jointly targetted third country.

(i) Identifying collaboration with foreign governments in signals intelligence collection, particularly for arrangements which, if revealed, would be politically embarrassing in the countries involved.

(j) Identification of technical intelligence operations of high technical vulnerability and extremely high political sensitivity.

(k) Specific identification of foreign technical collection installations involving high political sensitivity in the host country.

(l) Details or disclosure of monetary arrangements with US and foreign banks, investment houses, etc., in support of foreign intelligence operations.

(m) Specific information on special relationships with private firms established with the approval of top corporate officials. This includes names of firms or industrial associations that collaborate in a special manner such as providing cover for foreign intelligence operations.

(n) Names of firms collaborating with US intelligence agencies in collection and assessment programs (especially those having large foreign clienteles).

(o) Proprietary information relating to contractors or furnished in confidence.

8. What Should Not Be Sanitized

There are general categories of intelligence activities which have already been placed in the public domain by the mass news media or authors with background experience in intelligence departments or agencies of the community. Names, places, dates and events which have been so revealed should not be excised if contained in requested documents.

There is an increasing body of information which has been released under the Freedom of Information Act. No further sanitization of this material should be conducted unless it relates to an individual's rights to privacy.

9. Techniques of Sanitization

Sanitization of intelligence material is usually considered the act of physical removal of the identity of a person, place or thing from written communication with or without regard for the residual content. Use of a substitution device, either pseudonym or ident is an example of sanitization which permits intelligent continuity of the material without revealing the true identity. Sanitization does not extend to the use of false or misleading substitute material in this context.

The integrity of official records must be maintained. The following sanitization techniques apply only to copies of records.

(a) Physical Sanitization - Names may be cut out and the residual material xeroxed and submitted to Committees. Names may be masked with correction tape and then xeroxed. The xerox copy may be submitted to the Committees.

(b) Names may be deleted and replaced with "IDEN." The deleted material is provided on a separate IDEN list which contains names or descriptive phrases substituted for deletions.

(c) The material can be retyped or reprinted with substitute phrases or substitute descriptions which do not reveal the sensitive material.

(d) Entire pages can be removed from some documents and replaced with a blank page carrying only reference information as to the location of the sensitive material within the contributing department or agency. This technique may be employed when physical sanitization or excision of material results in unintelligible gibberish as residue.

(e) Within a category of inquiry, it may be desirable to extract a complete document from requested material when the request is broad and all inclusive within its field. The existence of such a document should be made known to the Committees but retained by the agency or department for review under escort of a representative of the department or agency.

10. Management of Sanitization

The original record and a copy of the sanitized version provided should be readily available in all cases. Materials developed within an agency or department in response to requests should be reviewed at an appropriate level for completeness, responsiveness and accuracy. In the case of documents or materials of a community nature, the release should be done in coordination with the departments or agencies and/or the Program Manager concerned and any sanitization should be agreed upon during coordination.

This proposed use of sanitization as a special arrangement to protect selected issues contained in material provided to Select Committees by one agency may prove to be a futile exercise if not practiced in common by all participating departments and agencies. It is essential to the proposal that departments and agencies attempt to employ the same criteria for sanitization and coordinate as required. This paper can serve only as general guidelines on sanitization.

The President
The White House
Washington, D. C.

Dear Mr. President:

On behalf of the Senate Select Committee To Study Governmental Operations With Respect To Intelligence Activities, Senator Tower and I want to thank you for the opportunity we had on March 5 to discuss the work of the Committee. I want to express my personal appreciation for the direct and forthright manner in which you addressed some of the initial questions that lay before the Select Committee, and your willingness to assist the Committee to meet its responsibilities under the mandate of S. Res. 21.

We are in agreement that the work of the Committee should proceed as expeditiously as possible and the Committee is gratified at the full and complete cooperation that we have received from the Executive agencies up to this point. In every respect thus far, the agencies have been fully cooperative with the Committee and the staff and I believe this augers well for a constructive and expeditious conclusion to our inquiry.

At our meeting on March 5th with you, we discussed the general areas in which the Committee would need initial documentation. As we discussed, our first requirements are to determine the legal basis for the activities for the intelligence agencies of the United States Government. In this regard, it will be helpful to the Committee to receive from whomever you may designate, the documents, files, and other papers that might be required to fully determine the legal basis for the activities of United States intelligence agencies. With the unanimous approval of the Committee, I respectfully request that the documents on the attached list directly relevant to the inquiry authorized by S. Res. 21, be supplied to the Committee at the earliest opportunity.

With kind regards,

Sincerely,

Frank Church

SUBJECT: SENSTUDY 75

By memorandum dated 3-20-75, you were advised of a request received from the Senate Select Committee on Intelligence Activities. The Intelligence Division requested that an attempt be made to modify portions of the Committee's request.

Regarding Part I titled Legal Authorities, the Intelligence Division pointed out that this particular request was wide-ranging and required a considerable file review as it requested any memorandum discussing the legal authority of the FBI to "(1) investigate internal security matters, (2) collect intelligence information, and (3) engage in counter-intelligence activities; together with copies of all constitutional and statutory provisions, executive orders, presidential directives, Attorney General opinions and memoranda, and any other materials asserted as sources of such authority." With regard to Part III concerning the FBI's administrative organization, they requested the identities by name of personnel in the Intelligence Division, Unit Chief and above. This caused concern in the Intelligence Division that there would be a needless proliferation of a list of Bureau personnel working in this field which list, of course, would be of interest to foreign intelligence sources.

On 4-1-75 Inspector John B. Hotis and SA Paul V. Daly discussed these matters with William Miller, Staff Director of the Senate Select Committee; John T. Elliff, who has been nominated to head the task force for the Committee looking into FBI activities; F. A. O. Schwarz, Counsel to the Senate Select Committee; and staff member Michael Epstein. They agreed to modify the request in Part III to the extent that personnel in the Intelligence Division need not be identified by name below the level of Assistant Director in the organization chart to be furnished them pursuant to their request of 3-19-75. They asked as an alternative the Bureau prepare a list of personnel in the Intelligence Division down to the level of Unit Chief with names included which they would have access to review in Bureau space.

With regard to Part I relating to legal authorities, they stated they were amenable to the Bureau furnishing them whatever documents they have retrieved up to this time which have been recovered pursuant to their request of 3-19-75 and that no additional detailed review need be conducted until they review the aforementioned documents. At the end of their review they will make any additional specific requests concerning this part of their request. They also asked that in our response we furnish them copies of documents listed on a three-page paper prepared by the staff of the Senate Select Committee, a copy of which is attached.

Staff Director Miller requested that the Bureau expedite their response to the Senate Select Committee's request as the first meeting of that Committee is scheduled for Wednesday, 4-9-75, and he felt strongly that they must have material that showed progress in their study of the FBI prior to that time. Mr. Miller requested that, if necessary, the request be responded to in a piecemeal basis and that the complete response does not necessarily have to be made at one time.

It is suggested that we make available to this Committee as soon as possible those documents which we have furnished the General Accounting Office (GAO) which also fall within the 3-19-75 request of the Senate Select Committee. In this regard staff members have advised they are in contact with GAO auditors concerning the FBI.

By way of observations it is obvious that the staff members of the Committee are well versed in Bureau policy and procedures. To this point they have been cooperative and we should insure that we give a timely response to their various requests.

RECOMMENDATIONS:

(1) That the Intelligence Division advise whether modification of the Senate Select Committee's request concerning legal authorities for investigations and the modification of the table of organization of the Intelligence Division are acceptable and, if so, expeditiously prepare the necessary response to the Senate Select Committee.

SUBJECT: CONGRESSIONAL COMMITTEES REVIEW OF FBI OPERATIONS

The purpose of this memorandum is to recommend that all responses for the production of records, etc., received from Congressional committees be forwarded by letterhead memorandum through the Deputy Attorney General to the requesting committee, and also that in selected instances a property stamp or statement be affixed to certain documents limiting access.

With the proliferation of committees in Congress looking into FBI operations, it is essential that a standard procedure for the forwarding of documents to the requesting committees be established. Inasmuch as requests such as the request of the Senate Select Committee on Intelligence Activities have been forwarded to this Bureau through the Department, it would appear logical that responses to such inquiries and all other inquiries of Congressional committees, whether they be directed to the Department and/or the Bureau, be responded to through the Department. Such a procedure not only will make all our responses consistent but will also give the Department an opportunity to review and approve documents being made available to Congress.

In connection with our preparation of responses to requests of Congressional committees, it is suggested that all responses should be by letterhead memorandum, the first paragraph of which should clearly describe the specific request which is being responded to in the letterhead memorandum.

In those instances where documents are of a nature that we are not desirous of unauthorized personnel, whether they be in Congress or otherwise, having access to, we should affix a property stamp. This property stamp should read as follows:

> "This document is prepared in response to your request and is not for dissemination outside of your Committee. Its use is limited to official proceedings by your Committee and the contents may not be disclosed to unauthorized personnel without the express approval of the FBI."

The Agreement for Coordination of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, Office of Naval Intelligence, Intelligence Division of the Army, and the Office of Special Investigations, Inspector General,
U. S. Air Force.

I. The undersigned have reviewed the directive contained in the President's Memorandum of June 26, 1939, as augmented by his Directive of September 6, 1939, the Delimitations Agreement of February 9, 1942, and the Presidential Directive of October 30, 1947. In addition, cognizance has been taken of the provisions of the Atomic Energy Act of 1946, and the specific application of that Act is set forth in Section II hereof. All other provisions of this Agreement are apart from and have no relation to the stated requirements of the Atomic Energy Act. In view of the above, it is now agreed that responsibility for the investigation of all activities coming under the categories of espionage, counterespionage, subversion and sabotage (hereinafter referred to as "these categories") will be delimited as indicated hereinafter. The responsibility assumed by one organization in a given field carries with it the obligation to exchange freely and directly with the other subscribing organizations all information of mutual interest. When the organization with primary operating responsibility is unable for any reason to produce material in that field desired by the subscribing agencies, such special arrangements as may be legal or desirable will be worked out through negotiation at the national level prior to activity by one agency in another agency's field. It is recognized by the subscribers hereto that the Headquarters Department of the Army has decentralized such functions to its major subordinate commanders. When the major subordinate commanders of the Department of the Army cannot effect satisfactory special arrangements, the matter will be referred to the Director of Intelligence of the Army for further negotiations at the national level. Close cooperation and coordination between the four subscribing organizations is a mutually recognized necessity.

APPENDIX A

PERIOD OF MARTIAL LAW

I. It is further agreed that when a state of martial law has been declared by the President, the armed forces commander will assume responsibilities for coverage in these categories. His authority to direct and control the subscribing agencies of the armed forces will be limited only by such instructions as he may receive from the Secretary of Defense. He will have authority to coordinate the intelligence activities of the subscribing agencies in his area of responsibility, within the limits of their available personnel and facilities, by the assignment of missions, the designation of objectives, and the exercise of such coordinating control as he deems necessary. He is not authorized to control the administration or discipline of the subscribing agencies in the area of his responsibility, nor to issue instructions to them beyond those necessary for the purposes stated above.

II. Personnel of the subscribing agencies in the area of responsibility of the armed forces commander will still send reports to and be under the continued supervision of their respective headquarters. They will render such aid and assistance to the armed forces commander and his designated representatives as are possible and practicable. They will furnish all pertinent information, data, and other material that are or may be necessary or desirable to the armed forces commander by the most expeditious means and methods possible consistent with requisite security. Each headquarters of the subscribing agencies will promptly be advised by its agencies of all information and data appropriately identified as having been furnished to the armed forces commander.

APPENDIX B

PERIODS OF PREDOMINANT MILITARY INTERESTS, NOT INVOLVING MARTIAL LAW

I. In time of war certain areas will come into prominence as potential theaters of operation. When an armed forces commander of such a potential theater is designated, he definitely has interest in, though not control of, the civilian life within the area. In order that the armed forces commander may prepare himself for the discharge of the possible responsibility which may affix to him, the following procedure is agreed upon:

1. Agents of the FBI; of ONI; ID, Army; and the OSI, IG, U.S. Air Force will continue to function in accordance with the provisions of Sections II, III, IV, and V.

2. In addition thereto, the armed forces commander may take steps to analyze the facilities existing and to explore the manner in which complete coverage will be obtained if martial law is declared. Adequate liaison with the other subscribing agencies will insure that the armed forces commander will have the benefit of the experience, judgment and knowledge of the representatives of the other agencies.

3. The armed forces commander is authorized to request and receive such information from the other three agencies as he may desire and they may be able to furnish.

II. The analysis and exploration referred to above will show the coverage furnished by each of the subscribing agencies and any additional coverage each subscribing agency can undertake. When the commander feels that more complete coverage is required, it is recognized that he is authorized to augment the coverage with such elements of the subscribing agencies as are under his jurisdiction. Prior to any invasion of the spheres normally coming under the cognizance of the other subscribing agencies, the armed forces commander should obtain the necessary authority from the Secretary of Defense.

III. Irrespective of the fact that the preceding recommendations have placed the initiative in the hands of the armed forces commander, whenever any of the other services feel that such a survey to determine adequacy of coverage should be undertaken, it should be so recommended.

to the Delimitations Agreement

Cooperation and Coordination Between
The Federal Bureau of Investigation
The Intelligence Division of the Army
The Office of Naval Intelligence and
The Office of Special Investigations, Inspector General, U.S. Air Force

The Director of Intelligence, U.S. Army, the Director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, the Director of Naval Intelligence and the Director of the Office of Special Investigations, Inspector General, U.S. Air Force, with a view to promoting the closest possible cooperation and coordination between the Field Services of these agencies agree that the following recommendations will be transmitted to their field installations:

(a) Special Agents in Charge of the Federal Bureau of Investigation Divisional Offices, Military Intelligence Officers of the pertinent Armies, District Officers of the Office of Special Investigations, Inspector General, U.S. Air Force, and Naval District Intelligence Officers will maintain close personal liaison between those offices and their representatives, including a meeting of representatives of the four agencies, preferably the officers in charge, at least twice per month, for the purpose of discussing pending and contemplated investigative activities, and any other subject necessary to insure that there is proper coordination of their investigative work.

(b) The close personal liaison to be maintained between representatives of the four agencies at all times should insure that there is not duplication of effort in any field, and that a proper coverage of the whole investigative field is maintained. Particular attention should be paid to avoiding any duplication in connection with the use of informers.

(c) A distinction should be recognized between the investigative interest of individual agencies and the coverage interest. It is believed that all four agencies should study, from time to time, the coverage of the investigative field in order to insure that all channels of interest and avenues of information are adequately covered by at least one of the participating agencies.

(d) Where there is doubt as to whether or not one of the other agencies is interested in information collected, it should be transmitted to the other agency.

(e) Consideration should be given to the fact that certain classes of information are of general interest to the Military, Naval, and Air Force Intelligence Services in connection with background and knowledge of espionage and sabotage organizations, even though the Military, Naval, and Air Force Intelligence Services may have no apparent direct investigative interest.

(f) Should differences of opinion of a minor nature occur, the directors of the four intelligence agencies feel that with proper personal liaison, such differences can be satisfactorily adjusted locally by the officials in charge of the various divisional organizations.

Supplemental Agreement No. III
(As Amended June 8, 1950)

Investigative Jurisdiction on Vessels of Military Sea Transportation Service

1. The investigative jurisdiction of all activities under the categories of espionage, counterespionage, subversion and sabotage on vessels of the Military Sea Transportation Service is as follows:

a. Investigative jurisdiction on vessels purchased by the Navy will be the responsibility of the Office of Naval Intelligence.

b. Vessels obtained by the Navy through a "bare boat charter" will be under the investigative jurisdiction of the Office of Naval Intelligence.

c. Vessels allocated to the Military Sea Transportation Service which are manned and supervised by their private owners are under the investigative jurisdiction of the FBI.

2. When civilian personnel who are subjects of an investigation under a or b above reach a U.S. port or a port where the FBI has a field agency, or prior to reaching such port, if practicable, the Department of the Navy will promptly furnish the FBI all pertinent information concerning the investigation. If personnel who are subjects of an investigation as above remove themselves from the vessel upon arrival of the vessel in port and further surveillance is considered necessary, the Navy will continue surveillance until notified by the FBI at local level that the FBI will make every effort to transfer responsibility upon arrival of the vessel at the port.

3. When the FBI opens an investigation under c above or when an FBI investigation in progress develops or is believed about to develop ramifications under a, b or c above, the FBI will promptly furnish all pertinent information to the Navy and will thereafter coordinate its actions with the Navy whenever and wherever deemed necessary to insure proper pursuit of the case.

Supplemental Agreement No. IV to the Delimitations Agreement

Investigation of Private Contractors of the Armed Forces

It is agreed by the subscribers of the Delimitations Agreement (hereinafter referred to as subscribers) that with reference investigations of civilian employees, applicants for employment, directors and key personnel of privately owned plants and facilities, working or bidding on contracts important to the Army, Navy or Air Force (hereinafter referred to as the Armed Forces) procurement, the following will be followed insofar as practicable. Exceptions thereto will be adjusted by mutual agreement between the subscribers concerned.

a. The Armed Forces will conduct background investigations of such persons unless there is a particular reason for requesting that an investigation be conducted by the FBI or the FBI has a special interest in a particular case and has notified the Armed Forces of such interest.

b. The FBI will conduct complaint investigations of such personnel upon specific request in each case by one or more of the Armed Forces. If one of the Armed Forces has no further need for an investigation requested, but not completed, prompt notification will be made to the FBI.

c. Investigations conducted by the Armed Forces under a above will be terminated and all information passed to the FBI when credible derogatory information of a loyalty nature is uncovered. Upon receipt of such a case, the FBI will proceed as under b above if one of the Armed Forces so requests.

d. When one of the subscribers is aware that another is conducting an investigation on a person or firm identical or closely connected with a person or firm it contemplates investigating, no investigation will be undertaken without the consent of the subscriber which has an investigation in progress. The investigating agency will make available to the other interested agency copies of the reports of the investigation made.

e. Normally, identity of confidential informants will not be communicated from one subscriber to another; however, when such communication occurs, the receiving subscriber will employ the highest possible safeguards to insure that such informants are not compromised. No transmittal of information concerning confidential informants to a third subscriber or to another agency is authorized except by specific consent of the originator.

f. A subscriber who receives a report of investigation from another subscriber may freely transmit copies of such reports to a third subscriber except as provided in e above.

g. A report of complete investigation received by the Armed Forces from the FBI will not be reopened without the approval of the FBI except to obtain additional background information. In such case, the FBI will be furnished copies of all information obtained. Other information required by the Armed Forces will be requested of the FBI.

h. If one of the Armed Forces requests the FBI to conduct an investigation or to conduct additional investigation as provided under g above, and if for any reason the FBI declines or is unable to conduct such investigation or additional investigation, the Armed Force concerned may proceed with the investigation. The FBI will be furnished copies of the results thereof if the FBI so requests or if the Armed Force concerned considers the results to be of FBI interest.

i. Nothing above is to be construed as altering the basic Delimitations Agreement of 1949 or current agreements concerning subversive organizations.

(Approved by I.I.C. June 2, 1949)

Supplemental Agreement No. V to the Delimitations Agreement

Investigation of Reserve and Civilian Components of the Armed Services

It is agreed by the subscribers to the Delimitations Agreement that the Army, the Navy and the Air Force may conduct background investigations on members of the inactive reserve and National Guard who are anticipated being called back to active duty, or where an investigation is undertaken for the purpose of determining whether the individual should be disenrolled from his military status, or to determine whether the individual may be granted access to classified military information. The following procedures shall be pursued in each of the above circumstances:

(1) The Intelligence agencies of the Army, Navy or Air Force before undertaking such background investigation will consult the FBI to determine: (a) if the FBI has an investigation in progress; if so, no investigation will be undertaken by the intelligence agencies except as may be mutually agreeable to the Armed Force concerned and the FBI; (b) if the FBI already has made an investigation; if so, the results will be made available to the other agencies; (c) if the FBI has information on the individual, even though it may not have conducted an investigation.

(2) If, after consulting the FBI, investigation is undertaken by the other agencies, it will be pursued no further than is necessary to make the determination required by the other agencies, and all information developed pertinent to the four categories will be furnished promptly to the FBI.

CENTRAL INTELLIGENCE AGENCY OPERATIONS IN THE UNITED STATES

(1) CIA will not initiate an investigation of any foreign official in the United States without the concurrence and coordination of the FBI. In this context, the term "investigation" means systematic and direct inquiries or procedures (such as physical or technical surveillances or neighborhood inquiries) aiming at developing information concerning an individual's activities or background; "investigation" does not include the acceptance or the development of information through social contacts or contacts normally made by CIA agents in discharging their cover functions. (S)

(2) CIA will seek concurrence and coordination of the FBI before approaching for recruitment any foreign official or communist-bloc visitor in the United States. The FBI will concur and coordinate if the proposed action does not conflict with any operation, current or planned, including active investigation of the FBI. (S)

(3) CIA will advise the FBI prior to any planned meeting between a CIA asset and a foreign official or communist-bloc visitor of known or presumed interest to the FBI (this would include all communist-bloc officials and visitors) for purposes of assessment and social development. (S)

(4) Clandestine CIA staff operatives, domestic American agents of CIA, and foreign agents of CIA recruited abroad who come to the United States will be identified to the FBI by name or appropriate description depending on the national security interest involved. (S)

(5) Pursuant to paragraph 4 above, when a CIA agent arrives in the United States for a visit or for an (S) assignment, the Bureau will be advised and the two agencies will confer regarding the handling of the agent in the United States. It is recognized that each case will have its individual peculiarities. The governing principle will be positive intelligence interest as weighed against internal security factors. CIA will continue its contractual relationship for the purpose of handling the training, the procurement of positive foreign intelligence, the fulfillment of CIA commitments to the agent, and the preparation of the agent for his next assignment abroad. (S)

(6) In those cases where CIA will be handling its agent in the United States, CIA will service FBI security or counterintelligence requirements and will provide the FBI all agent information bearing on counterintelligence or internal security matters, including the scope and nature of the agent's access to information and the identities of the agent's significant contacts, particularly in the communist-bloc field. In such cases where CIA servicing has been inadequate to FBI internal security interests, the FBI will have direct access to the agent. (S)

INVESTIGATIVE GUIDELINES
TITLE XI, ORGANIZED CRIME CONTROL ACT OF 1970
REGULATION OF EXPLOSIVES

1. General

Title XI of the captioned law amends Title 18, United States Code, by adding a new chapter 40 with section numbers 841 through 848 governing the importation, manufacture, distribution and storage of explosive materials and creating certain Federal offenses pertaining to the unlawful use of explosives. Administration of explosives regulation is vested in the Secretary of the Treasury as is investigative jurisdiction over the unlawful acts proscribed in section 842. Under authority contained in section 846 the Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI) and the Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco and Firearms (ATF) have concurrent investigative jurisdiction as to the remainder of chapter 40, i.e., the unlawful acts proscribed in subsections (d), (e), (f), (g), (h) and (i) of section 844. Although not specified in chapter 40, the Postal Inspection Service shall have jurisdiction to investigate all incidents involving explosive or incendiary devices sent through the mails or directed against U.S. Postal Service property.

Title XI greatly broadens Federal authority pertaining to explosives-connected offenses. At the same time, Congress has expressly disclaimed any intent to occupy the field to the exclusion of state law on the same subject matter. To effect both Congressional purposes and to prevent unnecessary duplication of effort it is essential that the limited Federal investigative resources be carefully allocated, particularly in cases in which both the ATF and the FBI have jurisdiction.

2. Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI) Jurisdiction in General

(a) Effect on prior jurisdiction - This agreement applies only to those incidents as to which the FBI had no investigative jurisdiction prior to the enactment of the captioned law and to incidents previously subject to FBI investigation by reason of chapter 65, Title 18, United States Code (malicious mischief). Investigative procedures in other types of incidents (e.g., train wrecking, damaging aircraft and motor vehicles, racketeering) shall remain unchanged.

(b) Primary jurisdiction - Subject to the provisions hereof, the FBI will exercise primary jurisdiction over all alleged violations of section 844 which are directed at foreign diplomatic facilities or at activities, such as transportation and tourist offices, operating under the aegis of a foreign government although not in a diplomatic status, over all alleged violations of subsections 844(d) through (i) which are perpetrated by terrorist/revolutionary groups or individuals and all other violations of subsections 844(e) through (g) which are not directed at Treasury Department or Postal Service buildings or functions.

(c) Type of Investigation to be Conducted

(1) Offenses perpetrated by terrorist/revolutionary groups or individuals - The FBI will immediately initiate a full investigation of all alleged violations of section 844 which appear at the outset to have been perpetrated by terrorist/revolutionary groups or individuals as defined in advance by the Internal Security Division of the Department of Justice. If ATF or the Postal Inspection Service has properly initiated investigations and information is subsequently developed indicating apparent involvement of terrorist/revolutionary groups or individuals, responsibility shall be relinquished to the FBI unless a determination is made by the Department of Justice that a transfer of responsibilities will unduly impair further investigative efforts.

(2) Alleged offenses against Colleges and Universities - The FBI will immediately initiate a full investigation of any alleged violation of section 844 which involves the use or attempted use of explosive (as distinguished from incendiary) materials against the facilities of a college or university. Investigation of alleged violations involving use or attempted use of incendiary materials will be limited initially to the development of background information as prescribed in paragraph 6 below.

(3) Alleged offenses directed against foreign diplomatic facilities and related activities - The FBI will immediately initiate a full investigation of all alleged violations of section 844 which are directed at foreign diplomatic facilities and related activities as described in paragraph 2(b) above.

(4) All other alleged violations of subsection 844(f) -- offenses involving use of explosives against United States property or federally financed organizations, and (g) - offenses involving possession of explosives in buildings owned, leased, used, etc., by the United States - The FBI will immediately initiate a full investigation of all violations of subsection 844(g) over which it has primary jurisdiction hereunder, and those violations of 844(f) which are directed at federal property (e.g., a military facility) or a federal function (e.g., a Selective Service or ROTC facility). In other violations of 844(f) the FBI will develop and disseminate background information as indicated in paragraph 6 below.

3. Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco and Firearms Division (ATF) Jurisdiction in General

(a) Violations ancillary to firearms laws violations or violation of section 842 - The Alcohol, Tobacco and Firearms Division (ATF) of the Department of the Treasury will exercise investigative jurisdiction over violations of section 844 which are ancillary to its primary jurisdiction over the Federal firearms laws or over section 842 of Title XI.

(b) Violations of subsection 844(d) - interstate transportation of explosives with unlawful intent and subsection 844(i) - offenses against property used in or affecting commerce - Subject to paragraph 2b, above, the ATF will exercise primary investigative jurisdiction over violations of subsection 844(d) and (i) and will conduct a full investigation thereof unless notified by the Criminal Division that pursuant to paragraph 2(c)(1), above, the Department of Justice has requested FBI investigation in a particular matter.

(c) Violations directed at Treasury Department property or functions - The ATF shall have primary jurisdiction to investigate all violations of section 844 which are directed at Treasury Department property or functions and will conduct a full investigation of such violations.

4. Postal Inspection Service Jurisdiction

The Postal Inspection Service shall have primary jurisdiction to investigate all violations of section 844 which are directed at U.S. Postal Service property or functions.

5. Special Considerations

(a) Bomb Threats, false information (section 844(e)) - The ATF and the Postal Inspection Service shall have jurisdiction over violations of section 844(e) against Treasury Department or Postal Service property or functions, respectively. The FBI shall have jurisdiction over all other violations of section 844(e). Upon receipt of information alleging or suggesting a violation of subsection 844(e), the investigative agency concerned will review available information to determine whether the identity of the offender is known or can be readily ascertained and, if not, whether the evidence suggests a pattern or plan of such offenses by a particular offender or against a particular victim. If such a pattern appears or if the offender is identified, all available information will be disseminated as indicated in paragraph 6 below.

(b) Use/carrying explosive in commission of a felony (section 844(h)) - Violations of 844(h) should be handled as an adjunct of the felony from which they arise and should be discussed with the appropriate United States Attorney or Division of the Department handling prosecution of the underlying felony offense. The agency having jurisdiction over the underlying felony will have investigative jurisdiction over the 844(h) violation (e.g., bank robbery is under FBI jurisdiction).

(c) Violations of 26 U.S.C. 5861 (destructive devices) - In incidents involving alleged violations of 18 U.S.C. 844 (which may also involve a violation of 26 U.S.C. 5861), ATF shall not exercise its primary jurisdiction under 26 U.S.C. 5861 involving destructive devices, but the incident shall be treated in accordance with the provisions of these guidelines. This is in no way a relinquishment by ATF of its investigative jurisdiction under Title II of the Gun Control Act of 1968.

6. Development of Background Information

Some incidents such as those directed against Federal property or functions (paragraph 2(b) above) require immediate full federal investigation. Others require a more circumspect approach and will result in full Federal investigation only after consideration of factors pertinent to the exercise of Federal jurisdiction. Accordingly, in those incidents which these guidelines do not prescribe immediate full investigation, the investigative agency having jurisdiction will develop background information which includes (a) facts bearing on motivation such as involvement of the suspected perpetrators in terrorist/revolutionary activities, organized crime, labor-management disputes, or racial-religious hate activities; (b) the applicability of state and local laws and likelihood of state or local investigative and prosecutive actions; and (c) any other available facts indicating whether or not the offense warrants Federal investigation and prosecution. Such background information will be submitted telephonically (202-739-2745) or by teletype (710-822-0008) to the General Crimes Section of the Criminal Division and to the appropriate United States Attorney. The Criminal Division will advise the investigative agency concerned whether the matter warrants submission to any other Division or Section of the Criminal Division, and when so warranted the Criminal Division will transmit the information to such other Division or Section.

7. Full Investigation

A full investigation will be initiated immediately in those instances wherein such investigation is specified herein. In other instances full investigation will be initiated only upon direction of the Department of Justice after consideration by the Division having cognizance over the matter of the background information developed under paragraph 6 above.

8. Reports

Copies of case reports prepared in matters investigated under these guidelines will be furnished directly to the Department of Justice and the appropriate United States Attorney. All investigative agencies shall submit initial reports as soon as practicable to the Department of Justice and shall submit progress reports once each 30 days or as soon thereafter as possible. The Criminal Division of the Department of Justice will be informed as soon as possible in each instance wherein an investigative agency initiates an investigation under section 844. Such notification is of critical importance to the avoidance of duplication of investigative activities. Also each agency subscribing to these guidelines shall, upon instituting investigation regarding possible violations of section 844, immediately notify other subscribing agencies having a logical interest therein. Also, a sufficient level of follow-up liaison and dissemination shall be maintained to avoid duplication of investigative effort.

Additionally, each such agency will exchange information on a timely basis and in a manner which will not interfere with ongoing investigations relative to types, sources, movement, and storage of explosives which are the subject of its investigations. Information regarding significant developments in investigations being conducted under these guidelines and information of an intelligence nature developed incidental to investigations which is of logical interest to the Department of Justice shall be furnished promptly to the Criminal Division of that Department which will be responsible for any necessary further dissemination within that Department.

9. Review of Guidelines

These guidelines shall be reviewed on a continuing basis by the parties hereto to determine whether problems exist in their administration which should be alleviated or whether modification of any of the terms of the agreement are needed in the interests of better law enforcement.

One purpose of this agreement is to define that portion of the information on file with, or received or originated by, the FBI, which the United States Secret Service (USSS) desires to receive in connection with its protective responsibilities.

"The USSS has statutory authority to protect, or to engage in certain activities to protect, the President and certain other persons. (Certain other persons, as used in this agreement, refers to those persons protected by the Secret Service under Title 18, U. S. Code, Section 3056.) The authority of the USSS to protect the President or certain other persons is construed to authorize it to investigate organizations or individuals and to interview individuals who might constitute a threat to the President or certain other persons. The FBI has statutory authority to investigate assault, killing or kidnaping and attempts or conspiracies to kill or kidnap the President and other designated individuals.

"The FBI will make available to the USSS information it may request or information which by its nature reveals a definite or possible threat to the safety of the President and certain other persons.

"A second purpose of this agreement is to insure the most effective protection for the President and certain other persons by establishing a clear division of responsibility between the FBI and the USSS. Such division will also avoid compromising investigations or sources and needless duplication of effort.

"II. General Responsibilities

"The USSS is charged by Title 18, U. S. Code, Section 3056, with the responsibility of protecting the person of the President of the United States, the members of his immediate family, the President-elect, the Vice President or other officer in the order of succession to the office of President, and the Vice President-elect; protecting the person of a former President and his wife during his lifetime and the person of a widow of a former President until her death or remarriage, and minor children of a former President until they reach 16 years of age, unless such protection is declined; protecting persons who are determined from time to time by the Secretary of the Treasury, after consultation with the Advisory Committee, as being major Presidential and Vice Presidential candidates who should receive such protection (unless the candidate has declined such protection); protecting the person of a visiting head of a foreign state or foreign government and, at the direction of the President, other distinguished foreign visitors to the United States and official representatives of the United States performing special missions abroad (unless such persons decline protection).

"The Executive Protective Service, under the control of the Director, USSS, is charged by Title 3, U. S. Code, Section 202, with protection of the Executive Mansion and grounds in the District of Columbia; any building in which Presidential offices are located; foreign diplomatic missions located in the metropolitan area of the District of Columbia; and foreign diplomatic missions located in such other areas in the United States, its territories and possessions, as the President, on a case-by-case basis, may direct.

"The FBI is charged under Title 18, U. S. Code, Section 1751, with investigative jurisdiction over the assault, killing or kidnaping, and attempts or conspiracies to assault, kill or kidnap the President of the United States and other designated individuals.

"The FBI has responsibility for Federal investigations of all violations of Title 18, U. S. Code, Sections 112, 970, 1116-1117 and 1201, relating to the 'Act for the Protection of Foreign Officials and Official Guests in the United States.'

"The FBI has investigative jurisdiction over violations of a wide range of the criminal statutes of the United States including primary jurisdiction over matters affecting the internal security of the United States.

"III. Exchange of Information and Coordination of Responsibilities

"The USSS undertakes to identify individuals or groups who because of their propensities or characteristics, may be dangerous to the President of the United States and certain other persons. To assist the USSS in identifying such individuals and groups the FBI agrees to furnish to the USSS, information (other than public source information or information originating with other U. S. agencies) from its files or which may come to its attention which by its nature reveals a danger or possible danger to the President or certain other persons, or which can be construed as falling within the categories of information desired by the USSS as set forth in Section IV of this agreement.

"The FBI will inform the USSS of the identity of individuals or organizations who come to the attention of the FBI as knowingly and willfully advocating, abetting, advising, or teaching the duty, necessity, or propriety of overthrowing or destroying the Government of the United States, or the Government of any state, territory, or possession, or political subdivision therein, by force or violence, or by the assassination of any officer of any such government. The FBI will furnish the USSS with reports on such individuals or organizations as requested. During investigation by the FBI of such individuals or organizations, the FBI will be alert and promptly notify the USSS of any information indicating a possible plot against the person of the President and certain other persons.

"The USSS agrees that it will conduct no investigation of individuals or groups identified or suspected of being threats to the internal security of the United States without notifying the FBI. However, when time for consultation is not available, and an indication of immediate danger exists, the USSS may take such action as is necessary with respect to carrying out its protective responsibilities. Any information obtained by the USSS during such action will be furnished to the FBI as expeditiously as possible.

"The FBI will not conduct investigation of individuals or groups solely for the purpose of establishing whether they constitute a threat to the safety of the President and certain other persons unless there is an indication of a violation of Title 18, U. S. Code, Section 1751, or other statute over which the FBI has jurisdiction.

"It will be the responsibility of the FBI to advise the USSS when investigation is being initiated under Title 18, U. S. Code, Section 1751 and thereafter to furnish the USSS with copies of the FBI investigative reports as they are prepared. It will be the responsibility of the USSS to furnish the FBI any information in its possession or which may come to its attention which reasonably indicates that a violation of Title 18, U. S. Code, Section 1751, has been or is being committed.

"The USSS also agrees to furnish the FBI any information in its possession or which may come to its attention indicating a violation of any other statutes over which the FBI has investigative jurisdiction.

"The FBI, under its responsibility for investigation of violations of Title 18, U. S. Code, Sections 112, 970, 1116-1117, 1201 and 1751 will take cognizance of the protective responsibilities of the Treasury Department under Title 3, U. S. Code, Section 202 and Title 18, U. S. Code, Section 3056 and thus does not limit or interfere with the authority of the Secretary of the Treasury in the discharge of his statutory protective responsibilities. This is not to be construed as vesting concurrent investigative jurisdiction with the Treasury Department with respect to investigations of individuals or organizations engaged in activities affecting the national security including terrorism, treason, sabotage, espionage, counter-espionage, rebellion or insurrection, sedition, seditious conspiracy, neutrality matters, Foreign Agents Registration Act, or any other Statute or Executive Order relating to national security. Any investigations of such groups or individuals for any reasons other than in connection with protective responsibilities must be closely coordinated with and have the concurrence of the FBI in order to minimize interference with national security responsibilities of the FBI.

"IV. Information to be Furnished to the United States Secret Service by the Federal Bureau of Investigation

"A. When an individual or group is referred by the FBI to the USSS, the following information will be furnished to the extent available:

"Individual - Identification data including name or names, addresses, photograph (or statement as to availability of such), physical description, date and place of birth, employment, and marital status.

"Organization - Name or names, address or addresses, officers, size, purpose or goals of organization, source of financial support, background data and such other relevant information as may be available.

"Reason for Referral - Statement of the class or classes of information described in Section IV B under which the individual or organization belongs.

"Information in FBI Files - A summary, as appropriate, of pertinent portions of any FBI file on an individual or organization referred.

"FBI Identification Records - The USSS will make specific requests in each instance where a check of the FBI identification records is desired.

"B. Types of information to be referred:

"1. Information concerning attempts, threats, or conspiracies to injure, kill, or kidnap persons protected by the USSS or other U. S. or foreign officials in the U. S. or abroad.

"2. Information concerning attempts or threats to redress a grievance against any public official by other than legal means, or attempts personally to contact such officials for that purpose.

"3. Information concerning threatening, irrational, or abusive written or oral statements about U. S. Government or foreign officials.

"4. Information concerning civil disturbances, anti-U. S. demonstrations or incidents or demonstrations against foreign diplomatic establishments.

"5. Information concerning illegal bombings or bomb-making; concealment of caches of firearms, explosives, or other implements of war; or other terrorist activity.

"6. Information concerning persons who defect or indicate a desire to defect from the United States and who demonstrate one or more of the following characteristics:

a. Irrational or suicidal behavior or other emotional instability.

b. Strong or violent anti-U. S. sentiment.

c. A propensity toward violence.

"7. Information concerning persons who may be considered potentially dangerous to individuals protected by the USSS because of their background or activities, including evidence of emotional instability or participation in groups engaging in activities inimical to the United States.

"V. Provision of Federal Bureau of Investigation Personnel to Protect the President and Other Protected Persons

"The USSS may, in accordance with Title 18, U. S. Code, Section 3056 request FBI Agents be detailed to the USSS in order to augment the capacity of the USSS to perform its protective duties. Such requests should be addressed to the Director of the FBI.

"FBI Agents detailed to the USSS are under the direction and exclusive operational control of the Director of the USSS for the period of their assignment. The FBI Agents so detailed may perform an armed or other protective function.

"VI. Implementation of Agreement

"In order to effect the best possible security of the President and certain other persons and places whose protection is the responsibility of the USSS, the FBI and the USSS will construe the terms of this agreement liberally and will take such steps as are necessary to insure the proper exchange and coordination of information.

"The agreement shall be reviewed annually by representatives of the FBI and the USSS, or at such other times as the FBI or the USSS may request, to insure that the agreement is both practical and productive. Revisions may be made on the authority of the Director of the FBI and the Director of the USSS.

"This agreement supersedes all prior agreements between the FBI and the USSS.

The statement in the attached of the Third Agency rule is accurate and does not present legal problems.

As an observation paragraph number 7 of the document titled "Handling of Third Agency Matters in Response to Congressional Select Committee," dated March 28, 1975, (attached) appears to be subject to various interpretations. This paragraph and in particular the second sentence of the paragraph appears to allow the agency receiving the Committee's request to respond in instances where a Third Agency is indirectly involved and the material is sensitive without first contacting the Third Agency. Any notification of the Third Agency in this instance of the furnishing of such information to the Committee would be after the fact. The term indirectly is not defined. Additionally, this paragraph allows the Agency receiving the Committee's request to respond in instances where a Third Agency is directly involved and the material is nonsensitive without checking with the Third Agency involved. It would appear the language in paragraph number 7 should be tightened up and the appropriate terms defined.

MEMORANDUM FOR: USIB Ad Hoc Group

SUBJECT: Handling of Third Agency Matters in Response to Congressional Select Committees

1. As you are aware, Senator Church already has submitted to me a long list of materials which he requests be provided to his Senate Select Committee to Study Governmental Operations with Respect to Intelligence Activities. He has submitted other lists to the Federal Bureau of Investigation and to the White House. It is expected that other elements of the Intelligence Community will be hearing from Senator Church.

2. The scope of the investigation necessarily is going to involve Third Agency relationships to a considerable degree.

3. In the implementation of Executive Order 11652, "Classification and Declassification of National Security Information and Material," the President directed the following:

> "D. Consent of Originating Department to Dissemination by Recipient. Except as otherwise provided by Section 102 of the National Security Act of 1947, 61 Stat. 495, 50 U.S.C. 403, classified information or material originating in one Department shall not be disseminated outside any other Department to which it has been made available without the consent of the originating department."

4. As regards Section 102 of the 1947 Act, the following quotes 102 (e) in full:

> "(3) To the extent recommended by the National Security Council and approved by the President, such intelligence of the departments and agencies of the Government, except as hereinafter provided, relating to the national security, shall be open to the inspection of the Director of Central Intelligence, and such intelligence as relates to the national security and is possessed by such departments and other agencies of the Government, except as hereinafter provided, shall be made available to the Director of Central Intelligence for correlation, evaluation and dissemination: Provided, however, that upon the written request of the Director of Central Intelligence, the Director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation shall make available to the Director of Central Intelligence such information for correlation, evaluation and dissemination as may be essential to the national security."

5. If I am requested to provide certain materials and investigation indicates that the material asked for involves a document which originated within an organization other than the Intelligence Community Staff or the Central Intelligence Agency, the requestor will be asked to redirect his inquiry to the office of origin.

6. It already is apparent, however, that the documentation being requested inevitably is going to include references to interrelationships among various of the elements of the intelligence community. Clearing each and every such reference with every agency mentioned could manifestly be extremely consuming of time and manpower.

7. I propose the Ad Hoc Group agree on the following procedure. Where it appears that truly sensitive matters are involved, the material will be sanitized by the agency concerned and a check will be made with the appropriate Third Agency organizations before release. Where the reference concerns a Third Agency indirectly or is not considered sensitive and does not pose policy concerns, the agency concerned may forward the material to the requesting Select Committee without an item-by-item, mention-by-mention clearance with Third Agencies. However, in all cases notification that such material has been forwarded will be made to the central index and all agencies alerted through that mechanism. Agencies will designate on their submissions to the central index, the name and telephone number of the releasing party.

The Third Agency Rule

1. As early as November 1953, the third agency rule was included in Executive Order 10501, which has now been revoked. Section 7(c) prohibited the dissemination of "classified defense information originating in another Department or agency" to an agency "outside the receiving Department or agency without the consent of the originating Department or agency". The only exception to this rule is that dissemination may be made under the authority of Section 102 of the National Security Act. This section authorizes the Director of Central Intelligence "to correlate and evaluate intelligence relating to the national security, and provide for the appropriate dissemination of such intelligence within the Government using, where appropriate, existing agencies and facilities".

2. Historically, the responsibility of the DCI to disseminate intelligence has referred to "finished intelligence". This product is the end result of contributions from members of the Intelligence Community. Therefore, in this situation the finished product is a~~n~~ homogenous product and therefore the approval for further dissemination beyond the receiving agency must come from the Central Intelligence Agency.

3. Executive Order 10501 was superseded by Executive Order 11652 which became effective 1 June 1972. This Executive order did not specifically cover the third agency rule. However, it does provide the following controls: Sec. 9. Special Departmental Arrangements. The originating Department or other appropriate authority may impose, in conformity with the provisions of this order, special requirements with respect to access, distribution and protection of classified information and material, including those which presently relate to communications intelligence, intelligence sources and methods and cryptography.

4. In anticipation of the implementation of Executive Order 11652, a directive was issued on May 17, 1972 entitled "National Security Council Directive Governing the Classification, Downgrading, Declassification and Safeguarding of National Security Information". This directive does not contain the term "third agency rule" but does have four subsections which relate to procedures which are similar to what historically had been called the third agency rule. These sections are:

> A.(2) Determination of Need-to-Know. In addition to a security clearance, a person must have a need for access to the particular classified information or material sought in connection with the performance of his official duties or

[illegible]tractual obligations. The dete[illegible]nation of that need shall be made by officials having responsibility for the classified information or material.

D. Consent of Originating Department to Dissemination by Recipient. Except as otherwise provided by Section 102 of the National Security Act of 1947, 61 Stat. 495, 50 U.S.C. 403, classified information or material originating in one Department shall not be disseminated outside any other Department to which it has been made available without the consent of the originating Department.

E. Dissemination of Sensitive Intelligence Information. Information or material bearing the notation "WARNING NOTICE -- SENSITIVE INTELLIGENCE SOURCES AND METHODS INVOLVED" shall not be disseminated in any manner outside authorized channels without the permission of the originating Department and an assessment by the senior intelligence official in the disseminating Department as to the potential risk to the national security and to the intelligence sources and methods involved.

F. Restraint on Special Access Requirements. The establishment of special rules limiting access to, distribution and protection of classified information and material under Section 9 of the Order requires the specific prior approval of the head of a Department or his designee.

5. Examples of the application of the Third Agency Rule are:

(a) In a national security estimate, contributions are received from all members of the Intelligence Community and then disseminated to members of the community under the authority of the DCI;

(b) A CIA intelligence report disseminated to the State Department may not be sent by the State Department to the Department of Commerce without the permission of the CIA;

(c) Information which the CIA furnishes the President's Commission may not be disseminated to other agencies or to the Congress without the concurrences of CIA. Thus, a request from the Congress to the Commission for CIA information should be referred to CIA for action so that the necessary protection of the information can be insured.

(2) If the Navy Department discusses one of its operations with CIA, CIA may not include information about that operation in papers it disseminates to other agencies unless it has received the permission of the Navy Department. The distinction here is that a Navy operation would not be considered part of the finished intelligence mechanism and therefore would not fall within the statutory authority of CIA to disseminate intelligence.

SUBJECT: SENATE SELECT COMMITTEE ON INTELLIGENCE ACTIVITIES (SSC) HOUSE SELECT COMMITTEE ON INTELLIGENCE ACTIVITIES (HSC)

By agreement, the FBI is currently conducting full field investigations regarding SSC staff personnel. These have extremely short (2 week) deadlines which are identical to those afforded Presidential appointments and are, therefore, given preferential treatment in opening, assigning, and following field progress. The Special Inquiry Unit of the Employees Security and Special Inquiry Section, which has about twice its normal case load, is handling these requests. Senator Church, Chairman, SSC, originally estimated that between 35 and 40 staff members would be submitted for investigation. As of today, 4-3-75, we have received requests for 65 such investigations from the SSC and the end does not appear to be in sight. They are received in bunches as many as 6 at a time, which is not the even flow expected and presents an additional burden.

In addition it is expected that similar requests will be forthcoming in the near future from the HSC since we have a similar agreement with it. Congressman Nedzi, Chairman of the HSC, has estimated "probably no more than about 25 staff members will be hired." It remains to be seen if this estimate also falls short of actual receipts.

Since there is no charge for these full field investigations they will have to be considered in the budget. It is noted the current charge for a full field investigation, where applicable, is $2028.

ACTION: For information. Since it appears the nucleus of the Committee has been formed, it is suggested Senator Church be contacted and queried regarding a more realistic (30 day) deadline on the remaining investigations concerning future staff members and their replacements.

SUBJECT: SENSTUDY 75

This memorandum recommends that the attached draft of a paper prepared by CIA entitled, "Ambiguities and the Law," be reviewed by the Legal Counsel Division for comment and that a member of the Division be named to represent the FBI in future meetings with legal representatives from other U. S. Intelligence Board (USIB) agencies and departments. The purpose of such a group is to develop recommendations for changes in existing laws or the proposal of new legislation which Mr. Colby as the Director of Central Intelligence can offer to the Senate Select Committee for their consideration.

At a meeting of the Ad Hoc Coordinating Group on Congressional Review of the Intelligence Community 2/27/75, a draft paper entitled, "Ambiguities and the Law," was distributed to all members. This paper was drafted by Mr. Marvin Smith of CIA. It is considered a starting point for the Intelligence Community to identify areas in existing statutes that should be changed, as well as to recommend new legislation deemed necessary to clarify for the Congress and the American people the authorities, the limitations and missions of various member agencies or departments of the Intelligence Community.

In furnishing copies of this paper to members, the Chairman of the Ad Hoc Group, Mr. John Clarke, acknowledged the paper presents a starting point and in no way should be considered a final draft. He suggested that Legal Counsel representatives of each agency or department of USIB review the document and submit their comments directly to Mr. Marvin Smith, on Agency code 143, extension 4055. Following the receipt of such comments from the legal offices of member agencies and departments, it was proposed that a meeting would be called in an effort to begin drafting a paper representative of the Intelligence Community which would reflect recommended changes in existing statutes or proposals for new legislation.

ADDENDUM, LEGAL COUNSEL DIVISION, 3/5/75, JH:msl

DRAFT

AMBIGUITIES AND THE LAW

CIA, NSA, DIA, FBI and, to some extent, several other Federal Agencies, collect information and produce intelligence, but of different kinds and for different purposes. This is recognized in practice but is not as clearly established in the law. Given some lack of clarity in the law and some uncertainty regarding limits placed on intelligence activities, misunderstanding and fear of abuse of power easily thrive~~s~~. In reality, however, in the implementation of mission and charters and in direction and control, there are not as many unresolved ambiguities as the uninformed may suppose.

The experience following the National Security Act of 1947 is such that it is now possible to eliminate some of the vagueness of the language of the Act. The certainty and public confidence that should result from clarifications in the law should far outweigh any disadvantages. A number of possible amendments or additions to current laws have already been mentioned, and proposed legislation has already been submitted for some. These ideas and others are suggested, below.

62-116395-162

1) Clarify CIA's mission and charter by amending the National Security Act of 1947 to reflect:

--that included in the proper functions of the Agency are (a) collection of foreign intelligence information; (b) conduct of activities to carry out CIA's counter-intelligence responsibilities overseas; and (c) conduct of covert action operations overseas when authorized by the President;

--that CIA's responsibility to produce intelligence relates only to foreign intelligence;

--that it is a duty of the Agency to develop advanced technical equipment to improve the collection and processing of foreign intelligence information; and

--that the conduct of any counterintelligence operation or other activity overseas directed specifically at U.S. citizens (other than CIA employees) will be undertaken in coordination with the FBI or as requested by the FBI or by other USG agencies in coordination with the FBI.

2) Establish the authority for those agencies engaged in the collection and production of foreign intelligence to carry on certain specified activities within the United States, such as:

--protection of classified information and their own installations against penetration and compromise;

--investigation of employees, applicants, and those persons who could assist the U.S. foreign intelligence effort;

--investigation of employees and other individuals to be granted access to sensitive information;

✓ --collection of foreign intelligence information from foreign nationals and from cooperating U.S. citizens;

--establishment of mechanisms in support of foreign intelligence activities; and

--cooperation with the FBI in investigations relating to the unauthorized disclosure of foreign intelligence.

3) Remove uncertainty regarding responsibility for internal security matters by modifying appropriate laws to establish clearly:

--that the collection of counterintelligence information in the United States and the collection of information related to internal security are functions of the FBI;

--that the responsibility for the production of intelligence related to internal security rests with the FBI; and

--that with due regard to assessed reliability of the information and responsibilities for protecting sources and methods, those agencies engaged in foreign intelligence activities will make available to the FBI and other Federal agencies, as appropriate, the security and counterintelligence information relating to foreign nationals in the United States and to U.S. citizens which is derived as a by-product of foreign intelligence activities.

4) Recognize international terrorism and international illegal drug activities as threats to U.S. national security and proper targets for U.S. foreign intelligence efforts, as well as for internal security operations.

5) Provide protection against the unauthorized disclosure of intelligence sources and methods by:

--providing for the protection of intelligence sources and methods on a statutory basis independent of Executive Order 11652;

--clarifying that the Director of Central Intelligence is responsible for protecting intelligence sources and methods related to foreign intelligence and foreign counterintelligence;

--assigning to the Director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation the duty of protecting intelligence sources and methods related to internal security and to counterintelligence within the United States;

--imposing specific burdens, upon officers and employees of all branches of the government and others granted official access, not to disclose such information without authorization, and providing criminal sanctions for unauthorized disclosures;

--establishing effective injunctive recourse, through the Attorney General, for protection of all intelligence sources and methods;

--providing for in camera judicial review of material revealing intelligence sources and methods when relevant and necessary to criminal and civil proceedings;

--delineating authorities and responsibilities for investigating suspected or discovered unauthorized disclosures by (a) U.S. citizens overseas and (b) all persons within the United States.

6) Delineate areas of interagency assistance that facilitate performance of authorized missions, promote economy of resources, and as a matter of policy are desirable, for example:

--cooperation in research and development of technical collection and information processing equipment, methods and techniques;

--loan or supply of equipment, methods and techniques;

--provision of training in special skills and techniques;

--passage of information derived as a by-product of foreign intelligence activities to those agencies responsible for the matters involved.

A few changes in the procedures for reviewing intelligence activities might add considerable understanding and confidence. Of paramount importance is a form of congressional oversight that permits the provision to Congress of the necessary information in a timely, efficient and controlled manner. It is recognized that a number of Committees in both the Senate and House must be informed of substantive intelligence, operational matters and fiscal details in varying degrees. Just as in the executive branch, the test of access should be

"need-to-know." To apply this test and to control and protect sensitive information provided to Congress, a focal point within Congress would be extremely helpful. Whether a joint committee or not, such a focal point would also be valuable in facilitating changes in laws affecting intelligence activities. Congress might find that a more uniform approach to budget presentation and review would provide better insight and understanding.

The foregoing suggestions are by no means definitive. They do, however, present areas that in the experience of the intelligence community deserve careful attention.

Project Senstudy 75, established within the Intelligence Division, for the purpose of developing a capability of implementing requests received from the Select Committees of the Congress. Bureau file 62-116395 has been opened for this Project.

WOC

Because of the unusual factors relating to this entire Project, such as the sensitive nature of much of the material involved, urgency for handling, necessity for having the file very readily available to the working staff at all times, and similar other reasons, it is essential that the file be maintained in the work area of the Project which, effective 4/14/75, will be in room 4063, JEH. The purpose of this memorandum, therefore, is to have Files and Communications Division take necessary steps to arrange for the maintenance of the file in the designated room rather than in the usual manner.

Per agreement between Awe (Div. 4) & Phillys (Div 5) we will NOT open a Sub A for newsclippings but keep them in T-folder w/ Project. 4/14/75

There has already been much publicity about the Select Committees and we anticipate much more. This involves many newspaper stories. It is, therefore, believed very desirable that a Sub A file to the main file be opened as the standardized repository for newspaper articles. As a first step, it will be necessary that a few articles already in the main file be extracted and placed in the new Sub A file in the usual chronological order.

In attached W. O. Cregar to Mr. W. R. In this regard, it is suggested that all Divisions receiving requests for information in connection with testimony before this Committee respond in the same commendable and expeditious manner that they responded in connection with the preparation of the Director's Brief on his testimony before the House Subcommittee on Civil Rights and Constitutional Rights. The format of this information should generally be as follows:

1 - Heading in all caps, centered, brief description of contents;

2 - White, watermarked bond paper, 8 x 10 1/2";

3 - At least a 2" left margin. This is essential since material will be inserted into a folder;

4 - Double spaced;

5 - Do not number pages;

This memorandum recommends that the Legal Counsel Division coordinate and assign responsibilities to appropriate Divisions for the collection and preparation of certain materials we anticipate the Senate Select Committee (SSC) will soon request from the FBI.

Memorandum W. O. Cregar to W. R. Wannall, dated 3/5/75, reported the results of a meeting between Senator Church and Mr. Colby wherein Senator Church advised he anticipated asking all agencies and departments of the Intelligence Community for (1) Organizational charts broken down to a branch level going back to 1947, (2) Copies of all budgets since 1947 and (3) Documents reflecting all cash flows since 1947.

Attached is a copy of a short letter from Mr. John Clarke, Chairman of the Ad Hoc Coordinating Group on Congressional Review of the Intelligence Community to Mr. William G. Miller, Staff Director, SSC. Also attached is a copy of a memorandum from Mr. Clarke to all members of the Ad Hoc Coordinating Group on Congressional Review of the Intelligence Community. This memorandum sets out in more detail what information the SSC will be seeking from all agencies making up the Intelligence Community. It should be noted that on page two of Mr. Clarke's memorandum he notes a formal request from Senator Church to all agencies can be expected.

The Intelligence Division believes considerable time and effort will be required from several Divisions to pull this information together. It is believed we should begin now to assemble the data in anticipation of a request.

Dear Bill ~~Mr. Miller~~:

Pursuant to your request, I have advised all members of the Ad Hoc Group of the United States Intelligence Board and Mr. Thomas K. Latimer, Special Assistant to the Secretary of Defense, of Senator Church's request to provide legal authority and organization charts of USIB entities from their inception. MEMORANDUM FOR: Principals of the Ad Hoc Coordinating Group on Congressional Review

SUBJECT: Information Requested by Senate Select Committee Staff Director

1. Senator Church has asked the Director to provide to the Senate Select Committee copies of CIA legal authorities and organization charts to branch levels, 1947-1975. He also indicated he wants similar authorities and charts for all USIB entities from their inceptions. In the case of CIA this will be from 1947; NSA from 1952; DIA from 1961; etc.

2. The Committee is seeking a comprehensive historical base line for each U.S. intelligence organization--its structure and the people involved over time. Therefore, Senator Church has asked that the names of all incumbents who have held supervisory responsibilities over the period, down through the branch level, also be provided. The Staff Director has been made aware of the difficulties involved in tracing personnel assignments too far back but asks that every effort be made to meet the request. CIA is proceeding accordingly.

3. Senator Church has also asked for budget and cash flow data on all U.S. intelligence organizations from their inceptions. The CIA finds that the source and uses tables, employed in annual financial reports, provides the historical profile desired. Supplemental data on specific programs can follow if requested. Senator Church wants data which will show specific patterns of expenditures as distinct from budgets and appropriations. A formal request from the Chairman to all agencies on this matter can be expected.

4. The Senate Select Committee will be ready to receive classified material this week. It is suggested that Ad Hoc Group members begin assembling the legal, organizational, personnel, and budgetary data for early submission. I have provided Mr. Miller, Staff Director, with a list of Ad Hoc Principals, phone numbers, titles, etc. He understands that the central point for DOD is Mr. Thomas K. Latimer and for Treasury, Mr. Edward C. Schmults, Assistant Secretary for Enforcement.

SUBJECT: SENSTUDY 75

By memorandum Legal Counsel to J. B. Adams dated 3/12/75, the Legal Counsel Division indicated that its Legislative Matters Section would coordinate and assign responsibilities within the Bureau for the collection and preparation of material for the Senate Select Committee.

This memorandum instructed Intelligence Division to accumulate data which was identified in a memorandum from Mr. John M. Clarke from the Ad Hoc Coordinating Group of the Intelligence Committee. Clarke's memorandum was attached to W. O. Cregar to W. R. Wannall memorandum dated 3/6/75. The identified data to be collected outlined in Clarke's memorandum was proposed-type data that the Senate Select Committee has indicated an interest in.

In view of 3/19/75 letter subsequently received from Senator Frank Church (Democrat, Idaho), Chairman of the Senate Select Committee, to the Attorney General outlining a request for specific FBI documents they are interested in receiving, the Intelligence Division has begun accumulating this specific data. In view of this request for specific data, the Intelligence Division will not accumulate the data outlined in the Clarke memorandum since it was only in the nature of proposed data and differs from the specific data to be collected ~~which~~ is extensive in nature.

Memorandum captioned as above, 3/27/75, from Legal Counsel to you, noted that you and Wannall were to meet with Mr. Hills and Mr. Phillip Buchen, Counsel to the President, on 3/28/75. Your addendum to the memorandum pointed out the results of this meeting and the various matters discussed.

As a follow-up to this meeting, you, Legal Counsel Mintz and Wannall met on 4/4/75 with Mr. James Wilderotter, who is presently working under Mr. Buchen in coordinating intelligence community matters relating to the inquiries underway by the Senate Select Committee. Mr. Wilderotter was given a briefing similar to that which had been afforded to Buchen and Hills. In addition, the discussion covered matters of a sensitive nature relating to the ORCHID and similar programs, electronic surveillances, specialized handling of informants, and Bureau Source 4 (access to social security records). Many of these matters discussed covered topics with which Mr. Wilderotter had become familiar when he was assigned to the Department as an Assistant to former Deputy Attorney General Silberman. (S)

Wilderotter said it was the feeling at The White House that while raw FBI files should not be made available to the Committee, it might be necessary to permit the Committee to review a few such files in order that the integrity of the FBI could be established with the Committee. It was pointed out to him that we did not agree to this, that we could furnish summaries of material from the files. Wilderotter said he did not feel that furnishing reports and letterhead memoranda which had been prepared for dissemination would satisfy the Committee's needs. He was advised by both you and Mr. Mintz that it was our feeling that we should not furnish the raw material but summaries could be prepared for the Committee's purposes and if necessary, Bureau officials could be placed under oath and attest to the correctness of the summaries. Wilderotter said that this was a matter which he would afford further consideration.

As during the conference with Buchen and Hills, it was obvious as the result of our meeting with Wilderotter that The White House was most anxious that it not be caught by surprise by revelations of activities which in any way might be considered questionable. The White House is making every effort possible to become cognizant of any such situation prior to the Committee hearings.

Classified "Top Secret" to protect highly sensitive investigative techniques and matters relating to foreign relations.

ACTION:

For information. Further contacts with Wilderotter or other White House Staff Members will be duly reported.

UNITED STATES SENATE SELECT COMMITTEE
TO STUDY GOVERNMENTAL OPERATIONS WITH RESPECT TO INTELLIGENCE ACTIVITIES

Reference is made to letter dated March 19, 1975, to the Attorney General from the Chairman of captioned Committee, which enclosed certain requests for documents and other information from the Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI).

One of the requests contained in referenced letter was for a list of names and titles of all Intelligence Division personnel at FBI Headquarters down to and including unit chiefs, together with a number of personnel below the level of unit chief categorized by unit. At a meeting on April 1, 1975, Inspector John B. Hotis and Special Agent Paul V. Daly discussed this request with Mr. William Miller, Staff Director of the Senate Select Committee. It was agreed that the request as stated would be modified and that the FBI would prepare a list of personnel in the Intelligence Division down to the level of unit chief, with names included, which would be made available for review by appropriately cleared personnel of the committee staff at FBI Headquarters.

This is to advise that the list has been prepared and is available for review under the above conditions.

WALTHAM, MASSACHUSETTS

On 3-18-75 Professor John T. Elliff advised Inspector John B. Hotis that he had been contacted by William Miller, Staff Director for the Senate Select Committee on Intelligence Activities, and was asked to serve as Director of the Committee's Task Force on Domestic Intelligence. This is one of four Task Forces being formed by the Select Committee and it will focus primarily on the activities of the FBI. The other Task Forces are on Foreign Intelligence, Military and Technological Intelligence, and Command and Control.

Elliff said he had not decided whether to accept the offer and believed that others were also being considered for the position. He said he was reluctant to do anything that would interfere with the excellent working arrangements he had developed with the Bureau. He feels that his initial obligation is to the Director, and the purpose of going to the Police Foundation was to get formal support for a project that would be of primary benefit to the Bureau and only secondarily to the Attorney General and Congress. He said he would be guided by our judgment in this matter and not want to break any commitments that he might have made with the Bureau.

If he accepts the appointment Elliff said he would, of course, suspend work on his research project until he had terminated his employment with the Committee. He said he would also agree not to use any classified material that he acquired in his capacity as Task Force Director. Elliff has discussed this matter with John Heaphy, Assistant Director of the Police Foundation. Heaphy said the Foundation had no objections whatsoever for his accepting the position with the Senate Select Committee, and he would be free to resume his project after the Committee work was done.

Legal Counsel to Adams Memo
RE: JOHN T. ELLIFF

It should be noted that the Select Committee considered offering the position to Larry Baskir, Counsel to the President's Clemency Board. Mr. Baskir formerly served as Chief Counsel to Senator Ervin's Subcommittee on Constitutional Rights, and we had numerous contacts with him in that capacity. Our purpose was to reach some common agreement on privacy legislation that Senator Ervin planned to introduce in the 93rd Session of Congress. There were numerous meetings with Baskir on the same subject in the Deputy Attorney General's office. These efforts proved unsuccessful and after several months we discontinued the discussions. In our opinion, Mr. Baskir was unwilling to work out any reasonable compromise and seemed unsympathetic to the ~~legislation~~ Committee concerns of law enforcement.

B.C.

It is clear that this is a matter for Professor Elliff to determine and the Bureau should not express an official opinion. Although we have not always agreed with his views on intelligence matters, we have had no occasion to question his objectivity or his integrity as a scholar. Mr. Miller knows that Professor Elliff enjoys our confidence and it is our understanding that he offered Elliff the position in order to avoid an adversary relationship between the Bureau and the Committee.

Professor Elliff said he would make no commitments to the Senate Committee until he hears from us.

RECOMMENDATION:

That Professor Elliff be advised that it would be inappropriate for us to express an opinion on whether he should accept the appointment offered by the Senate Select Committee.

SUBJECT: SENSTUDY 75

This memorandum reports the results of a meeting of the Ad Hoc Coordinating Group on Congressional Review of the Intelligence Community (hereafter referred to as the Group), held at CIA Headquarters on the afternoon of 3/25/75.

This meeting was chaired by Mr. Colby in his role as the Director of Central Intelligence. In attendance were Mr. Philip Buchen, Counsel to the President; the then Deputy AG Laurence Silberman, Associate Deputy AG James Wilderotter; Mr. John Clarke, as well as officials from Defense, Treasury, National Security Council, Office of Management and Budget, and the Energy Research and Development Administration.

The following items of interest were discussed:

Mr. William G. Miller, Staff Director of the Senate Select Committee (SSC), and the Committee's Counsel, Mr. F.A.O. Schwarz, III, visited CIA Headquarters to discuss SSC business. Mr. Miller suggested that a tactic the SSC was considering is the identification of several key issues that the Committee could look into in-depth. For example, the SSC might propose to identify two or three covert actions engaged in by CIA and examine them in-depth rather than try to cover each and every covert action CIA might identify. Colby advised that this appeared to be an encouraging development and possibly each agency of the Intelligence Community might be asked to provide a series of key issues from which the Select Committee could select one or two for an in-depth study.

The question of the SSC staff signing a Secrecy Agreement is still not settled. The Staff Director raised some constitutional questions regarding the Secrecy Agreement. Mr. Schwarz admitted, however, that some type of arrangement would have to be made to insure that the Intelligence Community had some protection against unauthorized disclosures by staff members of the SSC.

Memorandum for Mr. Wannall
RE: SENSTUDY 75

Both Miller and Schwarz accepted the Third Agency Rule and agreed to abide by it. For the record, the SSC's interpretation of the Third Agency Rule (which is consistent with the Intelligence Community) is as follows: Classified information or material originating in one department shall not be disseminated outside any other department to which it has been made available without the consent of the originating department.

The Security Committee of the United States Intelligence Board (USIB) will meet to develop some ground rules and standardization for sanitizing documents to be furnished to the Select Committees.

The question of Intelligence Community personnel being represented by counsel was discussed. The position of the White House on this issue has been fully reported in a memorandum from the Legal Counsel to Mr. Adams, dated 3/27/75, entitled "Senate Select Committee on Intelligence Activities, Rodney Hills Associate Counsel to the President."

It was also agreed at the meeting of 3/25/75 that the President's Counsel would attempt to negotiate with the SSC to insure that all interviews of Intelligence Community personnel would be conducted on the premises of the bureau, agency or department employing the persons to be interviewed.

Attached also for the record are the following:

A letter dated 3/20/75 from Staff Director William G. Miller to Mr. John Clarke advising that Mr. Ben Marshall has been designated as the Security Officer of the SSC;

A letter dated 3/17/75 from Mr. Miller to Mr. Clarke listing employees of the SSC who have been cleared by the Committee for certification by CIA for access to classified information up to and including "Top Secret";

A letter from Mr. Miller to Mr. Clarke dated 3/20/75 advising that Mr. Ben Marshall was cleared for access to classified information up to and including "Top Secret";

MEMORANDUM FOR: Chairman, Ad Hoc Group of USIB on Congressional Review

SUBJECT : Security - Arrangements for Receipt of Classified Material by Senate Select Committee

1. On 19 March 1975 I telephonically inquired of Mr. Benjamin C. Marshall, Security Officer of the Senate Select Committee, whether he was in a position to begin receiving classified documents. He advised that arrangements had been perfected and that effective 20 March 1975 such documents could be delivered as follows:

> The courier should enter the 1st and C Street entrance of the Dirksen Senate Office Building, inquire of the guard as to the location of Room G308, go to the front door of G308, advise the guard there that material is being delivered and have him call Mr. Marshall or Charity Benz, both of whom are authorized to receive classified documents up to and including TOP SECRET*.

2. Mr. Marshall requested that prior to delivery he or someone in his office be telephonically advised (224-1700) of the impending delivery and the estimated time of arrival so that he or someone from his office can be available. He also stated that if delivery was desired to a specific staff member, Mr. Marshall would try and have such person available, but stated he was authorized to accept documents for members of the Committee and staff.

3. The Committee has not yet advised as to compartmented clearances but Mr. Marshall has been designated Compartmentation

Reference is made to SSC letter dated May 14, 1975, with attached appendices, requesting certain documents and other information from the FBI.

Pursuant to your request in Appendix B, Items 13 and 14, for all memoranda and other materials reflecting meetings and contacts during 1971 between the President and the Director of the FBI and between officials of the FBI and officials of the Department of State on the subject of "legal attaches," enclosed are copies of 23 documents.

NOTE:

The Senate Committee request is understood to be a request for contacts with reference to the legal attaches as a group and therefore contacts between officials of the FBI and officials of the State Department pertaining to any one particular legal attache, such as Tel Aviv, have not been included. In the enclosures there is reference to State "dragging its feet," and information that during negotiations with the State Department the fact that collection of political intelligence was the primary purpose for the expansion of legal attaches was concealed from the State Department. The enclosures also contain information that there are a large number of [CIA employees assigned to the U. S. Embassy at Kuala Lumpur]

I pointed out that there would be no possibility of our "doubling up" with Narcotics investigators, explaining that our functions and methods of operation are totally different and would actually be incompatible in some areas. I noted that our modest request had actually been scaled down before it was forwarded to State and that we had limited each office to a single Agent with only one Clerk-Stenographer. I referred to the detailed explanation for our request which had been furnished in our letter of 10/14/71 to Mr. Irwin and stated that we would not have made the request if we had not felt it fully justified and responsive to the President's instruction. I said that we would, however, carefully consider each part of the request once more to see if there was any way in which the total number of personnel involved might be reduced. It was agreed that following this review, we would meet again for further discussion during the week of November 29, 1971. Comments and recommendations concerning the specific areas follow:

Rio de Janeiro, Brazil

The Agency for International Development Mission here has been withdrawn in the face of local criticism of U. S. efforts to influence the Brazilian Police. We have been covering this enormous country from our office in Argentina on a 2,500 mile round trip basis. No criticism has been made of our liaison contacts with the Brazilian Police or other agencies, and we feel we should insist on reopening our office here. By reducing our staff in Buenos Aires by one Agent and one clerk (which we intended to do anyway), reopening this office will result in no increase in personnel.

Kuala Lumpur, Malaysia

JFK(1)(B) [There is an abnormally large percentage of Central Intelligence Agency personnel here on both an overt and covert basis,] and the addition of another investigative agency is feared by the Ambassador as objectionable to the Malaysian Government which is endeavoring to maintain a neutral position. State asks that we let them explore the possibility of opening in Singapore instead of Kuala Lumpur. Singapore is extremely close and is actually a better location from the standpoint of travelers both east and west as Singapore is a normal international aviation stop. We believe Singapore would be just as good a location as Kuala Lumpur and recommend that State be asked to make the necessary arrangements without further delay.

DATE 10/18/00 BY SP2ALM/ely

Reference is made to my memorandum of September 23, 1975, which advised you of a request I received concerning legal representation for W. Donald Stewart a former Special Agent of this Bureau who has been requested to submit to interview by the Senate Select Committee.

Mr. Stewart telephonically advised on September 24, 1975, that he had been contacted by James Dick of the Senate Select Committee and again asked to appear for interview concerning mail openings. Mr. Stewart explained to Mr. Dick that he was arranging with the Department of Justice for legal representation and until these arrangements were completed, he did not feel it was appropriate for him to be interviewed. According to Mr. Stewart, Mr. Dick informed him that the Committee could not wait for such arrangements to be completed and that arrangements should be made at this time for the interview. Mr. Stewart stated, Mr. Dick implied that, if he did not agree to an interview in the immediate future, a subpoena would be issued. As a result, Mr. Stewart agreed to appear September 26, 1975, for interview by the Senate Select Committee concerning mail openings. He, however, did not indicate whether he intends to furnish information at that time.

Mr. Stewart inquired as to the status of his request for legal representation which he requested by letter dated September 18, 1975 (a copy was enclosed with referenced memorandum). He was advised that this matter had not as yet been resolved and that he would be expeditiously advised of the resolution of his request.

In view of the immediacy of the problem concerning legal representation for Mr. Stewart, it is respectfully requested that this Bureau be expeditiously advised of your decision in this matter.

In conformity with our prior responses to these SSC requests, the identity of the requesting Presidential appointee is omitted. This criteria did not become applicable until the recent Presidential Directive which is the subject of the SSC request question #23b, the response to which the Department has reserved for itself. Our response therefore states all electronic surveillance requests are signed by the Director or Acting Director of the FBI.

The Attorney General

A briefing for Senators Church and Tower has been provided covering warrantless electronic surveillances, surreptitious entry for recovery of cryptographic material, teletype coverage requested by the National Security Agency and electronic penetration of communications equipment requested by the National Security Agency. The White House asked that agencies of the intelligence community not respond to any requests from the SSC covering these matters until the briefing had been given. The goal of the briefing was to confine knowledge of these matters to Senators Church and Tower and avoid proliferation of this information throughout the SSC staff. In view of this, it is recommended that the enclosed material not be made available to the SSC staff until it is discussed with the White House. I further urge that it be made clear to the White House that if this material is to be made available to the SSC that access to the enclosed material be limited to Senators Church, Tower, and SSC Staff Director William Miller only.

A copy of the memorandum is enclosed for your records.

Memorandum 8/25/75 to the Attorney General, enclosed responses to questions 2, 3, 9, 10, 14, 15, and 21. Memorandum 9/19/75 to the Attorney General enclosed the response to question 24. Memorandum 9/16/75 to the Attorney General enclosed responses to questions 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 11, 12, and 17. The latter memorandum excluded FBI warrantless electronic surveillance statistics relative to questions 4, 5, 6, 7, and 8 since this data required more time for compilation. This data has now been compiled and is contained in the memorandum enclosed with this letter. Reference is made to SSC letter dated July 7, 1975, with attached questionnaire. By memorandum dated September 16, 1975, replies were given to questions 4, 5, 6, 7, and 8 as they pertained to agencies other than the Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI). This response pertains to FBI requests for both telephone and microphone warrantless electronic surveillances utilized in FBI investigations. The response excludes from consideration the electronic surveillances utilized regarding the "Kissinger 17," Joseph Kraft, and Yeoman Charles Edward Radford. These matters have been the subject of individual SSC inquiries. The material furnished to the Committee or to which it has been given access in regard to these specific matters provides the data which would respond to questions 4, 5, 6, 7, and 8.

Question #4 asked: "What have been the identities of the agencies and the Presidential appointees who have initiated requests for warrantless electronic surveillance from 1966 to the present?"

With respect to this question, the FBI has initiated requests to the Attorney General for warrantless electronic surveillances. All FBI requests, either initial or continuances, are signed by the Director or Acting Director of the FBI.

SUBJECT: LEGAL ADVICE FOR PRESENT OR FORMER BUREAU EMPLOYEES

SEN STUDY 75

On September 17, 1975, Mary Wagner, an attorney in the office of the Deputy Attorney General, accompanied by Bruce Baird, an attorney recently appointed to the Deputy's office, met with me in my office and advised that they have been assigned the responsibility of drafting guidelines for the Attorney General's approval concerning legal representation of Department employees. She explained that they view the problem of legal advice to employees as larger than the request made by the FBI concerning Bureau employees, and that the guidelines would address the larger problem. She asked for my suggestions concerning the proposed guidelines.

I told Miss Wagner that in the beginning of the inquiries received from the Senate and House Select Committees, we had been advised by the Department that a conflict of interest would prohibit Department attorneys, including lawyers in the FBI, from providing legal representation individually to the employees of the FBI in matters relating to the Senate and House inquiries. As a consequence we have been advising our employees of the procedures involved in Congressional committee interviews and appearances for testimony; the limitations imposed on the employees in regard to sensitive areas of testimony which might require special approval; their right to counsel and of the limitation imposed on us that personal counsel would have to be privately employed. I told Miss Wagner that my reading of the Attorney General's memorandum for the Director dated September 12, 1975, was that the Attorney General intended to make personal legal advice available to employees requesting it and that we would like for the guidelines to be written broadly enough for employees to receive effective assistance of legal counsel.

I suggested to her that the Attorney General might approve the appointment of a special counsel within the Department whose responsibilities would be somewhat similar to those imposed on the Special Counsel for Intelligence Coordination in that he would be relieved of other Department responsibilities and his allegiance would be only to discharging the obligations of personal counsel when requested by an employee. I suggested that such special designation would permit the Department lawyer so assigned to avoid the conflict of interest problem and at the same time it would impose on him the obligations of the attorney-client privilege.

Miss Wagner commented that she understood that in some cases handled by the Civil Division of the Department, Government attorneys represent employees in civil suits, but require that the employee waive the attorney-client privilege to the extent that should the Government employee become aware of information that should be communicated to another division of the Department, the attorney would furnish such information to the other division. If the attorney learned of criminal conduct on the part of the employee, he would not be prohibited by the attorney-client privilege from making such conduct known to the Department.

I told Miss Wagner that an essential element of the relationship between the special counsel for furnishing advice to employees would be that the attorney-client privilege would apply and it would not be possible for such a waiver to be required in exchange for providing legal advice. She agreed.

I suggested to Miss Wagner that the Department special counsel could be available for consultation concerning such matters as appearances before Congressional committees and for such preliminary advice as would be useful to employees called to testify. At the point where the special counsel determined that the employee required more in-depth legal assistance in order to protect his legal rights, the special counsel could recommend to the Deputy Attorney General that the employee should be afforded an opportunity to have private counsel whose fees would be paid by the Department of Justice.

In regard to the question of security clearance for such outside counsel and the possibility that an employee might seek to employ an attorney whose background would suggest that he would not be approved for security clearance, I told Miss Wagner that the provision of private counsel to an employee would be done in the discretion of the Department and that a reasonable limitation could well be imposed by the Department as to those attorneys in private practice who would be eligible for appointment to represent individual employees. Such limitation would permit the Department and the employee to agree upon an attorney who would be qualified for security clearance.

Miss Wagner inquired as to when the Department's responsibility for furnishing legal counsel to an employee should terminate. I told her that an appropriate time would be when the Department advised the employee that a decision had been made to prosecute the employee. Up to that point the inquiries would have been directed toward the determination of the circumstances and that the employer-employee relationship would justify protecting the legal rights of the employee, but at the point at which the Government determines and so advises the employee that the employee would be prosecuted, the Government and the employee would become adversaries.

We discussed the provision in Federal law for the appointment of counsel for Federal defendants in cases where the defendant is indigent. I suggested that they consider the possibility that even in those cases where an employee is to be prosecuted, the Department consider the possibility of employing existing law to provide counsel to employees who may become defendants in criminal cases.

As to the scope of the representation of the employee, I told Miss Wagner that the initial need is for legal advice in situations where an employee is called for an interview or testimony by Members, committees, subcommittees, or other units of the Congress. However, I explained that due to the publicity of the Congressional inquiries, others may well be interested in pursuing independent inquiries concerning the same matters or other matters and that employees may well request legal advice when they are called for interview or testimony by the Criminal Division of the Department, the Civil Rights Division of the Department, or other Federal Government entities including Federal Grand Juries. Further, state and local prosecutors and grand juries may seek to inquire concerning matters within their jurisdiction arising out of the employee's Federal activities and the employee would require the assistance of counsel. Therefore, I asked Miss Wagner to include in the guidelines a provision that legal counsel would be available through the Department for employees in all circumstances where the employee is being questioned concerning matters arising out of his employment in the FBI.

I told Miss Wagner that the concluding paragraph in the Attorney General's memorandum for the Director indicated the possibility that a determination would be made in some cases that the employee's activities were beyond the scope of his duties and in such cases legal counsel would not be provided. I told her that such a determination would be critical and the policy followed in making such decisions would color the entire program of providing legal assistance to employees. Therefore, I requested Miss Wagner to address the question of scope of duties in the guidelines by expressing a presumption that the employee's activities were within the scope of his duties and that such presumption would be overcome only by a showing of facts clearly indicating to the contrary, and that such determination would be made at least by the Deputy Attorney General himself.

I told Miss Wagner that this matter was most urgent and that the Special Agents of the FBI throughout the field are anxiously awaiting the announcement of the Attorney General's policy in regard to availability of legal advice to employees concerning matters arising out of their employment. She advised me that work would begin immediately and that she would be in touch with me concerning its progress, and to discuss the guidelines as they are developed.

Former Assistant Director Charles D. Brennan telephonically contacted SA Paul V. Daly of the Legal Counsel Division on 9/22/75 to advise that he had been requested by the Senate Select Committee to appear before that Committee at 5 p.m. on 9/23/75 to testify under oath concerning his knowledge of the "Huston Plan." Brennan was further informed that he was being requested to testify during open session of the Committee on Thursday, 9/25/75, regarding the same topic. He was advised generally of his legal rights and of the appropriate provisions of the rules of procedure concerning the Senate Select Committee. He was informed that the Bureau was cooperating with the Committee and had furnished considerable information in the form of briefings and documents some of which directly relate to the Bureau's knowledge and participation in the "Huston Plan."

Brennan expressed concern as to exactly what topics he might discuss during an open session of the Senate Select Committee and it was explained to him that he should contact Section Chief William O. Cregar of the Intelligence Division who would appropriately advise him concerning this area. Brennan asked if SA Daly would have Cregar contact him concerning this matter and stated he could be reached at telephone number 790-6132. Cregar was appropriately advised of the aforementioned and indicated he would contact Brennan.

Set out below is information concerning an interview of former FBI Assistant Director Joseph K. Ponder by an SSC Staff Member.

On August 28, 1975, Ponder telephonically contacted FBI Headquarters from California and advised that he had been contacted by one Mike Epstein who identified himself as a Staff Member of the SSC. Epstein indicated he wanted to interview Ponder regarding the Martin Luther King, Jr., case. Ponder advised that he was Special Agent in Charge in the Atlanta, Georgia, Field Office during the King investigation and indicated that Epstein was to recontact him in Los Angeles on August 30, 1975. Ponder's call to the FBI was at 10:30 p.m. and he requested any advice the Bureau might have regarding such an interview.

On the following day, August 29, 1975, Ponder telephonically contacted the Legal Counsel Division of the FBI concerning a contemplated interview of Ponder by Epstein on Sunday, August 31, 1975. Ponder was advised that the FBI was waiving his secrecy agreement for purpose of the interview, but only as it concerned a discussion of matters relating to the King investigation. Ponder was additionally advised that he should not furnish information which would identify confidential sources, disclose sensitive methods or investigative techniques, jeopardize ongoing investigations, or violate third agency commitments. Ponder was told that if he had any questions regarding the proper scope of the interview, he could further consult with FBI Headquarters by collect call.

Attached herewith is a memorandum prepared by Ponder and voluntarily furnished by him to the Los Angeles Field Office of the FBI. His memorandum reports the interview of him by Epstein.

Enclosure

NOTE:

Telephonic contacts between Ponder and FBIHQ are set forth in memorandum 8/28/75 from T. W. Leavitt to Mr. W. R. Wannall and memorandum 8/29/75 from Legal Counsel to Mr. Adams, both memoranda concerning SENSTUDY 75. The Legal Counsel Division advice to Ponder was given by Inspector J. B. Hotis.

The LHM we are furnishing the Department was received by Los Angeles airtel 9/5/75 which contained the following additional significant information. Ponder dictated to the Los Angeles Office the following impressions for the Bureau's information:

"Following this interview and upon further reflection I believe Atlanta did have some coverage on King at the time I arrived in Atlanta. I believe that coverage was on his home as opposed to the coverage on his offices at Southern Christian Leadership Conference which we obtained while I was there.

"Based on my brief discussion with Epstein and his manner in making the appointment, I had the feeling that his interview of me was arranged over the Labor Day weekend to suit his personal convenience or to fit his personal travel plans. He was pleasant, low-keyed, and not at all aggressive or probing and I had the impression that he learned nothing during the interview that he had not known before. I told him on several occasions during the interview that my memory of this ten year old matter is very poor, that he should rely on the records made at the time for a more accurate account.

"I also had the impression that he is pursuing leads based on material furnished to him by Sullivan."

The foregoing impressions of Ponder are not being included in the material being furnished to the Department as it appears obvious Ponder intended this information for the exclusive information of the Bureau.

U. S. SENATE SELECT COMMITTEE ON INTELLIGENCE ACTIVITIES (SSC); INTERVIEW OF FORMER ASSISTANT DIRECTOR JOSEPH K. PONDER BY SSC STAFF MEMBER

On August 28, 1975, I received a call from Mike Epstein of the Staff of the Senate Select Committee. He said he planned to be in Southern California on Labor Day weekend and asked whether I would be available for interview on Sunday, August 31, 1975. I told him I would. Epstein subsequently called me on August 30 and agreed to meet me at my home at San Clemente on Sunday afternoon, August 31, 1975.

The interview with Epstein took place between 3:40 pm and 4:05 pm. This included the time spent in amenities and general conversation.

Regarding my Bureau background Epstein asked during what period of time I was Special Agent in Charge in Atlanta. I told him from April or May 1964 to December 1966. He asked where I had been assigned before that (Buffalo) and where I went after leaving Atlanta (New York). He asked no other questions about my Bureau career. He asked if I were aware of telephone taps maintained by the Atlanta Office on Martin Luther King. I replied that I was aware of certain taps placed and removed during my tenure in Atlanta. He asked if there were such coverage before I arrived in Atlanta and I told him I was not aware of any. In response to these and other subsequent questions I pointed out to Epstein that I had not been personally involved in the King matter, that I had various other responsibilities in Atlanta and that after ten years I cannot now clearly recall information which might answer his questions. I told him that everything that was done was properly recorded, that the records were accurate, and wherever my recollection differs from the record, he should rely on the record to determine what happened.

This document contains neither recommendations nor conclusions of the FBI. It is the property of the FBI and is loaned to your agency; it and its contents are not to be distributed outside your agency.

He asked whether the request for the King coverage originated at the Bureau or in Atlanta. I told him I did not recall, but that in any case it was approved by the Bureau. He asked where it was monitored and I told him the monitoring was done in an apartment rented for that purpose. He asked if I knew the name in which the apartment was rented and I said I did not. He asked why the taps were discontinued and I told him I do not now recall whether I was told why they were discontinued, but if I were I cannot now recall the reason. He asked whether we had a bug on King as opposed to a tap and I told him, "no." He asked whether it were possible there were taps and bugs placed and maintained without my knowledge. I told him that was not possible because of the size of the office and the relationship I had with the supervisors and Agents that nothing was done without my knowledge or without Bureau approval.

Epstein asked whether we had conducted any Counterintelligence Program against King or the Southern Christian Leadership Conference and I told him I recalled none. He asked whether we had made efforts to prevent King from receiving the Nobel Prize or efforts to interfere with or make more difficult the raising of funds for a banquet to honor King for his receipt of the Nobel Prize. I told him I knew of no such efforts.

He asked whether Sullivan (Assistant Director William C. Sullivan) had visited Atlanta. I told him Sullivan had been to Atlanta in connection with a regional conference dealing with the Bureau's investigation of the Klan. He wanted to know if Baumgartner had been with Sullivan and I told him I thought so. He asked who else had accompanied Sullivan and I told him Arbor Gray had accompanied Sullivan and perhaps someone else whose name I cannot now recall. He asked whether Sullivan had met with Ralph Magill (then publisher of the Atlanta Constitution). I told him Sullivan may have met with Magill, that I may have accompanied Sullivan to Magill's office, but I cannot specifically recall such a meeting and if it were held I cannot recall anything discussed. He asked the purpose of such a meeting and I told him if such a meeting took place it was in the nature of a social call with Sullivan paying his respects to Magill and a public relations-type of meeting. He asked whether there was any discussion between Sullivan and Magill regarding any anti-King activities and I told him, "no." He asked whether Sullivan had made any other visits to Atlanta and I told him I knew of none.

He asked whether I was aware of any inquiry made by the Bureau into the handling of the King investigation either through the Inspection Staff or otherwise. I told him I was not aware of any. He asked whether Nichols, the Agent assigned to the King investigation had been in Atlanta while I was there. I told him I had hazy recall of Nichols, but did not recall him. He asked the same thing about Al Sentinella. I told him Sentinella was there when I arrived and was still there when I left Atlanta. He asked who had supervised the Security Squad. I told him Supervisor Charles Harding.

On 9/16/75, James Dick of the Senate Select Committee requested that former Liaison Officer William McDonnell be made available for Staff interview concerning his knowledge on the FBI's use of the NSA Watch List for monitoring of international communications and mail openings. McDonnell has subsequently advised that he was contacted by Dick and asked to make himself available for interview concerning the aforementioned matters. McDonnell requested that the Bureau advised him whether he was released to testify concerning these particular matters. He was advised that appropriate clearance would be sought and he would be notified when this clearance is obtained. It was also pointed out to former SA McDonnell that mail openings is currently under inquiry by the Department for possible criminal culpability and that since his appearance was a voluntary one, he should give some consideration to this particular aspect of the interview. He was informed that the Legal Counsel Division would afford him a briefing concerning his rights before hand. He indicated that he would like a briefing.

RECOMMENDATIONS:

ST. 114 REC-61 62-116395-801

(1) That McDonnell be released from any existing employment agreement for purposes of this interview by the Senate Select Committee.

OCT 1 1975

(2) That the Legal Counsel Division will contact McDonnell and advise him when appropriate clearance has been received.

(6) Scope of investigations and emergency detention plans. (The Bureau will be the principal topic of this hearing.)

(7) Informant matters. (The Bureau will be the principal topic of this hearing.)

(8) Martin Luther King, Jr., Investigation. (The Bureau will be the principal topic of this hearing.)

(9) COINTELPRO. (The Bureau will be the principal topic of this hearing.)

(10) A review of the Bureau filing system and the official and confidential files. (Elliff stated this hearing would be similar to the Bureau's appearance and testimony before the Subcommittee on Civil and Constitutional Rights, Committee on the Judiciary, on February 27, 1975.)

(11) Bureau's involvement in the Fred Hampton Black Panther Party in Chicago, Illinois. (The Bureau will be the principal topic of this hearing.)

Elliff indicated that the Bureau will ordinarily be given transcripts of what witnesses have furnished the Committee concerning the topic of the hearing prior to the hearing and will be given a list of documents which will be used during the particular hearing prior to that hearing. Gitenstein stated that this was intended so that the Bureau could be responsive to questions asked during the particular hearing. Additionally, Gitenstein indicated that the Bureau will be requested from time to time to declassify documents and that this will be done by making the request ten days, if possible, prior to the Committee's intended use.

Elliff in a subsequent conversation indicated that this procedure had not been worked out by the Committee and that there were many options being considered concerning the declassification matter. One of the means being discussed by the Committee is to have a suitably paraphrased substitute for the document to be used in hearings.

With regard to Item 24 of request #1, our indices contain no references to a Zelma Coolidge. One reference concerning a Tony Consiglio and one reference to a Sam Cravatta were located. A Xerox copy of each of these indices cards is being furnished.

With regard to Item 25 of request #1 which requested advice as to whether there is any information contained in the John Rosselli electronic surveillance logs concerning 18 individuals or situations, a check of our electronic surveillance indices revealed references to three of the individuals; namely, Sam Giancana, Frank Sinatra, and Robert Maheu, as having been overheard through electronic surveillance coverage on John Rosselli. Without further advice as to the identity of "any White House person" or "any DOJ person" no logical search of electronic surveillance indices can be made.

With regard to Item 26 of request #1 in which you requested to be advised if six individuals had been the subject of electronic surveillance, our files reveal that two of the six named were the subjects of such coverage; namely, Sam Giancana and Santos Trafficante.

In view of the fact that some of the information contained in the material being furnished originates from sensitive FBI sources in the criminal field and because of privacy considerations of individuals referred to in this material, it is requested that access be restricted to those persons having an absolute need to know.

RE: INTERVIEW OF FBI SPECIAL AGENT (SA)
FRED J. CASSIDY BY SSC STAFF MEMBER

Set out below is information concerning an interview of FBI SA Fred J. Cassidy by a Staff Member of the SSC. Cassidy is currently assigned to FBI Headquarters. The details of the interview are as furnished by Cassidy.

On advance notice from Mr. Loch Johnson, SSC Staff Member, Cassidy was advised that he was to be interviewed on August 20, 1975. Cassidy was informed by the Legal Counsel Division of the FBI that he was being released from any applicable employment agreement for purposes of the SSC interview concerning the Huston Plan. It was explained to Cassidy that he had a right to counsel; however, the FBI was unable to provide private counsel. Cassidy was also told that there were certain privileged areas concerning which he would not be required to answer questions. These areas concern information which might divulge the identities of FBI sources; information relating to sensitive methods and techniques; information which might adversely affect ongoing FBI investigations; and information which had originated with other agencies, including foreign intelligence agencies. Cassidy was informed that if a question arose during the interview in one of these areas, he had the privilege, before replying, of consulting with an FBI representative.

The following is a first-person statement prepared by Cassidy reporting the interview of him.

RE: INTERVIEW OF FBI SPECIAL AGENT (SA)
FRED J. CASSIDY BY SSC STAFF MEMBER

On August 20, 1975, Mr. Loch Johnson of the Senate Select Committee to Study Governmental Operations with Respect to Intelligence Activities (SSC) staff interviewed me in my office, Room 4821, JEH Building, concerning my knowledge of, and participation in, the so-called "Huston Plan."

Mr. Johnson did not place me under oath or advise me of my rights.

He asked about my background which I provided, including the fact that I have been a Special Agent of the FBI since August 7, 1950.

With regard to the extent of my participation in the Huston Plan, I advised Mr. Johnson that I was selected by former Assistant Director William C. Sullivan to act as the liaison officer for the plan, probably because of my experience in the FBI Domestic Liaison Section and my extensive liaison contacts through my participation in the various United States Intelligence Board (USIB) Committees. My duties with regard to the Huston Plan were to insure that appropriate notification of meetings was made and that the various papers prepared as the result of meetings held were delivered to the proper individuals in the other agencies participating in the plan. Some of the papers were delivered personally by me, others were sent by courier.

I advised Mr. Johnson that I was generally aware of the contents of the papers prepared through my attendance at the meetings of the working group and discussions with participating personnel; however, I personally made no input nor did I participate in the preparation of the workpapers or the finished product.

RE: INTERVIEW OF FBI SPECIAL AGENT (SA)
FRED J. CASSIDY BY SSC STAFF MEMBER

Mr. Johnson asked if I had met Tom Charles Huston prior to the initial meeting of the Huston Plan working group. I advised him that I had never heard of Huston prior to the mentioning of his name by W. C. Sullivan at the initial meeting of FBI personnel involved in the Huston Plan, which meeting occurred early in June, 1970, and had never seen him until the first meeting of the working group held at CIA Headquarters, Langley, Virginia, shortly thereafter.

Mr. Johnson asked about the initial meeting of FBI personnel concerning the Huston Plan. I told him it was held in Mr. Sullivan's conference room in the Federal Triangle Building and that as best as I could recall it was attended by Mr. Sullivan and the branch Inspectors of the Intelligence Division as well as the Section Chiefs. Sullivan told us of the plan and as I recall indicated this was a golden opportunity to regain the coverage afforded by techniques, which had been denied us for the most part, since 1967. I told him that in my view Sullivan was going to make this one last effort to regain the coverage and if this effort failed was prepared to retire.

Mr. Johnson asked if former Inspector T. J. Smith was at this meeting. I told him I could not recall.

The initial meeting of the Ad Hoc group at CIA was discussed and I advised him that, as I recalled, at that meeting it was decided that each participating agency would submit a paper listing the restraints on their particular agency which were hampering them in doing their job. I pointed out that the FBI submitted an extensive list of restraints and that this paper was circulated to the other participating agencies without being cleared through Mr. Hoover.

U. S. SENATE SELECT COMMITTEE

RE: INTERVIEW OF FBI SPECIAL AGENT (SA)
FRED J. CASSIDY BY SSC STAFF MEMBER

Mr. Johnson asked if I was aware of who was the instigator of the Huston Plan. I told him I had no direct knowledge but would suspect it was W. C. Sullivan, Huston, or possibly former Assistant Attorney General Robert Mardian; however, the answer to his question would have to be obtained from those individuals or such records as he may be able to locate.

He asked my impression of Tom Charles Huston. I told him I felt Huston was a very bright young man who saw this plan as an opportunity to become the Henry Kissinger of domestic security and thereby enhance himself and his political career.

Mr. Johnson stated that his investigation had developed that Sullivan at the outset of the plan appeared to want to push through the plan; however, he seemed to take a direct turnabout and began to advise Mr. Hoover against adopting some of the proposals being made by the various participating agencies. He said it was his impression that this turnabout occurred at the time Sullivan was promoted to Number Three Man in the Bureau. He asked if I could shed any light on this turn of events.

I told Mr. Johnson that I could not speak for Sullivan and could only give him my impression of what occurred, that being at the outset of the plan Sullivan truly felt this was a golden opportunity to get the coverage back, and decided to lay his job on the line to accomplish this. When he was moved up to the Number Three job, I felt he saw the opportunity to someday become the Director of the FBI. Further, as the drafts of the plan were being written, Sullivan realized that sooner or later Mr. Hoover would see them and at that time realize that Sullivan had disseminated to the intelligence community all of the restraints Mr. Hoover had imposed on the FBI.

U. S. SENATE SELECT COMMITTEE

WITH RESPECT TO INTELLIGENCE ACTIVITIES (SSC)

RE: INTERVIEW OF FBI SPECIAL AGENT (SA)
FRED J. CASSIDY BY SSC STAFF MEMBER

Sullivan then tried to have the other agencies listed as the agencies which submitted the restraints. Having accomplished this, he was then in a position to advise Mr. Hoover that this or that was not wise or necessary. When the final report was prepared, the FBI then footnoted most of the recommendations as opposing them.

Mr. Johnson said he had been advised by Mr. Helms and Admiral Gaylor that the final draft which they reviewed prior to going to Mr. Hoover's office to sign it did not contain the footnotes and that they were not aware that the FBI was objecting to the recommendations until they saw the final version of the report in Mr. Hoover's office.

I told him that I cannot specifically recall what was in the final draft; however, I was aware that all of the working group was aware of the FBI position as it was so stated at the meeting in which the draft was hammered out. I told him I specifically recalled this as it had put Mr. Sullivan in a most embarrassing position. At one point when asked why a change was to be made or why the FBI was going to object, Sullivan responded with words to the effect that because Mr. Hoover said so.

Mr. Johnson asked why covert mail coverage was listed as a restraint as CIA was engaged in such coverage in 1970. I told him I was not in a position to discuss CIA operations with him. He also asked about the removal of restrictions or use of surreptitious entries to obtain cryptographic materials. I told him I was not free to discuss such activity with him.

In respect to Items 14 and 15, we are delivering a document dated December 17, 1964. As indicated on page 2 of this document, it was approved for Mr. Sullivan by someone whose initials appear to the right of "WCS/." Although we cannot say with absolute certainty who that person might have been, the initials appear to be those of former FBI Special Agent (SA) Daniel J. Brennan. Former SA E. R. Clayton approved the communication for Mr. Tolson. Notations on page 2 indicate that Mr. Belmont approved it and also advised FBI Director Hoover of its contents on December 18, presumably 1964. No written approval by Mr. Hoover is noted.

In respect to Item 21, we are delivering a document dated August 24, 1967. We have previously furnished the SSC, by memorandum dated June 24, 1975, and subtitled "Request Pertaining to Electronic Surveillance," an excised copy of the August 24, 1967, document. The copy which is now being delivered contains certain administrative data which had been excised on previous delivery. However, those excisions remaining relate to the substance of the memorandum and were made to protect the identity of a representative of a friendly foreign intelligence service, the name of that service and the name of the country involved.

With respect to the excisions in materials being delivered herewith, where no notation appears as to reason for excision, the excision was made for the reason that the information actually summarizes or quotes from conversations monitored during electronic surveillances of King. In some cases, it can be ascertained precisely what information in FBI files came from electronic surveillances of Dr. King; however, there exist areas where documentation of the information is not precise and no accurate determination can be made. Therefore, no assurances can be given that portions of the material being furnished do not contain information developed as a result of electronic surveillances of King.

SENATE SELECT COMMITTEE ON INTELLIGENCE ACTIVITIES (SSC)

The remaining materials in the SSC requests relating to King are receiving continuous attention and the results will be forwarded on a periodic basis as soon as possible.

A CURRENT ANALYSIS

DATE 10/18/00 BY [illegible]

The enclosed article, captioned as above, is the one we have been preparing in line with approval of our recommendation to disseminate it on a select basis at a very high level to show current communist activities in relation to the Negro movement. It incorporates up-to-date material just received from our New York Office relating to the recent meeting of the Communist Party's National Executive Committee. Discussion of racial matters was a primary topic at the week-long meeting.

The enclosed article is a factual, documented analysis of the over-all current situation. We believe that it would be of interest not only to the Attorney General but also to Mr. O'Donnell, at the White House; Mr. McCone, at the Central Intelligence Agency; Mr. Rusk, at the Department of State; as well as to Mr. McNamara and the three Armed Forces intelligence agencies of the Defense Department. Accordingly, if the article as prepared is approved, we propose to disseminate it to the afore-mentioned individuals and agencies.

RECOMMENDATION:

That the enclosed article be approved. If approved, it should be returned to the Domestic Intelligence Division for preparation of appropriate letters of transmittal.

SUBJECT: COMMUNISM AND THE NEGRO MOVEMENT--A CURRENT ANALYSIS

Enclosed is a paper, captioned as above, which depicts the communist influence in the Negro movement with emphasis on Martin Luther King, Jr. This paper is an up-to-date revision of the one by the same title prepared under the date of October 16, 1963. In updating it we emphasized three main areas: (1) the continued dependence of King upon former Communist Party, USA members, current and former Party sympathizers and his continued reliance on the long-time communist [Stanley David Levison;] (2) facts relating to the moral degeneracy of King; and (3) the recent and current Party aims and activities relative to the racial movement.

RECOMMENDATION:

Upon approval, consideration will be given to appropriate dissemination.* When approved, the paper should be returned to the Domestic Intelligence Division for printing and the preparation of appropriate letters if disseminated.

My memorandum to you 11/22/64 submitted for approval a paper, captioned as above which depicts the communist influence in the Negro movement with emphasis on Martin Luther King, Jr. We have added information on the last four lines, page four, top paragraph, to show that on 11/24/64 King contacted Clarence Jones and asked that Jones and Stanley Levison among others submit five-minute speeches which King could use in accepting the Nobel Peace Prize. King would select the best material from these speeches. Jones and Levison are key advisors to King.

I have checked with Mr. Mohr and Mr. DeLoach who have advised that they have read this paper.

It is contemplated that dissemination will be made under Monday's date (11/30/64), if approved, to the following individuals:

The Honorable Bill D. Moyers, Special Assistant to the President, The White House

SUBJECT: COMMUNIST INFILTRATION OF

INTERNAL SECURITY - COMMUNIST

This memorandum recommends that the National Science Foundation (NSF) be furnished information concerning the communist influence exerted on the Southern Christian Leadership Conference (SCLC) and its President, Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. This appears necessary since the SCLC has been contacted by the NSF for the purpose of obtaining applicants for southern schools.

AT 1382-S* has furnished information that Cordy T. Vivian, SCLC Director of Affiliates, was advised that the NSF desired qualified applicants to enter the University of Mississipp and other schools in southern states where the NSF has its program in progress. Vivian was advised that the NSF was contacting organizations such as the SCLC and other civil rights groups to handle the recruitment program for Negro students since they did not want it to appear that the NSF was attempting to put Negro applicants in southern schools.

Vivian was advised that each qualified applicant would receive a $3,000 scholarship from the NSF. Since this is a Government project any expenses incurred in this matter "would not come out of anyone's pocket." This would indicate that any expenses incurred by the SCLC in their recruitment effort would be paid for with Government funds.

The communist influences exerted on King are well known to the Bureau. Vivian has in the past been a member of the Communist Party.

OBSERVATIONS:

It is incredible that an outfit such as the SCLC should be utilized for the purpose of recruiting Negroes to take part in the NSF program, particularly where funds of the U. S. Government are involved. The Atlanta Office has recommended that Senator Richard Russell (D. Georgia) be advised concerning this matter. This appears inadvisable since such action could conceivably cause repercussions which would only aggravate the racial situation that exists in the South.

It is felt that Dr. Leland J. Haworth, Director, NSF, should be furnished information regarding communist influences exerted on the SCLC and King. In this regard we recently disseminated to the White House and the heads of the intelligence community copies of a "Top Secret" summary entitled "Communism and the Negro Movement--A Current Analysis" which contains information regarding the SCLC and King. This summary deals with King's communist connections and his personal immoral activities. With the receipt of this summary by Dr. Haworth, the SCLC would undoubtedly be removed from the NSF program to obtain qualified Negro students for southern schools.

The information concerning the SCLC participation in the NSF program is being separately disseminated to the Department and interested intelligence agencies.

RECOMMENDATION:

There is attached for approval a letter to Dr. Leland J. Haworth, Director, NSF, transmitting a copy of the recently prepared summary entitled "Communism and the Negro Movement--A Current Analysis."

ALL EXCISIONS EXCEPT ONE NOTED IN PARAGRAPH UNDER "OBSERVATION" BELOW, ARE TO PROTECT REPRESENTATIVE OF FRIENDLY FOREIGN INTELLIGENCE SERVICE, NAME OF SERVICE AND COUNTRY INVOLVED.

PURPOSE:

To obtain approval to disseminate to S. C. Hocking, [covert Australian Security Intelligence Officer,] Australian ~~(S)~~ Embassy, Washington, D. C., a copy of the monograph entitled, "Communist Influence in Racial Matters--A Current Analysis."

CLASSIFIED BY SP2ALM/cleg
DECLASSIFY ON: 25X6

BACKGROUND:

S. C. Hocking, who has the formal title of First Secretary-Migrant Matters, Australian Embassy, Washington, D. C., has advised that the Vietnam Protest Movement in Australia is considering inviting prominent Americans to lecture in Australia on Vietnam. Martin Luther King, Jr., President of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference, has been mentioned by this group as one they might invite for this purpose. Mr. Hocking has requested that he be furnished any information of a political or subversive nature concerning King so that his Director-General can brief the Prime Minister of Australia.

OBSERVATION:

Since there is a good possibility King might be invited to Australia in the near future, it is deemed desirable to advise appropriate government officials of his heavy alliance to Communist advisors and his immoral conduct.

Mr. Tolson has suggested, and the Director agreed, that the monograph on Martin Luther King, Jr., be brought up to date.

This is an excellent suggestion and we have already started the necessary research. Bringing this monograph up to date and disseminating it at high level prior to King's "Washington Spring Project" should serve again to remind top-level officials in Government of the wholly disreputable character of King.

As you know, King's "Washington Spring Project" was originally scheduled for early April, 1968. However, our Washington Field Office has developed information that King's group is experiencing difficulty in recruiting individuals to participate in the demonstration and the date for the project has now tentatively been set for April 27, 1968.

Because of the importance of doing a thorough job on this, we will conduct an exhaustive file review to bring together the most complete and up-to-date information and to present it in a hard-hitting manner. To make the brief timely, we will have it completed and ready for dissemination by March 14, 1968.

Reference is made to memorandum from Mr. Michael E. Shaheen of the Department of Justice to Mr. John A. Mintz of this Bureau, captioned "Senate Select Committee Request," dated September 9, 1975. Reference is also made to letter dated September 5, 1975, to Mr. Shaheen from Mr. Mark Gitenstein of the SSC staff.

The issue raised in referenced communications is whether employees of the Internal Revenue Service who supplied tax returns or tax return information to Special Agents of the FBI in response to formal or informal requests are to be characterized as "confidential sources" and, as such, to be spared being interviewed by the SSC.

It is the position of this Bureau that regardless of the formality or informality of requests made in the above context they cannot be characterized as "confidential" since they represent official responses to official requests. Therefore, we cannot consider them in the same light as the "confidential sources" issue raised earlier in Cointelpro matters.

The Attorney General

NOTE:

Issue raised by the SSC here is that they have detected in their investigation of the Internal Revenue Service and through review of Cointelpro documents furnished to them by the FBI instances relating to FBI use of tax return information. Included in this material were a number of cases in which the FBI locally requested and, according to the documents, received tax returns or tax return information from Internal Revenue Service employees. Earlier the SSC had sought to interview individuals who assisted us in several of our Cointelpro operations. We successfully resisted these attempts to obtain the identities of such individuals and our assent to such interview by the SSC. We were sustained in our position by the Attorney General. Our position was based on the fact that we considered that we had an obligation, expressed or implied, of confidentiality toward such sources who had acted on our behalf.

The SSC now raises a question as to whether our position concerning contacts with and identities of employees of the Internal Revenue Service is the same as with the "confidential sources." For the reasons cited in our letter we do not believe it would be possible to sustain such an argument.

SUBJECT: Senate Select Committee Request

The attached letter is self-explanatory and, put in distilled form, asks the following question:

Are employees of the IRS who supplied tax returns or tax return information to agents of the FBI in response to formal or informal requests made by Bureau agents to be characterized as "confidential sources" and, as such, to be spared being interviewed by the Select Committee?

Because the Attorney General and the Bureau have previously addressed the Bureau's position on the nondisclosure of its sources for interview purposes by the SSC staff, and because the issue raised in the attached letter may represent a clear exception to the earlier resolution of the Bureau's COINTELPRO-sources problem, I am forwarding this to you for your prompt attention and views for early transmittal to the Attorney General. I shall appreciate the receipt of your views on or before COB Thursday, September 11, 1975.

Dear Mike:

In connection with our investigation of the Internal Revenue Service, we have received a number of FBI COINTELPRO documents relating to FBI use of tax return information. Included in this material are a number of cases in which the FBI locally requested and, according to the documents, received tax returns or tax return information from IRS employees, such as the local Chief of Audit or Chief of Intelligence.

We wish to determine whether these requests were treated by the IRS as official requests and prescribed procedures thus followed for disclosure of the information, or whether the requests were treated as informal requests and prescribed procedures ignored. We cannot make this determination solely on the basis of the FBI documents we have reviewed. In many cases, the only way to determine how the requests were treated will be to interview the IRS employees who handled the requests.

Since these requests were directed to a federal agency, we are proceeding on the basis of a presumption that the responses were properly cleared. If so, we do not believe there is any basis for characterizing the IRS employees in question as "confidential sources". They would then be in essentially the same position as the Commissioner of Internal Revenue is where the request is directed through normal channels to the National Office and responded to officially. In the event it should turn out that the responses were not officially approved, they were nonetheless made by federal employees who should have been acting within the scope of their official duties and who, if they were not so acting, should certainly be subject to interrogation regarding the circumstances of their acting outside their authority.

In what is perhaps an excess of caution in view of the pending discussions regarding the questioning of "confidential sources", we are submitting this situation for your review lest you should disagree with our analysis that these individuals cannot properly be so characterized. Because IRS hearings are scheduled for the last week in September, our need to question the people who released the returns is very urgent, and we would appreciate your advising us of your view on the subject at the earliest possible moment -- hopefully no later than Monday, September 8th.

Sincerely,

Mark Gitenstein

On 9/9/75, John Elliff, Domestic Task Force Head of the Senate Select Committee, telephonically contacted SA Paul V. Daly and requested that SA Douglas MacDougall be released for purposes of submitting to a Staff interview concerning mail openings.

Elliff stated that he was currently being interviewed by Senate Select Committee Staff Members on mail covers; however, he indicated there is an apparent misunderstanding as the Senate Select Committee also requested that he be made available for Staff interview on mail openings at the same time. Elliff was advised that this was not true and that James Dick of the Senate Select Committee had requested only a release insofar as mail covers was concerned for purposes of an interview with MacDougall and that this particular topic had been confirmed with Dick on a separate occasion to insure that their intent insofar as MacDougall was concerned was to interview him on mail covers. Elliff then requested that MacDougall be released for mail openings and inquired as to how long this particular procedure might take. He was informed that prior to MacDougall's being made available for such an interview the Bureau would brief MacDougall concerning his Fifth Amendment rights and would want MacDougall to have sufficient time to consider whether he might want to retain private counsel or whatever other steps he feels necessary to protect his rights.

Elliff subsequently recontacted SA Paul V. Daly telephonically and stated he had checked with James Dick, Senate Select Committee Staff Member, and determined that Dick had only asked that MacDougall be made available for interview concerning mail covers. Elliff stated that since MacDougall had traveled from New York for purposes of this particular interview, they felt that it would be in their interest to also interview MacDougall concerning mail openings. He requested that MacDougall be released for purposes of the mail openings interview. He also informed SA Daly that after the mail covers interview, MacDougall will return to the Bureau so that he can be appropriately briefed by the Legal Counsel Division concerning his Fifth Amendment rights.

RECOMMENDATION:

That SA MacDougall be released from existing employment agreement for purposes of interview by the Senate Select Committee concerning mail openings.

MacDougall was advised of his Fifth Amendment rights by SA Paul V. Daly of this Division, upon returning from the Senate Select Committee. MacDougall advised that he would prefer contacting private counsel before submitting to an interview concerning mail openings. He indicated that he was attempting to make arrangements to consult with the attorney in person. SA MacDougall advised that he would telephonically contact the Legal Counsel Division subsequent to his conference with the attorney and advise whether he desires to submit to an interview concerning mail openings. His decision in this matter will be brought to the attention of the Senate Select Committee.

Mr. PONDER dictated the following impressions for the Bureau's information:

U. S. SENATE SELECT COMMITTEE ON INTELLIGENCE ACTIVITIES (SSC); INTERVIEW OF FORMER ASSISTANT DIRECTOR JOSEPH K. PONDER BY SSC STAFF MEMBER

On August 28, 1975, I received a call from Mike Epstein of the Staff of the Senate Select Committee. He said he planned to be in Southern California on Labor Day weekend and asked whether I would be available for interview on Sunday, August 31, 1975. I told him I would. Epstein subsequently called me on August 30 and agreed to meet me at my home at San Clemente on Sunday afternoon, August 31, 1975.

The interview with Epstein took place between 3:40 pm and 4:05 pm. This included the time spent in amenities and general conversation.

Regarding my Bureau background Epstein asked during what period of time I was Special Agent in Charge in Atlanta. I told him from April or May 1964 to December 1966. He asked where I had been assigned before that (Buffalo) and where I went after leaving Atlanta (New York). He asked no other questions about my Bureau career. He asked if I were aware of telephone taps maintained by the Atlanta Office on Martin Luther King. I replied that I was aware of certain taps placed and removed during my tenure in Atlanta. He asked if there were such coverage before I arrived in Atlanta and I told him I was not aware of any. In response to these and other subsequent questions I pointed out to Epstein that I had not been personally involved in the King matter, that I had various other responsibilities in Atlanta and that after ten years I cannot now clearly recall information which might answer his questions. I told him that everything that was done was properly recorded, that the records were accurate, and wherever my recollection differs from the record, he should rely on the record to determine what happened.

This document contains neither recommendations nor conclusions of the FBI. It is the property of the FBI and is loaned to your agency; it and its contents are not to be distributed outside your agency.

ENCLOSURE

He asked whether the request for the King coverage originated at the Bureau or in Atlanta. I told him I did not recall, but that in any case it was approved by the Bureau. He asked where it was monitored and I told him the monitoring was done in an apartment rented for that purpose. He asked if I knew the name in which the apartment was rented and I said I did not. He asked why the taps were discontinued and I told him I do not now recall whether I was told why they were discontinued, but if I were I cannot now recall the reason. He asked whether we had a bug on King as opposed to a tap and I told him, "no." He asked whether it were possible there were taps and bugs placed and maintained without my knowledge. I told him that was not possible because of the size of the office and the relationship I had with the supervisors and Agents that nothing was done without my knowledge or without Bureau approval.

Epstein asked whether we had conducted any Counterintelligence Program against King or the Southern Christian Leadership Conference and I told him I recalled none. He asked whether we had made efforts to prevent King from receiving the Nobel Prize or efforts to interfere with or make more difficult the raising of funds for a banquet to honor King for his receipt of the Nobel Prize. I told him I knew of no such efforts.

He asked whether Sullivan (Assistant Director William C. Sullivan) had visited Atlanta. I told him Sullivan had been to Atlanta in connection with a regional conference dealing with the Bureau's investigation of the Klan. He wanted to know if Baumgartner had been with Sullivan and I told him I thought so. He asked who else had accompanied Sullivan and I told him Arbor Gray had accompanied Sullivan and perhaps someone else whose name I cannot now recall. He asked whether Sullivan had met with Ralph Magill (then publisher of the Atlanta Constitution). I told him Sullivan may have met with Magill, that I may have accompanied Sullivan to Magill's office, but I cannot specifically recall such a meeting and if it were held I cannot recall anything discussed. He asked the purpose of such a meeting and I told him if such a meeting took place it was in the nature of a social call with Sullivan paying his respects to Magill and a public relations-type of meeting. He asked whether there was any discussion between Sullivan and Magill regarding any anti-King activities and I told him, "no." He asked whether Sullivan had made any other visits to Atlanta and I told him I knew of none.

He asked whether I was aware of any inquiry made by the Bureau into the handling of the King investigation either through the Inspection Staff or otherwise. I told him I was not aware of any. He asked whether Nichols, the Agent assigned to the King investigation had been in Atlanta while I was there. I told him I had hazy recall of Nichols, but did not recall him. He asked the same thing about Al Sentinella. I told him Sentinella was there when I arrived and was still there when I left Atlanta. He asked who had supervised the Security Squad. I told him Supervisor Charles Harding.

On 9-4-75, at approximately 11:00 a.m., Noah Smith, Attorney, Office of General Counsel, Internal Revenue Service (IRS), telephoned Special Agent Richard T. Taylor, Jr., advising he recently received a written request from the Senate Select Committee on Intelligence Activities (SSC) for access to the Federal income tax returns of one "William Simon, a former FBI Agent residing in the Los Angeles, California, area." Mr. Smith explained IRS receives approximately three million returns from their Los Angeles district and that upon review of IRS indices he is unable to identify "William Simon," the object of the Committee's interest. He noted SSC provided no additional identifying data concerning Simon and did not furnish any indication as to the reason for their interest in him.

Mr. Smith requested the address and Social Security Numbers of retired SAs of the FBI with the surname "Simon" who have resided in the Los Angeles area during the past three years. SA Taylor informed Mr. Smith his request will be forwarded to our Administrative Division for consideration as to its appropriateness and feasibility.

At 1:15 p.m. on 9-4-75, Mr. Smith telephoned SA Taylor and advised he had located the income tax return of one "William Simon," a former FBI Agent, who resides in Los Angeles and is presently engaged in the practice of law there." Mr. Smith rescinded his earlier request.

Dear Mr. Kelley:

In accordance with instructions received from the Bureau, I am enclosing a bill in the amount of $750.00 from the law firm of Kantor, Shaw & Davidoff. Mr. Herbert Kantor is an attorney who acted as my counsel during an appearance by me before the Senate Select Committee on Intelligence Operations in Washington, D. C. on August 12, 1975.

After notification by the Committee and the Bureau that my appearance had been requested, I was advised by the Legal Department of the Bureau that I had the right to have an attorney accompany me during my appearance. I was also advised by the Bureau that neither they nor the Department of Justice could provide me with counsel due to a possible conflict of interest on their part.

The matters to be discussed before the Committee involved only my prior official duties in the counter-intelligence field. At this point, I strongly believed that to best protect both my constitutional privileges and the Bureau's overriding interest, the most prudent course of action would indicate the retention of an attorney. I would like to advise you that much thought was paid to the selection of an attorney since confidential Bureau activities would have to be discussed with him and it was felt that the person selected would, in effect, be representing the Bureau in addition to myself.

The specific legal fees incurred, as itemized in the enclosed bill, are only in connection with the preparation for and attendance at my appearance before the Committee.

Dear Mike:

The Select Committee, as you know, is investigating the FBI's relationship to mail opening activities. The Committee staff desires to interview all present or former Special Agents of the FBI who were responsible for supervising the communications between the FBI and the CIA with regard to this activity. Therefore, I am hereby requesting the names and present assignment and/or whereabouts of these Special Agents. Furthermore, please provide the current addresses and office assignments of all Special Agents with the surname "McDougal" who were assigned to the New York City area in 1971, and the names and current addresses of all SACs and ASACs for years 1959 to 1966 in the following field offices: New York, Boston, Washington, Detroit, Seattle, Los Angeles, Miami, and San Francisco.

In addition, please advise me as to whether Committee staff interviews of these Special Agents would interfere with the current criminal investigation into those matters by the Justice Department. This request is pursuant to the special procedure to which we have agreed.

Reference is made to the letter from the Chairman of the SSC to the Attorney General dated August 28, 1975, requesting delivery of previously-requested FBI materials pertaining to Martin Luther King, Jr. Reference is also made to prior FBI communications which have, on a continuing basis, effected delivery to the SSC of materials concerning King and responsive to SSC requests dated July 8 and 14, 1975.

The purpose of this memorandum is to effect delivery to the SSC of information and materials relating to the July 8 and 14, 1975, SSC requests, and specifically to the following items in those requests:

July 8, 1975: Items 2, 6, 8, 15, and 20

July 14, 1975: Items 19 and 20

In respect to Item 2, a through f, of the July 8, 1975, request, effort has been made to divide the material being delivered into specific categories a through f. However, in some instances material overlaps and information in one communication may actually apply to more than one category.

In respect to Items 19 and 20 of the July 14, 1975, request, we are delivering to the SSC a communication dated April 10, 1967, which relates to the 1967 revision of an FBI monograph concerning Martin Luther King, Jr. FBI records indicate this revision was authored by Special Agents Robert L. be located concerning any instructions by Mr. Sullivan and/or Mr. C. D. Brennan to subordinates in 1967 to revise any earlier monograph pertaining to King.

With respect to the excisions in materials being delivered herewith, where no notation appears as to reason for excision, the excision was made for the reason that the information actually summarizes or quotes from conversations monitored during electronic surveillances of King. In some cases, it can be ascertained precisely what information in FBI files came from electronic surveillances of King; however, there exist areas where documentation of the information is not precise and no accurate determination can be made. Therefore, no assurances can be given that portions of the material being furnished do not contain information developed as a result of electronic surveillances of King.

In connection with any response where we have included Xeroxes of newspaper articles or news releases, we have not necessarily furnished all relating to a particular matter which may be scattered through FBI files, but have included those readily available and generally representative of the media accounts of the particular matter. An example would be those included in the response to Item 6 of the July 8, 1975, SSC request.

With the delivery of the materials with this memorandum we have fulfilled all requests contained in the July 14, 1975, request.

The remaining materials in SSC requests relating to King are receiving continuous attention and the results will be forwarded on a periodic basis as soon as possible.

Dear Mr. O'Connor:

Pursuant to Section III. A. of the notification attached to the Committee's letter of June 27, 1975, I am forwarding herewith an additional request for materials which relate to this matter.

The specificity of this request is not, of course, intended to limit in any way the agreement to come forward with all relevant information and materials, including documents, whether or not they have been brought to the Committee's attention or have been specifically requested by the Committee.

As Mr. Schwarz and I indicated in our meeting with you a few days ago, there are still outstanding several items relating to this matter which the Committee requested some time ago. This request should in no way delay further the availability of the previously requested items, and we would expect that individual items will be supplied whenever they become separately ready for submission.

Your cooperation is appreciated.

SPECIAL AGENT (SA) EDWARD F.
GAMBER BY SSC STAFF MEMBER

Set out below is information concerning an interview of former FBI SA Edward F. Gamber by an SSC Staff Member.

On receipt of information by the FBI that the SSC might interview Gamber, he was contacted by the Atlanta, Georgia, Field Office of the FBI on August 15, 1975, and advised of the necessity, should he be interviewed by the SSC, to protect matters relating to sensitive Bureau operations. Such matters would relate to sources, methods, techniques, third agency consideration and ongoing investigations. He was told that if he desired, after being contacted by the SSC Staff, he could contact the FBI's Legal Counsel Division by collect call for information to assist him, including his obligations as to confidentiality of the information acquired as an FBI employee. It was emphasized to him that the FBI's offer of assistance was not intended to impede the SSC work but was done as a cooperative gesture and to safeguard sensitive Bureau information.

On August 21, 1975, Gamber advised the Atlanta Field Office that he had been contacted by Paul Wallach, SSC Staff Member, who had arranged to interview Gamber in the Atlanta area on September 2, 1975. Gamber also advised that he intended to contact the Legal Counsel Division of the FBI by collect call on August 22, 1975.

GAMBER BY SSC STAFF MEMBER

Gamber was subsequently interviewed by Wallach on September 2, 1975, and voluntarily furnished to the Atlanta Field Office a statement concerning the interview which is incorporated into a memorandum, a copy of which is attached hereto.

Gamber additionally advised that he had no objection to his statement being disseminated to the White House and the Department; however, he specifically requested it not be disseminated to the SSC. Gamber further advised that when arrangements were made between himself and Wallach for the interview, he, Gamber, intended to contact the Legal Counsel Division of the FBI by collect call on August 22, 1975. Gamber stated, however, that he inadvertently failed to make the call due to the pressure of business.

ENCLOSURE

September 3, 1975
Atlanta, Georgia

On September 2, 1975, Mr. Paul G. Wallach, Counsel to the Select Committee to Study Governmental Operations with Respect to Intelligence Activities of the United States Senate arrived at my office located at 6165 Barfield Road, Atlanta, Georgia 30302, at approximately 10:10 a.m. His interview with me commenced at approximately 10:15 a.m. and lasted until approximately 10:50 a.m. This interview was not conducted under oath. Mr. Wallach did not advise me of my rights. I drove Mr. Wallach to Perimeter Mall where he caught the 11:00 a.m. bus to the Airport.

During the interview Mr. Wallach asked how long I had served in the Federal Bureau of Investigation and what areas I worked in during my FBI career. He was told that my FBI career started on March 19, 1951, and ended with my retirement on January 27, 1973. During this time I was assigned to criminal work for two years, worked in the Soviet Intelligence field for approximately 17 years, and again handled criminal work for the last three years of my Bureau career.

Wallach wanted to know if I worked with James Kehoe. I told him that for the most part Kehoe and I were on different squads, although we both worked in the Soviet Intelligence field. We did work on the same squad during the first years of our assignment to this type of work.

Wallach wanted to know if I was aware of the operation involving the mail at Kennedy Airport and at other post offices in the New York area. I told him that officially I was not aware of these operations but that in fact I knew of the operations. Wallach wanted to know if I had ever been assigned to work in a post office and my answer was "no".

Wallach then wanted to know if I was acquainted with Sam Jaffee. After my affirmative answer he wanted to know how I met him, why I interviewed him, whether I had to have permission to interview him, what kind of information he furnished, whether I had ever asked him to do anything, and whether Jaffee was an informant. He also wanted to know when I first met Jaffee, how frequently I saw him, over what period of time I was seeing him, and when I last saw him.

I told Wallach that I could not remember dates and other details of my relationship with Jaffee, but that information responsive to his questions could be found recorded in FBI files as I had prepared detailed memos reflecting all of my contacts with Jaffee. I told Wallach that if he were entitled to the information he was seeking, I'd suggest that he get hold of the file on Jaffee. Wallach said he understood my position, but that before going through the process of getting a file "they" liked to talk to a few individuals to see if information the Committee had was worth pursuing.

Wallach acknowledged that it would not be possible for me to furnish specific information, such as dates, after the passage of such a long period of time. Thereafter, in response to inquiry, he was told that Jaffee was in contact with many diplomatic officials, including Soviets, in his capacity as a CBS newsman. I could not specifically remember how this information came to the Bureau's attention. I did have some background information on Jaffee and it was necessary for me to get permission before I could interview him. He was told that I did not know specifically who authorized the interview.

Wallach wanted to know what approach was used during the initial interview with Jaffee. He was told that I could not specifically recall this information, but that John Willis and I conducted the interview. Both of us were keenly aware of the FBI's policy of not interfering with the Freedom of the Press and we wanted to make sure that Jaffee understood this. We also wanted to make sure that Jaffee understood that we did not want to place him in a difficult or embarrassing position by talking to him and that if he found our presence to be a problem we would leave immediately. He was told that Jaffee proved to be most cooperative and that thereafter we were in contact with Jaffee frequently. Wallach wanted to know how often and he was told that sometimes we were in contact with him two or three times a week, once every two weeks, or perhaps once a month. He was told that all contacts were recorded in writing in the file, along with the results of the contact.

Concerning information which Jaffee furnished, Wallach was told that Jaffee furnished information concerning current events of major and minor importance on the international scene, which came to his attention as a result of his contacts with numerous individuals in diplomatic circles. He was again told that all of this information was reduced to writing and I understood that it was disseminated to other government agencies, including the U. S. Mission to the UN and the State Department. Wallach wanted to know how I knew this to be the case. I explained that FBI policy required dissemination of information to other government agencies and I felt certain that this policy was followed in the case of memoranda prepared as a result of my contacts with Jaffee.

Wallach asked if Jaffee was an informant and I told him that Jaffee might more properly be called a Source of Information.

Wallach then wanted to know if I requested Jaffee to do anything in the course of contacts with him. Wallach was told that Jaffee may have been asked to follow up on information which he furnished or make contact with a specific individual but that this did not occur very often, if at all, since Jaffee was a free spirit, who usually did as he pleased. I then explained that during my contacts with Jaffee I received frequent calls from other FBI Agents who said that Jaffee was using my name in order to cross police lines or get information while covering a story of major importance,such as airplane hijacking. This in spite of repeated requests on my part that he cease doing this.

Wallach asked if I knew whether Jaffee had ever been followed by FBI Agents. I pointed out that Jaffee had been followed by FBI Agents and, in fact, talked to Agents who were following him, as well as Agents going about their business. He often mentioned my name to these Agents.

Wallach asked if I was aware that Jaffee did a television program on the FBI. I said that I was aware of this and in fact, at his request, arranged to have him visit Camp Smith with a camera crew to cover our firearms training program.

Wallach was told that I could not remember when I last saw Jaffee, but that I last talked to him when he returned from Hong Kong. At this time Jaffee called my home from Washington, D. C. and told my daughter that he had to talk to me immediately about an urgent problem. When I returned Jaffee's call I listened to him for about five to ten minutes repeatedly telling me how the FBI or CIA or some individual had furnished information to ABC-TV which cost him his job. Jaffee would not listen to me as I tried to explain that he had to be mistaken. I then got sick of listening to him and hung up on him.

Wallach was told that this was typical of Jaffee who often thought that there was something personal involved when he failed to get an assignment or a news item, which he covered,was not shown on the evening news program. Wallach was told that Jaffee was an intelligent and personable guy with a burning ambition, who wanted to become a Walter Cronkite or a Marvin Kalb overnight. Wallach was told that I did not believe that Jaffee completed college and he was probably not otherwise qualified for some of these positions, which he would like to have had immediately. I then told Wallach that in my opinion Jaffee had the same problem at ABC that he had at CBS and at both places he was probably overly aggressive and not amenable to direction.

Wallach was also told that Willis and I found Jaffee to be an interesting guy who we enjoyed talking to but that he positively would not accept advice or direction.

Wallach wanted to know if I was acquainted with Special Agents Reeves, Winton or Graves and I gave a negative reply. It should be noted that Wallach had a first name for each of these individuals but I do not recall these names. He then wanted to know if I knew Bert Turner. I did know Bert Turner as a Supervisor in WFO and possibly at the Bureau.

Wallach wanted to know if I would be surprised to learn that Jaffee had been interviewed by Bureau Agents for four days upon his return from Hong Kong. I said that I would be surprised.

He also wanted to know if I would be surprised to learn that the FBI or CIA had furnished information to ABC-TV which cost Jaffee his job. I said that I would be most surprised and that I did not believe there was any possibility that this could happen. I told Wallach that in my opinion Jaffee was perfectly capable of losing his job on his own.

Wallach then asked if I had ever talked to any other newspaper people. I told him that I once talked to Irving R. Levine many years ago. He wanted to know if I knew of any other Agents of the FBI who were talking to people in the news media. I said that I did not.

Wallach then made reference to newspaper articles of recent date concerning the FBI's relationship with newspaper people friendly to the FBI. In response to inquiry I told him that I knew absolutely nothing about this.

At the outset of the interview Wallach asked if I told the FBI about his visit and I said that I had called the Atlanta FBI Office and that as soon as he left I would again call the Atlanta FBI Office and give an Agent a rundown on the interview. He said that the FBI had notified the Select Committee about my call.

He wanted to know if I had called the FBI in Washington and I gave a negative reply. He also wanted to know if I had talked to John Willis. I had not.

Before leaving Wallach commented that he did not know who cost Jaffee his job, but that he, Wallach, was certain someone caused Jaffee to lose his job.

I believe I have covered the interview in its entirety, however, I did not make any notes and the possibility of some minor omission does exist.

RE: REQUEST PERTAINING TO ELECTRONIC SURVEILLANCE

Reference is made to the SSC letter, with attached appendices, dated May 14, 1975, requesting certain documents and other information from the FBI.

In Item 6, with respect to each surveillance listed in response to Item 5, the SSC requested the FBI to provide responses to the following:

(a) the address of the premises surveilled and the number of the telephone surveilled;

(b) a generic description of the surveillance technique employed;

(c) all memoranda and other materials reflecting written or oral authorization and reauthorization by the President, the Attorney General, the Director of the FBI, White House officials, or National Security officials.

Re: Request Pertaining to Electronic Surveillance

Court Seal [JFK Law 10(a)1]

In respect to Item 6 (c), there are enclosed, communications (see Exhibits A through X) disclosing the authorization of the above-described elsurs.

As previously set forth, a misur was installed on [redacted] at [redacted] [redacted] A thorough, exhaustive search was conducted of numerous FBI files in an effort to locate an FBI Headquarters (FBIHQ) communication disclosing an authorization to place this misur. However, the search was unsuccessful. There was located, however, a Radiogram dated [redacted] from the [redacted] (see Exhibit F) revealing that a misur was installed which in effect acknowledged that Bureau instructions were carried out regarding this misur coverage and indicates that Bureau authority was obtained.

In regard to the matter involving the authorization of misurs, the procedures in effect at the time most of these misurs were in operation did not require specific written authority from the Attorney General. At that time, authority for FBI misurs was maintained at FBIHQ and authorization for utilizing a misur was made by the FBI Director or his designees based on a memorandum from Attorney General Herbert Brownell dated May 20, 1954, which recognized FBI authority to institute such surveillances. (see Exhibit W). Subsequent to March 30, 1965, the aforementioned procedure was changed wherein the FBI, in requesting authority for the installation of a misur, in each instance forwarded such request to the Attorney General for his approval or disapproval. (see Exhibit X). Other exhibits enclosed with this memorandum and pertaining to the approval of misurs by FBI officials contain the initials of the late Director J. Edgar Hoover or his designees to make such approvals.

In respect to tesurs, on facilities under the control of the SCLC and approved by the Attorney General, the reason for the placing of such tesurs lies in the fact that the SCLC and Martin Luther King, Jr. as its president, were subjects of intensified FBI investigations at that time. (see Exhibits A and B). Thus, an integral phase of the FBI's coverage of King was also its coverage of the SCLC.

Court Seal [JFK Law 10(a)1]

In respect to that part of Item 5, wherein the SSC requested a list of all elsurs which "intercepted and/or monitored" any conversations of Martin Luther King, Jr. at any time between January 1, 1960 and April 5, 1968, an extensive, exhaustive review has been made of Bureau files, including a review of the elsur indices, Martin Luther King's main file and other files directly and indirectly related to the investigation of Martin Luther King, Jr., to satisfy this part of the request. As a result of this review, it was determined that Martin Luther King, Jr. [redacted] In addition, to further satisfy this part of the request, inquiries have been made of some field offices concerning this particular aspect. However, their extensive review has been unsuccessful. One reason for the unsuccessful attempts to retrieve this particular information both at FBIHQ and in the field can be attributed to the fact that FBI elsur indices did not come into existence until October 5, 1966, and did not become operational for a period of time following October 5, 1966.

In respect to Item 6 (d) which requested data concerning FBI dissemination of information concerning King, we are not supplying this data pursuant to an agreement between Mr. Mark Gitenstein of the SSC Staff and Special Agent Elmer Larson of the FBI.

NOTE:

Technical coverage information set forth in this memorandum was extracted and retrieved following an exhaustive, extensive research of Martin Luther King's "June" file, his main file and the "June" files of the Communist Influence in Racial Matters (CIRM), the Communist Party, United States of America (CP, USA) and SCLC. In addition, sundry other files were reviewed that were directly or indirectly related to the investigation of Martin Luther King. The enclosures (see Exhibits A through X) to the memorandum were also the result of the review of aforementioned files. These files and the elsur indices were reviewed by Special Agents George R. Ross and Robert D. Shea. In regard to Item 6 (d) set forth in Appendix D of the 3/14/75 letter, an agreement was reached between SSC Staff Member Mark Gitenstein and Supervisor Elmer Larson of the Senstudy 75 Project that a response to Item 6 (d) is not necessary. Item 6 (d) is as follows: "A list of all memoranda and other material reflecting dissemination outside the FBI of information from each surveillance, stating author, address (s) and dates together with the purpose of such dissemination." From a review of the elsur indices,

MICROPHONE SURVEILLANCE 155-26

ALL FBI INFORMATION CONTAINED
HEREIN IS UNCLASSIFIED
DATE 10/18/00 BY SP2ALM/cly

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

The recent decision of the Supreme Court entitled Irvine v. California, 347 U.S. 128, denouncing the use of microphone surveillances by city police in a gambling case makes appropriate a reappraisal of the use which may be made in the future by the Federal Bureau of Investigation of microphone surveillance in connection with matters relating to the internal security of the country.

It is clear that in some instances the use of microphone surveillance is the only possible way of uncovering the activities of espionage agents, possible saboteurs, and subversive persons. In such instances I am of the opinion that the national interest requires that microphone surveillance be utilized by the Federal Bureau of Investigation. This use need not be limited to the development of evidence for prosecution. The FBI has an intelligence function in connection with internal security matters equally as important as the duty of developing evidence for presentation to the courts and the national security requires that the FBI be able to use microphone surveillance for the proper discharge of both of such functions. The Department of Justice approves the use of microphone surveillance by the FBI under these circumstances and for these purposes.

I do not consider that the decision of the Supreme Court in Irvine v. California, supra, requires a different course. That case is readily distinguishable on its facts. The language of the Court, however, indicates certain uses of microphones which it would be well to avoid, if possible, even in internal security investigations. It is quite clear that in the Irvine case the Justices of the Supreme Court were outraged by what they regarded as the indecency of installing a microphone in a bedroom. They denounced the utilization of such methods of investigation in a gambling case as shocking. The Court's action is a clear indication of the need for discretion and intelligent restraint in the use of microphones by the FBI in all cases, including internal security matters. Obviously, the installation of a microphone in a bedroom or in some comparably intimate location should be avoided wherever possible. It may appear, however, that important intelligence or evidence relating to matters connected with the national security can only be obtained by the installation of a microphone in such a location. It is my opinion that under such circumstances the installation is proper and is not prohibited by the Supreme Court's decision in the Irvine case.

Previous interpretations which have been furnished to you as to what may constitute trespass in the installation of microphones, suggest that the views expressed have been tentative in nature and have attempted to predict the course which courts would follow rather than reflect the present state of the law. It is realized that not infrequently the question of trespass arises in connection with the installation of a microphone. The question of whether a trespass is actually involved and the second question of the effect of such a trespass upon the admissibility in court of the evidence thus obtained, must necessarily be resolved according to the circumstances of each case. The Department in resolving the problems which may arise in connection with the use of microphone surveillance will review the circumstances in each case in the light of the practical necessities of investigation and of the national interest which must be protected. It is my opinion that the Department should adopt that interpretation which will permit microphone coverage by the FBI in a manner most conducive to our national interest. I recognize that for the FBI to fulfill its important intelligence function, considerations of internal security and the national safety are paramount and, therefore, may compel the unrestricted use of this technique in the national interest.

The FBI has an intelligence function in connection with internal security matters equally as important as the duty of developing evidence for presentation to the courts and the national security requires that the FBI be able to use microphone surveillance for the proper discharge of both of such functions. The Department of Justice approves the use of microphone surveillance by the FBI under these circumstances and for these purposes.

I do not consider that the decision of the Supreme Court in Irvine v. California, supra, requires a different course. That case is readily distinguishable on its facts. The language of the Court, however, indicates certain uses of microphones which it would be well to avoid, if possible, even in internal security investigations. It is quite clear that in the Irvine case the Justices of the Supreme Court were outraged by what they regarded as the indecency of installing a microphone in a bedroom. They denounced the utilization of such methods of investigation in a gambling case as shocking. The Court's action is a clear indication of the need for discretion and intelligent restraint in the use of microphones by the FBI in all cases, including internal security matters. Obviously, the installation of a microphone in a bedroom or in some comparably intimate location should be avoided wherever possible. It may appear, however, that important intelligence or evidence relating to matters connected with the national security can only be obtained by the installation of a microphone in such a location. It is my opinion, that under such circumstances the installation is proper and is not prohibited by the Supreme Court's decision in the Irvine case.

MEMORANDUM FOR THE ATTORNEY GENERAL

With reference to the proper controls over wiretapping and the installation of microphones, you will recall that I advised you that back under the administration of Attorney General Clark I recommended that all Government agencies refrain from wiretapping unless there was specific approval in each instance by the Attorney General who is the chief law officer of the Government. I repeated the same recommendation to each successive Attorney General following the administration of Attorney General Clark.

I have always felt that there was a very lax control in the handling of wiretapping by Government agencies. I am the only head of a Government investigative agency who does not have the authority to authorize a wiretap, but under the system which I personally set up. Therefore, requests for wiretaps are sent by me to the Attorney General for his approval or disapproval. I know that no such system is followed in other branches of the Government and, in fact, in many instances subordinates quite far down the line of authority tap telephones without the specific approval of the head of the agency and certainly without specific approval of the cabinet officer in charge of the department.

I still feel quite strongly that no Government agency should tap a telephone unless it is specifically approved in each instance by the Attorney General. This would certainly circumscribe promiscuous wiretapping on the part of Government agencies and would centralize in one place, the Attorney General's office, a record of any phone taps which have been placed by a Government agency.

As you are aware, in the case of the FBI we do not request phone taps except in cases involving kidnaping and espionage. This has been predicated upon my theory that when the life of an individual or the life of the Nation is in peril a phone tap is justified for intelligence purposes as any information obtained over a phone tap cannot be used in the trial of a criminal case.

In line with your suggestion this morning, I have already set up the procedure similar to requesting of authority for phone taps to be utilized in requesting authority for the placement of microphones. In other words, I shall forward to you from time to time request for authority to install microphones where deemed imperative for your consideration and approval or disapproval. Furthermore, I have instructed that, where you have approved either a phone tap or the installation of a microphone, you be advised when such is discontinued if in less than six months and, if not discontinued in less than six months, that a new request be submitted by me to you for extension of the telephone tap or microphone installation.

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

The recent decision of the Supreme Court entitled Irvine v. California, 347 U.S. 128, denouncing the use of microphone surveillances by city police in a gambling case makes appropriate a reappraisal of the use which may be made in the future by the Federal Bureau of Investigation of microphone surveillance in connection with matters relating to the internal security of the country.

It is clear that in some instances the use of microphone surveillance is the only possible way of uncovering the activities of espionage agents, possible saboteurs, and subversive persons. In such instances I am of the opinion that the national interest requires that microphone surveillance be utilized by the Federal Bureau of Investigation. This use need not be limited to the development of evidence for prosecution. The FBI has an intelligence function in connection with internal security matters equally as important as the duty of developing evidence for presentation to the courts and the national security requires that the FBI be able to use microphone surveillance for the proper discharge of both of such functions. The Department of Justice approves the use of microphone surveillance by the FBI under these circumstances and for these purposes.

I do not consider that the decision of the Supreme Court in Irvine v. California, supra, requires a different course. That case is readily distinguishable on its facts. The language of the Court, however, indicates certain uses of microphones which it would be well to avoid, if possible, even in internal security investigations. It is quite clear that in the Irvine case the Justices of the Supreme Court were outraged by what they regarded as the indecency of installing a microphone in a bedroom. They denounced the utilization of such methods of investigation in a gambling case as shocking. The Court's action is a clear indication of the need for discretion and intelligent restraint in the use of microphones by the FBI in all cases, including internal security matters. Obviously, the installation of a microphone in a bedroom or in some comparably intimate location should be avoided wherever possible. It may appear, however, that important intelligence or evidence relating to matters connected with the national security can only be obtained by the installation of a microphone in such a location. It is my opinion that under such circumstances the installation is proper and is not prohibited by the Supreme Court's decision in the Irvine case.

Previous interpretations which have been furnished to you as to what may constitute trespass in the installation of microphones, suggest that the views expressed have been tentative in nature and have attempted to predict the course which courts would follow rather than reflect the present state of the law. It is realized that not infrequently the question of trespass arises in connection with the installation of a microphone. The question of whether a trespass is actually involved and the second question of the effect of such a trespass upon the admissibility in court of the evidence thus obtained, must necessarily be resolved according to the circumstances of each case. I am the only head of a Government investigative agency who does not have the authority to authorize a wiretap, but under the system which I personally set up. Therefore, requests for wiretaps are sent by me to the Attorney General for his approval or disapproval. I know that no such system is followed in other branches of the Government and, in fact, in many instances subordinates quite far down the line of authority tap telephones without the specific approval of the head of the agency and certainly without specific approval of the cabinet officer in charge of the department.

I still feel quite strongly that no Government agency should tap a telephone unless it is specifically approved in each instance by the Attorney General. This would certainly circumscribe promiscuous wiretapping on the part of Government agencies and would centralize in one place, the Attorney General's office, a record of any phone taps which have been placed by a Government agency.

As you are aware, in the case of the FBI we do not request phone taps except in cases involving kidnaping and espionage. This has been predicated upon my theory that when the life of an individual or the life of the Nation is in peril a phone tap is justified for intelligence purposes as any information obtained over a phone tap cannot be used in the trial of a criminal case.

Memorandum for the Attorney General

In line with your suggestion this morning, I have already set up the procedure similar to requesting of authority for phone taps to be utilized in requesting authority for the placement of microphones. In other words, I shall forward to you from time to time request for authority to install microphones where deemed imperative for your consideration and approval or disapproval. Furthermore, I have instructed that, where you have approved either a phone tap or the installation of a microphone, you be advised when such is discontinued if in less than six months and, if not discontinued in less than six months, that a new request be submitted by me to you for extension of the telephone tap or microphone installation.

MEMORANDUM FOR THE ATTORNEY GENERAL

With reference to the proper controls over wiretapping and the installation of microphones, you will recall that I advised you that back under the administration of Attorney General Clark I recommended that all Government agencies refrain from wiretapping unless there was specific approval in each instance by the Attorney General who is the chief law officer of the Government. I repeated the same recommendation to each successive Attorney General following the administration of Attorney General Clark.

I have always felt that there was a very lax control in the handling of wiretapping by Government agencies. I am the only head of a Government investigative agency who does not have the authority to authorize a wiretap, but under the system which I personally set up. Therefore, requests for wiretaps are sent by me to the Attorney General for his approval or disapproval. I know that no such system is followed in other branches of the Government and, in fact, in many instances subordinates quite far down the line of authority tap telephones without the specific approval of the head of the agency and certainly without specific approval of the cabinet officer in charge of the department.

MEMORANDUM FOR THE FILE

RE: Senate Select Committee

(Senstudy) 1975

① Hotis
② John [illegible]

On the afternoon of August 19, 1975, John Ellif of the SSC staff, telephoned me to report that the Committee has decided to defer on its pending request for the identity of various so-called "recipient-source" witnesses in the COINTEL program.

Mr. Ellif also emphasized that he wished to apologize to the Attorney General for possibly misstating the grounds as to why the Committee and the staff had decided to reject the proposals apparently agreed upon by Senator Church and the Attorney General.

Finally, I noted to John Ellif that I continue to have difficulty in understanding why the staff insists that they need further witnesses to establish any possible "damage" to the targets of the COINTEL program. Ellif finally agreed that since they do know the names and identities of the targets, the latter probably would be the best witnesses on this issue in any event. Nonetheless, Ellif did stress that it is possible that later on in the fall, the Committee and its staff may choose to come back and press its demands for the right to interview the recipient-source witnesses.

On 9/10/75, SA Daniel A. Flynn of the New York Office (NYO) was interviewed by a Staff Member of the U. S. Senate Select Committee on Intelligence Activities (SSC) in its offices in Washington, D. C., on the subject of mail openings. The interview was recorded by an SSC stenographer.

On the morning of 9/26/75, SAC Robert Denz, NYO, telephonically contacted Supervisor S. F. Phillips of the Senstudy 75 Project and advised that Flynn had been contacted by James Dick, the SSC Staff Member who had interviewed him. Dick informed Flynn that the transcript of the interview is available for review by Flynn but that the review must be done in SSC offices, pursuant to SSC rules. The deadline for Flynn's review is 9/30/75. Also according to SSC rules, Flynn's review will not permit any substantive changes but only changes as to grammar, and the like. Flynn desires the opportunity to review the transcript and authority was sought for his coming to Washington, D. C., the morning of 9/30/75.

In addition to seeking authority for the trip SAC Denz inquired as to the position Flynn should take in the event he reviews the transcript and finds the recording as inaccurate from a substantive standpoint. Phillips told Denz that, before coming to Washington, D. C., Flynn ought to review any notes he has, as well as the LHM which Flynn prepared and submitted to the Bureau after the interview. If Flynn finds that in his opinion the transcript is inaccurate from a substantive standpoint, and he is unable to persuade Dick to make any changes, Flynn should submit another LHM recording the review of the transcript and the exceptions he is taking to it. This will enable the Bureau to then take appropriate action.

We have checked with Deputy Assistant Director Jack E. Herington of the Legal Counsel Division who agrees that Flynn should be permitted to come to Washington, D. C., and review the transcript involved.

RECOMMENDATION:

SA Flynn be permitted to come to Washington, D. C., to review the transcript. Upon approval, INTD will telephonically advise SAC Denz.

On 9/11/75, Special Counsel for Intelligence Coordination Michael E. Shaheen, Jr., was advised that Senator Howard Baker had reviewed the information contained in Bureau files pertaining to him per instructions of the Attorney General and in response to the letter from Senator Frank Church, Chairman of the Senate Select Committee, dated May 27, 1975. Baker requested that one particular file be made available for review by his designee on the Senate Select Committee, James Madigan. This file is titled ALLEGED TAPPING OF TELEPHONE OF UNITED STATES SENATOR HOWARD BAKER, WASHINGTON, D. C. (Bufile 139-4744). Shaheen was asked what the Department position was concerning this particular request inasmuch as the file had been made available to the Senator pursuant to the instructions of the Attorney General.

Shaheen advised that inasmuch as the initial request was from the Chairman of the Senate Select Committee for access to files for Senators that any modification of that request giving access to Senate Select Committee Staff Members should also be pursuant to a communication from the Chairman of that Committee. Shaheen indicated that making the file available to Senator Baker's designee may set a precedent which could be used by other interested Senators on the Committee to gain access for their designees. Shaheen offered to telephonically advise John Elliff, Task Force Director for the Senate Select Committee, that the Department would not grant access to this particular file for Madigan. He was advised that the Bureau should perhaps respond to Senator Baker's request ~~inasmuch as~~ it was made to the Bureau and that unless he was advised to the contrary the Bureau would advise Senator Baker of this decision. Shaheen interposed no objection to this decision.

By a prior oral arrangement between Mr. Mark Gitenstein, Staff Member, Senate Select Committee (SSC), and Mr. W. R. Wannall, Assistant Director, Intelligence Division (INTD), a briefing was scheduled for 2:00 p.m. on 8/28/75. This briefing was to consist of a discussion of the various indices maintained and operated by the FBI. Information pertaining to these indices had previously been submitted the SSC by letterhead memorandum dated July 17, 1975, and documents pertaining to the indices were made available for review by appropriately cleared SSC Staff Members at FBI Headquarters.

This briefing was held in the conference room of the INTD, JEH Building, on 8/28/75 during the approximate period 2:00 p.m. to 4:30 p.m. Present at this meeting were Assistant Director W. R. Wannall, Section Chief J. G. Deegan Unit Chief E. P. Grigalus, SA K. A. Mendenhall, all of the INTD, Mark Gitenstein, Michael Epstein, and Martha Talley, Staff Members of the SSC.

Main items of discussion during this briefing centered around the Rabble Rouser Index (RRI), later known as the Agitator Index (AI), the Key Activist Program (KAP), the Security Index (SI), and the Administrative Index (ADEX). The origin and implementation of the above-mentioned indices and the KAP were discussed and Mr. Wannall offered background information and historical reasoning as to the necessity for implementing these indices and the KAP. Mr. Deegan answered questions pertaining to the AI and Messrs Grigalus and Mendenhall answered questions pertaining to the AI and Messrs Grigalus and Mendenhall answered questions pertaining to the KAP, the SI, and ADEX, which were raised by the SSC Staff Members.

were advised there is no plan of action in the FBI for the apprehension of the individuals so listed. The SSC Staff Members were advised individuals currently listed on the ADEX would merely be afforded priority investigative attention during any national emergency which should occur; however, they would not be apprehended. SSC Staff Members also indicated they felt criteria for inclusion on the ADEX when first established were the same as the criteria for inclusion on the old SI. They were advised when the ADEX Program was initiated the criteria were basically the same; however, after closely following the matter for a period of approximately 8 months, the criteria were reevaluated and revised so only individuals who were considered currently dangerous were to be included on the ADEX. SSC Staff Members were also advised that the SI was stored "off-line" in the Bureau's computers and as such was utilized in a strictly in-house operation. Information was therefore not available to outside agencies or terminals tied in with the Bureau's computer system. Staff Members also indicated from a review of material made available to them it appeared as though there was friction between the Bureau and the Department during the late 1940s and early 1950s with respect to establishing guidelines and policy in connection with the SI and they desired to know what the cause of this friction was. INTD representatives present advised they were unaware of the cause of any such friction.

Other questions similar to those above were asked by the SSC Staff Members and were answered by INTD personnel present. In addition the following nine questions were asked by the SSC Staff Members and Mr. Wannall indicated answers would be obtained and orally furnished:

1. Was there a memorandum which established the RRI and does it indicate Mr. Hoover appeared before the Civil Unrest Commission? (A memorandum dated 8/3/67 from C. D. Brennan to Mr. W. C. Sullivan indicates Mr. Hoover instructed an index be compiled of racial agitators; however, the memorandum does not indicate Mr. Hoover appeared before the Civil Unrest Commission.)

2. Was there a memorandum concerning the expansion of the AI to include individuals of local prominence? (Memorandum of G. C. Moore to Mr. W. C. Sullivan dated 11/22/67 requested approval of an SAC letter for expanding the AI to include local leaders as well as national leaders involved in racial disorders.)

3. Were individuals included on both the AI and the SI and, if so, wasn't this a duplication of effort? (Individuals were included on both the AI and the SI; however, this was not necessarily a duplication of effort inasmuch as the SI was to be utilized in the apprehension and detention of individuals considered dangerous and the AI was an administrative aid to follow the activities and movement of individuals attempting to cause racial disorders.)

4. When did the SI become automated and was the Reserve Index (RI) ever automated? (The SI became automated during the early 1950s and was updated throughout the years with the advancement of computer technology and purchase by the Bureau of more advanced computers. Following discontinuance of the SI the ADEX was continued in the computer systems in an "off-line" manner. The RI-A was placed on automatic data processing (ADP) equipment the same as the SI. RI-B was maintained at the field level only and was never placed in the ADP equipment.)

5. Has the Bureau's copy of the Attorney General's portfolio concerning the Emergency Detention Program (EDP) been returned? (One copy of the Attorney General's portfolio concerning the EDP has been located and is currently maintained in the Security Informant Unit of the IS-2 Section, INTD.)

6. Who were the Bureau individuals who (a) maintained the Attorney General's portfolio during 1968 and (b) involved with the EDP during the 1940s? (The following individuals were identified through review of pertinent communications during time period in question: (a) 1968 - C. D. Brennan, P. F. Enlow, T. P. Rosack; (b) 1946-D. M. Ladd, J. C. Strickland; 1948-Lish Whitson, W. H. Winterrowd, J. W. Yeagley.

7. When did the Department start reviewing and approving the SI list? (Matters pertaining to the old Custodial Detention List were first referred to the Department during March, 1941. Copies of the SI were submitted to the Department during 1951 and the Department, on a continuing basis, reviewed matters pertaining to the SI except for brief periods of time when funds and manpower were not available until the SI was discontinued in 1971.)

8. Was there a form used by the Department concerning the continuance or cancellation of individuals on the SI and, if so, what does the form look like? (Forms were utilized and copies have been obtained to exhibit to SSC Staff Members.)

9. Do we have a copy of the form for including or deleting an individual from the AI? (FD-397 was utilized with the AI. A copy of this form will be exhibited to SSC Staff Members.)

At the closure of this briefing SSC Staff Members expressed their appreciation to the Bureau personnel present and indicated the briefing had furnished them a better understanding of the Bureau's utilization of the above indices and the KAP.

ACTION:

With your approval and in accordance with your previous instructions the Senstudy Unit will initiate contact with Mr. Gitenstein so answers relating to the above nine questions may be orally provided to the above-named SSC Staff Members.

On 8/22/75, John T. Elliff, Task Force Director for the Domestic Intelligence Task Force of the Senate Select Committee, advised that regarding proposed plans for testimony by Bureau officials before the Senate Select Committee that the Committee tentatively scheduled hearings for mid-October. He cited October 16th as being the approximate date. Initially, according to Elliff, hearings concerning the Bureau were to have been initiated in the first week of October but the Staff Members did not have the necessary background information to conduct the hearings at that time and instead scheduled hearings concerning IRS for early October.

Elliff indicated that the tentative format for these hearings would be to furnish the Bureau an outline of or a series of questions pertaining to the area to be covered in testimony prior to our appearance. He indicated that the hearings would cover a narrow topic on any given day so that a Bureau official could be briefed and respond to questions raised concerning the particular subject matter.

Elliff indicated that typical subjects of hearings concerning the FBI would be a one-day hearing on political abuse or a series of hearings on COINTELPRO.

Elliff indicated that it was the Committee's intent to continue hearings regarding the FBI into mid-December once they are initiated with the Bureau testifying at least once a week during that period. He advised they also envisioned the initial hearing as setting forth what the scope of the Senate Select Committee inquiry had been into the FBI and of topics to be covered by hearings. Elliff felt this would inform the House Select Committee of what areas the Senate Select Committee had delved into.

On 8/25/75, SA Daly determined from Michael Epstein of the Senate Select Committee that this particular interview was not considered an "abuse" interview and if the Bureau so desired, they could have a representative present during the interview. Accordingly, Recommendation #2 in this memorandum should be changed to show that an Agent may, in fact, be present.

In response to discussion with James Johnson and John Thomas of the Bureau by Select Committee staff members Thomas Dawson and James De Marco, we have agreed to a revision of the list of names that appear in the September 4, 1975, letter of request signed by F.A.O. Schwarz.

As discussed with James Johnson on Monday, September 22, Bureau personnel are conducting a review of the entire case files and all documents relevant to the SSCI request of September 4, 1975, as revised in Attachment 1, with specific attention to the areas outlined in Attachment 2 of this letter. We would like delivery of these documents to the Committee, if possible, by Friday, September 26, 1975.

Reference is made to the request of the SSC dated August 26, 1975, for FBI materials. Included in this request, Part I, Number 6a through r, was a request for extensive material relating to the discontinued Counterintelligence Programs (Cointelpros) of this Bureau. Except as noted below, this material is being delivered with this memorandum.

Items 6b, c and d, of the above request relate to documents included in the FBI Cointelpro which targeted Soviet-Satellite intelligence. Because of the sensitivity of these documents and their foreign intelligence ramifications, they are not being delivered at this time; however, they are available for review by members of your staff in Room 4171, JEH Building.

Item 6f refers to an August 25, 1967, letter "described in Item e above," which sets up requirements for status letters to be periodically submitted and requests all such status letters. No letter of this date is described in Item e. A review of FBI files indicates the August 25, 1967, letter is captioned "Counterintelligence Program, Black Nationalist - Hate Groups, Internal Security." Copies of a memorandum dated February 29, 1968, and an airtel dated March 4, 1968, which set up the requirements for status letters in this Program, are included in material forwarded under Item 6a. Under this item it is also requested all status letters submitted in accordance with instructions in the August 25, 1967, letter be submitted. The status letters submitted under the "Counterintelligence Program, Black Nationalist - Hate Groups" Program are being furnished under Item 6j which requests all progress letters under that Program.

Also some 30- and 60-day status reports which were submitted under Cointelpros have been included with the material being furnished in response to Item 6o.

Item 6p requests yearly evaluations of the various Cointelpros. Such evaluations were prepared only in the instances of the Black Nationalist, Socialist Workers Party, and Communist Party, USA, Programs. Under this item it is also requested the two documents relating to the termination of all Cointelpros, a memorandum dated April 27, 1971, and an airtel dated April 28, 1971, be provided. These two documents have previously been furnished to the SSC.

Also, the responses from the 16 offices participating in the Cointelpro, as requested under Item 6q, have been included with the material being submitted under Item 6o.

Dear Mr. Daly:

Enclosed is a list of documents which the Senate Select Committee on Intelligence Activities may decide to declassify for its public hearings on the Huston Plan. We invite your opinion on any sections which you think ought to be sanitized before declassification. Of course, the great majority of key documents on the Huston Plan are already a matter of public record.

Since these hearings may be held as early as September 23rd and certainly by early October, your quick response would be most helpful.

Sincerely,

Frank Church

Reference is made to letter dated September 19, 1975, from Senator Frank Church, Chairman, SSC, to Mr. Paul V. Daly, Office of Legal Counsel, FBI. This communication enclosed a list of documents which the SSC may decide to declassify for public hearings on the Huston Plan. The FBI was requested to advise whether any of the documents required appropriate excisions prior to the declassification.

On September 21, 1975, Messrs. William O. Cregar and Elmer W. Larson of the FBI met with Mr. John Elliff of the SSC Staff. During this meeting, the documents, which were enclosed with the September 19, 1975, letter, were carefully reviewed and excisions were made and mutually agreed to.

This is to advise that the FBI has no objection to the declassification and use of the documents for public hearings providing the excisions mutually agreed to on September 21, 1975, are in effect.

SUBJECT: Senate Select Committee Request

John:

The attached letter is self-explanatory and seeks information which you, better than I, know to be of the most inordinate sensitivity.

The letter's penultimate paragraph requests my "personal attention to this matter, including [my] own examination of the three documents in question, and hopefully, a determination by [me] that these documents should be provided to the Committee in unexcised form (except for the names of so-called "live" informants)."

I would appreciate an early meeting with you and other appropriate Bureau representatives to discuss a proposed resolution of the matters raised by the attached requests.

Dear Mike:

The following two documents, which relate to the Martin Luther King, Jr. matter, are the subject of a pending Committee request for documents:

A. Airtel dated 2/12/62 from SAC, New York, to Director, FBI, subject "Dr. Martin Luther KIng, Jr., SM-C (00:Atlanta);"and

B. Airtel dated 8/15/66 from SAC, New York, to Director, FBI, subject "Communist Party, USA, Counterintelligence Program, Internal Security - C (Stanley David Levison)."

These two documents had been previously provided to the Committee in heavily or almost completely excised form. Virtually the entire contents of Item A. (a 3-page airtel) were excised because "it could result in identification of an FBI informant," and more than 12 pages of Item B. (a 29-page airtel) were excised because such portions contained information which "tends to identify highly sensitive sources of continuing value." A third document which is needed by the Committee, and which would presumably also be provided by the Bureau only in excised form is a New York field office letter to the Bureau dated 6/21/62 as cited in the last paragraph of page 9 of the 10/11/62 memorandum from the SAC, Atlanta, to the Director, FBI, subject "Communist Infiltration of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference, IS-C (00: Atlanta)."

RECEIVED
SEP 16 1975

62-116395-789

The Bureau's position with respect to the excised portions of Items A. and B. above was reiterated by FBI representatives at our September 9 meeting, notwithstanding our position that these materials were deemed to be absolutely essential to our complete understanding of the King investigation. As you are aware, several other documents previously provided to the Committee contain conclusionary statements about Stanley Levison as predicates for many of the actions taken with respect to King, and it would appear that the withheld portions of Items A. and B. above, as well as the 6/21/62 New York letter described above, would contain the detailed bases for such conclusions.

I am sure you would agree that the underlying facts concerning Levison are vital in order that we can meet our responsibilities to fully assess the propriety of the FBI's activities with respect to this case. Accordingly, I would appreciate your personal attention to this matter, including your own examination of the three documents in question, and hopefully, a determination by you that these documents should be provided to the Committee in unexcised form (except for the names of so-called "live" informants).

An early resolution of this matter is essential, and I would hope you can respond by the end of the week.

Sincerely,

John T. Elliff

ON SEPTEMBER 18, 1975, FORMER SAC, JACKSON, ROY K. MOORE WAS CONTACTED BY SAC SULLIVAN IN ACCORDANCE WITH THE INSTRUCTIONS IN RE NITEL. MR. MOORE APPRECIATED THE CONTACT. HE ADVISED THAT DUE TO THE MANY SPECIAL ASSIGNMENTS HE SERVED ON DURING THE PERTINENT PERIOD AND HIS MANY TRANSFERS HE HAS AT THE PRESENT TIME NO RECOLLECTION WITHOUT BENEFIT OF THE FILE AND WOULD CERTAINLY NOT WISH TO REFRESH HIS RECOLLECTION THROUGH REVIEW OF PERTINENT FILES FOR PURPOSE OF ANSWERING THE INQUIRY. IF, HOWEVER, THE SENATE SELECT COMMITTEE REPRESENTATIVE HAD PERTINENT DOCUMENTS AUTHORED AND SIGNED OR INITIALED BY MOORE AND UTILIZED THIS MATERIAL TO REFRESH MOORE'S RECOLLECTION, HE WOULD, OF COURSE, COOPERATE FULLY. HE POINTED OUT HE WOULD IN NO WAY BE UNCOOPERATIVE BUT SIMPLY HAS NO INDEPENDENT RECOLLECTION AT THE PRESENT TIME.

Dear Mr. Kelley:

I have been contacted by the Senate Select Intelligence Committee and instructed by Mr. Paul Wallach to report for an interview on September 23, 1975 at 2:00 P.M.

I have learned that the "Hunter" matter, on which I'm to be interviewed, is presently under review for possible criminal prosecution by the Department of Justice. Accordingly, since, while being associated with "Hunter", I was under Bureau direction, I am requesting that an attorney be appointed for me by the Department of Justice or arrangements be effected that I can be reimbursed if I secure my own attorney.

Senate Select Committee (SSC) convened public hearings 9-16-75, at which Chairman Frank Church announced the chief purpose of the inquiry was to examine the role of CIA disobeying direct orders of President Nixon who had ordered the destruction of biological/bacteriological agents and weapons of war by Presidential Order, 11-25-69. Chairman Church referred to previous executive testimony of Director Colby which established that CIA had maintained a supply of approximately 6 grams of shellfish toxin, a lethal agent, until June, 1975, in apparent contravention of the Presidential Order of 1969. The retention of the toxin had been ordered by a midlevel employee without the knowledge of former Director Richard Helms.

While Chairman Church stressed it is not the purpose of SSC to denigrate the importance of the FBI and the CIA of their contribution to the welfare of the United States, he stated subsequent SSC hearings would highlight the necessity that Federal law enforcement and intelligence agencies operate in a manner which will not infringe upon the rights of American citizens.

Former Director Helms will appear before SSC in public session, 9-17-75.

SUBJECT: Senate Select Committee Request for IRS Information

Reference is made to my memoranda of September 9, and September 11, 1975 (copies of which are attached), by which I forwarded to you copies of the September 4, 1975, letter from SSC Chief Counsel Schwarz to the Attorney General and the letter of "modification" dated September 10, 1975, from John Elliff to me.

I have been orally advised (and will be in receipt of a confirming letter today) that the very long list of names and organizations about whom tax information was and is sought by Schwarz's September 4, letter was intended to apply as well to the Bureau for its response.

The Bureau is, therefore, requested to provide relevant materials and documents pertaining to Bureau requests for tax returns and tax return information, on the individuals and organizations listed in Mr. Schwarz's letter of September 4. In other words, the request made in the September 4, letter is for Bureau response except as Elliff's letter of modification exempts the raw files of the Bureau from inclusion in this request.

The SSC staff requests that materials be assembled on the named individuals and organizations in the same order as they are listed in the letter and that when a response for a given name or organization involves a great volume of materials or documents, an appropriate Bureau official should advise either

Dear Mike:

As Mark and you discussed today on the phone, it was the Committee's intent in Fritz Schwarz' letter to you of September 4, 1975, that the FBI, as well as the Internal Security Division, provide information pertaining to the individuals and organizations listed in that letter. Of course this letter and the August 29 letter are modified by my letter of September 10. Furthermore, this request is of the highest priority and therefore we want to be kept informed of its progress on a daily basis. Perhaps the best approach would be to have Bureau representatives contact either Mark Gitenstein or Art Harrigan immediately so that we might prioritize the names listed in the September 4 letter.

SUBJECT: Modification of SSC Request

Attached is a letter from John Elliff of the SSC staff which modifies the language of the August 29, letter from the SSC's Chief Counsel Schwarz to the Attorney General. The last sentence of the first paragraph of the August 29, letter read as follows:

> "Where an Internal Security Division request was made with respect to a person or organization on whom the Internal Security Division or the FBI maintained or maintains a file, we would appreciate the opportunity to review the entire file". (emphasis mine)

The modification of the first paragraph effected by the attached letter deletes the words "or the FBI" as underlined above. Such a modification exempts the raw files of the Bureau from inclusion in this request. The request still requires response by the Bureau for "all documents" in its possession as requested of the entire Department generally by the modified first paragraph.

David Bushong, who identified himself as a Senate Select Committee Staff Member, telephonically requested on 9/10/75 that the Bureau determine the listing for telephone number 714-756-3388 in Rancho, Santa Fe, California, and the listing for Post Office Box 515 in Rancho, Santa Fe, California. Bushong indicated that the fact he was attached to the Senate Select Committee could be verified by inquiry with Staff Director Bill Miller or Security Officer Ben Marshall of that Committee.

Mark Gitenstein of the Senate Select Committee was telephonically contacted by SA Paul V. Daly and advised of the request received from David Bushong. He was informed that the Bureau did not have authority to conduct an investigation for the Senate Select Committee in the absence of instructions from the Attorney General and that the Bureau would not conduct such an investigation in the absence of same. Gitenstein agreed that the Bureau should not conduct the investigation and indicated he would bring this to the attention of Bushong.

Subsequently, ASAC Arthur Barger of the San Diego Office telephonically advised he had been contacted by David Bushong and asked to make available to him information he had requested the Bureau to furnish. Barger was informed that the Committee had been notified that this was an improper request and that the Bureau was not going to comply. He was told to tell Bushong that Mark Gitenstein of the Committee had been apprised of this matter and he should contact Gitenstein.

Gitenstein was telephonically recontacted and advised that Bushong had contacted the San Diego Office requesting an investigation and Gitenstein was reminded that he had stated previously he would insure that Bushong was advised that his was an improper request. Gitenstein explained that he did not realize Bushong had left for San Diego and that he would straighten the situation out.

RE: SENSTUDY 75

Subsequently, Gitenstein telephonically recontacted SA Paul V. Daly and advised that the request for investigation had been done "behind his and Elliff's back" apparently referring to John Elliff, Task Force Director for the Senate Select Committee. He indicated that this request had been discussed with the Deputy Attorney General's Office and was an investigation being conducted by Senate Tower and Kurt Smothers, Minority Counsel. He requested that SA Daly contact Michael E. Shaheen, Jr., Special Counsel for Intelligence Coordination in the Department, to verify that arrangements have been made for the Bureau to conduct this investigation.

SA Daly contacted Shaheen and Shaheen advised that he knew nothing of this request. Shaheen was informed that absent specific instructions from the Attorney General the Bureau would not conduct the requested investigation and Shaheen agreed that this was the proper position for the Bureau. Shaheen was informed that the Senate Select Committee Staff Member conducting the investigation was David Bushong and Shaheen stated that he knew Bushong and Bushong had formerly been the Administrative Assistant to former Attorney General William Saxbe.

Subsequently, John Bayley, Assistant Minority Counsel for the Senate Select Committee, telephonically contacted SA Daly and apologized for the request that the Bureau conduct an investigation for the Senate Select Committee and he indicated that he thought arrangements had been made for this investigation through the Deputy Attorney General's Office. Bushong advised that Senator Tower was currently attempting to locate the Attorney General to straighten out this particular problem and apparently arrange for the Bureau to conduct such an investigation.

SUBJECT: Senate Select Committee Request

Reference is made to my memorandum of September 5, 1975, by which I forwarded to you for your attention and appropriate response a letter dated August 29, 1975, from the Senate Select Committee which contained a "partial list" of selected cases in which IRS files indicated that the Department had received tax returns and other tax information. You will recall that that letter requested that the Department expedite the production of its files showing the origin of each request, the use made of the information, and the names of Departmental personnel with firsthand knowledge of the request for and use of the tax information in each instance of such request.

Attached for your further attention and additional response is what is hoped to be the Committee's completed list of selected cases for which the SSC seeks the same information as requested in their letter of August 29.

Please advise me as soon as possible of any delays that may make prompt compliance with this request impossible.

INFORMATIVE NOTE

In connection with our responses to the Senate Select Committee (SSC), the White House has instructed that the Intelligence Community prepare a briefing for Senators Church and Tower of the SSC regarding warrantless electronic surveillances and surreptitious entries. During meetings of the Intelligence Community, it was agreed that NSA, FBI and CIA would give the briefings. No date has been scheduled for the briefings, although it is anticipated representatives of the White House will monitor a preview of the actual briefing to be given Senators Church and Tower.

During meetings of the Intelligence Community representatives, to discuss the contents of such a briefing, it was agreed among representatives of NSA, CIA and FBI that efforts would be made to avoid identifying specific foreign targets of surreptitious entries or warrantless electronic surveillances.

Attached is a memorandum from CIA advising that CIA has already disseminated to the SSC information concerning sensitive technical operations against certain Embassies and diplomatic establishments in the U.S.(S)

On 8/6/75, Daniel M. (Mac) Armstrong, III, who was on the personal staff of former Acting Director Gray, called to advise that he had been contacted by John Elliff. He had known Elliff casually during the confirmation hearings regarding Mr. Gray. Elliff told him that he was personally interested in determining background on two matters which were: (1) the decision to abolish the Crime Records Division; and (2) the Legal Attache program.

Armstrong told him that he had no knowledge concerning the Crime Records Division and had not even learned of its abolishment until after the fact. Armstrong referred Elliff to Dave Kinley regarding that topic. Armstrong said that Elliff did not want to talk to him concerning the Legal Attache program over the phone and said he would contact him in the near future for an appointment to see him personally.

Armstrong said he was passing this information along to us in order to keep us advised of his contacts with the Senate Select Committee concerning his Bureau information which came to him as a result of his Bureau employment.

MEMORANDUM

SUBJECT: Senate Select Committee Staff Knowledge of CIA Domestic Electronic Surveillance Against Foreign Targets

1. In our discussions preparatory to the briefing to be given to Senators Church and Tower, we have agreed to try to avoid identifying specific foreign targets of the various types of operations which will be discussed, although it was generally recognized that it would be impossible to avoid discussing the Soviet target specifically. I have recently learned that the SSC Staff is aware of the fact (from material turned over to them by CIA) that CIA "participated in a series of electronic surveillance operations in the U.S." The information is contained in a single paragraph, which goes on to say:

> "Included among them are operations against the Czech Embassy, the UAR Embassy, the Chilean Embassy, the Soviet Consulate in San Francisco, the present Soviet Embassy, the planned Soviet Embassy, and the quarters occupied by the Chinese Communists in New York City."

JFK(1)(c)

2. This being so, it can be expected that the Staff will have brought this information to the senators' attention, and I will be prepared to respond factually to questions with respect to these operations, which of course were carried out in pursuit of NSA requirements, and with FBI coordination and/or support.

EX-101 REC-26 62-116395-523

3. Notwithstanding this regrettable breach in the principle we have agreed to try to maintain, I believe we should resist pressures to expand on the number of identified targets.

Part E. Materials relating to the National Security Agency (NSA) "watch list." Regarding this request, it should be noted that no central file or individual case regarding the "watch list" has been maintained by the FBI. Accordingly, a diligent search of logical files and inquiries of personnel possibly knowledgeable of information pertinent to the SSC request have been conducted. Materials secured by this effort have been assembled in chronological order, in order to facilitate Staff review.

Part F. Materials pertaining to authorization for FBI contacts with, dissemination of FBI information to, receipt of information from, and requests by the FBI for action by the Special Services Staff of the Internal Revenue Service.

Part G. The "Handbook of Technical Equipment." Pursuant to agreement between Mr. John T. Elliff of the SSC and Mr. William O. Cregar of the FBI, the aforementioned handbook, which deals entirely with technical information, is available for review by Mr. Elliff to determine its relevance to SSC interests. Should Mr. Elliff determine that the handbook or specific portions thereof are relevant, and request delivery of same, prior review by FBI Laboratory personnel, to determine the necessity for security classification of requested materials, will be required before delivery.

Part H. Materials pertaining to FBI activity with respect to the National Environmental Teach-in (also known as "Earth Day"), April 22, 1970.

Part I. Materials pertaining to the origin and implication of any decision to gather intelligence on "Women's Liberation" in the FBI Philadelphia Field Office from 1969 to the present.

RE: INTERVIEW OF FORMER FBI
INSPECTOR DONALD E. MOORE
BY SSC STAFF MEMBER

This memorandum and its enclosure contain information concerning an interview on July 28, 1975, of former FBI Inspector Donald E. Moore by Mr. Loch Johnson, SSC Staff Member. Mr. Moore entered on duty with the FBI on March 10, 1941, and served continuously in a variety of assignments until his retirement on June 29, 1973.

On advance notice from Mr. Johnson, Mr. Moore was advised that Mr. Johnson desired to interview him at Mr. Moore's convenience relative to his knowledge of the Huston Report. Mr. Moore was advised that he was being released from any applicable employment agreement for purposes of the SSC interview concerning the Huston Report. It was explained to him that he had the right to counsel; however, the FBI would be unable to provide private counsel. He was also advised that there were certain privileged areas concerning which he would not be required to answer questions. These areas concerned information which might divulge the identities of FBI sources; information relating to sensitive methods and techniques; information which might adversely affect ongoing FBI investigations; and information originating with other agencies, including foreign intelligence agencies. Mr. Moore was advised that if he desired an FBI representative to be available for consultation at the time and place of the interview, one would be supplied. Mr. Moore commented that this would not be necessary but indicated that if necessary he might contact a Bureau representative telephonically if a matter requiring consultation should come up during the interview. Mr. Moore subsequently contacted Mr. Johnson and made arrangements to be interviewed in Mr. Moore's office on July 28, 1975.

On July 31, 1975, Mr. Moore voluntarily furnished the attached memorandum which he prepared subsequent to his interview with Mr. Johnson.

NOTE:

Mr. Moore's memorandum concerning the interview was voluntarily furnished to SA L. F. Schwartz.

Interview of Donald E. Moore by Mr. Loch Johnson, Senate Select Committee
July 28, 1975

Mr. Johnson stated at the outset that this was an informal interview and he did not place me under oath. He asked about my background which was provided him and included the fact that I served in the FBI from March 10, 1941, until my retirement at the end of June 1973.

The interview concerned the so-called Huston Committee and he asked if I knew Tom Charles Huston before the Committee was established. I said I recalled meeting Huston once, in Bill Sullivan's office, but I didn't recall when this was, but it was before the Committee was formed. In response to questions, Mr. Johnson was informed as follows:

I was aware of the meeting at the White House attended by Director Hoover, Mr. Helms, Admiral Gayler and Gen. Bennett. I was probably aware the meeting was to take place before the meeting date but I can't recall this. (He said the meeting was held June 5, 1970.) I was not at a meeting held in Mr. Hoover's office June 8 but I recall hearing about the meeting, probably from Bill Sullivan. I don't recall a meeting held in the Domestic Intelligence Division after this at which Sullivan, Bill Cregar, George Moore, Fred Cassidy and I were present. I did attend the initial meeting of the Working Group headed by Sullivan and was present because Sullivan asked me to be there. I remember Sullivan and Cregar were at the meeting and I thought one or more other FBI representatives were present. He mentioned George Moore and Fred Cassidy were at the meeting.

I recall Mr. Helms and Mr. Angleton from CIA were present but did not recall the names of others including the representatives from NSA, DIA and the military services. I recall Sullivan chaired the meeting and that Huston sat at the opposite end of the table. Either Helms or Sullivan announced that Helms probably couldn't stay for the entire meeting but I don't recall Helms leaving, although he did not sit directly at the conference table.

I can't recall the conversation at the meeting but think that Sullivan outlined the request of the President to study means of getting better intelligence information on new left activities and violent protest movements in the US, especially with regard to possible foreign support. I think Sullivan probably outlined areas of concern and asked representatives present to document where they felt intelligence was lacking, how it could be obtained, who should obtain it and what was needed to obtain it. I said I couldn't at this date recall specific observations or proposals and rather believed the purpose of the meeting was to outline the general problem and ask the representatives to document these and come in with specific recommendations at a subsequent meeting. I am certain Mr. Huston spoke about the purpose of the meeting but I can't recall his comments.

This was the only meeting of the Working Group I attended. I told Mr. Sullivan that if agreeable with him I would not attend subsequent meetings and I thought the FBI had several representatives present and that the thrust was on new left and related activities. As I recall he said "suit yourself." Johnson pressed me on this and I told him this was what I expressed to Sullivan but I also was somewhat uneasy after the first meeting as I did not believe Mr. Hoover was aware of collection efforts that were likely to be recommended. I could not state what FBI members attended subsequent meetings but I believe Charles Brennan and Bill Cregar, and of course, Bill Sullivan, attended as well as some other representatives.

I can't say who drafted the report but was sure it was under Sullivan's direction. During the period of the meetings Deke DeLoach had retired and Sullivan had been appointed Assistant to the Director and moved from the 9th & D Building to the Justice Building. I don't recall when Mr. Hoover's objections to certain of the recommendations were added. I can't say whether I saw the report prior to the objections being in it but may have; I do recall seeing the report after the objections were in it. I don't know whether Mr. Hoover told Sullivan to put the objections in it but presume Sullivan knew Mr. Hoover's views and put the objections in on this basis. I could not answer the question as to whether Mr. Tolson was the person responsible for having the objections made but felt he would have objected to the initial recommendations.

I did see the letter from the White House saying the report had been approved. I believe it was signed by Huston and stated the President had approved the recommendations. I was aware Mr. Hoover had either written or seen Attorney General Mitchell expressing his reluctance and was aware the White House letter was withdrawn. I din't know why it was withdrawn other than this occurred after Mr. Hoover went to the Attorney General.

Mr. Johnson asked certain specific questions during or after the above discussion. He asked what covert mail coverage was involved since CIA in 1970 was engaged in covert mail interception. After checking with Mr. Leon F. Schwartz of the FBI, Mr. Johnson was advised that while I had been released from my pledge of confidentiality by the FBI in general with regard to the Huston Committee this matter was under review by the Department of Justice and I had not been released from my pledge on this aspect. A similar answer was given to the question about what was meant by the removal of restrictions on the use of surreptitious entry of embassies to obtain cryptographic materials.

Mr. Johnson asked if I thought the Huston Committee had been instigated by Bill Sullivan to more or less force Mr. Hoover to take a more aggressive stance in intelligence collection. I answered that I would not like to speculate on this and I could not make a definite statement yes or no.

He asked why the Working Group met at CIA as opposed to the FBI and whether this had special meaning. I answered that I did not think so, that the US Intelligence Board was headed by the Director of CIA, was concerned with intelligence collection and met at CIA and also meeting arrangements could probably be better arranged at CIA in view of parking, conference rooms, etc.

He said Admiral Gayler had stated that he and his predecessor, Gen. Carter, had tried to get Mr. Hoover to provide more support to NSA with regard to Communications Intelligence and asked if I was aware of any such efforts, and if they were in person or in writing. I said I was aware that Gen. Carter and Adm. Gayler had asked for support and I believe they might have seen Mr. Hoover personally and perhaps had written him.

THERE FOLLOWS A PRELIMINARY SUMMARY OF INFORMATION PROVIDED BY SPECIAL AGENT (SA) JAMES P. KEHOE TO STAFF MEMBERS OF SENATE SELECT COMMITTEE ON AUGUST 12, 1975. COMPLETE DETAILS WILL BE PROVIDED TO THE BUREAU WHEN THEY ARE RECEIVED FROM SA KEHOE'S ATTORNEY.

THREE SUBJECTS WERE DISCUSSED BY SA KEHOE AND THEY WERE SAM SURVEY, SUN SURVEY, AND Z COVERAGE. WITH REGARD TO SAM SURVEY, IT WAS STATED THAT TO THE BEST OF HIS RECOLLECTION THIS BEGAN ABOUT 1959 AND WAS BELIEVED TERMINATED IN 1963. IT BEGAN AS A SURVEY TO OBSERVE THE OUTSIDE OF THE ENVELOPS DESTINED TO VARIOUS CITIES IN EUROPE, LOOKING FOR INDICATORS WHICH WOULD LEAD TO LOCATION OF SOVIET ILLEGAL AGENTS. AT A LATER POINT IN TIME COVERAGE WAS ALSO MAINTAINED ON CERTAIN ADDRESSES IN EUROPE KNOWN TO BE MAIL DROPS UTILIZED BY THE SOVIET INTELLIGENCE SERVICE (SIS). THE ACTUAL SCRUTINY OF THE MAIL WAS CONDUCTED AT

KENNEDY AIRPORT IN A ROOM AT THE POSTAL AIR MAIL FACILITY. CERTAIN CONSTANT CITIES WERE EXAMINED AND OTHER CITIES WERE SELECTED ON A VARIABLE BASIS. WHEN LETTERS WERE OBSERVED THAT WERE BELIEVED TO MEET THE CRITERIA THEY WERE BROUGHT BACK TO THE NEW YORK OFFICE (NYO) WHERE THEY WERE OPENED AND PHOTOGRAPHED BY THE AGENT CONDUCTING THE Z COVERAGE. THE VOLUME WAS VERY SMALL, PROBABLY CONSISTING OF ABOUT TEN LETTERS IN A SIX MONTH PERIOD. A DESCRIPTION OF THE MACHINE UTILIZED IN THE OPENING WAS PROVIDED AND IT WAS EXPLAINED THAT WHEN A LETTER, BELIEVED TO HAVE BEEN SENT BY A SOVIET AGENT WAS OBSERVED, PHOTO COPIES WERE PROVIDED TO HEADQUARTERS IN WASHINGTON, AS WELL AS, AN INVESTIGATIVE FILE BEING OPENED IN NEW YORK CITY (NYC). THE SIZE OF THE SQUAD HANDLING THIS TOTAL OPERATION WAS ESTIMATED TO BE ABOUT TWENTY MEN. IT WAS INDICATED THAT THE POSTAL EMPLOYEES WHOSE NAMES WERE NOT RECALLED MERELY PROVIDED THE MAIL POUCHES AND WERE NOT PRESENT IN THE ROOM DURING THE SCREENING PROCESS. IT WAS ALSO STATED THAT ANY MAIL REMOVED AND BROUGHT TO THE NYO WAS RETURNED TO THE AIRPORT FOR DISPATCH ON THE NEXT OUTGOING FLIGHT, TO THE CITY OF DESTINATION.

WITH REGARD TO SUN SURVEY IT WAS STATED THAT THIS OPERATION WAS RUN BY THE SAME SQUAD BUT THAT IN THIS OPERATION THE ONLY MAIL SCREENED WAS MAIL ADDRESSED TO THE UNITED NATIONS (UN) AT A POST OFFICE BOX IN GRAND CENTRAL STATION. THE SCREENING TOOK PLACE IN A ROOM PROVIDED BY THE POST OFFICE AT GRAND CENTRAL STATION AND THE PURPOSE WAS TO OBTAIN MAIL WHICH MIGHT BE ADDRESSED TO SOVIET MEMBERS OF THE UN AT THIS BOX NUMBER. THESE LETTERS WERE ALSO RETURNED TO THE NYO AND OPENED AND PHOTOGRAPHED IN A SIMILAR MANNER. IN THIS INSTANCE, PHOTOGRAPHS WERE NOT FORWARDED TO HEADQUARTERS BUT WERE FORWARDED TO THE INDIVIDUAL CASE FILE OF THE SOVIET NATIONAL AND THE RESULTS OF THE MAIL INTERCEPT WOULD BE REPORTED TO THE BUREAU AT THE NEXT REPORTING SCHEDULE FOR THAT PARTICULAR CASE. IT WAS ESTIMATED THAT SUCH COVERAGE RESULTED IN THE OPENING OF ABOUT FIVE OR SIX LETTERS A DAY.

WITH REGARD TO Z COVERAGE IT WAS EXPLAINED THAT SA KEHOE HAD NO DIRECT KNOWLEDGE OF THIS OPERATION BUT HAD BEEN PRESENT IN THE ROOM, IN THE NYO, WHEN MAIL WAS OPENED. NO ESTIMATE COULD BE GIVEN OF THE INCLUSIVE DATES OF COVERAGE OR THE VOLUME OF MAIL.

BUT IT WAS STATED THAT ALL MAIL TO THE SOVIET MISSION TO THE UN (SMUN) WAS OPENED AND PHOTOGRAPHED IN THE NYO AND THAT THIS MAIL WAS PROVIDED BY POSTAL OFFICIALS AND THAT AFTER PHOTOGRAPHING, THE INFORMATION WOULD BE PROVIDED TO THE INVESTIGATIVE CASE FILES.

THE NAMES OF SOME INDIVIDUALS EMPLOYED IN THESE THREE OPERATIONS WERE PROVIDED AND THE THOUGHT EXPRESSED THAT ALL THREE OPERATIONS MAY HAVE BEEN CONCLUDED AT THE SAME TIME AND THAT THE DECISION TO CONCLUDE THE OPERATIONS CAME FROM WASHINGTON.

IT WAS STATED THAT SA KEHOE HAD NO KNOWLEDGE AS TO WHICH OFFICIALS IN WASHINGTON APPROVED THE ORIGINAL PROGRAMS OR TERMINATED THEM, BUT IT WAS FELT THAT THE ONLY PERSON WHO COULD GIVE APPROVAL TO COMMENCE AND TERMINATE WOULD HAVE HAD TO HAVE BEEN FORMER DIRECTOR HOOVER. OTHER QUESTIONS, SUCH AS DID THE AGENT KNOW SPECIFIC NAMES, WERE ANSWERED EITHER AFFIRMATIVELY OR NEGATIVELY, DEPENDING UPON THE CIRCUMSTANCES, THE NAMES RECOGNIZED WERE POSTAL INSPECTORS, AND QUESTIONS SUCH AS WAS THERE COOPERATION BETWEEN THE CENTRAL INTELLIGENCE AGENCY (CIA) AND THE FEDERAL BUREAU OF INVESTIGATION (FBI) IN THESE OPERATIONS

WERE ANSWERED NEGATIVELY. QUESTIONS AS TO KNOWLEDGE OF THE CIA'S MAIL SCREENING OPERATION WERE ANSWERED IN EFFECT THAT SA KEHOE GENERALLY HAD NO KNOWLEDGE OF THESE OPERATIONS OTHER THAN WHAT HE READ IN THE PAPERS.

A DIRECT QUESTION WAS ASKED IF SA KEHOE WAS AWARE THAT A PIECE OF CORRESPONDENCE HAD BEEN FOUND IN THE MEDIA BREAK-IN INDICATING THAT MAIL OPENINGS WENT ON AS LATE AS 1970. THE ANSWER WAS GIVEN THAT HE HAD READ THIS STATEMENT IN THE PAPERS, AND IT WAS THEN ASKED HOW HE WOULD EXPLAIN THIS. HE REPLIED THAT HE HAD NO KNOWLEDGE OF THIS WHATSOEVER., BUT THAT IF THE BUREAU ISSUED A STATMENT ADVISING THAT ALL MAIL OPENINGS CEASED IN 1966, THEN THERE WAS AN EXPLANATION, BUT SA KEHOE WAS UNAWARE OF IT.

A QUESTION AS TO WHAT SPECIFIC INDICATORS WERE LOOKED FOR IN SAM SURVEY WAS NOT ANSWERED ON THE GROUNDS THAT SUCH INFORMATION REPRESENTED A SENSITIVE TECHNIQUE THAT WAS STILL VIABLE.

AT NO POINT IN THE PROCEEDINGS DID SA KEHOE EXCERCISE HIS RIGHT TO CONSTITUTIONAL PRIVILEGE UNDER TE FIFTH AMENDMENT.

Mr. Callahan requested that a research be conducted to determine whether the FBI or the Department of Justice would be authorized to pay for private counsel for employees called to testify before the Senate Select Committee and who desired private counsel.

I advised Mr. Callahan that the position of the FBI and the Department is that we could not provide counsel directly to the individuals because of the potential conflict of interest between the rights of the individual and the duties of our officers. However, I told him that to my knowledge the question concerning whether the Government could pay for private counsel selected by the employee has not been researched. Mr. Callahan therefore requested that the research be conducted.

That the Administrative Division and Legal Counsel confer and prepare an appropriate response to Mr. Callahan's request.

SUBJECT: AUTHORITY OF FBI AND DEPARTMENT OF JUSTICE TO RETAIN PRIVATE COUNSEL TO REPRESENT EMPLOYEES

Legal Counsel memorandum to you dated 7-8-75 captioned "Senate Select Committee on Intelligence Activities," recommended that the Administrative Division and Legal Counsel Division confer and prepare an appropriate response to Mr. Callahan's request that research be conducted to determine whether the FBI or the Department of Justice would be authorized to pay for private counsel for employees who are called to testify before the Senate Select Committee and who desire private counsel. We have also undertaken to present the statutory considerations governing the provision of such representation in a legal proceeding as distinguished from a legislative hearing.

Title 5, United States Code, Section 3106, states:

> "Except as otherwise authorized by law, the head of an Executive department or military department may not employ an attorney or counsel for the conduct of litigation in which the United States, an agency, or an employee thereof is a party, or is interested, or for the securing of evidence therefor, but shall refer the matter to the Department of Justice. . . ."

AUG 1 1975

This statutory prohibition makes it clear that only the Attorney General has the authority to make a contract for special employment of an attorney. This Bureau, as an agency of the Department of Justice, obviously does not have authority to do that which is denied to Executive departments which are otherwise of coequal stature to the Department of Justice.

Buy U.S. Savings Bonds Regularly on the Payroll Savings Plan

An examination of our budgetary language by representatives of the Administrative Division and this Division does not disclose any explicit or implicit authority which would qualify as "otherwise authorized by law, . . ." under the above statute. The statutory authority for provision of private counsel is contained in Title28, United States Code, Section 515, which gives the Attorney General the authority to appoint and pay special attorneys. However, this authority is circumscribed by the statement that these attorneys "may, when specifically directed by the Attorney General, conduct any kind of legal proceeding, civil or criminal, including grand jury proceedings and proceedings before committing magistrates, which United States Attorneys are authorized by law to conduct. . . ." It is evident then that this authority pertains only to proceedings held within the judicial system, not to hearings held before a legislative body. Such a hearing is not a "legal proceeding" and is not one "which United States Attorneys are authorized by law to conduct. . . ."

In the event that employees need representation in a legal proceeding and the Department believes that a potential conflict of interest would prevent it from providing counsel, outside counsel could be appointed and paid under the statute up to the monetary limits fixed. Whether the Department would allow the individual employee to designate or select the outside counsel would be a matter of Departmental policy but we see no reason why such an individual selection would not ordinarily be approved.

We are aware that the Central Intelligence Agency (CIA) has recently engaged the law firm of Arnold and Porter and that Mr. Mitchell Rogovin of that firm has been designated as the individual attorney to represent that agency. Inquiry with CIA has determined that the authority relied on for this action is Title 50, United States Code, Section 403j, which states:

> "(a) Notwithstanding any other other provisions of law, sums made available to the Agency by appropriation or otherwise may be expended for purposes necessary to carry out its functions, including --
> "(1) personal services, including personal services without regard to limitations on types of persons to be employed. . . ."

We would emphasize, however, that the counsel hired apparently represents the CIA, not individual employees, and that private counsel has the same problems as does their "in-house" counsel. Therefore, no firm or individual hired by that agency can provide counsel to the individual employee in any situation which presents a potential conflict between the interests of the individual and the interests of the agency.

CONCLUSION:

We conclude that there is no authority for either the FBI or the Department to pay for private counsel selected by employees called to testify before the Senate Select Committee or any other legislative body. If an employee called to testify in such a forum desires private counsel, or where a potential conflict of interest makes representation by "in-house" counsel or the Department impossible, the employee must decide if the possible consequences warrant the personal expense of such counsel and, if so, responsibility for payment rests with him.

Furthermore, private counsel retained by an agency having authority to do so would be under the same disabilities as "in-house" or Departmental counsel in situations presenting a potential conflict of interest.

This memorandum records Bureau waiver from secrecy agreement for interview of Atlanta Field Office (FO) SA Edward A. Shea by Senate Select Committee (SSC) Staff Members at Atlanta, 7/22-23/75.

Supervisor S. F. Phillips of the Senstudy 75 Project was in Atlanta 7/22/75 in connection with the interviews there of six SAs (five from Atlanta FO; one who traveled to Atlanta from Knoxville FO) by SSC Staff Members Michael Epstein and Mary DeOreo. Interviews concerned the former FBI investigation of Martin Luther King, Jr. At approximately 5:00 p.m., 7/22/75, Epstein telephonically contacted Phillips and advised that one of the interviews developed information resulting in his desire to interview a seventh SA, Edward A. Shea of the Atlanta FO. In order to avoid another trip to Atlanta, Epstein asked if Phillips could obtain FBI clearance for the interview which would concern: (1) any possible COINTELPRO operations in Atlanta with respect to King or the Southern Christian Leadership Conference (SCLC); (2) Shea's assignment to a "file review or file retrieval" project during past year concerning COINTELPRO; and (3) concerning COINTELPRO "generally." (It should be noted that earlier this year, Shea handled a project relating to classifying documents in Atlanta files regarding COINTELPRO. Shea advised Phillips of this and also said that he does not recall seeing any documents regarding COINTELPRO/SCLC - KING.) Epstein desired to interview Shea the morning of 7/23/75.

62-116395

On basis of foregoing request, Phillips telephonically contacted Assistant Director (AD) Mintz who granted clearance for (1) and (2) above and suggested withholding clearance on (3) pending further request from Epstein after interview on items (1) and (2). Mintz asked that Phillips touch base with AD Wannall for his concurrence. In the absence of Wannall who was out of the building, Deputy AD T. Leavitt concurred with Mintz. At about 5:30 p.m., 7/22/75, Epstein was telephonically advised by Phillips as indicated above--clearance for (1) and (2); not for (3) at this time. Arrangements were then made for interview of Shea morning of 7/23/75.

Subsequent interview of Shea (being reported separately) apparently satisfied Epstein and it does not appear there will be any further request as to item (3).

ALL INFORMATION CONTAINED HEREIN IS UNCLASSIFIED DATE 10/10/00 BY SP2ALM/JG

This memorandum records that no effort is being made to respond to a request of the Senate Select Committee (SSC) dated 6/27/75, pursuant to instructions of the Deputy Attorney General, until such time as the Department can obtain clarification from the SSC regarding the meaning of paragraph 2 in the SSC's letter of 6/27/75.

Memorandum Wannall to Adams, dated 6/30/75, reviewed a draft copy of the SSC's letter to the Department. This draft copy is dated 6/25/75. It is identical in content with the final version dated 6/27/75.

Memorandum Cregar to Wannall, dated 7/2/75, reported the results of a meeting in the office of the Deputy Attorney General on the morning of 7/2/75. In this memorandum it was pointed out that the Deputy Attorney General found considerable difficulty in understanding paragraph 2 of the SSC's draft of a letter dated 6/25/75. He noted that in view of the ambiguities found in the letter, as well as the lack of any specific agreement entered into with the SSC by the Department and/or the FBI, the Department should prepare a letter over the Attorney General's signature asking for clarification. In the meantime, the Deputy Attorney General advised that we should take no action responsive to the requests levied on the FBI in this letter. To date, we have received no information from the Department that a letter asking for clarification of the SSC has been sent.

Attorney General
U. S. Department of Justice

Dear Mr. Attorney General:

Enclosed with this letter are notifications concerning certain matters currently under investigation by the Select Committee which relate to government entities under your jurisdiction.

These notifications are submitted pursuant to an agreement between the Committee, the various intelligence entities, and the White House. Pursuant to that agreement, the various entities in the Executive Branch have agreed not only to make available the pertinent witnesses, but also to submit in response all information and material which they possess that is relevant to the areas and cases which the Committee wishes to investigate. The response should include all relevant underlying documentation and other information, including documents which may not have come to the Committee's attention and which the Committee has not specifically requested, and all material relating to any prior Executive Branch inquiry into the matter. In addition, we would welcome a current analysis of the particular questions raised by the Committee and any other observations on the subject that you believe would be helpful.

We welcome the promise of cooperation and full disclosure that underlies that agreement. Success in fulfilling the full disclosure policy contained in the agreement is indispensible to the Committee's analysis and to the formulation of our ultimate findings, conclusions, and recommendations.

FEDERAL BU. OF INV.

Within the Committee mandate, contained in S. Res. 21, there are four broad subjects relating to the intelligence community which we are required to investigate and study in order to determine the facts and ultimately to decide whether to make recommendations for legislative or other changes. They are:

1. The structure, performance, and utility of government operations with respect to intelligence activities.

2. Whether certain policies or practices are or are not illegal, unethical, or otherwise improper.

3. Whether there has or has not been excessive duplication or inadequate coordination between and among intelligence agencies and, more generally, the efficiency of intelligence activities.

4. Whether there has or has not been adequate internal and external control and oversight over the policies and practices of intelligence agencies.

In attempting to find the answers to these fundamental questions, the Committee is proceeding in two ways. First, we are examining intelligence functions broadly as instruments of government policy, giving attention to the authority for particular functions, the problems which intelligence activities are designed to solve, the procedures by which intelligence activities are and have been proposed, approved, executed, evaluated, and terminated, the range and scope of the activities utilized to achieve intelligence objectives, and the propriety and utility of the activities undertaken. Second, we will examine in depth certain subjects within the broad topics of investigation. (We would, of course, welcome your suggestion of other cases that would give added insight into intelligence matters under your jurisdiction.) These specific subjects for investigation are not intended to limit the scope contained in the more general questions.

The annexed notifications spell these matters out in greater detail. In addition, they ask certain specific questions, set forth certain previously requested documents not yet received, request additional documents,* and, in some cases, ask for the names and present addresses of persons who have held certain positions. Where appropriate, the subject's description indicates that, pursuant to the agreed Outline for Inquiry Procedures, the matter primarily concerns allegations of abuse or other controversial specific matters where there is reason to believe improprieties may have occurred. Finally, the notifications indicate the name(s) of the staff member(s) who, in addition to the Committee's senior staff, will be responsible for the particular matters.

The Committee, in the course of the next few months, will undertake other subjects for investigation as its work proceeds and will notify you as appropriate.

We look forward to your cooperation in these matters.

Sincerely yours,

Frank Church

FEDERAL BUREAU OF INVESTIGATION
(INCLUDING DEPARTMENT OF JUSTICE)

I. Issues

The Committee's inquiry into the intelligence and counterintelligence activities of the Federal Bureau of Investigation is examining fundamental issues which bear directly on the adequacy of current legislation and administrative organization and procedure. The Committee seeks to determine whether FBI intelligence and counterintelligence activities achieve legitimate objectives in conformity with the rule of law. Among the basic issues to be addressed are the following:

A. What is the legal authority for FBI intelligence and counterintelligence activities? Should the FBI's authority be clarified or revised or incorporated in a comprehensive statutory charter?

B. What limitations are placed on FBI intelligence and counterintelligence activities by the Constitution and laws of the United States? Should these limitations be clarified or revised?

C. What have been the purposes and aims of FBI intelligence and counterintelligence activities? Should these objectives be modified?

D. How have the intelligence and counterintelligence activities of the FBI been organized and coordinated with other agencies of government? Should these procedures and practices be revised?

E. What have been the procedures for and techniques of intelligence gathering and dissemination and counterintelligence operations used by the FBI? Under what conditions and through what procedures should these methods and techniques be used in the future?

F. What have been and should be the mechanisms for internal and external policy-making, control, and supervision of FBI intelligence and counterintelligence activities?

As a means of examining the above issues in the context of actual FBI intelligence operations, the Committee intends to study certain specific topics, some of which are general in nature, and others of which involve specific cases, programs or techniques. Part II, below, contains descriptions of the general areas into which the Committee intends to inquire. Part III contains descriptions of the specific cases mentioned above. The descriptions specifically indicate whether the investigation may concentrate on specific allegations of possible abuses or other controversial matters where there is reason to believe improprieties may have occurred. In addition to the topics described below, additional areas of inquiry may develop during the course of the Committee's work.

II. Areas of General Inquiry

A. Legal Authority for FBI Intelligence and Counterintelligence Activities

The Committee is examining the legal basis for FBI intelligence and counterintelligence activities. There may be serious question as to the adequacy of the present legislative framework for the FBI's functions in these fields. Current statutes authorize the FBI to perform investigative and law enforcement functions, but they do not specifically authorize intelligence or counterintelligence activities. Therefore, the Committee seeks to determine whether the FBI's authority should be clarified, revised, or incorporated in a comprehensive statutory charter.

Responsible staff: Senior staff
Task Force leader
Mark Gitenstein

B. Organization and Operation of the FBI Intelligence Division

The Committee is investigating the structure and operating practices of the FBI Intelligence Division. Proposals have been made that the national security intelligence and counterintelligence functions of the FBI should be lodged in a separate agency or otherwise separated from the FBI's criminal investigative activities. Further recommendations have been advanced for improved coordination between the FBI and other intelligence agencies, for strengthened supervision of FBI intelligence and counterintelligence activities by the Attorney General or an independent board, and for clearer standards and procedures for FBI activities in this area. Therefore, the Committee desires complete information on the operating practices and procedures of the FBI Intelligence Division and of the field office activities supervised by the Intelligence Division.

The Committee's inquiry focuses on the following specific areas:

1. FBI Internal Security Intelligence Operations

The Committee seeks to determine the nature and purpose of FBI intelligence operations directed at foreign intelligence activities and subversive or extremist activities within the United States. It has been alleged that the scope of FBI intelligence investigations is too broad and has extended to legitimate political activities. Consequently, the Committee must examine how the FBI's responsibilities have been defined.

Responsible staff: Senior staff
Task Force leader
Mark Gitenstein

2. The FBI and the U. S. Intelligence Community

The Committee seeks to determine what have been the policies and procedures for coordination between the FBI and other agencies in the U. S. intelligence community. There have been occasions in the past where friction between the FBI and other agencies has produced serious dissatisfaction within the U. S. intelligence community. The purpose of this inquiry is to evaluate the adequacy of past and present coordinating mechanisms.

Responsible staff: Senior staff
Task Force leader
Mark Gitenstein

3. FBI Foreign Counterintelligence Operations

The Committee seeks to determine the nature of FBI counterintelligence operations directed at foreign intelligence activities within the United States or at any other hostile foreign-related activities within the United States. Since FBI operations to "counter" these activities go beyond intelligence collection, the Committee must consider whether such practices require statutory authorization. The impact of counterintelligence operations on United States foreign relations will also be considered.

Responsible staff:	Senior staff Task Force leader Loch Johnson Barbara Banoff

4. Inspection Division Investigations

The Committee is examining the relationship of the FBI Inspection Division to FBI intelligence and counterintelligence activities. This includes both regular Inspection Division reviews of Intelligence Division and field office functions and specific investigations of allegations of improper conduct in connection with FBI intelligence activities.

Responsible staff:	Senior staff Task Force leader Mark Gitenstein

5. FBI Intelligence Activities and State or Local Law Enforcement Agencies

The Committee seeks to determine the nature of the relationships between FBI intelligence activities and state and local law enforcement agencies. This subject involves the delicate balance between the necessary centralization of certain law enforcement activities and the Constitutionally-mandated decentralization of general law enforcement responsibility. It is necessary for the Committee to evaluate the centralizing influence of the FBI, as well as the FBI's role as a check on local law enforcement abuses.

Responsible staff: Senior staff
Task Force leader
Mark Gitenstein
Walter Ricks

III. Case Studies

General Questions

The descriptions which follow of the specific cases the Committee intends to study are intended to serve the dual purpose of notifying the FBI of the issues the Committee will explore in connection with each case and eliciting from the FBI all information and material in its possession relating to the questions the Committee wishes to explore in each case. In order to avoid unnecessary repetition of certain questions which will be basic to the Committee's investigations of each case, certain fundamental questions are set forth below. As to each case described, the Committee intends to explore these fundamental questions, and expects that the FBI will, as to each case, provide all information and material it has relating to these basic questions even though they are not repeated in the discussion of each particular area.

1. What is or has been the legal authority for the activity?
2. What have been the purposes of the activity?
3. What techniques have been employed in the activity?
4. What kinds of information have been gathered in the activity?
5. How have specific uses of the activity been initiated and approved?
6. How have the targets for the activity been selected?
7. What have been the criteria for target selection?
8. How has the intelligence which is collected been used?
9. To whom has the intelligence collected been disseminated?
10. What has been the basis for any dissemination with respect to each recipient?
11. How has the activity been coordinated with other intelligence agencies?

12. What have been the effects of this coordination?

13. To what extent has each of the foregoing been compatible with the legal authority for and the purposes of the activity?

14. By what means has the activity been monitored, controlled and administered?

15. What are the potential abuses to which the activity may lead?

16. To what abuses has the activity led?

17. What steps have been taken to investigate such abuses?

18. What steps have been taken to avoid such abuses?

19. What have been the costs and utility of the activity?

In some instances, the specific questions set forth below may appear to repeat some of the general questions. The purpose in such cases is simply to clarify the application of the general question to the specific case. Except where inapplicable by their terms, all general questions relate to each specific case.

A. Electronic Surveillance

The Committee is examining all forms of electronic interception of communications including wiretapping, electronic eavesdropping, consensual electronic surveillance interception of video and data communications, local monitoring devices, and all other forms of electronic or technical monitoring. The Committee's general questions apply to each of the techniques listed above, as well as to the matters set forth in the following specific cases.

1. Warrantless Electronic Surveillance

The Committee seeks to determine whether the Attorney General should have the authority to authorize electronic surveillance for certain purposes without a prior judicial warrant. This power has been exercised by succeeding Attorneys General since 1940, upon the explicit directive of the President. The Supreme Court has ruled that this power does not extend to purely domestic matters, but the remaining scope of the Attorney General's authority remains undefined by the Supreme Court.

Questions

The Committee requests that the FBI and the Justice Department address the following specific questions:

a. What is the scope and basis of the claim of Executive authority to conduct warrantless electronic surveillance?

b. What have been the procedures for consideration and approval of requests for warrantless electronic surveillance authorized by the Attorney General?

c. What are the specific disadvantages of the judicial warrant requirement for those electronic surveillances which have been authorized by the Attorney General?

d. Does the Fourth Amendment permit the issuance of judicial warrants for electronic surveillance on grounds other than ordinary probable cause where national security intelligence purposes are advanced to justify the surveillance?

e. To what extent are the specific procedures of Title III of the Omnibus Crime Control Act of 1968 inappropriate for electronic surveillance conducted for national security intelligence purposes?

Documents

The Committee requests the following additional documents bearing on the questions stated above:

a. All written justifications for the specific authorizations by the Attorney General for warrantless electronic surveillance from January 1, 1960, until the present.

b. All documents reflecting the denial by the Attorney General of specific requests for warrantless electronic surveillance from January 1, 1960, until the present.

c. Committee staff access to information contained in the impounded documents, depositions, and other materials in all pending civil suits which involve warrantless electronic surveillance and in which the Committee has received the consent of the plaintiffs for such access.

Responsible staff: Senior staff
Task Force leader
Mike Epstein

2. Warrantless Electronic Surveillance and "Leaks"

The Committee is examining several instances of the use of warrantless electronic surveillance and other investigative techniques in connection with "leaks" of classified information. These cases may involve specific allegations of abuse or other controversial matters where there is reason to believe improprieties may have occurred. These instances include:

a. The investigation of alleged "leaks" by or to 17 Executive officials and newsmen between May 1969 and February 1971.

b. The investigation of alleged "leaks" from a military staff member assigned to the National Security Council in 1971-72.

c. The reported investigation of columnist Joseph Kraft in 1969.

d. The reported investigation of the activities of Mrs. Anna Chennault and Vice Presidential candidate Spiro Agnew in 1968.

e. Any other instances of warrantless electronic surveillance in connection with the investigation of "leaks" to the press.

Questions

The Committee requests that the FBI and the Justice Department address the following specific questions:

a. Through what procedures and by whom were each of these electronic surveillances authorized and approved, continued, and terminated?

b. As to each person to whom information was disseminated, please state:

   (1) The nature of the information.

   (2) The basis for the dissemination.

(3) The date of each dissemination.

(4) The use which was in fact made of the information by the recipient.

c. What evaluations were made of the original grounds for the surveillance as it progressed?

d. What were the results of the evaluations?

e. Who made them?

f. What are the reasons for use of electronic surveillance without judicial warrant to investigate "leaks" of classified information to the press?

g. How does each of the above instances relate to these reasons?

h. To what extent would requirement of a warrant interfere with the ability to detect such leaks?

Responsible staff: Senior staff
Task Force leader
Mark Gitenstein

3. Surveillance of Dr. Martin Luther King

This investigation examines the authorization for, conduct and termination of, and deliberations regarding the surveillance of Dr. King. This case may involve specific allegations of abuses and other controversial matters where there is reason to believe improprieties may have occurred.

Questions

The Committee requests that the FBI and the Justice Department address the following specific questions:

a. Through what procedures and by whom were wiretaps and electronic bugs of Dr. King initiated, approved, continued, and terminated?

b. What were the locations, extent, and duration of the electonic surveillances of Dr. King?

c. What were the grounds of national security, if any, for the introduction of the electronic surveillances of Dr. King?

d. What was the relationship between the information collected and each of the purposes of the surveillance?

e. What evaluations were made of the original grounds for the surveillance as it progressed?

f. What were the results of those evaluations?

g. Who made them?

h. What periodic evaluations were made of the relationship between the information being collected and the original objectives of the surveillance?

i. What were the results of the evaluations?

j. Who made them?

k. To whom were any results of the surveillance disseminated?

l. As to each person to whom information was disseminated, please state

(1) The nature of the information.

(2) The basis for the dissemination.

(3) The date of each dissemination.

(4) The use which was in fact made of the information.

Responsible staff: Senior staff
Task Force Leader
Mike Epstein

4. Surveillance at the Democratic National Convention, Atlantic City, 1964

The Committee is examining the use of surveillance and other intelligence operations in Atlantic City, New Jersey, on or about the time of the Democratic National Convention in 1964. This case may involve specific allegations of abuses and other controversial matters where there is reason to believe improprieties may have occurred.

Questions

The Committee requests that the FBI and the Justice Department address the following specific questions:

a. Did the FBI conduct electronic surveillance and other intelligence operations at this time and place?

b. Who were the targets?

c. Through what procedures and by whom were the decisions made to engage in electronic surveillance and intelligence operations at this time and place?

d. What were the nature, extent, and duration of the electronic surveillance and other intelligence operations at this time and place?

e. What was the relationship between each target selected and the purpose of the surveillance?

f. Was the FBI requested to conduct such surveillance by any person or organization outside the FBI?

g. If so, by whom, when, and for what stated reason?

h. To whom were the results of the surveillance disseminated?

i. As to each person whom information was disseminated, please state

(1) The nature of the information.

(2) The basis for the dissemination.

(3) The date of each dissemination.

(4) The use which was in fact made of the information.

Responsible staff: Senior Staff
Task Force Leader
Mike Epstein

B. Surreptitious Entry

The purpose of this inquiry is to determine the extent to which the FBI has used surreptitious entry as an intelligence technique, either through its own operations or through operations by other agencies and individuals. This case may involve allegations of abuse and controversial matters where there is reason to believe improprieties may have occurred.

Questions

The Committee requests that the FBI and the Justice Department address the following specific questions:

1. What are the scope and basis of the claim of Executive authority to conduct warrantless surreptitious entry as asserted by the Department of Justice in United States v. Ehrlichman?

2. What surreptitious entries have been carried out by the FBI or by another government agency with the knowledge of the FBI from January 1, 1960, to the present? Please list by date, place,and target.

3. As to any instance in which the FBI has refused to comply with another agency's request for surreptitious entry, what was

   a. The basis for the refusal?

   b. The reason given for the request?

4. What procedures were employed to authorize any surreptitious entry identified under 2, and who authorized each such entry?

5. To the extent applicable by their terms, each of the above questions and the General Questions will be explored specifically with reference to any entry or proposed entry at an embassy in May 1972.

Responsible Staff: Senior Staff
Task Force Leader
Mike Epstein
Paul Wallach

C. Mail Covers and Mail Openings

The Committee is examining the conduct of mail covers and mail openings by or on behalf of the FBI and any instances of mail openings or intercepts which may have been conducted by or on behalf of the FBI. This inquiry may involve allegations of abuse or other controversial matters where there is reason to believe improprieties may have occurred.

Questions

The Committee requests that the FBI and the Justice Department address the following specific questions:

1. The specific purposes of all mail covers conducted in connection with FBI intelligence and counterintelligence activities. This includes all documents pertaining to FBI decisions to request Postal Service mail covers and lists of all subjects upon whom mail covers have been placed as a result of FBI requests since January 1, 1960.

2. The procedures and practices for the dissemination of information from mail covers requested by the FBI. This includes a list of all entities to whom mail cover information has been disseminated since January 1, 1960.

3. Whether or not FBI personnel may have conducted mail covers in violation of existing Postal Service regulations. For any mail covers which may have been conducted by FBI personnel or for the FBI by persons other than Postal Service employees, from January 1, 1960, to the present: identify the physical location where the mail cover was conducted, the names of all persons who participated in and authorized the mail cover, and a brief explanation of the purpose of the mail cover and why it was initiated.

4. Whether or not the FBI has opened mail or caused mail to be opened, either with or without the permission of the Postal Service. For all incidents of mail opening which may have been conducted by FBI employees or by other persons in cooperation with the FBI, from January 1, 1960, until the present: identify the physical location where the mail was opened or intercepted, the names of the individuals who participated in the opening or intercept, and the purpose of the opening or intercept.

Documents

The Committee requests the following additional documents bearing on the questions stated above:

1. All documents which discuss, refer to, or relate to the origins, authorizations, conduct, and termination of and procedures for the mail covers, intercepts, and openings identified in 3 and 4 above.

Responsible Staff: Senior Staff

F. Clandestine Informant Activities

The Committee is examining all aspects of the FBI's use of informants, sources, and undercover personnel and the techniques employed by such persons. Although informants are the single most productive source of intelligence information, the difficulties of controlling their activities may increase the possibility of improper conduct. The use of informants to infiltrate organizations also may pose dangers to the right of associational privacy. Consequently, proposals have been made for the imposition of a judicial warrant requirement or other safeguards for the use of informants. The Committee seeks to evaluate such proposals as well as the contributions of informants to the accomplishment of legitimate objectives.

In addition, the Committee is examining informant activities with respect to several particular situations and cases. This investigation may involve specific allegations of abuse or controversial matters where there is reason to believe improprieties may have occurred. The Committee's inquiry covers the general circumstances surrounding the following incidents or cases:

a. Wounded Knee;

b. Kent State;

c. New York v. Stroble (Attica);

d. United States v. Buckalew (Gainesville);

e. United States v. Briggs (Camden);

f. New York v. Dillon (Hobart College);

g. United States v. Marshall (Seattle).

Additional cases may also be examined.

In addition to the above cases, the Committee is examining the role of FBI informants in providing information to the FBI concerning members of the following organizations:

a. Ku Klux Klan;

b. Students for a Democratic Society;

c. Weathermen;

d. Black Panther Party;

e. Communist Party USA;

f. W.E.B. DuBois Clubs.

Additional studies of informant activities with respect to members of other organizations may be formulated.

Questions

The Committee requests that the FBI and the Justice Department address the following specific questions:

1. With respect to both categories of cases listed above, what allegations, whether unfounded or not, of improper, illegal, unethical, or provocative conduct by FBI informants have been made in connection with these situations or groups?

2. What measures has the FBI taken to investigate such allegations of misconduct and to prevent such alleged misconduct from taking place in the future?

3. What instructions has the FBI given to its informants with respect to possible improper, illegal, unethical, or provocative conduct?

4. What has been the largest number of informants, sources, and undercover personnel in use at any one time during each year from 1960 until the present in connection with security, intelligence, and counterintelligence matters, cases, and programs?

5. What has been the annual total amount of funds (including reimbursement for expenses) paid to informants and sources for each year from 1960 until the present?

6. What limits, if any, have been placed on the type of information which informants have been intrusted to report back to the FBI?

7. What have been the annual percentage of potential informants who became paid informants in connection with security, intelligence, and counterintelligence matters, cases, and programs from 1960 until the present?

Documents

Please provide a summary of ten cases (for each of the following categories) where the FBI's use of informants, sources, or undercover personnel resulted in:

1. the conviction of an espionage agent of a foreign government.

2. the prevention of the theft of national security information.

3. the prevention of sabotage.

4. the prevention of an act of violence.

5. the prevention of the carrying out of a conspiracy to overthrow the government.

6. any other successful preventive actions in furtherance of the FBI's national security responsibilities.

Responsible staff: Senior staff
Task Force leader
Mike Epstein

The Committee is inquiring into the relationships between the FBI and other law enforcement agencies and private organizations in Mississippi in connection with the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan. The purpose of the inquiry is to determine what effect, if any, FBI activities had on the actions of other law enforcement agencies and private individuals with respect to the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan in Mississippi. This investigation may involve allegations of abuses or other controversial matters where there is reason to believe improprieties may have occurred.

I. The "Huston Plan"

The Committee is examining the FBI's role in the disposition of the report of the Interagency Committee on Intelligence (Ad Hoc) in 1970. This report as submitted to the President included certain options which were specifically identified as "illegal". It purported to represent the joint recommendations of all members of the U. S. intelligence community, but FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover disagreed in a series of footnotes. The serious consideration given to such allegedly illegal proposals gives this case the utmost significance for the Committee's understanding of the risks of uncontrolled intelligence activity. This case may involve specific allegations of abuse and controversial matters where there is reason to believe improprieties may have occurred.

Questions

The Committee requests that the FBI and the Justice Department address the following specific questions:

1. What contacts occurred between Tom Charles Huston and personnel of the FBI and the Department of Justice during 1969 and 1970? Identify by date and names of persons involved.
2. What was the purpose of each such contact?
3. With respect to any assistance provided to the Interdepartmental Committee on Intelligence (Ad Hoc) by personnel of the FBI:
    a. Who were the FBI participants?
    b. What kind of assistance was provided?
    c. What was the role of the FBI in preparing the various drafts of the special report of the Committee?

4. What were the specific arguments advanced for the inclusion of the allegedly illegal options in the special report submitted for the President's consideration? Were other allegedly illegal options considered and rejected?

5. Were any measures taken by the FBI to implement specific elements of the Huston Plan? This includes both the allegedly "illegal" aspects and other provisions such as the expanded recruitment of 18-21 year old informants.

6. What are the present views of the FBI and the Department of Justice as to the legality and propriety of the various options included in the special report?

2. In each such case, what has been the response of the FBI?

3. Have persons inside or outside the FBI sought to employ the resources of the FBI for purposes outside the FBI's authority? Please identify each instance by the name of the person seeking to so use the FBI, the date, and the purpose for which the person sought to use the FBI.

Edgar Hoover on his behalf until the time of his death, the Committee seeks to establish the contents of such files, the circumstances surrounding the transfer of a portion of such files within the Bureau at the time of Director Hoover's death, the transfer of a portion of such files to Mr. Hoover's residence, the destruction of any such files, the transfer of any such files from Mr. Hoover's residence, the use of information within such files, and their relationship to the official investigative files of the FBI. The Committee desires all information bearing on these matters, including the results of any inquiries conducted within the FBI and the Department of Justice.

8. What measures have been taken to ensure that the intelligence and investigative resources of the FBI are not misused for political purposes or personal advantage.

9. What additional measures should be taken?

Responsible Staff: Senior Staff
Task Force Leader
Mark Gitenstein

The Honorable Edward H. Levi
Attorney General
U. S. Department of Justice

Dear Mr. Attorney General:

Thank you for your letters of June 24 and June 25, 1975, relating to electronic surveillance conducted by the federal government in the interests of national security and foreign intelligence. The Select Committee also appreciates your providing the information of a sensitive nature in your separate letter of June 24, 1975.

Your letters, and the recent testimony of Kevin T. Maroney and Clarence M. Kelley before the House Subcommittee on Courts, Civil Liberties, and the Administration of Justice, have raised several additional questions which the Committee wishes to pursue. Further questions are raised by the July 1, 1975, White House news briefing by the Press Secretary relating to the effect of the recent Zweibon decision. Some of these questions relate to general policy considerations in the electronic surveillance area; others address our need for a more complete factual base from which we can draw our conclusions. A list of these questions is attached to this letter. These questions, of course, do not supersede prior requests for material relating to electronic surveillance, which are itemized in the document requests of May 14, June 16, and June 27. Rather, they should be considered as supplementary to the prior requests.

I believe that the answers to these questions are essential to a complete understanding of the policies and procedures followed by the Justice Department in electronic surveillance cases. Full information on these matters is necessary for the Committee to fulfill its mandate "to recommend the enactment of any new legislation . . . necessary or desirable to strengthen or clarify the national security, intelligence, or surveillance activities of the United States and to protect the rights of United States citizens with regard to these activities." With the continued cooperation of the Justice Department, I am convinced that the Committee will be able to discharge this responsibility in the critical area of national security electronic surveillance.

Sincerely,

Frank Church
Chairman

With respect to the requirement that the Attorney General must be satisfied that the subject of the surveillance is "assisting a foreign power or foreign-based political group", the following questions are asked:

a. What has been the total number of subjects under surveillance and installations for telephone and microphone surveillance requested and approved under the standard "assisting a foreign power" and under the standard "assisting a foreign-based political group" for each year from 1966 until the present?

b. How many of the subjects in each category and for each year identified in "a" above have been United States citizens?

c. What have been the identities of all "foreign-based political groups" related to the surveillances identified in "a" above?

13. With respect to the requirement that the Attorney General must be satisfied that the requested surveillance is "necessary for national security or foreign intelligence purposes important to national security", the following questions are asked:

a. Is this standard intended to supplant the standard for national security electronic surveillance under former Attorney General Elliot Richardson (i.e., that the proposed surveillance must be necessary to protect the Nation against actual or potential attack or any other hostile action of a foreign power, that it be necessary to obtain foreign intelligence information deemed essential to the security of the United States, or that it be necessary to protect national security information against foreign intelligence activities)?

b. Is this standard intended to modify the standard for national security electronic surveillance under former Attorney General Elliot Richardson?

c. If the answer to "a" or "b" above is yes, what is the reason(s) for such change?

d. If the answer to "a" or "b" above is yes, what is the precise legal authority supporting such change in the formulation of the standard?

f. If the answer to "a" or "b" above is yes, please give examples of hypothetical situations where national security electronic surveillance would be permitted: (1) under the current standard but not under the former standard, and (2) under the former standard but not under the current standard.

14. What have been the standards and procedures, if any, that have been established for determining that "the minimum physical intrusion necessary to obtain the information will be used"?

15. With respect to warrantless electronic surveillance in cases of "leaks" of information deemed either "essential" or "important" to the security of the United States, the following questions are asked:

a. Has there been a Justice Department policy specifically addressed to such cases?

d. If the answer to "c" above is no, under what standard have surveillances in such cases been approved?

e. What has been the total number of subjects under surveillance and installations for telephone and microphone surveillance requested and approved for such cases for each year from 1966 to the present?

f. What have been the identities of the agencies and the Presidential appointees who have initiated requests for warrantless electronic surveillance in such cases from 1965 to the present?

g. How many such requests have been initiated by each agency and each Presidential appointee?

h. How many of such requests initiated by each agency and each Presidential appointee have been approved by the Attorney General?

16. With respect to the dissemination of information obtained from national security electronic surveillance, the following questions are asked:

a. What have been the standards and procedures for the dissemination of such information?

b. What have been the identities of the agencies and Presidential appointees who have received information obtained from national security electronic surveillance for each year from 1966 to the present?

c. What have been the standards and procedures for the dissemination of such information to agencies and Presidential appointees who did not initiate the request for the surveillance?

17. Can additional monthly data on warrantless electronic surveillances prior to November 1972 be made available in view of the fact that the FBI was able to precisely state the number of warrantless electronic surveillances in operation on nineteen separate days, ranging from March 4, 1965, to March 31, 1972, in response to a request by the Select Committee? (By letter of June 9, 1975, the FBI's Office of the Director informed the Committee of the number of warrantless electronic surveillances in operation on, thirty days before, and thirty days after testimony by the Director before the House Appropriations Committee from 1965 to the present.)

18. In his testimony before the House Subcommittee on Courts, Civil Liberties, and the Administration of Justice, Kevin T. Maroney, Deputy Assistant Attorney General for the Criminal Division, stated in reference to a three-man Executive Branch commission used in Great Britain to review applications for national security electronic surveillance, "Whether such a commission would be feasible under our system . . . I think it might well be." Is it the official position of the Justice Department that a similar commission composed of Executive Branch officials would be an acceptable alternative to the present system for authorizing national security electronic surveillance?

19. In the testimony referred to above, Mr. Maroney also stated, "I think the Department has previously committed itself . . . to complete disclosure to an oversight committee." With respect to this statement, the following questions are asked:

   a. When and in what context has the Justice Department committed itself to complete disclosure to an oversight committee?

   b. What material or information, if any, that relates to the authorization for, identities of the subjects of, conduct of, and dissemination of information from particular electronic surveillances would the Justice Department be unwilling to disclose to an oversight committee?

20. What is the basis for Justice Department opposition to the concept of a specially-designated court, composed of one or three federal judges, which would review applications for warrants in cases of national security electronic surveillance?

21. In his testimony before the House Subcommittee on Courts, Civil Liberties, and the Administration of Justice, Clarence M. Kelley stated that he would accept a requirement of judicial warrants for national security electronic surveillance if the standard for issuance of the warrant was "less than probable cause". When asked by Mr. Badillo what the appropriate standard should be, he answered, "I think reasonable grounds, that as a result of the pursuit of an investigation (it is), possible to believe that there has been, or will be, or there is a need for the gathering of intelligence." Does this statement reflect the official position of the FBI in regard to (1) a warrant requirement for national security electronic surveillance, and (2) the appropriate standard for the issuance of a warrant?

22. What have been the standards and procedures followed by the Justice Department for the authorization and conduct of national security electronic surveillance where one (but not all) of the parties to the conversation consents to the monitoring?

23. With respect to the July 1 White House news briefing by Ron Nessen relating to the effect of the Zweibon decision, the following questions are asked:

a. What is the nature of the directive from the President to the Attorney General, referred to by Mr. Nessen, relating to Justice Department policy and procedures for electronic surveillance of United States citizens?

b. How does this directive affect Justice Department policy and procedures for electronic surveillance of United States citizens?

c. Will the Justice Department support legislative proposals that would require a court order for any electronic surveillance, as was indicated by Mr. Nessen's statement?

d. If the answer to "c" above is yes, which of the pending bills in Congress, if any, would the Justice Department be willing to support?

e. If the answer to "c" above is yes, what would the Justice Department consider to be the appropriate judicial standard for the issuance of a warrant?

f. If the answer to "c" above is yes, what would the Justice Department consider to be the appropriate court or courts to issue such warrant?

24. With respect to electronic surveillance directed at encoded, non-conversational communications conducted in the interests of national security and foreign intelligence, the following questions are asked:

a. What were the total number of such surveillances for each year from 1966 to 1968?

b. What have been the identities of the agencies and the Presidential appointees who have initiated requests for such surveillance for each year from 1966 to the present?

c. How many such requests have been initiated by each agency and each Presidential appointee for each year from 1966 to the present?

d. How many of such requests initiated by each agency and each Presidential appointee have been approved by the Attorney General for each year from 1966 to the present?

e. How many requests have been made by each agency and each Presidential appointee for the continuation of such previously approved surveillance for each year from 1966 to the present?

f. How many of the requests made by each agency and each Presidential appointee for the continuation of such previously approved surveillance have been approved by the Attorney General for each year from 1966 to the present?

g. For each year from 1966 to the present, how many such surveillances have been instituted in (1) the United States; (2) North America, other than the United States; (3) South America; (4) Western Europe; (5) Eastern Europe; (6) Africa; (7) the Middle East; (8) Southeast Asia; (9) the rest of Asia?

UNITED STATES SENATE SELECT COMMITTEE
TO STUDY GOVERNMENTAL OPERATIONS WITH RESPECT TO INTELLIGENCE ACTIVITIES

RE: INTERVIEW OF SPECIAL AGENT LOUIS A. CRESCIOLI
BY SENATE SELECT COMMITTEE STAFF MEMBERS

Set out below is information concerning an interview of Special Agent Louis A. Crescioli by Senate Select Committee (SSC) Staff Members. Mr. Crescioli, who has been a Bureau Agent since September, 1954, is currently assigned to FBI Headquarters, Domestic Liaison, handling liaison responsibilities with the military and the U. S. Postal Service.

On advance notice from Mr. James Dick, SSC Staff Member, Mr. Crescioli was advised that he was to be interviewed at 2:00 p.m., August 1, 1975, in the Senate Office Building, Washington, D. C. Mr. Crescioli was informed by this Bureau's Legal Counsel Division that he was being released from any applicable employment agreement for purpose of this interview as it relates to Bureau liaison operations with regard to the U. S. Postal Service. Mr. Crescioli was advised there were certain areas concerning which he would not be required to answer questions, namely: information which might divulge the identities of FBI sources; information relating to sensitive methods and techniques; information which might adversely affect on-going FBI investigations and information which originated with other agencies, including foreign intelligence agencies.

After meeting at the Senate Office Building with Staff Members at the scheduled time, it was learned the interview of Mr. Crescioli would occur in Room 610 of the Carrol Arms Hotel which is located across the street from the Senate Office Building, Washington, D. C. The interview commenced at approximately 2:05 p.m., and was conducted by Mr. Dick and his SSC Staff Associate Mr. Paul Wallach. Special Agent Thomas J. McNiff, FBI Headquarters, accompanied Mr. Crescioli and was present during the interview.

At the outset Mr. Crescioli was informed of his rights; namely, that he did have a right to an attorney, that the interview was entirely voluntary and that he could refuse to answer any questions asked of him. The interview included the following questions asked by Messrs. Dick and Wallach which are deemed pertinent:

In order to assess the experience of Special Agent Crescioli, his prior Bureau background was requested. Mr. Crescioli responded that he entered on duty as a Special Agent in September, 1954, and served in five field offices handling both criminal and security matters prior to his assignment to FBI Headquarters. During the period 1962-73, Mr. Crescioli was assigned as an FBI Headquarters Supervisor handling substantive cases in the internal security area. From 1973 to November, 1974, he was assigned to the Foreign Liaison Unit of the Liaison Section, and from November, 1974, to the present, he has been assigned to the Domestic Liaison Unit handling liaison specifically with the military and U. S. Postal Service.

Messrs. Wallach and Dick were most interested in ascertaining the procedure followed by Mr. Crescioli to secure authority to be present at this interview. He was specifically queried as to the names of the individuals who authorized his attendance and what comments or instructions, if any, those Bureau officials gave him. Mr. Crescioli responded by stating that upon receiving a telephone call from Mr. Dick requesting his appearance, a memorandum setting forth this request was prepared by Mr. Crescioli and "walked through" various Bureau levels for approval. The identities of Bureau officials approving the memorandum were made known to these Staff Members, however, it was pointed out to them that no particular comment of pertinence to instant matter was recalled by Mr. Crescioli as having been made by any of these officials.

To the question as to what problems have been experienced by Mr. Crescioli with the Postal Service since assuming his role of Liaison Officer, Mr. Crescioli responded that cooperation with the Postal Service has been excellent and no real problems have been encountered. Mr. Crescioli explained that he has visited the Postal Inspection Service on the average of once every two weeks since November, 1974. He added that on occasion he will be telephoned by an official of the Inspection Service with a question regarding a national security mail cover requested by the FBI, a question regarding training procedures or a question regarding handling of Freedom of Information Act requests. In his liaison capacity, Mr. Crescioli would initiate the necessary arrangements to have these questions resolved and the answer returned to the Postal Inspection Service. In this same area of conversation, Mr. Wallach asked Mr. Crescioli if he ever visited the Postal Inspection Service to merely "chat" with the Postal Inspectors. Mr. Crescioli responded that because of his heavy liaison responsibilities with agencies other than the Postal Service he did not have time to visit the Postal Service for other than official reasons.

When asked if the various FBI field offices have liaison representatives with the various Regional Postal Inspectors in Charge, Mr. Crescioli responded that with regard to national security mail covers, the Special Agent in Charge of the local FBI office is the designated Bureau liaison contact with the Regional Postal Inspector in Charge.

The above Staff Members were interested in ascertaining whether or not national security mail cover checks were routed through Mr. Crescioli prior to delivery to the Chief Postal Inspector. Mr. Crescioli responded that these mail cover requests are not routed through him for review but rather are routed through normal Bureau channels prior to delivery by Courier Service to the Chief Postal Inspector.

When asked if he knew of Bureau Agents actually being engaged in physically handling the mail in any Post Office, particularly relating to mail covers, Mr. Crescioli responded that he had no knowledge of such activities. Mr. Crescioli pointed out that to his knowledge all mail cover requests were forwarded to proper Postal authorities for handling by Postal employees only.

In conclusion, Mr. Wallach inquired if Mr. Crescioli had knowledge of the reason for the discontinuance of mail covers by the FBI as an investigative technique for a period of time in the past. Mr. Crescioli responded that he had no knowledge of this matter.

At this point, the interview was terminated at approximately 2:50 p.m., with both Messrs. Wallach and Dick expressing their appreciation of Mr. Crescioli's appearance and responses on this occasion.

NOTE:

Through arrangements made by Mr. John Hotis, Legal Counsel Division, Unit Chief Homer A. Newman, IS-1 Section, Intelligence Division, was interviewed for the purpose of developing general information regarding the handling of informant files within the FBI by Mr. John T. Elliff and Mr. Mark Gitenstein of the Domestic Intelligence Task Force, U. S. Senate Select Committee on Intelligence Activities. The interview was conducted on 8/4/75 in FBI space and lasted from approximately 2:00 p.m. until 2:30 p.m.

The interview was extremely general in nature and dealt exclusively with general information regarding the handling of informant files both in the field and at FBIHQ. The questions asked dealt with such matters as what type of files were maintained in the field and at FBIHQ regarding informants and generally the types of information contained therein. They were particularly interested as to whether or not an individual informant file either at FBIHQ or in the field would contain information which would specifically identify informants other than the informant on which the file was maintained. They also inquired whether or not there was a sub A section of each informant file maintained at FBIHQ as was the case in the field. Questions were also asked as to whether or not the individual file maintained at FBIHQ on informants would run into several volumes. This inquiry was answered to the effect that the size of the file would depend on the activity of the informant, how long he had been operated, etc.

Re: Senstudy

It was readily apparent that they were asking these questions with the thought in mind of requesting access to certain informant files, the identity of which they already had but did not divulge. They did state specifically that the informant files in which they would have an interest amounted to approximately ten and were all on informants that had publicly been exposed for one reason or another and were no longer being operated as current informants. The indication was that the request would be for access only to such files for review in FBI space.

SUBJECT: PROPOSED PROCEDURES FOR ACCESS TO FBI MATERIALS BY THE SENATE SELECT COMMITTEE

On the afternoon of July 24, 1975, K. William O'Connor, Special Counsel in the Department, met with Deputy Associate Director Adams and me to present us with a copy of the proposed procedures and to discuss any amendments the Bureau might request. I asked Mr. O'Connor who had approved this latest draft of the proposed procedures and he said that they had been tentatively approved by the Attorney General and the White House. I specifically asked him who in the White House had approved them and he said that they had been approved by Mr. Buchen (Counsel to the President).

Mr. Adams and I discussed the procedures with Mr. O'Connor and suggested to him as indicated by my inked notation on the bottom of page 2A that the word "use" used in subparagraph (d) should be further defined by a footnote that would specify the limitations on information to be provided the Committee and its staff concerning the identities of persons to whom the FBI has undertaken an obligation of confidentiality. Mr. O'Connor agreed to the proposed change and in our presence telephonically communicated with John Elliff and obtained his concurrence in the amendment to subparagraph (d).

Mr. Adams told Mr. O'Connor that the FBI was not agreeing to the procedures in substance but that we recognized the authority of the Attorney General in these matters and would abide by his decision that the proposed procedures would be implemented on agreement by the Committee. Mr. O'Connor said he understood that and he advised John Elliff that the Bureau had acquiesced in the proposed procedures with the one amendment described above. Mr. O'Connor departed indicating that he was going to proceed to meet with the Committee and obtain final agreement as to the text of the proposed procedures. The draft of the procedures is attached for the Director's information.

RECOMMENDATION:

That this memorandum and the proposed draft of the proposed procedures be forwarded for the information of the Director.

---

* Wherever used herein, the term Domestic Task Force Leader (DTFL) is understood to include the Staff Director, Chief Counsel and the Minority Counsel of the Senate Select Committee.

ENCLOSURE 62-116395-50

These procedures shall apply to all matters covered by paragraph 1. In the event of a specific problem arising with the applicability of these procedures to any matters in current litigation or any matters in which criminal prosecution is pending, or any matter which the Attorney General shall specifically designate as extraordinarily sensitive, a special procedure shall be undertaken.* Such specific problem areas shall be identified by the Attorney General to the Chairman and Vice Chairman by letter upon consideration of the lists submitted pursuant to this provision. The special procedure to be followed shall be proposed, defined, adopted, and followed after consideration by the SSC of the specific problem area and pertinent inquiry and discussion at the staff level.

(2) The following procedures shall apply (a) where delivery of materials requested might jeopardize FBI sensitive sources or ongoing operations, or (b) where the Domestic Task Force Leader requests access to materials, rather than delivery to the SSC.

(3) The Department will furnish access at the Hoover Building in Room 4171 to those materials requested:

(a) only to the members of the Committee, where it is determined by the Attorney General that the materials involve peculiarly sensitive foreign intelligence sources or peculiarly sensitive ongoing foreign intelligence operations.

* No restriction of currently operational arrangements is intended under this provision.

(b) In all other cases, to the appropriately cleared staff who will have access to all of the materials.

(c) An exception to (a) and (b) above is made for the identities of so-called "live" informants or potential informants as defined in the FBI Manual of Instructions as to which no access will be furnished unless the identity of the individual as an informant or potential informant has already been made known to the Committee, jointly agree on the limited disclosure of such identities to the Chairman and Vice Chairman.

(d) As to other information which would identify persons, as sources, who have provided or continue to provide information to the FBI, and as to whose identity the FBI has undertaken an obligation of confidentiality, the Committee and its staff shall preserve the confidentiality and shall make no use Ⓐ which would impair the confidentiality of this class of information to which access has been given, unless the identity of the individual as a source has already been made known to the Committee, or unless such information appears in materials which have been screened by the FBI as provided in paragraph 6 below.

Ⓐ Examples of prohibited uses are: ① interviews of the source's source; ② interviews or other inquiries that would disclose the fact the identity of a confidential source was made known to the staff; ③ public disclosure

(4) Those materials to which the staff has access may be reviewed and studied in Room 4171 of the Hoover Building and such notes may be taken as deemed appropriate by the Staff.

(5) The Committee staff shall select from these materials to which access is herein provided, those materials which it deems pertinent to the Committee's inquiries and necessary for delivery to the Committee's offices.

(6) The Bureau shall make copies of such materials as are specified by the staff under the provisions of (5) above for transfer to the Committee's offices

(a) before the copies of such materials are taken to the Committee's offices, the Bureau shall, within 24 hours of the selection, make appropriate excisions and paraphrases of information which might, if inadvertently disclosed, endanger sensitive FBI sources ~~and~~/ or sensitive ongoing operations.

(b) If the Task Force Leader has any objections to the excisions or paraphrases, the materials in issue will be forthwith conveyed by the Bureau, with a written statement of its grounds for its position, to the Special Counsel who shall resolve the matter by negotiation within 24 hours.

(c) In the event the matter is not resolved within 24 hours, the Special Counsel shall submit the matter forthwith to the Attorney General who shall notify the Chairman forthwith and arrange for an appropriate disposition.

(7) The Committee staff may remove to the office of SSC for appropriate use, any notes which they may make upon review of material screened by the FBI, as provided in (6) above, without such notes being reviewed by the Bureau. The Committee staff may remove notes on unscreened materials only if such notes are reviewed and cleared by the Bureau under the provisions of (6) (a) thru (c) above.

(8) The staff and the members of the Committee may examine the original materials to which the staff has been given access as extensively as necessary, in the Hoover Building at Room 4171, during normal FBI business hours; upon reasonable notice, special arrangements may be made for access at other times.

(9) These procedures are adopted subject to satisfactory experience in implementation. If after a fair trial the procedures herein do not operate suitably in the view of either the SSC or the Attorney General, the procedures may be unilaterally set aside by either the SSC or the Attorney General and other appropriate and suitable methods of procedure undertaken.

FORMER SA WILLIS ADVISED THAT HE TOLD SHEA THAT HE KNEW NOTHING OF THE FBI'S ATTITUDE TOWARD JAFFE AFTER 1964, SINCE HE RETIRED FROM THE BUREAU THAT YEAR. SHEA INDICATED TO WILLIS THAT HE HAD NOT YET TALKED TO FORMER SA GAMBER BUT MAY INTERVIEW HIM IN THE FUTURE.

FORMER SA GAMBER IS CURRENTLY EMPLOYED BY THE WELLS FARGO ARMOREDCAR DIVISION AND RESIDES IN THE ATLANTA AREA. YOU SHOULD IMMEDIATELY ATTEMPT TO CONTACT GAMBER AND ALERT HIM THAT HE MAY BE APPROACHED FOR INTERVIEW BY SSC STAFF. INFORMATIVE NOTE

Date 8/4/75

In connection with our responses to the Senate Select Committee (SSC), the White House has instructed that the Intelligence Community prepare a briefing for Senators Church and Tower of the SSC regarding warrantless electronic surveillances and surreptitious entries. During meetings of the Intelligence Community, it was agreed that NSA, FBI and CIA would give the briefings. No date has been scheduled for the briefings, although it is anticipated representatives of the White House will monitor a preview of the actual briefing to be given Senators Church and Tower.

During meetings of the Intelligence Community representatives, to discuss the contents of such a briefing, it was agreed among representatives of NSA, CIA and FBI that efforts would be made to avoid identifying specific foreign targets of surreptitious entries or warrantless electronic surveillances.

Attached is a memorandum from CIA advising that CIA has already disseminated to the SSC information concerning sensitive technical operations against certain Embassies and diplomatic establishments in the U.S. ~~(S)~~

On 8/6/75, Daniel M. (Mac) Armstrong, III, who was on the personal staff of former Acting Director Gray, called to advise that he had been contacted by John Elliff. He had known Elliff casually during the confirmation hearings regarding Mr. Gray. Elliff told him that he was personally interested in determining background on two matters which were: (1) the decision to abolish the Crime Records Division; and (2) the Legal Attache program.

Armstrong told him that he had no knowledge concerning the Crime Records Division and had not even learned of its abolishment until after the fact. Armstrong referred Elliff to Dave Kinley regarding that topic. Armstrong said that Elliff did not want to talk to him concerning the Legal Attache program over the phone and said he would contact him in the near future for an appointment to see him personally.

Armstrong said he was passing this information along to us in order to keep us advised of his contacts with the Senate Select Committee concerning his Bureau information which came to him as a result of his Bureau employment.

MEMORANDUM

SUBJECT: Senate Select Committee Staff Knowledge of CIA Domestic Electronic Surveillance Against Foreign Targets

1. In our discussions preparatory to the briefing to be given to Senators Church and Tower, we have agreed to try to avoid identifying specific foreign targets of the various types of operations which will be discussed, although it was generally recognized that it would be impossible to avoid discussing the Soviet target specifically. I have recently learned that the SSC Staff is aware of the fact (from material turned over to them by CIA) that CIA "participated in a series of electronic surveillance operations in the U.S." The information is contained in a single paragraph, which goes on to say:

> "Included among them are operations against the Czech Embassy, the UAR Embassy, the Chilean Embassy, the Soviet Consulate in San Francisco, the present Soviet Embassy, the planned Soviet Embassy, and the quarters occupied by the Chinese Communists in New York City."

2. This being so, it can be expected that the Staff will have brought this information to the senators' attention, and I will be prepared to respond factually to questions with respect to these operations, which of course were carried out in pursuit of NSA requirements, and with FBI coordination and/or support.

On July 31, 1975, Mr. Dan Dwyer, Research Assistant, Senate Select Committee, advised SA Seymor F. Phillips that he had some specific questions to ask concerning his review of the Classifying Guide, Files and Communications Division. Thereafter, ~~Supervisor Paul F. Shea and Classifying Unit~~ Supervisor Odell Wheeler answered the following questions raised by Mr. Dwyer: (1) Explain the difference in applicant mail categories, i.e. 67, 77, 116, 151 and 161? The various applicant type categories were discussed with him. (2) What is the difference between main files, general files and setup files? These definitions were given to him in accordance with the manual; in addition, our procedures for handling "0" files, "00" files and subfiles were also explained. (3) When is a 62 file interchangeable? It was explained to him that the 62 classification is interchangeable with other designated classifications, for example, that incoming 62 material could be placed in an existing file on the subject rather than opening a separate 62 file. (4) Describe what you mean by the standard sublist. It was explained that a subnumber is assigned to each one of our field offices and to each foreign country; that subfiles are used when it is anticipated that the volume of mail will be sufficient to place the file in separate subs for future ready reference to a particular area or locality. (5) What is the meaning of the character of a case? It was explained that we have utilized 185 classification numbers to date and that each of these classifications has a corresponding character. The example given was the 26 classification and corresponding ITSMV character. (S) (6) What is meant by the [134] classification being interchangeable with the subversive list? It was explained to him that from the 185 classifications approximately 60 of these are termed subversive from an administrative standpoint. The [134] classification which (S) designates a [security informant] is interchangeable with certain (S) subversive classifications on the subversive list.

BUREAU EMPLOYEES

On July 28, 1975, Mr. Loch Johnson, Senate Select Committee Staff Member, orally requested of Special Agent Paul V. Daly, FBI Headquarters, that former FBI Special Agents Thomas J. Smith and Richard D. Cotter be made available for interview and/or their current addresses be made available to the Senate Select Committee so that interviews may be arranged. The subject matter of the interview is to be limited to the above former employees' knowledge concerning the "Huston Plan."

This is to advise that both Messrs. Smith and Cotter have been released from their employment agreement with this Bureau for the purpose of an interview by the Senate Select Committee concerning their knowledge of the "Huston Plan." In response to Mr. Johnson's request, there is set forth below the last known address for each of the above-named former employees:

Thomas J. Smith, 3410 Memphis Lane, Bowie, Maryland 20715.

NOTE:

Reference is made to Legal Counsel memorandum to J. B. Adams, dated 7/29/75, captioned "Senstudy 75," wherein the request of Mr. Johnson is set forth as well as the approved release of Messrs. Smith and Cotter from their employment agreement as it relates to the "Huston Plan." On 8/4/75 Special Agent Thomas J. McNiff attempted to contact Mr. Smith at his home phone 301-262-1921. An adult female answered and advised that she was baby-sitting for Mr. and Mrs. Smith who are currently in New Mexico and are not expected to return for an additional two weeks. Special Agent McNiff left his name and office phone number with the request that Mr. Smith call him upon his return to his residence.

Mr. Richard Cotter on 8/4/75 was contacted at his home residence phone 256-7227 and advised of the SSC desire to interview him within the parameter outlined above. Mr. Cotter was advised that he has been released from his employment agreement withinthe above parameter and that should he so request a Bureau Agent will be made available to him for consultation at the time of the interview. It was pointed out to Mr. Cotter that during the interview there are certain privileged areas concerning which he would not be required to answer questions, namely: information which might divulge the identities of FBI sources; information relating to sensitive methods and techniques; information which might adversely affect on-going FBI investigations and information which originated with other agencies, including foreign intelligence agencies. Mr. Cotter concluded by saying that upon being contacted by the SSC he would advise this Bureau of the date of the anticipated interview and his decision as to whether or not he would request that a Bureau Agent be made available for consultation.

The attached constitutes the revised draft of proposed procedures which we met on yesterday with the Attorney General and staff. Mr. Mintz and I feel it incorporates the matters agreed upon at the meeting.

Please note the memo to Mr. Levi from O'Connor indicates these procedures are designed "to permit broad access for SSC staff to FBI materials," and the proposed procedures do not rule out the possibility that the Committee can request complete files for review. Accordingly, if you have no objection, we will advise the Attorney General that you have reviewed the proposed procedures and will abide by his judgment, however, we continue to object to granting of access to raw files of the FBI to representatives of the SSC. Attached is a letter to the AG so stating.

SUBJECT: Proposed Procedures - SSC

This draft of "Proposed Procedures" has not been discussed with SSC staff. It is intended to reflect the substance of the discussion had on 7/21, in your office; and incorporates (as underscored) additional language for the purposes suggested by that discussion. Also reflected are the slight editorial changes requested by the SSC in the draft attached to Senator Church's letter of July 18, 1975.

These procedures are designed to permit broad access for SSC staff to FBI materials at the FBI, or delivery of such materials, if appropriate, to the SSC. The present scope of the access is defined by the requests as received; those extant are the subject of superseding redraft under paragraph 1. The prospective scope of requested information is not restricted, but is subject to negotiation as indicated in the amendment to paragraph 1.

The proposed modification of paragraph 3 will be the focus of most controversy. The SSC will probably object to the withholding of sources under paragraph 3(d) (proposed) saying that access to information at the FBI offices is all that is required; that no note on such documents can be removed from the premises of the FBI under procedure 6; and that if they wish to pursue any sources, the appeal provision of existing paragraph 6 should cover it. Since that was the purpose of paragraph 6, and since paragraph 6(a) was designed to focus on any real problem which might arise, the scope of the stated problem under paragraph 3(d) may be seen by the SSC as an attempt to withhold information from the SSC staff, and delay the inquiry (since the Bureau would have to do considerable pre delivery work under 3(d) to make properly defined and reviewed deletions). Accordingly, I would expect SSC to assert (a) DOJ does not trust SSC probity or security, and (b) DOJ is following a dilatory and unnecessary tactic.

In anticipation of these problems, I have re-written paragraph 9 to permit unilateral abrogation if the procedures do not work. If actual information withheld is capriciously defined, or if any lapse of good judgment occurs, I would expect prompt abrogation by SSC and a very severe criticism of the Director, the Attorney General, and the Department.

I think that is a high risk, and assumption of it places a very heavy burden upon the Bureau, initially, and upon the Department, ultimately.

My recommendation is that the proposed procedures be attempted as redrafted, subject to Attorney General and White House approval; but a vigorous caveat is indicated as to the need for real restraint in the exercise of initial FBI discretion under paragraph 3(d).

PROPOSED PROCEDURES

(1) The Domestic Task Force Leader* will submit periodically a list of specific materials, relevant to the inquiry being conducted under S.R. 21, to which the Committee staff wishes access or of which the Committee desires delivery. Any questions as to the scope or meaning of any portion of such list shall be identified by the Special Counsel and discussed at the time of acceptance of the list, between the DTFL and the Special Counsel.

The first such list will be delivered to the Department of Justice within 48 hours of the adoption of this procedure, and will summarize and supersede all the presently outstanding requests; this list will be in priority order, as fixed by the Committee, with fixed delivery/access dates specified. Those materials for which the Committee requests delivery or access shall be delivered to the Committee or made accessible in Room 4171 of the Hoover Building not later than within ~~48~~ 96 hours of the date specified. The Committee Chairman and Vice Chairman shall be informed by the Attorney General, within 24 hours of receipt of the request, of any delay beyond ~~48~~ 96 hours, the expected length of the delay, and the specific reasons for the delay. Partial access or delivery shall be proffered, by the Bureau of/to any materials requested, while the balance of such materials are being prepared. A partial proffer shall not extend the time of full response set forth herein.

ENCLOSURE

The Attorney General may exempt specific topical areas of inquiry from the scope of these procedures. Such topical areas shall be identified by the Attorney General to the Chairman and Vice Chairman by letter upon consideration of the lists submitted pursuant to this provision. As to any such exemption, the procedure to be followed shall be proposed, defined, adopted, and followed after consideration by the SSC of the specific exemption, and pertinent inquiry and discussion at the staff level.

(2) The following procedures shall apply (a) where delivery of materials requested might jeopardize FBI sensitive sources or ongoing operations, or (b) where the Domestic Task Force Leader requests access to materials, rather than delivery to the SSC.

(3) The Department will furnish access at the Hoover Building in Room 4171 to those materials requested:

(a) only to the members of the Committee, where it is determined by the Attorney General that the materials involve peculiarly sensitive foreign intelligence sources or sensitive ongoing operations.

(b) In all other cases, to the appropriately cleared staff who will have access to all of the materials.

(c) An exception to (a) and (b) above is made for the identities of so-called "live" informants or potential informants as defined in the FBI Manual of Instructions as to which no access will be furnished unless the identity of the individual as an informant or potential informant has already been made known to the Committee, or unless the Attorney General, the Chairman and Vice Chairman, jointly agree on the limited disclosure of such identities to the Chairman and Vice Chairman.

(d) An exception to (a) and (b) above is made for information which would identify persons, as sources, who have provided or continue to provide information to the FBI, and as to whose identity the FBI has undertaken an obligation of confidentiality. In order to preserve that obligation of confidentiality, the FBI will withhold access to this class of information, unless the identity of the individual as a source has already been made known to the Committee, or unless the Attorney General, the Chairman and Vice Chairman, jointly agree on the limited disclosure of such identities to the Chairman and Vice Chairman.

(4) Those materials to which the staff has access may be reviewed and studied in Room 4171 of the Hoover Building and such notes may be taken as deemed appropriate by the Staff.

(5) The Committee staff shall select from these materials to which access is herein provided, those materials which it deems pertinent to the Committee's inquiries and necessary for delivery to the Committee's offices.

RE: INTERVIEW OF FORMER FBI
SPECIAL AGENT (SA) JOHN M.
MATTER BY SSC STAFF MEMBERS

Set out below is information concerning an interview of former FBI SA John M. Matter by SSC Staff Members. Matter served in the FBI from October 21, 1940, until his retirement May 28, 1971. He is a current resident of Ft. Myers, Florida.

On advance notice from Mr. Michael Epstein, SSC Staff Member, Matter traveled to Washington, D. C., from his residence in Florida to be interviewed at 11:30 a.m. July 25, 1975, in the SSC offices.

Prior to appearing for the interview, Matter was informed by the FBI that he was being released from any applicable employment agreement for the purpose of the SSC interview which Epstein had indicated would concern the former FBI investigation of Martin Luther King, Jr. It was explained to Matter by the FBI that he had the right to counsel; however, the FBI was unable to provide private counsel. Matter was also told that there were certain privileged areas concerning which he would not be required to answer questions. These areas concerned sources; information relating to sensitive methods and techniques; information which might adversely affect ongoing FBI investigations; and information which originated with other agencies, including foreign intelligence agencies. Matter was informed that if he desired the presence of an FBI representative for consultation purposes, one would be supplied on his request. It was explained that this representative would not be present at the interview itself, but would be located nearby and available for consultation purposes. Matter requested such assistance.

It was further explained to Matter by the FBI that if a question arose during the interview in one of the areas set out above, he had the privilege, before replying, of consulting with the FBI representative. The FBI representative accompanied Matter to the SSC offices and made himself available as indicated above.

Set forth below is a statement which Matter prepared and voluntarily furnished to the FBI which reports the results of the interview of him. Items underscored for emphasis or otherwise, and items placed in quotation marks are as indicated by Matter in his preparation of this statement. Only a minimal number of typographical and grammatical corrections were made by the FBI in the reproduction of Matter's statement.

SENATE SELECT COMMITTEE ON INTELLIGENCE ACTIVITIES (SSC)

RE: INTERVIEW OF FORMER FBI SA BY SSC
Statement of John M. Matter

STATEMENT OF JOHN M. MATTER

The following information is supplied as a result of an interview of former SA John M. Matter by SSC Staff Members Michael Epstein (asked about 95% of the questions) and Ms. Mary DeOreo (asked about 5% of the questions). The information is presented according to subject matter and not in the chronological order in which it was asked because Epstein kept going back and picking up points that had been discussed previously.

The interview began at 11:35 a.m. on Friday July 25, 1975, and lasted until 5:40 p.m. with an hour out for lunch and three 10 minute breaks. It was held in a small, acoustically-treated room (former projection booth), up one flight of stairs above room G-308, Dirksen Senate Office Building. Epstein advised that this was an interview concerning the part I had in the Bureau investigation of Martin Luther King, Jr. (hereinafter MLK). He did not advise me of my rights until I called his attention to the lack of this about 5:00 p.m., at which time he told me all information I gave was to be supplied voluntarily, that anything I said could be the subject of further investigation by his Staff and that I could decline to answer any questions which I did not feel were within the scope of the inquiry.

Epstein asked if I had discussed the MLK matter with any Bureau personnel this morning (July 25, 1975 - he saw me come to G-308 with the FBI representative who was available for consultation), and I stated I had discussed procedural matters with SAs Paul Daly and Seymor Phillips, both of whom had leaned over backwards to limit my discussion to procedural matters and nothing else.

Epstein asked for and I supplied background information as to my present address, when I entered on duty in the Bureau, the field offices (FOs) where I had worked, when I was first assigned to the Radio Engineering Section (hereinafter Re SEC), and how long I was in that Section. He asked how I would describe my particular kind of work and I told him "security work" in the Security Unit in which I ultimately became Unit Chief. He inquired if I was assigned to other than the Re SEC and I advised that when I first reported on duty in the Laboratory in 1944, it was the Electrical Section, but that about two or three years later that Section was merged with the Re SEC. He asked and was told that the Chief of the Re SEC at the time was I. W. Conrad, who later became Assistant Director of the Laboratory.

After about 10 minutes, Epstein started to question me as to what Units existed in the Re SEC, what type of work was done in the Units and who was working with me in my Unit, explaining that he was trying to get an idea of how the Re SEC was set up and where an investigation of MLK-type would fit into that Section. I asked for and was granted permission to see the FBI consultation representative who accompanied me. When advised by me of this line of questioning, the representative told me to supply such information as to the Re SEC's set-up and the name of any Agents in my Unit. On returning to the interview, Epstein then produced an FBI organizational chart from the position of Director on down through the individual units in the sections under each division (this chart appeared to be one issued after my retirement in May, 1971). He called my attention to the Re SEC and the Units listed thereunder, all of which dealt with radio matters except one which was listed as "Evidence Examinations." I advised him that my work fell into the latter and that all other units listed had to do with some phase of radio communications used throughout the Bureau. I furnished him at his request the following names of persons who had worked with me in "security matters" during 1960 to 1968, which he named as the period in which he was interested:

Wilbur G. Stevens, Robert A. Miller, William E. Harward, and William D. Campbell. I stated that there may have been others whose names I could not recall or who did not fit into the time period he mentioned. He asked and I advised that during that period, Richard L. Millen was Section Chief and Arthur J. Baker was his Number One Man.

Epstein and DeOreo specifically named the following persons and asked if they were connected in any way with the MLK investigation: Pfafman, Mayo, Swartz, Bradley, Stevens, and Berley. I advised that Robert F. Pfafman and George W. Mayo had retired from the Re SEC about 1956 and 1958 respectively, Richard Swartz about 1968, Wayne Bradley about 1974, Wilbur G. Stevens was still in the Section, and succeeded me as Unit Chief, that George Berley was in another Section of the FBI Laboratory, and that to my personal knowledge none of the above had been connected with the MLK investigation. Epstein specifically asked whether "Don Parsons" would have been involved and I told him I had no knowledge of such. He asked if I knew Parsons and I said yes, he had been a former Assistant Director of the FBI Laboratory.

Epstein and DeOreo questioned me at great length as to how I got my assignment in the MLK investigation, who authorized the investigation, how long my work took, how "the tapes" came into my possession, how I used "the tapes" during my work, what I did with "the tapes" after I was finished with my assignment, and whether anyone else worked with me on the assignment (specifically asking me if I knew "a William Campbell"). They also inquired what case supervisor I dealt with in the Domestic Intelligence Division (hereinafter DID). Some of these points were gone over by the interrogators two or three times. I advised largely as follows and qualified many of my answers as being "to the best of my memory," and in some instances I could not recall specific details or names:

SENATE SELECT COMMITTEE ON INTELLIGENCE ACTIVITIES (SSC)

Statement of John M. Matter

My assignment came orally from Section Chief Millen and quite possibly Assistant Director Conrad in a conference of the three of us in which I was advised that a Top Secret investigation of MLK had been authorized by the then Attorney General (AG) Robert F. Kennedy to determine if any attempt was being made by the Communist Party (CP) to infiltrate MLK's organization and use it to serve the Party's purposes. This particularly related to at least one highly-placed MLK staff member (whose name I do not recollect) who had been associated with CP activities in the past. I was told that I was to render all technical assistance that was required in keeping with any requests made by then DID Assistant Director, William C. Sullivan, or DID case supervisor handling the investigation. Some tapes from the AG-authorized MLK installations would be received by me, and I was to prepare a composite tape of any derogatory information in those tapes. William Campbell of the Washington Field Office (WFO) was to work with me and was to be primarily responsible for preparing a transcript of the WFO tapes, while pinpointing for me any information that might be of value for the composite.

Campbell came to the Re SEC with the WFO tapes and he and I set up the necessary transcription and filtering equipment for him in the studio and control room parts of Room 7318 in the Justice Building (JB). At some point additional tapes were received from authorized MLK installations in Court Seal [JFK Law 10(a)1]
I would have determined these locations either from "identification on the tape reels" or from "letters of transmittal," as such actually received with the tapes. I could not specifically recall whether any of the tapes were received directly by the Re SEC, from the last three FOs, but was of the opinion that they were most likely received from the DID case supervisor whose name I could not specifically recall. I was asked specifically if that case supervisor's name was "Ryan," "Seymor Phillips," "Frank Baumgardner," or "Lish Whitson." I replied that I did not know a Ryan, and that Phillips, Fred (not Frank) Baumgardner and Lish Whitson were possibilities but I could not specifically recall whether it was any one of them. Epstein hammered on "who was the case supervisor," but I could give him nothing more definite than I had indicated.

It took me somewhere between one and two weeks to complete my part of the assignment. There were inquiries from both my Section Chief and the DID as to progress. There were long hours put in by both Campbell and myself to do an accurate and reliable job as well as possible. No one else was assigned except us two because of the highly sensitive nature of the material and its classification. I did not specifically recall if "working copies" were made immediately from the FO tapes, but most likely such was done since this would eliminate the possibility of damaging the FO tapes during transcription. At the same time I would have been able to monitor the FO tapes to gain familiarity with the subject matter and any sections which I might use for the composite or were unintelligible. It is possible that Campbell may have monitored the tapes with me at the same time with a second set of earphones, but I could not specifically recall such. I made the composite by copying the pertinent sections from the FO tapes onto a single reel. The first part of the composite would contain all the excerpts from one FO; the second part of the composite, the excerpts from another FO; and so on through the third and fourth parts. There possibly were gaps within the excerpts to indicate discontinuity and possibly longer gaps between the end of all excerpts from one FO and the start of excerpts from another FO.

To the best of my recollection, the final composite did not contain splices between excerpts or between the FO groups or excerpts. The composite was sterile (not traceable to any source) as to the ¼ inch recording tape itself, the 7 inch plastic reel containing the tape, and the 7 inch box containing the reel. I do not recall whether it was a commercial or a plain box. I estimate the total elapsed playing time of the composite as being somewhere between 45 and 90 minutes, but I could not recall the specific time nor the tape speed.

Epstein made quite a point of asking if the composite had actually been put together as explained above, or whether it was put together in the following manner: one or more excerpts from one FO tape immediately followed by one or more excerpts from another FO tape, and followed again by one or more excerpts from a third or fourth FO tape. It appeared that he was trying to indicate that the composite had deliberately been put together in such a manner as to create a false impression as to where the excerpts had come from. I stated that to the best of my memory the composite had not been the target in that manner and I categorically denied that any effort had been made on my part to have the composite convey an idea other than that which was actually on the tape. When the composite was finished I made two or three copies of it which I identified as "third generation tapes," while I considered the composite a "second generation tape." I delivered the composite, most likely in the government routing envelope, to William C. Sullivan in the JB, fifth floor office of then Assistant to the Director Alan Belmont. I recalled that this was on a Saturday and Belmont was in his office with Sullivan. Delivery was made to Sullivan as a result of instructions I had most likely obtained from Millen or Conrad who also told me to inquire of Sullivan if there was anything else he wanted me to do. I so inquired and Sullivan replied that there was nothing further and that he would take it from there. I could not recall if I delivered two or three copies of the composite to Sullivan at the same time or whether they were sent to him or the DID case supervisor by special messenger the following Monday. Nor could I specifically recall if I gave a composite copy to Campbell so that he could make a transcription of it. However, that was a possibility because Campbell had the job of transcribing the WFO tapes and worked at it up to 6 weeks or two months.

To the best of my recollection, Campbell retained the WFO tapes and I have no way of knowing whether I used all WFO tapes or only those Campbell selected as being pertinent.

Court Seal [JFK Law

I do not recall the specifics, but the tapes from [redacted] were returned to the DID case supervisor either when I had furnished my part of the investigation or after Campbell completed his work. About two years after that, I got a telephone call from the DID case supervisor inquiring as to whether the Re SEC still had the tapes. I verified that he was the case supervisor and assured him the [redacted] tapes had been sent to the DID after the Laboratory's work had been completed.

I have no specific knowledge as to what was to be done with the composite or the copies thereof. The preparation in the sterile form of tape, reel and box was apparently done as a result of a specific request made by William C. Sullivan.

Court Seal [JFK Law 10(a)1]

[redacted] I supposed that Bureau officials had their own reason for requesting such a composite, but I was never told.

Epstein kept pressing me with "didn't you think this was strange?" and finally "what was your opinion?" To the former I replied "not necessarily," and to the latter I said a possible reason could have been that Bureau officials wanted to give the composite to AG Robert F. Kennedy to show him the type of information being obtained so that he could decide whether the surveillances he had authorized were to be continued. I never discussed the "MLK tapes" with anyone in the Crime Records Division. I don't rule out the possibility that some member of that Division may have asked whether I had worked on the tapes, but I certainly had no discussion on the subject matter. I did not discuss the tapes with "Deke" DeLoach (specifically named by Epstein after he had asked me whether I had discussed the tapes with anyone in the Crime Records Division). Epstein asked if I had any knowledge of Ernie Belter having anything to do with the MLK installation - WFO, and I told him, "none."

He appeared to be trying to find some sort of record within the Bureau so that he could get names, dates and assignments. In answer to his inquiry, I stated that it was quite likely I had received an "assignment slip" to account for my time in the case. I seriously doubted that such a slip would bear the name of MLK but would most likely have identified it as a "special case" or the "MLK case." I had no knowledge of how Campbell's assignment was handled. A register is kept in the Re SEC for personnel signing in and out, but this would only show dates and times worked by me and other personnel, and would not indicate what I was doing during a particular day or 'period of time period.' Campbell, being assigned to WFO, would have signed in and out on the WFO register, even though he was working for a longer period of time in the Re SEC space.

I have no knowledge that a physical and/or photographic surveillance of MLK was conducted by the Bureau.

I received no "letter of commendation" or "meritorious raise" as a result of my work on the MLK case. Nor was the latter specifically or otherwise mentioned in my last efficiency report. Epstein was very specific in asking about the letter of commendation, the meritorious raise and the efficiency report.

He asked if I was aware in any way that the tape had been furnished newsmen. I told him that I had a recollection of reading an article in a newspaper or weekly news magazine a few months or a year or more after my assignment that MLK tape information had been obtained by or furnished to newsmen. I wondered at the time how they had been able to get the information. I also pointed out that within the last year or two there have been a number of references by several featured news columnists that MLK tape information had been leaked to selected columnists. I again denied that at the time I delivered the composite to Sullivan that I had any specific knowledge of the use to which it was to be put.

Epstein and DeOreo did not ask if I had any further information to furnish to them which had not been brought out by questioning. It was very apparent that they did not wish to pursue the subject matter in a composite tape any further after I stated that [redacted] Nor did they pursue the interest of former AG Robert F. Kennedy in the case after his name was mentioned. Epstein wanted to know if it was apparent from the tapes that each [redacted]

Epstein gave me no explanation as to where he obtained the names that he specifically mentioned to me. It appeared to be his desire to conduct a thorough interview and to clear up confusion in his mind, possibly caused by conflicting reports about the tapes. He and DeOreo were courteous and stayed well within the legitimate bounds of the MLK investigation except as possibly indicated by his questions concerning the makeup of the Re SEC and its Units. While he did not state it specifically, as such, it appeared to me that he was trying to determine how tape recordings resulting from microphone surveillances were handled in a Section which dealt with radio matters. He seemed satisfied when I told him that the work of my Unit came under the "Evidence Examinations" Unit. He also accepted my explanation of "security work" with the comment that such sensitive work certainly was of a security nature. He made no effort whatsoever to inquire as to what further work I may have done in the Section. He specifically asked whether I had given any MLK information to Stevens, and I replied that while I could not recall specifically, this was possible because Stevens and I worked closely together and he would have had to take over the case in my absence.

At a point near the end of the interview, Epstein asked me if I am a personal friend of William Sullivan, Seymor Phillips, Fred Baumgardner and Lish Whitson. I replied, "No." Epstein indicated doubt, to which I added that my relations with all were purely official. Epstein then asked if I held any animosity toward Sullivan. I answered, "No." He then inquired, "You don't have any?" Again I replied "No."

Dear Mr. O'Connor:

As indicated in the enclosure to the Committee's July 9, 1975 letter to the Attorney General, we are still awaiting several requested items which relate to the relationship between the FBI and the CIA.

Although an FBI file search is presumably underway to locate all items which would be responsive to that section of the Committee's request, we would appreciate receiving as soon as possible, as a partial response, all of the items bearing on this subject which were specifically identified in the attachment to the Committee's May 14, 1975 request, as well as the exchange of correspondence between the FBI and the CIA which occurred on March 11 and 20, 1970, and which related to domestic intelligence collection. *

Finally, we would appreciate your advice concerning the nature of ["SCOPE" and Operation ORKID] which are identified in the above-referenced March 20, 1970 letter from Director Helms to Director Hoover. (S)

Your cooperation would be appreciated.

Sincerely,

The Honorable Edward H. Levi
The Attorney General
U. S. Department of Justice

Dear Mr. Attorney General:

Thank you for your letter replying to our letter concerning access by certain members of the Select Committee to files and documents concerning them held by the Department, including the FBI.

The Committee has resolved to adopt a slightly different procedure than that proposed in your letter. As you know, the purpose of this particular request is to enable the members, through analysis of materials relating to them, to obtain general insights into how the Department of Justice, including the Federal Bureau of Investigation, collects, maintains and retrieves for itself material on Americans generally. Accordingly, we suggest that at a mutually convenient time, the designated members come to the Department or the Bureau and physically go through the retrieval process with the persons who would be responsible for performing that function in a real life situation. The Committee members do not wish to have their individual files either removed from the filing system or "sanitized" prior to their reviewing them.

This proposed method of on-site review may help, moreover, to alleviate the possible problems of disclosure to the particular members which your letter adverted to. We are sure that you could discuss any remaining actual problems with the members themselves at your premises, including whatever retrieval problems may exist with respect to the letters from the members themselves which you referred to.

Re: Further Documents Pertaining To
The FBI and Department of Justice

Also enclosed is a copy of SAC memorandum 23-75 dated May 27, 1975, which is believed responsive to 5.e. This particular SAC memorandum is being provided herewith, since, in view of its recent date, it was not included in the index of SAC Letters and Memoranda previously made available to the SSC Staff.

With regard to that portion of 5.e., above, concerning "possible entrapment, provocation, interference with lawyer - client relationship or other problems," as it relates to informant operation, there are no Bureau memoranda or other material addressing these areas, as the same policy and procedures applicable to Special Agent conduct regarding these problems similarly apply to informants. In response to your general request under 4.b., above, FBI policy and procedures concerning such matters are set forth in the Manual of Instructions (MOI) and the Manual of Rules and Regulations (MRR), which have already been made available to SSC Staff Members pursuant to an earlier request and to the SAC Letters and Memoranda which are being made available to SSC Staff personnel for review pursuant to another request.

With respect to your request under Item 4.a., above, no memoranda or other materials were located relating to the original decision to utilize informants in our investigations.

It is noted your requests under Item 5., Appendix A, of referenced communication were directed by you to both the FBI and the U. S. Department of Justice (DOJ). Our response in this matter with respect to legal authority should therefore be viewed in conjunction with any material you may have received or will receive from the U. S. DOJ.

SUBJECT: LEGAL AUTHORITY OF THE FBI TO USE CONFIDENTIAL INFORMANTS AS AN INVESTIGATIVE TECHNIQUE

#MDE16
HEREIN IS UNCLASSIFIED
DATE 10/10/00 BY SP-2 ALM/JTG

The legal authority of the FBI to use confidential informants as an investigative technique rests upon three factors:

1) Legislative authority embodied in the approval of the annual appropriation.

2) Case law that the Fourth, Fifth and Sixth Amendments do not protect a wrongdoer from the use of informants.

3) Case law reflecting that courts recognize the necessity and utility of informants in providing probable cause for making arrests without a warrant, and for obtaining warrants, provided that certain conditions are met.

Regarding the first of the above-cited factors, reference is made to the "Hearings Before a Subcommittee of the Committee on Appropriations, House of Representatives, Departments of State, Justice and Commerce, the Judiciary and Related Agencies Appropriations for 1974."

Part I, page 783 of those hearings, sets forth ~~the~~ justification language for the 1974 budget estimate for FBI salaries and expenses. It is noted that this language is the same as used in previous years except for underlined and bracketed changes which do not affect this subject. There is specific provision under the heading of "Salaries and Expenses" for "expenses necessary for the detection and prosecution of crimes against the United States" and more specifically for the "payment of rewards."

At page 879 of these hearings, there is set forth as part of the testimony on "Investigative Accomplishments," a paragraph detailing the statistics achieved by the use of confidential informants. Since Congress has approved FBI appropriations without objection to the use of money for "payment of rewards" or for the informant achievements listed in the testimony, the approval of the appropriations serves as one form of legislative approval for the use of informants.

The use of informants does not violate the defendant's rights under the Fourth Amendment. Hoffa v. United States, 385 U.S. 293 (1966).

> "Neither this Court, nor any member of it has ever expressed the view that the Fourth Amendment protects a wrongdoer's misplaced belief that a person to whom he voluntarily confides his wrongdoing will not reveal it. Indeed, the Court unanimously rejected that very contention ---in Lopez v. United States, 373 U.S. 427---"
> Id. at 302

The Court also held that the use of an informer did not violate Hoffa's rights under the Fifth and Sixth Amendments, citing United States v. Dennis, 183 F.2d 201, 224, (1950), which said,

> "Courts have countenanced the use of informers from time immemorial; in cases of conspiracy, or in other cases when the crime consists of preparing for another crime it is usually necessary to rely upon them or upon accomplices because the criminals will almost certainly proceed covertly."

Besides the explicit recognition reflected above of the right of investigative bodies to avail themselves of informants, there are other Supreme Court cases which implicitly recognize this right by regulating the conditions under which an informant's identity need be revealed at trial. (Roviaro v. United States, 353 U.S. 53 (1957)), or the conditions to be met in using an informant's information as the basis of probable cause for an arrest without a warrant. (Draper v. United States, 358 U.S. 307 (1959); McCray v. Illinois. 386 U.S. 300 (1967)). Similarly, the Supreme Court has recognized that informant information may form the basis for a warrant application, provided the affidavit shows the underlying circumstances which would give reason to believe the informant is credible, and circumstances showing the basis for conclusions reached by the informant. (Aguilar v. Texas, 378 U.S. 108 (1964)).

The above-cited cases show that while courts have circumscribed in several ways the uses to be made of informant information, there has always been a recognition of the fact that the informant is a basic and necessary weapon in law enforcement's defense of society against crime.

MEMORANDUM TO ALL SPECIAL AGENTS IN CHARGE:

(A) INFORMANT MATTERS - DEFENSE PLANS AND STRATEGY -- Recently there have been several instances where attorneys in connection with law suits have publicly and erroneously alleged that the FBI utilized informants to uncover defense plans and strategy. Also, recently a former informant falsely alleged that informant's services were utilized by the Bureau to infiltrate a defense camp. These accusations reemphasize the need for the careful and professional handling of informants at all times.

As you are aware under current policy, informants are advised to avoid becoming involved in defense plans or strategy in subversive-type cases or with anyone under criminal indictment. It is the responsibility of all Special Agents handling informants to insure that their informants are continually alert so that they will avoid becoming involved in defense matters and in the event an informant is requested to assist or partake in such matters, that the contacting Agent is immediately advised so that the matter will be recorded. If the informant cannot avoid being involved, informant is not to report any information pertaining to defense plans or strategy and such incident must be promptly reported to the Bureau under the substantive case caption.

In view of the above, the statement of cooperation normally signed by security and extremist informants is being amended to incorporate current policy regarding defense plans and strategy. Where it is not required as in criminal informant cases or it has not been practical to obtain a statement of cooperation, each handling Agent must orally advise the informant of the above, reduce it to writing, and record it in the informant's file. Insure that all pending informant files reflect the above as a matter of record.

Manual changes follow.

NOTE:

It is noted that the original request from the Committee, specifically to furnish all memoranda pertaining to the "conduct" of the FBI investigation in the Dominican Republic in 1965 is rather ambiguous and nonspecific and efforts to clarify this request have not met with much success to date. It is believed the memorandum prepared is responsive to their request; however, if they desire additional information at some future date, same will be considered.

He said they ought to be Latins or ones who speak the language and he wanted me to take charge of that and to start right now saying if I were President, what I would do down there to get rid of the communists. The President stated it can't be done in one day, but that is what he wants for the Dominican Republic.

I told the President I had quite a number of Agents, a hundred or so, who are expert in the Spanish language so we have the facilities that we can do that. The President asked that I look at the best ones and see who it is; that it has to be a fellow who can get along with the new President whom he can trust, to figure out what I need, how I would set it up, and what I would do to get set up to go to work on the communists. I stated I thought it can be covered as we do in the South American countries as we have in some foreign countries a Legal Attache attached to the Embassy and if we have a man from the Bureau attached to the Embassy as Legal Attache, he can be the medium through which to advise the President and select the individuals who ought to be listed, deported, or put under control. I briefed the Attorney General on my conversation with the President. I told him I was not enthusiastic about it, but since he wants it done, I was starting to look into it and trying to line up fifteen or twenty men able to do it. I told the Attorney General I had wanted him to know in the event the President speaks to him about it.

SUBJECT: LEGAL ATTACHE'S OFFICE,
DOMINICAN REPUBLIC

The Director advised that the President will want the FBI to set up a group in the Dominican Republic to advise the President of the Dominican Republic concerning Communists, how to deal with them, and how to get rid of them. It is contemplated that we will set up a Legal Attache's Office, with a group of 20 to 25 men, for the purpose of taking charge of cleaning out communists in the Dominican Government and advising the government of those who may try to infiltrate into the government. This activity would take place first in the city of Santo Domingo, and then extend throughout the country until all communists have been spotted and the Dominican Government has been advised.

All of the agents to be sent down should be fluent in Spanish and we should select any who have Dominican or Spanish blood, which will assist them in working inconspicuously with the populace.

Relative to the Legal Attache, he should be a top man, fully experienced, as he will be dealing with the President of the Dominican Republic and with our Ambassador there.

ACTION:

In anticipation of the above, the Director desires that we draw up suggestions for a Legal Attache and for a group of twenty to twenty-five men who can proceed, when so ordered, to the Dominican Republic for this purpose.

A copy of this memorandum is being designated for the Administrative Division so that the Domestic Intelligence Division and the Administrative Division can work together on this. Time is of the essence.

WASHINGTON, D.C. 20535

(A) DOMINICAN SITUATION (NATIONALITY GROUP COVERAGE - LATIN AMERICA)-- For your information, Bureau has established a Legal Attache in Santo Domingo, Dominican Republic, who has already begun to make a valuable contribution to the over-all efforts of the United States in making certain that the Dominican Republic does not become another Cuba. If the United States succeeds in its efforts to keep communists out of the new Dominican coalition government which is in the process of being formed, current United States policy in the Dominican Republic could very well become the established course of action for all other countries in Latin America threatened with communism.

The responsibilities which have been placed upon the Bureau in developing intelligence data in the Dominican Republic, as well as in other Latin-American countries, are not only tremendous but may be the heaviest and most far-reaching burden the FBI has ever been asked to assume in the intelligence field. To guarantee our complete success, teamwork is a must.

Accordingly, first we must do everything possible to assist Legal Attache, Santo Domingo, in his immediate task of developing quality sources of sufficient quantity to effect maximum coverage in the Dominican Republic.

In this regard, each office and Legal Attache must furnish to the Bureau within five days of the receipt of this letter under the caption of "DOMSIT" (code word for "Dominican Situation") the following:

(1) Identities of any established sources (former or current) who are now in the Dominican Republic.

(2) Persons in Dominican Republic known to personnel of your office who appear to have good source potential.

(3) Identities of any current security sources (regardless of nationality) who may be available for assignment (temporary or permanent) in the Dominican Republic if such is considered feasible by Legal Attache, Santo Domingo.

This document is prepared in response to your request and is not for dissemination outside your Committee. Its use is limited to official proceedings by your Committee and the content may not be disclosed to unauthorized personnel without the express approval of the FBI.

Any leads for purpose of checking background of potential sources for Santo Domingo must receive priority attention and results submitted by teletype.

In addition to the Dominican requirements placed upon the Bureau, your attention is directed to over-all need for additional informants and sources in the Latin-American field. The reputation the Bureau has gained during recent Dominican crisis is due in large part to the results achieved in developing Dominican sources through a concentrated informant development program over the past several years.

In view of critical state of unrest in Latin America today, each office should survey its informant coverage in this field. If substantial numbers of nationals of any Latin-American country reside within the territory covered by your office, Bureau expects that you will have coverage sufficient to alert you to exile organizational activities of political nature, plots to overthrow existing governments, and general intelligence data concerning the countries of interest. Informant development in this field is considered most important and any weaknesses which now exist must be overcome promptly by instituting an aggressive informant development program.

I called Admiral William F. Raborn, Director of CIA, and told him I wanted to pass on to him a development he may be asked about. I stated, about ten days ago, the President asked my view of the removal of my men from the Dominican Republic and whether the work we have been doing down there could be carried on by CIA as effectively as both agencies have handled it in the past.

I stated I checked with [redacted] who is in charge of the FBI's office in the Dominican Republic, and he felt very strongly the FBI men could be withdrawn and the CIA personnel carry on. I advised Admiral Raborn that I sent this message to the White House and got word from Marvin Watson that the President indicated no move should be made at this time and that our men are still down there.

I advised Admiral Raborn that I expect to see the President this week and I am going to bring this up to see whether he will make a decision; that we could use those men back here; and that I think the situation is well in hand by CIA personnel. I said I thought the President might make some inquiry of Admiral Raborn.

Admiral Raborn said he certainly appreciated my calling and he is delighted with the fine way our folks have gotten along; that there is a lot of mutual respect. I stated that I instructed [redacted] to let me know what his views were and did not tell him mine; that he was very high in praise of the man in charge of the CIA office, as well as the staff of this office. Admiral Raborn stated they welcome cooperation with the FBI in any and every place.

I stated that I think we are going to have trouble down there but I think CIA can handle it with their force. He replied that they will be delighted to have us stay but they certainly appreciate the fact we may need our people elsewhere. I said we need them in this country where the riots are occurring; that this is not really our field; that it is CIA's field; and that the sooner we get back to our own field, the better.

I again stated it is very likely the President may speak to Admiral Raborn about this and he thanked me for calling.

President Lyndon B. Johnson called. He stated he was worried about the situation in the Dominican Republic and asked me how I felt about it. I told him it was my feeling that it is in an awful mess; that there have been several people who have been selected to be in the Cabinet who are far from being free of communist association or domination and why they were selected, I did not know, but I thought the situation down there is very critical. I stated I met with McGeorge Bundy and Admiral William Raborn of the Central Intelligence Agency (CIA) the other day as to whether the FBI could withdraw from the Dominican Republic and my view was that we could as CIA is thoroughly qualified and has a good man down there to carry on the responsibilities and there is no need for the FBI to remain. I stated it was the view of Admiral Raborn and myself that it was going to be a mess and that we would have trouble for some time to come because various people are going back to the Dominican Republic now, such as and his followers, and the former Presidents who were deposed and I thought in the political campaign which is going to be held down there this year, there are going to be violent outbursts which are characteristic of the Latins. I stated the populace is very anti-American and now that has been sent out and made the rebel element, which is always strongly anti-American, will be in the ascendancy. I stated is not what one would call a strong man; that I think he means well and will try to do right but he is not the kind of a man who will stand up to his opposition.

The President stated he was not too happy with CIA and the reports he gets from them and he would hate to see the Bureau people pull out until a government is formed. I stated we wouldn't until he, the President, says so; that as I said the other day, we would not leave until the decision has been made by the President.

September 10, 1965

Memorandum for Messrs. Tolson, Belmont, DeLoach, Sullivan

The President stated that while he thinks Admiral Raborn is a wonderful man, this is playing for keeps and we can't have a Communist Government and we have to have somebody alert enough to stand up and say "this is suspicious," et cetera. The President stated they tell him they have an Attorney General who is quite suspicious. I stated he is very dangerous to have in the Attorney General position. I stated in the discussion we had the other day in Mr. Bundy's office, one matter was how the investigative set-up would be under the new government and they were going to have a flying squadron of men working directly for the President of the Dominican Republic and then an intelligence unit which would gather information and a Dominican national police. I stated I expressed my opinion that I thought it was wrong for the President to have a flying squadron which would be nothing more or less than a secret police like Trujillo had who would make just reports the President would want against certain individuals who might not be as bad as the President felt they were. I stated I felt there should be an intelligence unit and that the national police should be increased. I stated we, of course, would assist in any training program they might want to set up either down there or up here. I stated at the present time in the national police is one man who was trained in our National Academy and was very valuable in furnishing us with information that we could not have gotten from other sources.

The President asked if we were having any trouble working together and I told him no trouble at all. The President stated he had asked me to be on the job to keep the communists from taking over this hemisphere and to serve him and he thought we ought to wait and not pull out of the Dominican Republic until the government has been selected and we get along further in this; for me to tell my man down there to root out everything he can and to be hard and tough as he can and be sure we get rid of every spy; that he did not know what the diplomatic people are doing to see that President Godoy takes our reports and respects them. SUBJECT: OPERATIONS
LEGAL ATTACHE,
SANTO DOMINGO OFFICE

This is to recommend that the Central Intelligence Agency (CIA) be advised that we have set up a regular Legal Attache Office in Santo Domingo in view of the President's desire that the FBI remain in the Dominican Republic and that Legal Attache, Santo Domingo, be authorized to turn [redacted] informants over to the Agency.

In accordance with the desire of the President and recommendation of the Honorable Marvin Watson, Special Assistant to the President, that the FBI remain in the Dominican Republic, the Director, on 8/2/66, advised the White House that our staff in Santo Domingo would be reduced to three men and that henceforth this office will be manned in a manner similar to that of our other Legal Attache Offices. It will not be an operational office but rather will serve as a strategic listening post for intelligence data and as liaison with agencies of the Dominican Republic, as well as other agencies of foreign governments in that country.

In light of this redirection of effort, we instructed Legal Attache, Santo Domingo, to review his informant coverage to determine if any of our informants should be made available to the Agency for operation. Legal Attache has recommended that [redacted] informants, [redacted], be turned over to CIA. [redacted] has been used principally to develop subversive data on individuals in Santiago, Dominican Republic. [redacted] is a penetrative-type informant who has gained membership in Dominican subversive groups. Both of these sources are operational and are not the type we would contact in a normal liaison capacity. Continuation of their services under our current criteria would be a questionable procedure.

This document is prepared in response to your request and is not for dissemination outside your Committee. Its use is limited to official proceedings by your Committee and the content may not be disclosed to unauthorized personnel without the express approval of the FBI.

In the case of this informant was originally developed by the New York Office. Legal Attache suggested the New York Office might have use of informant's services. This information furnished to New York Office which replied that in the absense of organized activity informant would be of no use unless he came to New York with instructions from Dominican communist groups to reorganize activity. This, of course, is not a desirable situation.

OBSERVATIONS:

We believe Legal Attache, Santo Domingo's recommendation to turn over to CIA is sound, even though both of these sources are in a position to furnish valuable intelligence information to us. By making these informants available to the Agency we will avoid any possible duplication or conflict. This matter should be discussed with appropriate officials by our Liaison Agent in order to insure the Agency is fully aware of our current status in the Dominican Republic.

ACTION:

If you approve:

(1) Liaison Agent will advise appropriate CIA officials as follows:

In accordance with the desire of the President that the FBI remain in the Dominican Republic, we are setting up a regular Legal Attache Office in Santo Domingo consisting of three men. This will not be an operational office but rather will serve as a strategic listening post for intelligence data and as liaison with agencies of the Dominican Republic, as well as other agencies of foreign governments in that country. In connection with this reorganization, we have instructed our representative in Santo Domingo to make [redacted] informants available to the Agency in the event it may wish to operate them.

(2) The attached teletype, with instructions to make [redacted] available to CIA, will be sent to the Legal Attache, Santo Domingo.

Dear Mr. Rimestad:

You have previously been advised of reductions in FBI personnel overseas which were made in response to the wishes of the President. In a further effort to comply with the desire of the President, I have decided to reduce our staff in Santo Domingo by one Special Agent and one clerk. This will eliminate one position in GS-14 and one position in GS-8.

You may be sure that I will continue to give this matter close scrutiny with a view to effecting further economies whenever such action can be taken without impairing the discharge of our responsibilities.

government in the alternatives are: Let them fight it out and kill thousands and probably the communists would end up in charge; we can go in there and try to get them to agree and go on the constitution and let them vote on it in 60 or 90 days, supervise the election and have a cabinet we mutually agreed upon which I can check upon; then once we get it, help the President with some intelligence people to point up who are communists. He said they ought to be Latins or ones who speak the language and he wanted me to take charge of that and to start right now saying if I were President, what I would do down there to get rid of the communists. The President stated it can't be done in one day, but that is what he wants for the Dominican Republic.

I told the President I had quite a number of Agents, a hundred or so, who are expert in the Spanish language so we have the facilities that we can do that. The President asked that I look at the best ones and see who it is; that it has to be a fellow who can get along with the new President whom he can trust, to figure out what I need, how I would set it up, and what I would do to get set up to go to work on the communists. I stated I thought it can be covered as we do in the South American countries as we have in some foreign countries a Legal Attache attached to the Embassy and if we have a man from the Bureau attached to the Embassy as Legal Attache, he can be the medium through which to advise the President and select the individuals who ought to be listed, deported, or put under control. The President asked I get the results of the check to him as soon as possible on ~~Colonel Lora Fernandez~~.

While talking to the Attorney General on another matter, I advised him the President had just called and wanted a name checked, but also wanted me to pick a squad of FBI Agents to go to the Dominican Republic when the new government is formed to advise the President on the removal of communists and getting them out of government offices. I briefed the Attorney General on my conversation with the President. I told him I was not enthusiastic about it, but since he wants it done, I was starting to look into it and trying to line up fifteen or twenty men able to do it. I told the Attorney General I had wanted him to know in the event the President speaks to him about it.

May 17, 1965

Memorandum for Messrs. Tolson, Belmont, DeLoach, Sullivan

I also briefed the Attorney General in regard to ~~Juan Balaguer~~ and the coverage on that.

3:05 PM

The President called and stated the name of the individual he had asked me to check is a graduate of the Canal Zone School and his complete name was ~~Juan Lora Fernandez~~. I stated we can check that quickly.

The President asked I be sure that I and Admiral Raborn, head of the Central Intelligence Agency, check out because he, the President, did not want to agree on a government and find a Khrushchev as the head of it. I stated I would check on the names he had given me Friday. I asked the President if Admiral Raborn had been furnished the list and he stated he was not sure but he wanted the two of us to check them out carefully.

SUBJECT: LEGAL ATTACHE'S OFFICE,
DOMINICAN REPUBLIC

Santo Domingo

The Director advised that the President will want the FBI to set up a group in the Dominican Republic to advise the President of the Dominican Republic concerning Communists, how to deal with them, and how to get rid of them. It is contemplated that we will set up a Legal Attache's Office, with a group of 20 to 25 men, for the purpose of taking charge of cleaning out communists in the Dominican Government and advising the government of those who may try to infiltrate into the government. This activity would take place first in the city of Santo Domingo, and then extend throughout the country until all communists have been spotted and the Dominican Government has been advised.

All of the agents to be sent down should be fluent in Spanish and we should select any who have Dominican or Spanish blood, which will assist them in working inconspicuously with the populace.

Relative to the Legal Attache, he should be a top man, fully experienced, as he will be dealing with the President of the Dominican Republic and with our Ambassador there.

ACTION:

In anticipation of the above, the Director desires that we draw up suggestions for a Legal Attache and for a group of twenty to twenty-five men who can proceed, when so ordered, to the Dominican Republic for this purpose.

A copy of this memorandum is being designated for the Administrative Division so that the Domestic Intelligence Division and the Administrative Division can work together on this. Time is of the essence.

(A) DOMINICAN SITUATION (NATIONALITY GROUP COVERAGE - LATIN AMERICA)-- For your information, Bureau has established a Legal Attache in Santo Domingo, Dominican Republic, who has already begun to make a valuable contribution to the over-all efforts of the United States in making certain that the Dominican Republic does not become another Cuba. If the United States succeeds in its efforts to keep communists out of the new Dominican coalition government which is in the process of being formed, current United States policy in the Dominican Republic could very well become the established course of action for all other countries in Latin America threatened with communism.

The responsibilities which have been placed upon the Bureau in developing intelligence data in the Dominican Republic, as well as in other Latin-American countries, are not only tremendous but may be the heaviest and most far-reaching burden the FBI has ever been asked to assume in the intelligence field. To guarantee our complete success, teamwork is a must.

Accordingly, first we must do everything possible to assist Legal Attache, Santo Domingo, in his immediate task of developing quality sources of sufficient quantity to effect maximum coverage in the Dominican Republic.

In this regard, each office and Legal Attache must furnish to the Bureau within five days of the receipt of this letter under the caption of "DOMSIT" (code word for "Dominican Situation") the following:

(1) Identities of any established sources (former or current) who are now in the Dominican Republic.

(2) Persons in Dominican Republic known to personnel of your office who appear to have good source potential.

(3) Identities of any current security sources (regardless of nationality) who may be available for assignment (temporary or permanent) in the Dominican Republic if such is considered feasible by Legal Attache, Santo Domingo.

Any leads for purpose of checking background of potential sources for Santo Domingo must receive priority attention and results submitted by teletype.

In addition to the Dominican requirements placed upon the Bureau, your attention is directed to over-all need for additional informants and sources in the Latin-American field. The reputation the Bureau has gained during recent Dominican crisis is due in large part to the results achieved in developing Dominican sources through a concentrated informant development program over the past several years.

In view of critical state of unrest in Latin America today, each office should survey its informant coverage in this field. If substantial numbers of nationals of any Latin-American country reside within the territory covered by your office, Bureau expects that you will have coverage sufficient to alert you to exile organizational activities of political nature, plots to overthrow existing governments, and general intelligence data concerning the countries of interest. Informant development in this field is considered most important and any weaknesses which now exist must be overcome promptly by instituting an aggressive informant development program.

I called Admiral William F. Raborn, Director of CIA, and told him I wanted to pass on to him a development he may be asked about. I stated, about ten days ago, the President asked my view of the removal of my men from the Dominican Republic and whether the work we have been doing down there could be carried on by CIA as effectively as both agencies have handled it in the past.

I stated I checked with Anderson who is in charge of the FBI's office in the Dominican Republic, and he felt very strongly the FBI men could be withdrawn and the CIA personnel carry on. I advised Admiral Raborn that I sent this message to the White House and got word from Marvin Watson that the President indicated no move should be made at this time and that our men are still down there.

I advised Admiral Raborn that I expect to see the President this week and I am going to bring this up to see whether he will make a decision; that we could use those men back here; and that I think the situation is well in hand by CIA personnel. I said I thought the President might make some inquiry of Admiral Raborn.

Admiral Raborn said he certainly appreciated my calling and he is delighted with the fine way our folks have gotten along; that there is a lot of mutual respect. I stated that I instructed Anderson to let me know what his views were and did not tell him mine; that he was very high in praise of the man in charge of the CIA office, as well as the staff of this office. Admiral Raborn stated they welcome cooperation with the FBI in any and every place.

I stated that I think we are going to have trouble down there but I think CIA can handle it with their force. He replied that they will be delighted to have us stay but they certainly appreciate the fact we may need our people elsewhere. I said we need them in this country where the riots are occurring; that this is not really our field; that it is CIA's field; and that the sooner we get back to our own field, the better.

I again stated it is very likely the President may speak to Admiral Rabora about this and he thanked me for calling.

Santo Domingo

President Lyndon B. Johnson called. He stated he was worried about the situation in the Dominican Republic and asked me how I felt about it. I told him it was my feeling that it is in an awful mess; that there have been several people who have been selected to be in the Cabinet who are far from being free of communist association or domination and why they were selected, I did not know, but I thought the situation down there is very critical. I stated I met with McGeorge Bundy and Admiral William Raborn of the Central Intelligence Agency (CIA) the other day as to whether the FBI could withdraw from the Dominican Republic and my view was that we could as CIA is thoroughly qualified and has a good man down there to carry on the responsibilities and there is no need for the FBI to remain. I stated it was the view of Admiral Raborn and myself that it was going to be a mess and that we would have trouble for some time to come because various people are going back to the Dominican Republic now, such as Juan Bosch and his followers, and the former Presidents who were deposed and I thought in the political campaign which is going to be held down there this year, there are going to be violent outbursts which are characteristic of the Latins. I stated the populace is very anti-American and now that ~~General Wessin~~ has been sent out and made Consul General at Miami, the rebel element, which is always strongly anti-American, will be in the ascendancy. I stated President Godoy is not what one would call a strong man; that I think he means well and will try to do right but he is not the kind of a man who will stand up to his opposition.

The President stated he was not too happy with CIA and the reports he gets from them and he would hate to see the Bureau people pull out until a government is formed. I stated we wouldn't until he, the President, says so; that as I said the other day, we would not leave until the decision has been made by the President.

The President stated that while he thinks Admiral Raborn is a wonderful man, this is playing for keeps and we can't have a Communist Government and we have to have somebody alert enough to stand up and say "this is suspicious," et cetera. The President stated they tell him they have an Attorney General who is quite suspicious. I stated he is very dangerous to have in the Attorney General position. I stated in the discussion we had the other day in Mr. Bundy's office, one matter was how the investigative set-up would be under the new government and they were going to have a flying squadron of men working directly for the President of the Dominican Republic and then an intelligence unit which would gather information and a Dominican national police. I stated I expressed my opinion that I thought it was wrong for the President to have a flying squadron which would be nothing more or less than a secret police like Trujillo had who would make just reports the President would want against certain individuals who might not be as bad as the President felt they were. I stated I felt there should be an intelligence unit and that the national police should be increased. I stated we, of course, would assist in any training program they might want to set up either down there or up here. I stated at the present time in the national police is one man who was trained in our National Academy and was very valuable in furnishing us with information that we could not have gotten from other sources.

The President asked if we were having any trouble working together and I told him no trouble at all. The President stated he had asked me to be on the job to keep the communists from taking over this hemisphere and to serve him and he thought we ought to wait and not pull out of the Dominican Republic until the government has been selected and we get along further in this; for me to tell my man down there to root out everything he can and to be hard and tough as he can and be sure we get rid of every spy; that he did not know what the diplomatic people are doing to see that President Godoy takes our reports and respects them. I stated I understand the Attorney General was recommended by Bunker and Bennett.

I stated a large number of people are drifting back into the Dominican Republic from New York and Miami who have been exiled in the past and those who have been in political life in the past are going to run again.

SUBJECT: OPERATIONS
LEGAL ATTACHE,
SANTO DOMINGO OFFICE

This is to recommend that the Central Intelligence Agency (CIA) be advised that we have set up a regular Legal Attache Office in Santo Domingo in view of the President's desire that the FBI remain in the Dominican Republic and that Legal Attache, Santo Domingo, be authorized to turn two informants over to the Agency.

In accordance with the desire of the President and recommendation of the Honorable Marvin Watson, Special Assistant to the President, that the FBI remain in the Dominican Republic, the Director, on 8/2/66, advised the White House that our staff in Santo Domingo would be reduced to three men and that henceforth this office will be manned in a manner similar to that of our other Legal Attache Offices. It will not be an operational office but rather will serve as a strategic listening post for intelligence data and as liaison with agencies of the Dominican Republic, as well as other agencies of foreign governments in that country.

In light of this redirection of effort, we instructed Legal Attache, Santo Domingo, to review his informant coverage to determine if any of our informants should be made available to the Agency for operation. Legal Attache has recommended that two informants, DOM-10 and DOM-12, be turned over to CIA. DOM-10 has been used principally to develop subversive data on individuals in Santiago, Dominican Republic. DOM-12 is a penetrative-type informant who has gained membership in Dominican subversive groups. Both of these sources are operational and are not the type we would contact in a normal liaison capacity. Continuation of their services under our current criteria would be a questionable procedure.

Re: OPERATIONS
LEGAL ATTACHE, SANTO DOMINGO OFFICE

In the case of ~~DOM-12~~, this informant was originally developed by the New York Office. Legal Attache suggested the New York Office might have use of informant's services. This information furnished to New York Office which replied that in the absense of organized activity informant would be of no use unless he came to New York with instructions from Dominican communist groups to reorganize activity. This, of course, is not a desirable situation.

OBSERVATIONS:

We believe Legal Attache, Santo Domingo's recommendation to turn ~~DOM-10~~ and ~~DOM-12~~ over to CIA is sound, even though both of these sources are in a position to furnish valuable intelligence information to us. By making these informants available to the Agency we will avoid any possible duplication or conflict. This matter should be discussed with appropriate officials by our Liaison Agent in order to insure the Agency is fully aware of our current status in the Dominican Republic.

ACTION:

CAL TENNEY, CIA & DESMOND FITZGERALD, CIA BRIEFED PER BELOW, 9/1/66 & 9/2/66

If you approve:

(1) Liaison Agent will advise appropriate CIA officials as follows:

In accordance with the desire of the President that the FBI remain in the Dominican Republic, we are setting up a regular Legal Attache Office in Santo Domingo consisting of three men. This will not be an operational office but rather will serve as a strategic listening post for intelligence data and as liaison with agencies of the Dominican Republic, as well as other agencies of foreign governments in that country. In connection with this reorganization, we have instructed our representative in Santo Domingo to make ~~two~~ informants available to the Agency in the event it may wish to operate them.

(2) The attached teletype, with instructions to make DOM-10 and DOM-12 available to CIA, will be sent to the Legal Attache, Santo Domingo.

Dear Mr. Rimestad:

You have previously been advised of reductions in FBI personnel overseas which were made in response to the wishes of the President. In a further effort to comply with the desire of the President, I have decided to reduce our staff in Santo Domingo by one Special Agent and one clerk. This will eliminate one position in GS-14 and one position in GS-8.

You may be sure that I will continue to give this matter close scrutiny with a view to effecting further economies whenever such action can be taken without impairing the discharge of our responsibilities.

J. C. Farrington to Mr. McDermott Memo
REQUEST BY U.S. SENATOR WALTER F.
MONDALE, SENATE SELECT COMMITTEE MEMBER TO REVIEW HIS FBI FILES

In above file references, we had seven documents containing masked out portions. As these masks will be removed prior to replacing in our files, a Xerox of the pertinent portion of the respective documents have been made for record purposes and attached to this memorandum.

Concerning [105-188989-8] (S) Department of State letter to FBI dated April 10, 1969, Senator Mondale advised he had recevied a copy of this letter from the State Department.

Concerning 62-110783-68 report of SAA Dale E. Berglund dated March 10, 1966, at Minneapolis captioned "MILES WELTON LORD; United States Attorney District of Minnesota, Administrative Inquiry - Bribery," Mr. Adams mentioned to Senator Mondale there were privacy considerations concerning this report and Senator Mondale limited his review of this document to information pertaining to himself set forth on pages 35b and 36.

ACTION: For Information.

ADDENDUM: J. B. ADAMS:ams 7/31/75

Subsequent to the meeting, David Aaron advised that the Senator requested to be advised as to why certain serials [of sensitive coverage (technical coverage on foreign embassies)] seemed to end in (S) 1970 and I advised him that in recent years our indexing procedures in such matters have not called for indexing the name of a Congressman or [[redacted]] (S) it has not been indexed for retrievability.

Memorandum for Mr. McDermott
Re: REQUEST BY U. S. SENATOR WALTER F.
MONDALE, SENATE SELECT COMMITTEE MEMBER, TO REVIEW HIS FBI FILES

The Senator raised a question concerning a folder on the Consumers Advisory Council, of which he was a member (62-108230-1) and inquired how we came into possession of this particular report. I determined that this report had been sent to Mr. Hoover in September, 1962, by Richard Berlin, President of the Hearst Corporation, as he felt Mr. Hoover would be interested in reading the report. I advised Mr. Aaron that the report had been sent to Mr. Hoover by a friend of his in the newspaper field.

Dept , advised SA DONALD A. BRUMMITT of the following developments in connection with subject's status since EMOND was interviewed on 7/19/65. (S-1) ~~(S)~~ (U)

Prior to departing for the USSR, BATOREWICZ was advanced $1,000 for travel and living expenses. Upon her return she was asked to repay this money. She was unable to do so since she had spent the money during her travel in Europe. Upon being advised that the funds must be repaid, she became quite upset and pointed out that she has been put to considerable inconvenience. (S-1) ~~(S)~~ (U)

On 7/21/65, Mr. EMOND learned that BATOREWICZ had contacted Congressman JOSEPH KARTH and Senator WALTER MONDALE, both of Minnesota and related the full facts of her employment with USIA and subsequent abrupt recall from the Soviet Union along with comments on her being expected to repay the $1,000 advance in funds. (S-1) ~~(S)~~ (U)

As related by Mr. EMOND, Congressman KARTH and Senator MONDALE have both contacted USIA and requested all details. He said it looks as if there will be a "considerable stink" about the matter. (S-1) ~~(S)~~ (U) (USIA + State problem)

Mr. EMOND said there has been no mention made of any FBI interest in BATOREWICZ. (S-1) ~~(S)~~ (U)

UNITED STATES SENATE SELECT COMMITTEE TO STUDY GOVERNMENTAL OPERATIONS WITH RESPECT TO INTELLIGENCE ACTIVITIES

Reference is made to your memorandum July 16, 1975, captioned as above, requesting information relating to the collection, analysis, use, and dissemination of organized crime intelligence and a second request related to what extent have communications between the White House and the FBI or other agencies under the jurisdiction of the Attorney General bypassed the Attorney General and to what extent should such communications be channeled through the Attorney General.

In response to the first matter, on June 25, 1974, I testified before the FBI Oversight Subcommittee of the Senate Judiciary Committee that the Bureau has "no statutory authority to collect intelligence per se" but that it operates under the general umbrella of 28 U.S.C. 533 (3), which authorizes the Attorney General to appoint officials "to conduct...investigations regarding official matters...as may be directed by the Attorney General." A listing of any directives issued by the Department or the Attorney General with respect to organized crime should be available in the office of the Assistant Attorney General, Criminal Division, Department of Justice.

With respect to the FBI, all our investigations in the organized crime field are aimed at one ultimate objective: prosecution.

AUG 13 1975

During the course of our investigation ~~of individual~~ hoodlums and the various criminal syndicates operating throughout the United States, we naturally acquire considerable data regarding the structure of the organized underworld, the identities of its principal leaders, the extent of its influence, its primary sources of income, its payoffs to corrupt officials, and the operations of its vast communications networks.

Most of this information is obtained from paid informants, from other law enforcement officers, from alert citizens, and from court-approved electronic surveillances installed under the provisions of Title III of the Omnibus Crime Control and Safe Streets Act of 1968.

None of it, however, is intelligence for intelligence's sake. The experience of the FBI over the years has shown that criminal syndicates exist for the sole purpose of conducting illegal operations and that anyone belonging to them may reasonably be presumed to be engaged in one or more of these activities. Therefore, our investigations of the organized underworld are not aimed at developing general nonspecific data but at establishing which criminal violations its members are engaged in and then proving these violations in a court of law.

Obviously, not every case opened, every lead followed, or every bit of information received is going to wind up in Federal court. On the contrary, much of this material relates to offenses outside the investigative jurisdiction of the FBI. When such is the case, we immediately disseminate the information to the appropriate Federal, state, or local agency. As a result, information uncovered by the FBI during the past five years alone has enabled the recipient agencies to make more than 17,000 organized crime arrests; confiscate over $151,000,000 worth of illicit drugs and narcotics, $9,000,000 worth of cash, property, weapons, and wagering paraphernalia, and $6,000,000 worth of counterfeit bills; and assess tax liens against $19,000,000 worth of property arising out of Federal gambling cases.

In addition, a considerable portion of the organized crime intelligence information developed by the FBI is forwarded to the various Federal Strike Forces coordinating racket investigations throughout the country and to the Criminal Division of the Department, which has entered this information in its computerized data bank called "Racketeer Profile."

The Attorney General

In response to the second request in your letter, my answer is restricted to communications between the White House and the FBI as it would not be appropriate for me to attempt to respond for other agencies under your jurisdiction.

There are two major areas in which the Attorney General does not see communications between the White House and the FBI. They are the results of name checks and the results of full field investigationswe do for the White House. The White House requests approximately 13,000 name checks per year concerning persons who visit the White House complex who could pose a physical threat or possible embarrassment to the President directly or indirectly. Approximately 1,000 full field background investigations on Presidential appointees, members of the White House staff, and other persons having regular access to the White House are requested annually.

I direct your attention to Section 0.15 (b) (7), Title 28, Code of Federal Regulations, which states that the Deputy Attorney General shall "Coordinate Departmental liaison with the White House staff and the Executive Office of the President." When this order was promulgated there were discussions between the Department and Bureau officials as to its implementation and its impact on existing direct liaison between the FBI and the White House. My letter to the Attorney General, May 2, 1974, captioned "Revision of the Department of Justice Organization Regulations (28 CFR Part 0)," set forth the FBI's need for a Special Agent-Liaison officer to handle day to day operational liaison with the White House. His activities were outlined and it was requested that he continue to handle operational problems on a daily basis with specific individuals because of the sensitivity of the matters involved, both of a personal security and intelligence nature.

By memorandum dated May 16, 1974, captioned "Direct Operational Liaison with the White House," the Attorney General authorized the continuance of FBI direct operational liaison with the White House.

With the exceptions as noted above, the FBI has adhered to a policy that when information is given to the White House the Attorney General is given the same information contemporaneously. Most of this information relates to current matters pertaining to the national security. This dissemination to the White House is sometimes based on requests from the White House but more frequently on the initiative of the FBI.

With regard to any correspondence directed to this Bureau from the White House, short of a file by file review, there is no means of determining whether or not such communications bypassed the Attorney General.

The established rule of furnishing the Attorney General copies of correspondence to the White House should be followed strictly so that the Attorney General is kept fully informed on matters of interest to him.

By memorandum dated 4/23/75, you were advised that former Intelligence Division Supervisor Lish Whitson reported to the writer that he had been interviewed by Mike Epstein of the Senate Select Committee Staff regarding the Martin Luther King case. Whitson had participated in activity at the direction of former Assistant to the Director, William C. Sullivan, relating to the mailing of a package from Florida to King's office. The package had been delivered to Whitson at National Airport on a Saturday by someone unknown to Whitson.

At 5:30 p.m., today, Whitson telephoned the writer to state that he had been contacted by phone just a few minutes before by Mike Epstein. He said that the latter asked him, Whitson, if the person who had met him at National Airport and turned the package over to him was either "Doc" Miller (Fred M. Miller) or John Matter. Whitson said he told Epstein that it was neither of these two former FBI Laboratory employees.

On 7-18-75 Michael Epstein, staff member of the Senate Select Committee, advised that he desires to interview the following Agents: Donald P. Burgess, Robert W. Thomson, O. Richard Hamilton, Charles T. Haynes and Alden F. Miller, all of the Atlanta Office. Additionally, he requested that SA W. John Benton of the Knoxville Office be made available in Atlanta. All interviews will be conducted on Tuesday, 7-22-75. The scope of the interviews will be the Bureau investigation of Martin Luther King. K. William O'Connor, Special Counsel for Intelligence Coordination in the Department, advised Assistant Director John A. Mintz on 7-18-75 that staff interviews would no longer be considered a demand and thus no longer necessitate a waiver of the Code of Federal Regulations provisions concerning interviews.

After securing the approval of Robert H. Cahill of the Administrative Division for the travel of Benton to Atlanta, SAC Harold C. Swanson, Knoxville Office, was telephonically advised on 7-18-75 to arrange that Benton be available in Atlanta, 7-22-75.

RECOMMENDATIONS:

(1) That existing employment agreements of the aforementioned Special Agents be waived for purposes of this interview.

Attached is a copy of a Departmental memorandum which interprets "demand" under 28 Code of Federal Regulations, Section 16.21 et seq. for the purpose of dealing with the Senate Select Committee. The provisions of 16 Code of Federal Regulations, Section 16.21 et seq. requires Departmental approval in those instances where a current or former employee in response to a demand of a court or authority is required to furnish material contained in Departmental files or disclose information contained therein.

The Department decision as set forth in the attachment characterizes all requests by Senate Select Committee staff members as a demand which requires a waiver from the Department prior to the employee's submission to the Committee request.

According to the Departmental position concerning demand, the Director or "the FBI General Counsel" in coordination with the Special Counsel for Intelligence Coordination of the Department may waive the provision of 28 Code of Federal Regulations, Section 16.21 et seq. This is in accordance with the provision of Title 28, Code of Federal Regulations, Section 16.23.

14 AUG ~~11~~ 13 1975

Upon receipt of the attached documents, SA Paul V. Daly and Inspector John B. Hotis of this Division sought clarification concerning the Departmental interpretation of "demand" as set forth in attachment, including whether this interpretation applied to the General Accounting Office (GAO) inquiry into the Bureau. K. William O'Connor, Special Counsel for Intelligence Coordination, stated he believed this might also apply to GAO, however, he had not really thought out this point. He was also asked what was meant by the phrase, "in coordination with this office." Mr. O'Connor indicated that he wanted to be notified of requests for interviews and that was what he meant by the phrase, "in coordination with this office."

He was advised by SA Daly that we had previously received requests for the interview of a number of employees in Atlanta, Georgia, by the Committee and that upon receipt of the attached communication, after consultation with Deputy Special Counsel for Intelligence Coordination Michael Shaheen, SA Daly had telephonically informed John Elliff, head of the domestic intelligence task force for the Committee, of the Department's interpretation as set forth in the attached document and the fact that Mr. Elliff should contact Mr. O'Connor concerning these proposed interviews. Mr. O'Connor said that he had been contacted by Mr. Elliff and had, in fact, told Mr. Elliff there would be no interviews. In this regard, O'Connor stated the Department had prepared a proposed draft letter to the Committee expressing concern for the Fifth Amendment rights for Bureau employees and raising other legal issues. Mr. O'Connor indicated that the finalized form of this letter should be sent to the Committee in the near future.

The results of the conversation with John Elliff by O'Connor have caused the Office of Legal Analysis to receive complaints concerning this decision from various Committee staff members, including Mark Gitenstein and Michael Epstein. We can anticipate, unless this particular problem is resolved, receiving protests from their superiors on the Committee.

RECOMMENDATION:

You will be kept advised of developments concerning this matter. Legal Analysis Office will continue efforts to determine what effect this will have on the GAO inquiry.

SUBJECT: Interpretation of "Demand",
28 C.F.R., § 16.21, et. seq. - Action Memorandum

The meaning of "demand" is not indicated, beyond subpoena, in the C.F.R. sections indicated. This omission creates a need for an interpretation, for purposes of uniform Department of Justice reaction.

Outlines for inquiry proceedings were agreed upon between the White House and the Senate Select Committee on June 13, 1975, and a copy of those procedures was furnished to the Department on June 16, 1975. Under those guidelines, there is a general undertaking by the Committee to identify witnesses to the Agency a reasonable time before the interviews occur. This general rule includes current and former employees; certain exceptions (not clearly defined) are indicated in the guidelines. The Committee is required to provide the witness with a copy of the procedures, and "relevant waivers of secrecy oaths or agreements for the purpose of this inquiry". The Committee is required to give prior notice of an interview, generally, specifying: (a) subject area; (b) periods of employment; (c) the date set for the interview.

Since these structured procedures, taken with the rules of the Subcommittee, may create a requirement of testimony upon witnesses, it seems to me clear that the paragraphs of 28 C.F.R., § 16.21, et. seq., which refer to "demand" should be interpreted to include any request by any Committee staff member to interview any employee, former employee or other person connected with the Department of Justice.

This interpretation requires certain action: (1) that the witness be authorized to speak under § 16.23 by an appropriate Department Official; and, (2) that an appropriate Department Official be designated. I would think that the appropriate Department Official for the FBI should be the Director of the FBI or the FBI General Counsel, in coordination with this office.

On July 23, 1975, Mike Gitenstein, staff member Senate Select Committee, requested that he be given a briefing concerning "Official and Confidential" files. By way of background, we furnished a summary of the inspection inquiry to the Committee by letterhead memorandum dated 7-16-75, and also made available for review in Bureau space a list of people contacted during the course of this inquiry.

With regard to Gitenstein's request it would appear beneficial for us to brief the Senate Select Committee representative concerning the scope and details of this inquiry. In this regard it appears Gitenstein is interested in those individuals who were contacted by the Inspection Division during their inspection into the "Official and Confidential" files.

If approved the briefing will be tentatively scheduled for Friday, July 25, 1975.

RECOMMENDATION:

That a briefing be arranged for Gitenstein concerning the "Official and Confidential" files inspection inquiry by Inspection Division.

SUBJECT: SENSTUDY 75

By memorandum dated June 24, 1975, you were advised of the Department's intention to make a closed Departmental file available to captioned Committee. The file contained the results of a criminal investigation conducted by the Bureau. The Intelligence, General Investigative and Special Investigative Divisions were requested to furnish their views concerning this matter and the Legal Counsel Division was to prepare a letter to the Department setting forth the Bureau's position with regard to this matter.

We have since had discussions with the Attorney General and other representatives of the Department concerning Senate Select Committee access to Bureau files and submitted correspondence to the Department concerning this matter. It would appear additional communications to the Department are unnecessary. The Department is well aware of our position in this matter.

U. S. SENATE SELECT COMMITTEE ON INTELLIGENCE ACTIVITIES (SSC); INTERVIEW OF ASSISTANT DIRECTOR IN CHARGE ROBERT E. GEBHARDT BY SSC STAFF MEMBER

On August 7, 1975, Assistant Director Robert E. Gebhardt, Los Angeles Division, was interviewed in the Los Angeles FBI Office by Mr. Lester Seidel, Staff Member of the Senate Select Committee, United States Senate.

Gebhardt's rights were not explained to him by Seidel although Seidel did explain the purpose of the interview, that is, the Cointel Program of the FBI as it related to the FBI's investigation of the Black Panther Party when Gebhardt was the Special Agent in Charge of the San Francisco Division from 1970 to 1972.

The interview lasted from 9:05 AM until 10:30 AM, and it was not necessary for Gebhardt to consult with any Bureau representative.

Gebhardt had previously been advised by a Bureau representative of his right to counsel, the privileged areas of information, consultation privileges, and the parameters of interview.

Seidel inquired at the outset as to whether Gebhardt was aware of the Cointel Program relative to the Black Panther Party investigation on a day-to-day basis being specifically advised details of the investigation as it relates to the Cointel Program. It was explained to Seidel that as Special Agent in Charge of the San Francisco FBI Office wherein over 500 employees were located at the time, Gebhardt had many responsibilities in the operation of that division and therefore, relied upon the experience, expertise, and judgment of the various supervisors assigned to the office for the day-to-day direction of the various matters under investigation, including the investigation of the Black Panther Party.

It was further explained that if a problem was encountered or a particularly unusual situation developed, Gebhardt was, of course, consulted and was available for such consultation to resolve any particular problem areas.

Gebhardt was next asked if he recalled being SAC when the electronic coverage of the Black Panther Party and the various officials at BBP was instituted and eventually terminated. Seidel was advised that the electronic coverage was already in effect upon Gebhardt's arrival, however, he does recall receiving a phone call after the "Keith Decision" was handed down instructing that all electronic coverage of the BPP and the various members of the BPP be discontinued. The call was received from Bureau Headquarters and the discontinuance was effected immediately.

Seidel inquired as to whether Gebhardt felt the intelligence type investigations should be completely removed from the criminal investigations which investigations would be looking toward eventual prosecution.

Seidel was informed by Gebhardt that even in criminal investigations looking toward prosecutions, much intelligence information is obtained from time to time which really has no value from a prosecutive standpoint, but does have possible value with respect to the direction of the investigation. In some criminal investigations a great deal of intelligence information may be obtained and in other types, very little. Insofar as the FBI is concerned, however, every effort is made to make certain there is some Federal law which would be a basis for an investigation which procedures would include matters commonly referred to as security investigations.

In some instances, in such security investigations a great deal of intelligence information would be obtained therefore, it was Gebhardt's opinion that so-called intelligence type investigations should not be removed from or differentiated from criminal type investigations looking toward prosecutions since intelligence information is an outgrowth of the basic investigation.

Gebhardt was asked if he felt the Cointelpro was a separate entity distinguished from the basic investigation and it was explained that the Cointelpro was a phase of the overall investigation in any particular organization or individual.

Gebhardt was asked if he felt Congress should enact legislation which would set forth specific investigative techniques that could or could not be utilized by the FBI or other Federal investigative agencies. He was advised in Gebhardt's opinion, such legislation should not be enacted, and in reply to the question as to why such legislation should not be enacted, it was pointed out that as an investigative agency, there must of necessity be allowed a certain flexibility because no two investigations are exactly alike and the circumstances of such investigations could possibly not be related to such Federal law.

In answer to the question as to how Congress should assure the American public that questionable activity such as the Cointelpro, was not being engaged in by an investigative agency such as the FBI, Seidel was informed that the Congress and the American people must rely upon the integrity and honesty of the Director of the FBI and the Attorney General.

It was pointed out that both the Director of the FBI and the Attorney General are nominated by the President, hearings are held before the various Congressional Committees and finally approved by the Senate. It was further pointed out that Director Kelley has recently stated in connection with the publicity relative to Cointelpro, that he has no intention of permitting this program to be reinstituted in the FBI and if circumstances ever arose which circumstances he could not contemplated at this time, wherein it was thought such activities should be embarked upon, he would obtain the personal approval of the Attorney General prior to such instituting. Seidel was informed that Gebhardt was in total agreement with this statement of Mr. Kelley.

Gebhardt was asked as to what his feelings were relative to what the relationship should be between the FBI and Congress. He was informed that a Senate Oversight Committee was recently established and it was felt that this was a good start and that this Committee should formalize and standardize their oversight responsibilities and make regular inquiries of the Director and other officials of the FBI as to our activities. He was informed that there should be either a joint oversight committee between the House and Senate or if the Congress decided on two oversight Committees in both the House and Senate, these committees should be the entities through which all information relative to the activities of the FBI should flow.

It was emphasized however, that there should be regular consultation between these representatives and the FBI.

Inquiry was made as to Gebhardt's opinion relative to the relationship between the Department of Justice and the FBI and Seidel was informed the relationship, in Gebhardt's opinion, is excellent, should continue, and there should be a free flow of information between the FBI and the Department of Justice.

At the conclusion of the interview, Gebhardt summed up his comments by stating that Congress should definitely set up a structured oversight procedure of the activities of the FBI with due regard to the confidentiality of many of the FBI operations and investigations and must assure itself that the members of the Committee and its staff will maintain the confidentiality where necessary.

Secondly, in the areas of investigative matters usually referred to as national defense, national security or intelligence operations, all of the FBI investigations must be based on the application of the facts toward a particular Federal statute and if the facts are so oblique that they cannot be clearly applied to a particular Federal statute, consultation with the Department of Justice should be had in all instances.

At 10 a.m., on 6-18-75, Mr. William Miller, Staff Director Senate Select Committee on Intelligence Activities called Inspector John B. Hotis to advise that he heard a report on the radio earlier that morning concerning the alleged penetration of Congressional and Senatorial offices by the KGB or agents of Soviet bloc Nations. Miller said he did not have any further details and stated he was uncertain whether the report alleged actual penetration of the offices or simply increased contacts by the Soviets with Members of Congress. Miller said he believed the source of the report was a television interview of Senator Goldwater (R-Arizona) on Sunday, 6-15-75.

Mr. Miller said the members of the Senate Committee were concerned about these allegations and asked the Federal Bureau of Investigation to inquire into the matter. Assistant Director Wannall has been advised of this request.

RECOMMENDATION:

In view of the sensitivity of this matter, it is recommended that the Intelligence Division prepare an oral briefing for Mr. Miller concerning increased Soviet contacts with Members of Congress.

FOI/PA # 293030

CIVIL ACT. #
E.O. # 12356
DATE 12-19-88 INITIALS GM

PURPOSE:

To advise of receipt of uncorroborated information from Philadelphia Office to the effect that a Staff Member of the Church Committee reportedly, without authorization, Xeroxed a CIA document in possession of the Committee for subsequent transmittal to Congressman Morris Udall.

DETAILS:

Senstudy is acronym for Senate Select Committee on Intelligence Activities (SSC), also known as Church Committee, which Committee is looking into operations of members of the intelligence community.

By teletype 7/30/75, our Philadelphia Office advised that one Robert Thweat, a retired United States Navy Commander, had made available information he received from an unnamed relative. This relative told him that one Daniel O'Flaherty, who is employed with the Church Committee, had on an unknown date removed from his work area, by hiding underneath his shirt, a CIA memorandum containing derogatory information on Senator Henry Jackson. (S) O'Flaherty then Xeroxed the memorandum and provided the Xeroxed copy to an unknown person for subsequent transmittal to Congressman Morris Udall. According to Thweat O'Flaherty had personally related the above information to his relative and reportedly had also related the incident to a Mr. Katz, a former associate who is currently a professor at the University of Vanderbilt, Nashville, Tennessee. Memorandum to Mr. W. R. Wannall reportedly voiced his displeasure to O'Flaherty stating he did not approve of the latter's action. The memorandum in question dealt with CIA's possible use of derogatory information to determine the direction Senator Jackson would take in future actions he might encounter which might involve CIA activity. ~~(S)~~ Thweat advised he would recontact his relative to determine if this individual would come forward, reveal his identity and be cooperative in any investigation.

A memorandum from CIA dated 7/29/75 indicates that James Daniel O'Flaherty, born 11/4/42, is a member of the Staff ~~(S)~~ of SSC and has been granted a security clearance up to "Top Secret." ~~(S)~~

On the morning of 7/31/75, Philadelphia Office was telephonically contacted and instructed to expedite a contact with Thweat to determine the availability of his relative. At approximately 2:30 p.m., 7/31/75, Philadelphia Office advised that Thweat, upon recontact, had stated that it would be impossible to contact his relative before this coming weekend. In conversation, he identified his relative as a niece who is currently attending school in Washington, D. C. He further advised that O'Flaherty reportedly is no longer residing with his wife and is engaged in an emotional relationship with his niece. Thweat added he believed his niece would be cooperative as she has expressed her disapproval of O'Flaherty's action. He concluded by saying that upon determination of his niece's decision in this regard he would immediately advise the Philadelphia Office.

OBSERVATIONS:

The above information, if accurate, represents a serious violation of the agreement regarding confidentiality existing between the SSC and members of the intelligence community as it relates to material being turned over or made available to Staff Members of the Committee. It is incumbent upon this Bureau to make the above information available at the earliest logical time and in the most complete form possible to the Department, CIA, and Senators Frank Church and John G. Tower of the SSC. Accordingly, an interview by Bureau Agents of Thweat's niece, if she agrees to cooperate, would appear desirable before initiating any action on the basis of information received to date.

Additionally, it is not known at this time whether or not the document reportedly Xeroxed by O'Flaherty is classified. In our continuing inquiry into this matter, attempts will be made to identify document, determine whether it contains classified information and ascertain whether or not a violation of Federal statutes exists.

RECOMMENDATIONS:

1. That contact be maintained with the Philadelphia Office to insure that the desired information concerning Thweat's niece be expeditiously obtained. If she agrees to cooperate, she will be immediately interviewed and pertinent information obtained furnished, via established liaison channels, to the Department, CIA, and Senators Church and Tower. Appropriate field offices will be instructed to conduct necessary investigation to corroborate the information and to determine if a possible violation of Federal statutes has been committed.

2. If Thweat's niece declines cooperativeness, pertinent information obtained thus far will, in memorandum form concealing identity of source, be furnished via established liaison channels to the Department, CIA, and Senators Church and Tower. Additionally, a lead will be sent to the Memphis Office to interview Professor Katz at the University of Vanderbilt in an attempt to corroborate the allegation.

ADDENDUM PAUL L. MACK/mah 8/5/75

The Intelligence Division advised Philadelphia Office telephonically informed FBIHQ on 8/5/75 that Thweat had returned to Philadelphia from seeing his niece and indicated she would talk to the FBI on the condition that she would go to Philadelphia about 8/22/75 to talk to the Agent who is a personal friend of Thweat and to whom he initially confided the information regarding this matter. Philadelphia was advised in view of the time lag a more preferable alternative would be for WFO Agents to contact the niece or as another alternative the Philadelphia Agent would travel to Washington, D. C., to conduct the interview. Philadelphia was requested to expeditiously recontact Thweat concerning the above possibilities.

On September 25, 1959, Jaffe, who is a good friend of the Bureau and who did two radio shows on the New York Office, came by and talked with Kemper. (u)

Jaffe has been on the Khrushchev trip, and he said it was the most hectic thing he has ever had to do in his life. He said there was no question about Khrushchev's anger in Los Angeles and that one of the aides told him, "Don't be surprised if the old man doesn't suddenly get up and go home." He said the security of Khrushchev was badly handled and that Roswell Garst, Coon Rapids, Iowa, the millionaire farmer, is no more than a publicity seeker and is a real "corn ball." (c)

He said one amusing thing happened in San Francisco. At about 7:15 in the morning Khrushchev decided to take a walk and, apparently, caught his bodyguards flatfooted. He headed down the street with the guards streaming out the doors behind him, some of them buttoning their clothes as they ran.

Jaffe is trying to get back to Russia (CBS lost their correspondents after the television show that was critical of Stalin, et al.) and he has been working with people at the embassy to try and get back. He said that he wanted to go back and have a television interview with Khrushchev on his reaction to his trip and that he had been in touch with Viktor Osipov, who is a second secretary in the embassy and attached to the Cultural Section. He said that at the reception at the embassy on Thursday night, Osipov told him to submit his list of questions and he would see what they could do about getting him to Moscow to interview Khrushchev.

Jaffe said that he felt that the over-all trip by Khrushchev would be beneficial, particularly in case of a hot war because Khrushchev, having seen the country and the people, may hesitate before "pushing the button."

This morning Kemper took a call from Mr. Sam Jaffe, CBS News--Television, New York, Plaza 1-2345, Extension 7801. He wanted to know if it would be possible to interview the Director in connection with the current juvenile delinquency problem in New York City. Kemper told Jaffe that the Director had a firm policy in not injecting himself into local matters; and accordingly, the Director could not comply with this request. (u)

Jaffe then wanted to know if it would be possible to interview SAC Foster on the problem of juvenile delinquency, but that this interview would be general in nature and would not refer to the specific New York problem, but would cover the broad national picture. (u)

Kemper advised Jaffe that again it would be injecting the FBI into the local situation, and we did not deem this advisable. Jaffe agreed. Kemper called SAC Foster and alerted him to Jaffe's call and explained to him the reasons. Foster said that he would be alert to keeping out of the situation as it developed in New York. (u)

Informant's wife was briefly acquainted with the Bureau's interest in the Soviets as this interest stems from the Bureau's jurisdiction in matters involving the internal security of the US. At the same time her attention was called to recent publicity appearing in the "NY Herald Tribune" about the Bureau's interest in the Soviets. She was also told that the Bureau wanted to be sure that its interest in the Soviets in no way interfered with the United Nations in its efforts to achieve the very worthy aims and purposes for which it was formed. (C)

Informant's wife was most pleasant while at the New York Office and this office does not anticipate that any problems will arise in the handling of informant in the future as a result of his marital problems. (U)

Developments in this matter will be called to the Bureau's attention. (U)

HOURWICH was also a contact of the League of American Artists and Writers. (u)

Informant advised that through her attorney, his wife has expressed a desire to obtain a divorce immediately. Informant has agreed to give his wife a divorce providing she will give him $11,000 in bearer bonds, $5,000 for furniture in their apartment and pay attorney fees as well as agree to let informant see his children frequently. To this his wife has refused to agree. (u)

On June 30, 1959, informant met his wife to discuss the matter of a settlement. During this discussion, informant's wife threatened to ruin informant at CBS (his employer), tell his children that he married her for her money when they grow up and to tell the Russians that he is working with the FBI. Informant said that he considered these to be idle threats on the part of his wife; however, he was very concerned about the effect his wife's threats would have on his career as a news reporter if she carried them out. Informant pointed out that he is very anxious to travel to Russia and China and possibly represent CBS in one of these countries at some future time. He said that he would never be permitted to travel to these countries if his wife ever said anything to the Russians about his talking to the FBI. (C)

Informant has always been most security conscious about the possibility of it becoming known that he was furnishing information to the Bureau. However, as a news reporter with CBS, he has had open contact with this office (C) since at least 10/30/57, when he and a CBS camera crew made a feature film in the NYO. Informant said that his wife has been aware of the fact that he has been in contact with the Bureau and that he has been in contact with the Russians. However, she does not know that he has been furnishing information to the Bureau about the Russians on a continuing basis. Informant agreed that she may have assumed that he is doing this or that her threat to tell the Soviets that he is talking to the FBI indicated she would do this even if it were not true, in order to harm informant. (C)

The voluntary aspect of informant's cooperation was called to informant's attention, as well as the fact that his cooperation must be on a strictly confidential basis at all times. Informant acknowledges that this had been repeatedly called to his attention. He was then asked if he wanted to continue to furnish information to the Bureau. Informant said that he has great respect for the Bureau and he feels duty bound to continue to furnish information to the Bureau about the Soviets. However, he reiterated a statement he has made in the past to the effect that he could not do anything other than furnish information. (C)

Informant was told to bear in mind that he has had open contacts with this office and if he ever has occasion to explain his contacts with the Bureau, to do so on the basis of his news reporting activities. It was also suggested to informant that he refrain from bringing up the threats made by his wife in conversation with her, particularly the threat about telling the Russians he is talking to the FBI. This office recommends that contact be continued with informant as he has furnished valuable information and is himself very security conscious and desirous of furnishing information to the Bureau. Consideration has been given to contacting informant's wife, however, this would only serve to confirm what she appears to have assumed and might possibly add impetus to the situation existing between informant and his wife. Should informant's wife carry out any or all of her threats, informant understands that his cooperation has been voluntary and will continue to be voluntary. Informant was interviewed on 5/12/59 at which time he advised that it is fairly certain that he and his wife will be divorced and all possibilities of a reconciliation have been exhausted. Informant presumes that his wife will obtain the divorce in Reno, Nevada on a date as yet undetermined. Informant does not anticipate any scandal in connection with the divorce nor does he anticipate any publicity unless it results from the inability of he and his wife to resolve the problem of custody of their children. During this interview, the informant advised that he is still desirous of travelling to Red China as a news reporter and toward this end he has written to the Chinese Legation in London and forwarded three copies of "Face of Red China", a pamphlet prepared by CBS concerning a television presentation of the same name. In reply, he received a letter from the Third Secretary of the Chinese Legation, who advised him that he was forwarding two copies of "Face of Red China" to Peking and he was reapplying for a visa for the informant. The informant was interviewed on April 28, 1959, at which time he advised that he completed reading the article concerning the FBI in the October 18, 1958 issue of "The Nation". The informant said that he was very unimpressed with the content of the article and was, of course, well aware of the fact that it contained a mass of untrue information. (U)

However, the informant said that he was not personally acquainted with FRED J. COOK, the author, and could not possibly be aware of the motive COOK might have had for writing the article. The informant did express the opinion that COOK must have thought that an article such as this would benefit him financially although he does not know this to be true. (U)

However, the informant said that the article is indicative of the thinking of CAREY MC WILLIAMS, Editor of "The Nation", and "The Nation's" Publisher, GEORGE G. KERSTEIN. The informant expressed the belief that MC WILLIAMS and KERSTEIN would publish any article which attacked the Bureau, the House on Un-American Activities Committee, and almost any other government organization. (U)

This office has considered obtaining a signed statement of cooperation from the informant. It is not believed that it would be advisable to obtain such a signed statement from the informant, inasmuch as the informant is a news reporter employed by the Columbia Broadcasting System. OK

On 4/20/59, [redacted] advised that he had seen KALININ at the Bar of the Delegates Lounge, at the UN, on 4/14/59. According to the informant, KALININ was seen with SAM JAFFE, a CBS News Reporter. [redacted] advised that JAFFE and KALININ are very friendly and the informant indicated he has seen these individuals together on a number of occasions for long periods of time. (C)

Informant advised he is not aware of the relationship which exists between JAFFE and KALININ. (C)

As the Bureau is aware, SAM JAFFE is [redacted] of the NYO and his identity must be protected. (C)

Informant indicated that KALININ noticed him at the bar in the Delegates Lounge and nodded in a friendly manner but did not suggest that [redacted] join him and JAFFE. (C)

ReNYlet, 3/3/59.

Informant was interviewed on 3/25/59, at which time he advised that his marital difficulties have not been resolved and in recent conversations with his wife she told him that she had been seeing another man while married to him. Informant does not know the identity of this other man and inspite of this he is still willing to reconcile his differences with his wife in the interests of his children. No legal action has been started by either informant or his wife, Although informant has considered seeking the advice of an attorney, he has not been able to effect a reconciliation in a reasonable time. (U)

Informant does not show any signs of instability and to date he has proven to be reliable. However, he does show some concern for his children and is obviously upset over his marital difficulties. This office will keep abreast of matters pertaining to difficulties between informant and his wife and the Bureau will be kept advised. (U)

NYlet to Bureau dated 2/16/59, reflects that the informant was given a copy of the 10/18/58 issue of "The Nation" on 2/12/59. This issue of this magazine contained an article concerning the FBI, written by FRED J. COOK, in an apparent effort to "smear" the Bureau. Informant has been contacted on several occasions since he was given this article to read and on both occasions he advised that he has not been able to complete this article. He has always requested permission to keep the article so that he might finish reading it. Comments concerning the article will be solicited from informant when he completes reading it and the Bureau will be advised. (U)

ReNYlet, dated 2/16/59.

On 2/24/59, JAFFE was interviewed by SAS JOHN G. WILLIS and EDWARD F. GAMBER. On the occasion of this interview, JAFFE was furnished with a copy of the 10/18/58 issue of "The Nation", which contained an article about the FBI. When JAFFE is next interviewed, his reactions to this article will be obtained as well as any comments he might make concerning the author or staff of "The Nation". (U)

On 2/24/59, JAFFE advised that his marital difficulties have not been resolved and his wife has not instituted divorce proceedings as yet. He is still desirous of affecting a reconciliation and is making every effort to do this. He does not intend to make any effort to dissolve his marriage. JAFFE said that his wife is emotionally disturbed and in need of the services of a marriage counselor. He said that her difficulties stem from a childhood in which parental love and affection were lacking. He is interested in seeking professional treatment for her but could not obtain her cooperation. JAFFE was interviewed on 2/12/59, by SAS JOHN F. MABEY and EDWARD F. GAMBER. During this interview, JAFFE advised that as of 1/30/59, he moved out of the apartment which he and his family shared. He said that this move was made at the request of his wife, who told him that she no longer feels any affection for him. JAFFE stated that his wife is emotionally immature and that his marital difficulties do not stem from any other romantic interest on the part of his wife or himself. JAFFE sincerely hopes that he can effect a reconciliation and he exhibits very sincere concern for the welfare of his children. (U)

According to JAFFE, his wife intends to obtain a divorce, the grounds for which will probably be incompatibility. He has not as yet sought legal counsel and will not do so until such time as his wife makes some overt move. He is still very hopeful of effecting a reconciliation. (U)

This matter will be closely followed and the Bureau will be kept advised. (U)

ReBulet, 1/28/59.

JAFFE was interviewed by SAS JOHN F. MABEY and EDWARD F. GAMBER on 2/12/59. (JAFFE's identity should be protected.) As usual, JAFFE was most pleasant and cooperative. (U)

During the interview, JAFFE was casually asked if he had read the article about the FBI in the 10/18/58 issue of "The Nation." The introduction of this topic into the interview was very casual and the exact date of the issue in which the article appeared was not actually mentioned. JAFFE said that he did not read this article nor had he heard about the article. Interviewing Agents then told JAFFE that the article was written in an apparent effort to "smear" the Bureau. The Agents commented that the Bureau always welcomes constructive criticism and upon receipt of same, has always taken expeditious steps to make any warranted changes in its operations. However, the article appearing in "The Nation" contained no constructive criticism and in fact, the criticism contained therein was based on untruths, erroneous conclusions, and biased innuendoes. (U)

JAFFE said that he would like very much to read this article and asked who the author was. When the name of FRED J. COOK was mentioned, it meant nothing to JAFFE, but when JAFFE was told that COOK wrote for the "New York World Telegram and Sun," he expressed amazement. Interviewing Agents expressed idle interest in knowing whatever provoked the writing and publication of such an article and this evoked from JAFFE the comment that CAREY MC WILLIAMS, editor of "The Nation," was undoubtedly the moving factor behind such an article appearing in "The Nation." He said that CAREY MC WILLIAMS is violently anti-Bureau, was anti-"McCarthy", is anti-House Un-American Activities (U)

Committee, anti-Secretary of State JOHN FOSTER DULLES, and anti just about everything. He said that MC WILLIAMS is a fanatical and extreme liberal. (C)

JAFFE hastened to explain during this conversation that he was never a staff employee of "The Nation" but that he was employed by "The Nation" on a temporary basis. He said that he has not had any contact with "The Nation" or its employees or officials since he left his temporary employment with this publication. However, when JAFFE went to work at the Columbia Broadcasting System, where he is now employed as a news reporter, he gave CAREY MC WILLIAMS as a reference. (C)

In a further discussion of "The Nation", JAFFE said that "The Nation" was at one time published by FREIDA KIRSHWAY, but that she now acts in an advisory capacity to this publication. She sold the publication to an individual named KERSTEIN, according to JAFFE, and JAFFE believes that this individual is associated with the Federated Department Stores in Boston, Mass. It is JAFFE's belief that this man's resources provide the sole source of financial backing for "The Nation." (C)

"The Nation" lists as its publisher GEORGE G. KERSTEIN.

[redacted] is the subject of Bureau file 100-998. [redacted]. (C)

In connection with our interest in learning who is behind the "smear campaign," highlighted by the article appearing in the 10/18/58 issue of "The Nation," this office is going to make a copy of this issue available to JAFFE so that he can read it. In this way, it is felt that further comments from JAFFE concerning the article and the people behind "The Nation" will be spontaneously brought forth in subsequent interviews with him. (C)

Inquiry concerning "The Nation" was made during an interview with JAFFE which encompassed some casual conversation, as well as inquiry concerning his association with Soviet nationals. JAFFE's reaction to the casual inquiry about "The Nation" was such that no possible embarrassment to the Bureau can result. He is most cooperative and anxious to assist the Bureau. (C)

The Bureau will be kept advised.

SAMUEL ADASON JAFFE, aka.

Reurlet dated January 15, 1959.

Authority granted to continue contacts with Jaffe for development as a potential security informant. This should be handled in accordance with Section 107, Manual of Instructions.

The Bureau considers subject to be of interest to the Soviets and has authorized continued contact with him in view of his apparent potential as a source against the Soviets. The Bureau has followed closely information furnished by Jaffe and it appears he is progressing satisfactorily and is in a logical position to furnish us information of interest concerning our coverage of the Soviets. It is desired that this phase of his development be carefully followed on a continuing basis.

The Bureau has been alert to the potential value that subject might have since the publication of the article "The FBI" in the October 18, 1958, issue of "The Nation." In view of subject's cooperation with the Bureau and his respect for, interest in and appreciation of the confidential nature of the Bureau's work, you are authorized to discreetly and tactfully bring up the subject of "The Nation" in an early contact with subject for the purpose of determining his reaction to the above article. If Jaffe appears inclined to discuss this article, you should guide the discussion in the initial interview or subsequent contacts to ascertain who on "The Nation" staff is behind the "smear campaign" highlighted by above article. Two experienced agents familiar with press relations matters should handle interview when "The Nation" is first brought up. Obviously, at least one Agent must be one who has handled the development of Jaffe but in view of possible ramifications Bureau desires both be conversant with over-all need for good press relations.

Subject is Columbia Broadcasting System (CBS) news reporter. He has had extensive contact with Soviets in official capacity since 1951. He traveled in Asia, including Red China, interviewed Red China's Premier Chou-En-lai in 1955. He wrote five articles in "The Nation" from 1951-55. He was interviewed by Bureau Agents 1-3-56 at his request. He participated in making a film for CBS in the New York Office in 1957. He was cooperative. He was interviewed 9-12-58 after Bureau approval to determine his attitude toward cooperation with Bureau concerning his knowledge and contact of Soviets in New York. He has been contacted and furnished significant information on seven occasions since that time. (C)

In response to Bulets 11-21-58 and 12-2-58 authorizing continued contact with Jaffe to further his development and alerting New York to possibility of obtaining information from Jaffe concerning "The Nation," New York, by letter 1-15-59, has indicated that they believe that in view of subject's cooperation and reaction to our contact with him, they can discreetly and tactfully bring up the subject of "The Nation" in the course of a conversation with Jaffe. (C)

Subject is acquainted with four known Soviet-satellite intelligence agents. He has furnished information concerning an additional two Soviet officials. He is still interested in traveling to Red China and in his contacts with the New York Office, he has indicated that he will keep confidential his relationship with the Bureau and does not expect favors as a result of cooperation furnished. His uncle was formerly on the Security Index of the New York Office but was cooperative when interviewed by Bureau Agents. (C)

The New York Office requests Bureau permission to develop subject as a potential security informant and stated they will make no mention of "The Nation" without Bureau authority. (C)

JAFFE was initially interviewed on 9/12/58, and subsequent to that time he was interviewed on 11/6, 12/12,4, 10,31/58 and 1/9/59. During these interviews he has been most cooperative, and has furnished information concerning numerous Soviet and Satellite Nationals with whom he is acquainted. His acquaintance with these people stems from his employment as a news reporter with the Columbia Broadcasting System (CBS), in which capacity he feels that he needs news sources in Soviet and Satellite circles. Included among his acquaintances are the following Soviet nationals: (C)

NIKOLAI S. KALININ, known Soviet intelligence agent.

JAFFE is the recipient of invitations to social functions at the homes of Soviet nationals and at the Soviet UN Delegation. He in turn entertains Soviet nationals at his home. (C)

JAFFE's acquaintance with VLADIMIR B. BARKOVSKY is of such a nature that it might possibly result in a double agent operation. BARKOVSKY has made inquiry of JAFFE concerning individuals, groups and business firms on the West Coast of the United States who were interested in seeing trade restrictions placed on trade with Red China eased. JAFFE furnished some information concerning this to BARKOVSKY, and the extent to which BARKOVSKY's inquiries along this line will go are not as yet known. BARKOVSKY also asked JAFFE to put in writing his impressions and an analysis of the political scene in the US, and told JAFFE that he would pay him for doing this. JAFFE refused the offer. (C)

On 11/14/58, [redacted] advised that during the week prior to 11/14/58, JAFFE was sitting at a table in the North Delegate's lounge at the UN Secretariat in the company of ERNESTO DE LOSSA of the Panama Delegation to the UN and FRANK R. BEGLEY, a US staff member at the UN Secretariat. After leaving JAFFE and BEGLEY, DE LOSSA told source that BEGLEY warned him to be careful of JAFFE, because he was suspected of being a Communist. This is the only source from which any information was obtained indicating that JAFFE was suspected of being a Communist. Investigation did reveal that JAFFE was at one time a correspondent for "The Nation". (C)

Bulet 11/21/58, in instant matter, states that in any contacts which this office has with JAFFE, agents should be alert to any information indicating that he has contacts presently on the staff of "The Nation", or knowledge of any individuals employed therewith. This letter further states that prior to bringing (U) this subject up with JAFFE, recommendations regarding contact with JAFFE on this subject should be submitted to the Bureau upon completion of the remaining lead in the background investigation of subject. Bulet 12/2/58, sets forth information with respect to JAFFE's former association with "The Nation", and states that the letter is not intended to create the impression that this office should bring up the question of "The Nation" in its discussion with him. (U)

done by WFO let 1-15-59

The WFO has not as yet advised this office of the results of its check of CIA files for information concerning JAFFE. Accordingly, this office has not submitted any recommendation regarding contact with JAFFE concerning "The Nation". However, in the course of contacts with JAFFE, he has stated that in his employment with the CBS, he is prohibited from writing articles for any newspaper or magazine, or doing work for any other organization without the express permission of CBS. Therefore, it does not appear that JAFFE is presently affiliated with "The Nation" in any respect. (U)

It is obvious through conversations which interviewing agents have had with JAFFE that he has the utmost respect for the Bureau, and is extremely interested in the Bureau's work. He has had contacts with Bureau personnel on matters related to his position as a news reporter with CBS, and he has spoken of these contacts in a manner reflecting the utmost respect for the personnel with whom he has had contact. He shows a sincere appreciation for the confidential nature of the Bureau's work, and speaks of the very professional manner in which he has found Bureau agents conducting themselves as compared to representatives of other law enforcement agencies with whom he is in contact. (U)

If the Bureau so desires, this office believes that the subject of "The Nation" could be discreetly and tactfully brought up in the course of a conversation with JAFFE. This may then be discussed in a conversational vein serving the purpose of exploring JAFFE's present knowledge of the staff of "The Nation". This subject will not be brought up with JAFFE in the absence of Bureau permission. (U)

Every opportunity has been taken to acquaint JAFFE with the fact that his relationship with the Bureau must be held in strictest confidence at all times. JAFFE has made known the fact on repeated occasions that information which he furnishes to the Bureau must be handled in strictest confidence, since if it became known that he were furnishing information to the Bureau, his position as a news reporter would be jeopardized. JAFFE has been told to use the facilities of a public pay station when telephonically contacting this office, and that he should not have any personal contact at the NYO. However, these latter instructions were qualified to the extent that if in his position as a news reporter it is necessary for him to contact this office concerning matters other than those on which he is furnishing information to this office, he must of course feel free to do so. JAFFE has been told he is not to consider himself to be an employee of the Bureau and that his cooperation with the Bureau is to be on a voluntary basis at all times. The Bureau's labor policy was explained to JAFFE inasmuch as he is a member of a labor union. (U)

JAFFE has been told that under no circumstances would the fact that he is cooperating with the Bureau in furnishing information to the Bureau, place him in the position of receiving preferential treatment (U) when news releases were made by the Bureau. He was advised that an inquiry which he might make through this office in connection with his employment should be made through normal channels, and not through agents to whom he is furnishing information. JAFFE fully understands that he is not to be the recipient of any personal consideration in matters of public interest being investigated by the Bureau. Furthermore, he fully understands the necessity for this, and at no time has indicated that he expected to be the recipient of any personal favors. (C)

Inasmuch as JAFFE is being contacted on a rather regular basis, and has been found to be most cooperative, this office desires to take steps to develop him as a PSI. It is noted that some steps along this line have already been taken in order to capitalize on existing situations, as well as JAFFE's very favorable attitude concerning these situations. (U)

Bureau permission is requested for this office to develop JAFFE as a PSI. (C)

In addition to information set forth in enclosed letterhead memorandum, JAFFE advised that CBS is making a motion picture film of MIKOYAN's visit to the US which will be given to MIKOYAN. This is an effort on the part of CBS to restore itself to the good graces of the Soviets. It is noted that CBS no longer has any representation in Moscow since their correspondent was forced to leave Moscow at the request of the Soviets. (C)

JAFFE told this to BARKOVSKY and asked BARKOVSKY if he could arrange an interview for him with MIKOYAN. BARKOVSKY told JAFFE that it would be impossible for him to arrange an interview for JAFFE with MIKOYAN, inasmuch as he represents CBS. (C)

BARKOVSKY said that he would, however, endeavor to obtain an invitation for JAFFE to a reception which may be given for MIKOYAN. BARKOVSKY also asked JAFFE when CBS was going to do something to restore themselves in the good graces of the Soviets. JAFFE, other than telling BARKOVSKY about the film being made of MIKOYAN's visit to the US, knew of no other effort being made by CBS along these lines. (C)

Concerning JAFFE's desire to interview MIKOYAN, and the invitation which he would try to get for JAFFE to a reception which might be given for MIKOYAN, BARKOVSKY said that the decision would be made by a press (C) officer at the Soviet Embassy, Washington, D.C. When JAFFE asked BARKOVSKY for the name of the press officer, he told JAFFE that he did not know. JAFFE asked BARKOVSKY who he was kidding when he said he did not know the name of the press officer, but BARKOVSKY insisted that he did not know the name of the press officer. (C)

This information has not been included in the enclosed memorandum as it would tend to disclose JAFFE as the source of this information. (C)

The Bureau will be immediately advised of any information which JAFFE furnishes concerning MIKOYAN. (C)

An informant, who is in a position to furnish reliable information, advised that subject and his wife visited his home on the evening of December 31, 1958, arriving at approximately 8:30 p.m., and departing at approximately 11:45 p.m. In addition to the subject and his wife, Nikolai S. Kalinin was also present. Subject brought informant and his wife a pictorial book on Russia. C

During the evening, Barkovsky told informant that Deputy Soviet Premier Anastas I. Mikoyan may visit San Francisco, California, and he wanted the informant to suggest several groups before whom Mikoyan might speak in California. Informant told subject that the Commonwealth Club of San Francisco had among its members all of the foremost citizens in the San Francisco community, and he would suggest, if possible, Mikoyan speak before this club, as well as the San Francisco Press Club. C

Informant also took the opportunity to tell subject that in a recent conversation with his father on the telephone, he asked his father about the identity of business concerns on the West Coast of the United States desirous of doing business with Red China. C

It is noted that while informant was in subject's company on December 5, 1958, he asked informant for information concerning business concerns on the West Coast of the United States desirous of doing business with Red China. C

The informant told subject that his father furnished him the names of several individuals who have spoken in favor of trade with Red China. C

Most of the conversation at informant's home on the evening of December 31, 1958, was of a social nature, however, subject showed a definite interest in the information which informant gave to him about business concerns interested in trade with Red China, and accordingly, informant arranged to have lunch with subject on January 5, 1959. C

On January 5, 1959, informant did have lunch with subject, and subject again brought up the matter of Mikoyan's visit to San Frandsco, and asked informant for some background information on the clubs which he mentioned. Informant told subject that he conversed with his father on the telephone, over the weekend, and his father agreed that Mikoyan would do well to speak before the Commonwealth Club and the San Francisco Press Club. C

Subject asked informant about the Union League Club in San Francisco, and informant told him that this club merged with the San Francisco Press Club, although not all members of this club are members of the Press. C

He told subject that the Union League Club was one of the best clubs in San Francisco, and that it and the Commonwealth Club have as members all of the influential people in San Francisco. Subject told informant that he would pass this information to the Soviet Embassy in Washington, D.C., but that for the most part, the Soviets were relying on Eric Johnston, President of the Motion Picture Association of America, when arranging Mikoyan's activities. C

Subject told informant that the Soviets still owned property in San Francisco, which he believed C to include a building. It was the subject's opinion that somebody from Washington, D.C. would accompany Mikoyan for the purpose of inspecting this property, inasmuch as the Soviets did not get an opportunity to visit San Francisco too often. Subject mentioned to informant that he traveled through San Francisco on his way from Japan to Russia during World War II.

During lunch, subject asked informant about the information he had obtained concerning business concerns on the WestCoast of the United States desirous of doing business with Red China. C

Informant verbally repeated what he had told the subject on the evening of December 31, 1958, mentioning that there were over 700 organizations in the San Francisco area who favored trade with China. At subject's request, informant wrote on a piece of paper, the names of individuals who have spoken in favor of trade with Red China. C

The names which he wrote on the paper were those of James P. Wilson, Manager of the World Trade Department of the San Francisco Chamber of Commerce; George E. Talmage, Vice President of Pacific Transport Line and States Lines; John S. Bolles, Head of the Chamber of Commerce's Industry Committee and Malcolm W. Boyd, Assistant Publisher of the "Pacific Shipper". U

In addition, informant told subject that "The Dispatcher", official organ of the International Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's Union endorsed a policy favorable to trade with Red China. C

Subject told informant that trade with Red China would help the United States by increasing trade between the United States and Russia, as the Russians would much rather pick up goods on the West Coast of the C

United States than to pick these goods up elsewhere. He made no further request of informant for information concerning business concerns desirous of doing business with Red China.

During lunch, subject also asked informant what the reaction in the United States has been to the visit of Mikoyan. Informant told subject that it is too early to tell, as we do not even know why Mikoyan is here. He told subject that there was too much of a mystery surrounding Mikoyan's visit and subject then asked informant if there was not any reaction at all. Informant told Barkovsky that there was none of which he was aware. C

On 12/31/58, SAMUEL ADASON JAFFE, news reporter, Columbia Broadcasting System, NYC, (PSI protect identity), was interviewed by SAs LAWRENCE J. DOYLE and EDWARD F. GAMBER. On this occasion subject's interest in ascertaining information with respect to business concerns on the West Coast of the United States desirous of doing business with Red China was discussed with JAFFE. It should be noted that in conversation with subject on 12/5/58, subject suggested to JAFFE that his father, whom he met, would be able to ascertain information with respect to business concerns desirous of doing business with Red China. JAFFE told subject that his father was in the Hawaiian Islands and would not return until the middle of next year. (U)

JAFFE advised that his father has returned to San Francisco and he has talked with him on the phone. He suggested that he could tell the subject that he asked his father about business concerns on the West Coast desirous of doing business with Red China while conversing with him on the phone. (U)

It was agreed that JAFFE in his next conversation of any length with the subject, will recall subject's interest in business concerns desirous of doing business (U)

JAMES P. WILSON, Manager of the World Trade Department of the San Francisco Chamber of Commerce; GEORGE E. TALMAGE, JR., Vice-President of Pacific Transport Line and States Lines; JOHN S. BOLLES, Head of the Chamber of Comerce's Industries Committee, and MALCOLM W. BOYD, Assistant Publisher of the "Pacific Shipper", have all spoken in favor of Red China. In addition, "The Dispatcher", official organ of the International Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's Union endorses a policy favorable to trade with Red China. (u)

The above information was furnished to the Bureau and this office in San Francisco letter, 12/23/58, and is all available from public sources. It will be furnished to subject verbally by JAFFE for the purpose of exploring subject's interest in the matter and possibly provoking a further request for information from subject. (C)

It should be noted that JAFFE has been reminded that his cooperation with the Bureau is on a strictly voluntary basis and that he has been constantly reminded of the necessity for maintaining his relationship with the Bureau in strict confidence. (C)

On 12/31/58, JAFFE advised that NIKOLAI S. KALININ, was at his home on Christmas Eve along with members of JAFFE's family. One of these members of JAFFE's family was IRVING KAHN, who is a member of the brokerage firm of J. R. Williston and Company and also on the (C)

Board of Directors of the Great Atlantic and Pacific Tea Company (A & P). During the evening in conversation with KAHN, KALININ told KAHN that ANASTAS MIKOYAN, Deputy Soviet Premier, would like to observe the operation of a large food store chain during his forthcoming visit to the United States, and he, KALININ, was wondering if KAHN could arrange to have MIKOYAN meet the president of the A & P as well as observe the operations of this firm. KAHN told KALININ that he thought this could be arranged. Subsequent to his conversation with KALININ, KAHN told JAFFE about it and expressed his intention to see if he could arrange to fulfill MIKOYAN's desire as expressed by KALININ. KAHN will keep JAFFE advised of any arrangements which he makes and JAFFE will in turn immediately advise this office. (C)

This office does not believe that KALININ, as a translator assigned to the United Nations Secretariat, holds a position in which he would be permitted to make arrangements for any activities of MIKOYAN while MIKOYAN is in the United States. KALININ is not known to be an exceptionally intelligent or polished individual and it is unlikely that he will be one of the Soviet Nationals closely associated with MIKOYAN while MIKOYAN is in the United States. Accordingly, the above information has not been included in a memorandum suitable for dissemination; however, if in the future more concrete information with respect to KALININ's efforts to arrange a visit for MIKOYAN to the A & P comes to the attention of this office, it will be included in a memorandum suitable for dissemination. The Bureau will be kept advised.

The World Trade Division, San Francisco Chamber of Commerce, maintains a file containing news releases concerning trade with Red China. An article appearing in the "San Francisco Chronicle," Sunday, June 9, 1957, by JACK FOISIE, entitled "Local Traders Want to End Red China Ban." The fist paragraph of this article is as follows: "This City's 730 foreign traders are mounting pressure on the EISENHOWER Administration to end, or at least relax, the embargo against trade with Communist China, import-export leaders said yesterday." Paragraph nine of this article states GEORGE E. TALMAGE, JR., Vice President of Pacific Transport Line -- States Lines, speaking as President of the San Francisco Area World Trade Association, favors trade with Red China. (U)

Another release dated Thursday, 4/11/57, stated "Relaxation of the U.S. Government's Embargo policy regardingtrade with Red China was urged today by MALCOLM W. BOYD, Assistant Publisher of the Pacific Shipper, at a luncheon held at the Fairmont Hotel by the San Francisco Area World Trade Association, San Francisco Chamber of Commerce affiliate. (U)

"BOYD charged 'there is too much emotion involved in the Government's policy in Eastern Asia. It's a question which should be decided on fact, not emotion.

"'The present policy may or may not be a correct one,' he added, 'but the decision about it should not be based on likes and dislikes.' (U)

"BOYD said 'the electorate of the country' is entitled to more accurate information from U.S. Government sources. 'We are too dependent on Chinese propaganda and reports of foreign businessmen touring China because the State Department won't allow American newsmen to enter the country. (U)

"'We should put the heat on our own Government to get non-military facts about what is going on in China. (U)

"'The State and Defense Departments won't tell us the extent of shipping calling at Chinese ports,' he continued, 'consequently, we're fumbling in the dark for the facts.' (U)

"BOYD said that the list of European and Japanese shipping companies doing business in Chinese Mainland ports 'Reads like a maritime blue book.' He warned that a continued U.S. embargo means 'forfeiture of trade to the British and Scandinavians if and when the time comes that the embargo is lifted, at least for non-strategic materials.' (U)

"U.S. Naval Intelligence figures were cited for March, 1956. Out of 183 'non-communist registered vessels' grossing 1,130,560 tons in trade to and from the Chinese Mainland, 59 were British vessels, 15 Japanese and the rest European, BOYD pointed out. By October, 1956 the number of ships had grown to 214 a month, he said. Of these, 43 vessels were British, 24 Japanese and the rest European. (u)

"'We trade with Russia and the satellites, why not China?', BOYD asked. (u)

"'You cannot ignore the world's most populated country forever. Forever is a very, very long time."

Another release dated Tuesday, January 7, 1958, stated "Unless the United States lifts its embargo and recognizes Red China it will forfeit control of Asia to the Soviets, JIM ROBINSON, NBC news correspondent in Tokyo, warned a meeting of the San Francisco Area World Trade Association of the San Francisco Chamber of Commerce today during a luncheon at the Fairmont Hotel.

"'While the Chinese have had little love for the West there is still time to woo them away from the Russians,' he continued.

"'To do this the U.S. State Department must be realistic and face up to the fact that the Government of Communist China is a going concern and that China, with 640 million mouths to feed, has had only Russia to turn to because of the trade embargo.

"'It is an illusion to believe that China is seething with revolt and that an invasion by the Chinese Nationalists would bring the Communist regime to its knees.

"'Red China's so-called allegiance to Moscow is sealed to her dependency on the Russians for food and machinery.

"'Breaking the U.S. embargo would counterbalance Russia's influence greatly.'"

U.S. Bureau of Customs, San Francisco, advise the present embargo prohibits any American vessel to visit Red China ports. Exporters to Red China must apply for an export license through the Bureau of Foreign Commerce, Washington, D.C., and any imports must be approved by Foreign Funds Control Section, Federal Reserve Bank, New York City. Customs officials have advised that there is no U.S. trade with Red China at the present time.

There are being enclosed for the NYO four photostats of news releases and excerpts from San Francisco newspapers obtained from World Trade Division, setting forth names of local individuals desirous of trade with Red China.

Jaffe is Columbia Broadcasting System (CBS) news reporter in New York who has had extensive contact with Soviets as representative of news-gathering media since 1951. He desired to travel to Red China and Soviet Russia as representative of "Life" and "Time" magazines in 1954. He contacted representatives of the Soviet Embassy on this occasion and a representative of "Time" and "Life" indicated Jaffe had thought that he had been surveilled by the FBI. On 2-23-55, Jaffe corresponded with the State Department on the letterhead of "The Nation" concerning proposed travel. On 9-5-55 Jaffe indicated to a confidential source that he was permanent correspondent of "The Nation" on the West Coast. On 1-3-56 Jaffe was interviewed by Bureau Agents at his request and furnished information concerning his efforts to travel to China and Russia. There is no indication that Jaffe made this trip as the result of his contacts with the Soviets at that time. (C)

On 10-30-57 Jaffe and a CBS camera crew made a feature film in our New York Office which was telecast in two parts over certain CBS affiliate stations on 11-13 and 14-57. Jaffe was in charge of making this film. He reciprocated [redacted] the cooperation shown him by the Bureau in making this film. (U)

On 7-23-58 Jaffe contacted our New York Office and advised that he was inviting two Soviets to dinner that date. Informant advised at that time that Jaffe was in frequent contact with the Protocol Officer of the Soviet Delegation to the United Nations (UN). By letter 8-28-58 Bureau approved preliminary interview of Jaffe to determine his attitude toward the Bureau for cooperation in connection with his knowledge and contact of Soviets in New York. (C)

Jaffe was interviewed 9-12-58 and was extremely cooperative. He talked at length concerning his association and knowledge of five Soviets, two of whom are known intelligence agents and one considered a potential defector. Jaffe advised that his uncle, an actor, Samuel Charles Jaffe, was active on behalf of Russian war relief and sympathized with what proved to be communist inspired organizations. [redacted] He has been interviewed by Bureau Agents. He was cooperative, denying membership in the Communist Party, but admitted membership in 14 communist front organizations. (C)

11 DEC 1 1958

RE: SAMUEL ADASON JAFFE, aka.
105-28333

Background investigation of Jaffe was instituted as a result of his interview on 9-12-58. No derogatory information has been developed and it appears that all of his contacts with the Soviets have been as the result of his news-gathering assignments. The New York Office, aware of the additional significance of Jaffe's former association with "The Nation," since publishing the article entitled "The FBI," in the 10-18-58 issue of this publication, has requested Bureau authority to maintain contact with Jaffe pending coverage of one remaining lead involving review of Central Intelligence Agency (CIA) records in order to receive information concerning the Soviets with whom he is in contact and as a follow up of our 9-12-58 interview. (C)

OBSERVATIONS:

It is believed that we should allow New York to continue contacts with Jaffe and and it is possible that this contact, if properly handled, may develop a source of information of significance concerning Soviet officials in New York as well as providing a possible source of information concerning the article and general policy of "The Nation" through such contacts as Jaffe may still have on the staff of that publication. (C)

RECOMMENDATION:

If you approve, there is attached a letter to New York authorizing continued contacts with Jaffe concerning information of interest to us concerning Soviet officials and instructing New York to be alert in their contacts with Jaffe to develop any opportunity that might arise toward obtaining information concerning the general policy and personalities that Jaffe may have knowledge of who are presently connected with "The Nation." On November 6, 1958, an informant, who is in a position to furnish reliable information, advised that he has known subject for quite some time. He originally met subject at a party at subject's home. He was invited to this party by Nikolai S. Kalinin, another Soviet, with whom he is acquainted.

Informant said that he has seen subject quite often at the United Nations Secretariat in New York City. Some time ago, subject asked informant if he could ascertain the feeling of American business and American industry toward Red China and apprise subject of this feeling. Informant told subject, at that time, that subject should be able to ascertain this for himself by reading American newspapers and magazines. Informant said that subject is interested in economics and is quite well versed in this field.

Informant advised that he had not seen subject for several months, but on November 5, 1958, he had lunch with him. During lunch, subject asked informant what he thought of the recent elections in the United States. Informant told subject that it was his opinion that the Republican Party was beaten on their national and foreign policy. Subject told informant that he likes the way informant analyzes situations, and he would like informant to write his analysis of the American political situation and make this analysis available to him, so that he in turn can make this analysis available to Soviet correspondents in the United States. Informant suggested that subject could remember what informant said during their conversations, and pass this information on to Soviet correspondents. Subject said that it was difficult for him to remember everything.

Informant advised subject that it is one thing to talk and another thing to write it down. He told subject that he is not an expert, and that subject's opinion is as good as his. Informant bluntly told subject that he did not like the idea proposed by subject, and that he can not write for him. Subject asked informant to consider writing this analysis of the American political situation, and said that he would be paid for this. Informant was quite shaken at this, and told subject that it was not a question of money, but that he just does not want to write for him.

Informant and subject also discussed Boris Pasternak, 1958 Nobel Prize Winner in Literature. Informant told subject that the Soviet treatment of Pasternak was an example of the lack of freedom in the Soviet Union. The subject replied by saying that the Soviets are trying to build a Socialist State, and can not tolerate criticism. Informant told subject that this was the reason that he was unable to understand or appreciate the Soviet political system, and that this was also the reason why he could never subscribe to a totalitarian form of government. Informant pointed out to subject that in the United States people were free to criticize as they saw fit, even if their criticism is directed toward the President of the United States. While people may take issue with this criticism, or even criticize the individual in return, the individual making the criticism had no reason to fear that he would be punished.

CONFIDENTIAL

Subject's only reply to informant was that Pasternak's book, "Doctor Zhivago," was "political treason." Subject also said that this was "their system," with an air of finality.

The records of the United States Department of State reflect that Vladimir Borisovich Barkovsky, a Soviet national, is Counselor of the Soviet Mission to the United Nations. These same records reflect that Nikolai Sergeevich Kalinin, a Soviet national, is a translator assigned to the United Nations Secretariat.

sized news agency with reporters stationed over the world. JAFFE was formerly employed with Time-Life International, New York City, for a few years. He reportedly left this firm in good standing in October, 1954. He had been employed as a researcher for this firm. An additional notation in the file as of 11/30/54 indicated that JAFFE was the son of A.S. JAFFE, owner of the A.S. Jaffe Company (candy manufacturers' agents), Hearst Building, San Francisco, California. (U)

Also contained in the files of the Redwood City Credit Bureau was a copy of a report in the San Francisco Retail Credit Association dated 11/23/54. This report indicated that JAFFE had been on record in their files since 6/17/49, and that he formerly resided at 891-28th Avenue, San Francisco, California (the home of his father), since 1949. His occupation was listed as correspondent with the North American Newspaper Alliance, Chronicle Building, San Francisco, California, for two weeks. (U)

On October 8, 1958, [redacted], [redacted], Atherton, California, Police Department, advised SA ELLEDGE that JAFFE had resided at 301 Fletcher Drive from approximately November, 1954, to November, 1956. [redacted] stated that there were no arrests regarding JAFFE and no derogatory information concerning him. [redacted] stated that the JAFFE residence had been on the "home call list" much of the time between November, 1954, and November, 1956, due to the absences of JAFFE and his family during this period. [redacted] commented that the address, 301 Fletcher Drive, was in a comparatively new sparsely settled area in Atherton, and that there were no homes in the immediate vicinity of this address. [redacted] stated that he knew of no one who was a close associate of JAFFE or who could possibly furnish information concerning him. It is noted that Atherton, California, is a small community and that the residents thereof are wealthy and occupy estate-size dwellings. (U)

[redacted] and [redacted], both of whom are familiar with CP and related activities in the Menlo Park, Palo Alto and Atherton, California, areas, advised SA RICHARD H. NELSON that JAFFE was unknown to them. (U)

Mrs. [redacted], Registrar's Office, University of California, Berkeley, California, advised SA PERRY W. MOOTHART on 10/10/58 that she had no record of JAFFE attending the University of California. The applications for admission to the University of California from 1946 through 1949 were reviewed on 10/10/58 by SA PERRY W. MOOTHART with negative results. (U)

MOOTHART on 10/13/58 that in 1948 and 1949 JAFFE took eight courses through the Extension Division, and most of the courses were non-credit courses. She mentioned that no one could graduate by taking courses at the Extension Division. She further stated that the records were in the basement, but that her card reflects that JAFFE'S address was listed as 891-28th Avenue, San Francisco, California. (U)

He had served in the U.S. Marine Reserve from 5/30/47 to 7/23/50, at which time he entered the regular U.S. Marines and served to 6/27/51 when he received an honorable discharge. He was listed as working for the International News Service as a rewrite man in 1948 and having taken courses at the Extension Division, University of California, Berkeley (date not given). (U)

On 10/14/58, SA ELLEDGE telephonically contacted the Registrar's Office of the Drew School, San Francisco, California, without disclosing his identity. He was advised that JAFFE entered the Drew School on 6/24/46 and left on 5/5/47. His address at this time was listed as 891-28th Avenue, San Francisco, California, and he indicated prior attendance at the Claremont Junior High School, Oakland, California, from 1941 to 1944. JAFFE did not graduate from Drew School. (U)

On 10/14/58, Miss [redacted], Radio Station KGO, San Francisco, California, advised SA ELLEDGE that the records of her department failed to list any employment for JAFFE at that station. Miss [redacted] commented further that she had been continuously employed at KGO since [redacted], and that she had no personal recollection of his association with this studio. She stated that JAFFE was not regularly employed by the station otherwise his name would have been included on the payroll records. She stated that this did not rule out the possibility that JAFFE may have been employed as an independent contractor, a free-lance writer or in the employ of a concern doing work for the station under contract. She advised that in order to verify such a contractural relationship, it would be necessary to review all vouchers submitted to the station for the period from 31/48 to 10/31/48, and she indicated that these vouchers were in existence at the present time. It is noted that JAFFE furnished his mailing address in 1955 as 68 Post Street, San Francisco, California. (U)

A review of the Cross-Index Street Directory for 1955 shows that the name of SAM A. JAFFE was listed for the months of March and April, 1955, as a tenant in Room 224 of the Foxcroft Building, 68 Post Street. It is also noted that these same quarters were listed to "The Nation" (magazine), and that the same telephone number, YU 2-6030, was listed to each of the above tenants. No listing was located prior to March or subsequent to April. (U)

On 10/16/58, MR. [redacted], Foxcroft Building, advised that the records of his office show that Room 224, 68 Post Street, was listed to O.D. Keep and Associates, publishers of the magazine "Fortnight" during a brief period in 1955. He stated that O.D. Keep and Associates went bankrupt and that the firm is dissolved. His records did not show JAFFE as a tenant and he stated that he assumed that any tenants listed to Room 224 had some sort of rental arrangement with O.D. Keep and Associates. (U)

In connection with JAFFE's association with "The Nation," WFO letter 9/12/55 sets forth information that JAFFE on 9/7/55 claimed he was a permanent correspondent of "The Nation" on the West Coast. New York may wish to further consider this connection with "The Nation" on the part of JAFFE in evaluating him as a PSI. (U)

The records of the San Francisco Police Department, as made available to IC RAYMOND A. LANGLOIS by [redacted] on 10/10/58, show that JAFFE was fingerprinted on 7/26/48 as an applicant for a commercial license private vehicle and was again fingerprinted on 11/30/54 as an applicant for a press pass, Northern California Correspondent, North American Newspaper Alliance. There was no additional record of JAFFE in these files. (U)

There was no record of ABRAM S. JAFFE, JOSEPHINE CLARK WINTER or JOSEPHINE CLARK JAFFE in the indices of the San Francisco Office. There was no additional information regarding SAMUEL A. JAFFE that has not previously been made available to the Bureau and the New York Office. RUC. (U)

On 10/30/57, SAM JAFFE and a CBS camera crew made a feature film in the NYO, which was telecast in two parts over certain CBS affiliate stations on 11/13 and 14/57. JAFFE was in charge of making this film, and subsequently informed this office that CBS was highly pleased with the results obtained in this office. A review of correspondence dealing with JAFFE's participation in the taking of pictures in the NYO reveals that while doing same, he reciprocated in kind for the cooperation which the Bureau was giving him. (U)

There are numerous references to the name SAM JAFFE in NYO indices, which are presently being reviewed. (u)

This office desires to contact JAFFE on the basis of his call to this office on 7/23/58, and arrange for an interview. During this interview the Bureau's jurisdiction in matters involving the internal security of the US will be explained to him, and he will be told that the Bureau desires to have the fact that he has been contacted by the Bureau kept in strictest confidence. He will not be pressed during this initial interview for details of his association with the Soviets, although efforts will be made to determine the extent of his association with the Soviets, as well as the degree of cooperation which might be expected from JAFFE in furnishing information to the Bureau. JAFFE's attitude will govern the extent to which the interview will be pursued, and during the interview appropriate precautions will be taken in view of the fact that JAFFE is employed by a news media. Bureau permission is requested for this office to conduct a "sounding out" interview with JAFFE, in line with the above observations. Should JAFFE prove to be cooperative, background investigation will be conducted, and recommendations made to the Bureau for developing him as a PSI. (C)

[redacted] advised on 9/17/58, that a female, who is apparently from the UN, mentioned to subject, that a girlfriend of hers was giving a party on Saturday and asked her if she had any friends to bring along. She thought that prehaps subject could come and also bring a friend as her girlfriend is short of men. This woman expressed the thought that it would be nice to have subject there as they would enjoy his company. Subject gave a C preliminary affirmative answer to the invitation and arranged to discuss it further with this woman at the UN on 9/18/58. He mentioned that he has had a very difficult week and that anything could happen. This woman mentioned that as far as subject's book is concerned, she has checked everyday but it has not been received as yet. She believes that these books come in from Europe. This woman would like to know at that time whether subject could bring a friend as she would like to advise her girlfriend so that she could plan on a certain number of people.

Informants at the UN Secretariat were alerted to the possible presence of subject there on 9/18/58, and it is C the intention of this office to afford fisur coverage of subject on Saturday, 9/20/58.

He gave his address as 200 West [illegible]nd Ave., NYC, (JAFFE's address). This individual C said that he wanted to see subject on the day of the opening session but that he was called to NJ about the crash which occurred there. He chided subject about the fact that subject never watches television and would not be aware of this. Subject mentioned that he had seen this individual on television interviewing a young hero, who saved a woman.

SUBJECT: SAMUEL ADASON JAFFE

Re Bulet, 8/28/58.

JAFFE was interviewed on 9/12/58 by SAS JOHN G. WILLIS and EDWARD F. GAMBER. JAFFE was extremely cooperative during interview. Interview was based on a telephone call which JAFFE made to this Office advising that he was taking VADIM A. BOGOSLOVSKI and BORIS N. IVANOV to dinner. Initially and throughout the interview JAFFE was told of the necessity for respecting the Bureau's confidence at all times. He agreed to do this. (C)

Place cc. 105-48607

The Bureau's jurisdiction in matters involving the internal security of the United States was explained to JAFFE as well as the Bureau's interest in Soviet Nationals which stems from this jurisdiction. Mention was made of the fact that a large number of Soviet Nationals have been declared personna non grata in recent years because of activities in which they have engaged while in this country in a diplomatic status. JAFFE said that he was aware of this. (C)

JAFFE talked quite freely and at length about his association with Soviet Nationals. He said that in his capacity as a news reporter for the Columbia Broadcasting System, it was necessary for him to have as many contacts as possible in order to keep abreast of newsworthy incidents and information. He said that he has been very successful in cultivating the Soviets and other foreigners at the UN as news sources. He first met VADIM A. BOGOSLOVSKI and NIKOLAI KALININ at a press party at the Soviet Mission to the UN. He has ~~gotten~~ [illegible] to know these Soviets very well, and in fact he has visited their homes and they have visited his home. He said that he sees these two Soviets very frequently and is particularly close to BOGOSLOVSKI, whom he describes as being very much unlike other Soviets. JAFFE said that BOGOSLOVSKI is very outspoken and in fact gave him a 24 hour "~~N~~eat" on the decision of NIKITA KHRUSCHEV to accept an invitation to a Soviet conference under UN auspices. He said that the Soviets are useful~~l~~ in giving him the ~~decision~~ [illegible] on what is going to happen. When the Mideast problem was before the UN, KALININ told JAFFE that it would resolve itself but that he should keep his eye on China. (c)

During interview JAFFE said that he would be willing to furnish information to the Bureau concerning his contacts with the Soviets. However, he said that he would have to be sure that his identity would be protected at all times. He said he did not want to become another BORIS MORROS or HERBERT PHILBRICK as it would ruin his career as a news reporter if he did so. He was told that the Bureau would respect his confidence, but that he in turn would have to respect the Bureau's confidence at all times. (u)

JAFFE mentioned that at one time [redacted], Afro-American News Reporter, mentioned that the State Department had asked him if he possessed any information indicating that JAFFE was a Communist. JAFFE mentioned this by way of inquiry of interviewing agents to ascertain if they knew of any such allegation. Interviewing agents then asked JAFFE if he had ever been a member of the CP, and he said that he had not been a member of the CP or any Communist inspired organization nor has he ever sympathized with the CP. He said that his uncle, with whom he has a close association, is the actor SAMUEL CHARLES JAFFE who was active on behalf of Russian War Relief and sympathized with what proved to be Communist inspired organizations. JAFFE said that he does not believe that his uncle was a member of the CP however, and that his uncle did testify before the House Committee on Un-American Activities. (c) on January 2, 22 and February 2, 1954 by Bureau Agents and was cooperative. He denied membership in the CP but admitted membership in 14 Communist front organizations. His file contains information reflecting alledged CP membership. (U)

SAM JAFFE, subject of instant airtel, is acquainted with two known Soviet agents in the person of BARKOVSKY and KRESTYANOV, one potential Soviet defector in the person of BOGOSLOVSKI, and two other Soviets who are among the more active Soviets in the NYC area. All possible coverage of these Soviets is desirable. (C)

Should JAFFE fail to respect the Bureau's confidence, he would jeopardize his own career and certainly his contacts at the UN. This is pointed out as it is believed that this puts the Bureau in a better position to control JAFFE than would be true in the case of the average individual. (U)

It is not believed that JAFFE can be used in connection with the [redacted] at this time because of his reluctance to do anything other than furnish information to the Bureau. However, it is believed that JAFFE can be used as an informant or source of information furnishing information with respect to his contacts with the Soviets. (C)

NOTE: Jaffe is an employee of the Columbia Broadcasting System News Department, NYC. During the past several years he has had frequent contact with Soviet officials in the U. S., apparently in a legitimate capacity as a reporter and writer. We have interviewed him in the past concerning some of these contacts, and he has been completely cooperative. On 7-23-58, he contacted NYO and indicated he was taking two Soviets attached to the UN Delegation to dinner. By letter 8-19-58, NYO requested Bureau authority to conduct "sounding out" interview with Jaffe to determine whether he might have potential for development as a selected contact whom we can place in touch with the Soviets for intelligence purposes. NYO indicated that appropriate precautions would be observed during this interview, inasmuch as Jaffe is employed by a news media. (U)

As the Bureau is aware, GRUSHA, a Soviet National, is a known intelligence agent. He had been in the United States since 1953, and departed the United States on 4/10/57. In addition to being the Soviet principal in a double agent operation involving [redacted], in which he had attempted to secure information relating to Russian emigre, GRUSHA was recently identified through information from an informant as having actively cultivated a Ceylon National for the purpose of stealing the Ceylon code from the Delegation of the Ceylon Government in New York City. On 3/5/57, Special Agents of the FBI observed the activities of a certain individual in the offices of the Ceylon Delegation where the afore-mentioned code was known to be kept, and subsequently observed this individual with GRUSHA. Approximately one hour later, after this individual had again been observed with GRUSHA, he was observed returning a red covered book to the offices of the Ceylon Delegation. (c)

A review of the New York Office Indices reflects numerous references to the name SAMUEL JAFFE; however, based on the information from [redacted], it would appear that the subject is identical with the JAFFE named by [redacted]. This identification is based upon the following facts obtained from the previous investigation of the subject. (c)

According to [redacted], JAFFE, on numerous occasions during 1955 and 1956, had been in contact with individuals at the Soviet Embassy in Washington, D.C. in regard to visa matters pertaining to his contemplated travel to the USSR. (S)

In April, 1954, according to [redacted] JAFFE was in contact with the Soviet United Nations Delegation in New York City. At this time, it was determined that he was employed as a culture researcher for "Life" Magazine in New York City, and had contacted the Soviet United Nations Delegation in connection with some work he was doing on a story for this magazine. Subsequently, it was determined from inquiry at the offices of "Life" Magazine, that JAFFE was born on 6/19/28. (S)

Passport records of the Department of State, reviewed on 7/27/55, (as set forth in WFO letter of 8/25/55), reflect that JAFFE, in a supplemental statement dated 6/22/55 in connection with his passport, indicated that he wished to have his passport amended to allow him to travel in Communist China as a professional American journalist. It was indicated further, that he had excellent reason to believe that the Red Chinese Government would allow him to enter their country as a journalist in view of the fact that during the Asian-African Conference at Bandung, Indonesia, he obtained an interview with Red Chinese Premier CHOU-EN-LAI. (C)

On 4/30/57, Mr. [redacted], 200 East End Avenue, New York City, advised SA JOHN F. MABEY that the subject, who is presently an employee of the Columbia Broadcasting System in New York City, presently resides in an apartment at this address with his wife and small child. (c)

In view of the information which is set forth in the subject's investigative file reflecting numerous past contacts on his part with various Soviets attached to both the Soviet Embassy in Washington, D.C., and the Soviet United Nations Delegation, New York City, and the fact that the subject has a history of employment in the capacity of a news correspondent, the New York Office feels that no contact should be initiated at this time with the subject concerning his association with GRUSHA. In addition, it is to be noted that following a contact by the subject with KONSTANTIN G. FEDOSEEV, Counselor, Soviet Embassy, Washington, D.C., on 7/9/54, a representative of "Time" and "Life" Magazines contacted the Bureau, alleging that he believed JAFFE had been under surveillance by the FBI. (C) RUSSIA

The New York Office feels that subject's contact of GRUSHA possibly can be logically explained as a normal contact in view of the subject's employment, and it is felt that an interview with JAFFE would possibly result in embarrassment to the Bureau should the subject take exception to the Bureau's interest in his activities. (C)

Copies of this letter are being disseminated to the Washington Field Office and San Francisco Office for information in view of their past interest in the subject. (u)

Jaffe was interviewed at his request by agents of this Bureau on January 3, 1956, at his home 301 Fletcher Drive, Atherton, California. He identified himself as a correspondent currently representing the North American Newspaper Alliance. He stated he was formerly employed by "Time" and "Life" and in connection with this latter employment, had been assigned to writing and research on the articles published in "Life" magazine dealing with the various religions of the world. Jaffe stated that in connection with this assignment he made the acquaintance of Fedoseev (Konstantin G. Fedoseev), Counselor, Soviet Embassy, Washington, D. C. Jaffe said he had contacted Fedoseev initially in his efforts to obtain a visa to enable him to enter China. He commented this had been a mistake to approach the Soviets in this regard inasmuch as they could not or at least did not, do anything to aid in the issuance of the visa. (C)

Jaffe advised he had been attempting to obtain a visa to enter the Soviet Union to write a series of articles on conditions existing there and in his efforts to obtain this visa he had again contacted Fedoseev. After considerable delay, he was advised that a visa would be issued for a period not to exceed two weeks. Jaffe said he contacted Fedoseev in the hope that he could obtain a visa for a longer period of time, but Fedoseev advised Jaffe the issuance of such a visa would not follow, but that he could possibly obtain an extension on the two weeks' visa. Jaffe stated he challenged the statement of Fedoseev that his visa would be extended and since he could receive assurance of a visa for a period not to exceed two weeks, he had decided against making the trip to the Soviet Union and he returned to his home in Atherton from Washington, D. C., and New York. (C)

Jaffe commented that in discussing his desire for a visa with Fedoseev, the latter had indicated that should Jaffe write objectively concerning the Soviet Union he, Fedoseev, felt certain Jaffe's visa would be extended. Jaffe said he challenged this remark by Fedoseev and indicated to the latter he felt Fedoseev's remarks were equivalent to blackmail and that in order for him to get an extension on his visa it would be necessary for him to slant his articles in favor of the Soviet Union. Fedoseev denied this intent and stated only that they desired the articles to be written objectively. (C)

Samuel Adasen Jaffe

Jaffe stated that during his conversation with Fedoseev, he had remarked that his, Jaffe's, father was born in the Soviet Union. Fedoseev seemed to be impressed by the above statement and inquired as to whether Jaffe's father was still a citizen of the Soviet Union. Jaffe informed Fedoseev his father was an American citizen and Fedoseev was apparently very disturbed concerning this and on several occasions inquired as to whether Jaffe had any relatives currently residing in the Soviet Union. Jaffe stated Fedoseev was visibly disturbed when advised Jaffe had no relatives in the Soviet Union. (C)

The files of this Bureau contain no information in addition to the above pertinent to your inquiry. However, you may desire to consult the Passport Division of the Department of State for additional information regarding Jaffe's background. (105-28333 - 11) C

Jaffe was interviewed at his request by agents of this Bureau on January 3, 1956, at his home 301 Fletcher Drive, Atherton, California. He identified himself as a correspondent currently representing the North American Newspaper Alliance.

Letter to Director
Central Intelligence Agency

He stated he was formerly employed by "Time" and "Life" and in connection with this latter employment, had been assigned to writing and research on the articles published in "Life" magazine dealing with the various religions of the world. Jaffe stated that in connection with this assignment he made the acquaintance of Fedoseev (Konstantin G. Fedoseev), Counselor, Soviet Embassy, Washington, D. C. Jaffe said he had contacted Fedoseev initially in his efforts to obtain a visa to enable him to enter China. He commented this had been a mistake to approach the Soviets in this regard inasmuch as they could not, or at least did not, do anything to aid in the issuance of the visa. (C)

Jaffe advised he had been attempting to obtain a visa to enter the Soviet Union to write a series of articles on conditions existing there and in his efforts to obtain this visa he had again contacted Fedoseev. After considerable delay, he was advised that a visa would be issued for a period not to exceed two weeks. Jaffe said he contacted Fedoseev in the hope that he could obtain a visa for a longer period of time, but Fedoseev advised Jaffe the issuance of such a visa would not follow, but that he could possibly obtain an extension on the two-weeks' visa. Jaffe stated he challenged the statement of Fedoseev that his visa would be extended and since he could receive assurance of a visa for a period not to exceed two weeks, he had decided against making the trip to the Soviet Union and he returned to his home in Atherton from Washington, D. C., and New York. (C)

Jaffe commented that in discussing his desire for a visa with Fedoseev, the latter had indicated that should Jaffe write objectively concerning the Soviet Union he, Fedoseev, felt certain Jaffe's visa would be extended. Jaffe said he challenged this remark by Fedoseev and indicated to the latter he felt Fedoseev's remarks were equivalent to blackmail and that in order for him to get an extension on his visa it would be necessary for him to slant his articles in favor of the Soviet Union. Fedoseev denied this intent and stated only that they desired the articles to be written objectively.

Letter to Director
Central Intelligence Agency

Jaffe stated that during his conversation with Fedoseev, he had remarked that his, Jaffe's, father was born in the Soviet Union. Fedoseev seemed to be impressed by the above statement and inquired as to whether Jaffe's father was still a citizen of the Soviet Union. Jaffe informed Fedoseev his father was an American citizen and Fedoseev was apparently very disturbed concerning this and on several occasions inquired as to whether Jaffe had any relatives currently residing in the Soviet Union. Jaffe stated Fedoseev was visibly disturbed when advised Jaffe had no relatives in the Soviet Union. (C)

Files of this Bureau contain no information in addition to the above pertinent to your inquiry. It is noted that Jaffe has traveled extensively abroad and the Passport Division of the Department of State would probably have additional information regarding subject's background. (U)

Inasmuch as the Passport Office, Department of State, Washington, D. C., has authorized the American Embassy at New Delhi, India, that when Soviet visas are assured, the passport of JAFFE and the passport of JAFFE's wife, JOSEPHINE WINTER JAFFE, nee JOSEPHINE CALRK WINTER, aka Mrs. SAMUEL ADASON JAFFE, should be endorsed that when appropriately visaed each is valid for one round trip to the USSR, the Passport Office made their passport files available for review. Born - 10-23-32 [illegible] (c)

These files were reviewed on 7/27/55 by SA ALBERT B. MILLER and reflect the following:

By communication dated 6/6/55, the American Embassy at New Delhi, India, advised the Department of State, Washington, D. C., that in consequence of the recent KHRUSHCHEV (a high official in the Soviet government) statement welcoming visits from American journalists, SAMUEL ADASON JAFFE, Special Correspondent of "The Nation" and his wife, JOSEPHINE WINTER JAFFE, have inquired of the Soviet Embassy, New Delhi, regarding the possibility of a three-week visit to the Soviet Union and they say a tentative reply is affirmative. They related their purpose in wanting to go to the Soviet Union is to study and write about advancement made in the USSR, freedom prevailing there, and chances of preventing war. Soviet visas are assured their passports should be endorsed that when appropriately visaed each is valid for one round trip to the USSR for a period not to exceed three weeks. (C)

An application dated 2/23/55 at San Francisco, California, for a passport by JAFFE reflects the following:

His full name is SAMUEL ADASON JAFFE and he was born 6/19/29 at San Francisco, California. His permanent residence is 301 Fletcher Drive, Atherton, California, and his mailing address is 68 Post Street, San Francisco, California. He has never resided outside the U. S. His last American passport was obtained from Washington, D. C., on 5/25/51, number 444214. (C)

(It is noted that the application in regard to Passport Number 444214 was unavailable for review. Information regarding possible previous passports was also unavailable. All passport information which was available is set forth herein.) (C)

His mother, DOROTHY I. JAFFE, born in Ohio, is deceased. His father, ABRAM S. JAFFE, born in Russia about 1893, resides at 891 28th Avenue, San Francisco, California. ABRAM S. JAFFE immigrated to the U. S. about 1894, has resided continuously in the U. S. from 1894 to 1955, and was naturalized at Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, date unknown, through his father. (C)

He was last married on 12/27/52 to JOSEPHINE CLARK WINTER, who was born in New York City in 1932 and who resides at the above Fletcher Drive address. (C)

JAFFE applied for the passport to visit on "business - 'Nation' magazine, Djakarta, Indonesia, approximately three weeks." Under countries to be visited he listed India, Thailand, Burma, Japan, Indonesia, and Pakistan. He intended to depart San Francisco about 3/15/55 via Pan American Airways and intended to stay abroad three or four months. (C)

The application described him as 5' 10", brown hair, brown eyes, occupation, journalist. A photograph of him affixed to the application shows his hair is cut short and that he wears a mustache. (C)

He was issued Passport Number 36093, San Francisco series, on 2/25/55. This passport is not valid for travel to Albania, Bulgaria, China, Czechoslovakia, Hungary, Poland, Rumania, or the USSR unless specifically endorsed by the Department of State as being valid for such travel. (c)

A letter dated 2/23/55 on the letterhead of the "Nation," 68 Post Street, San Francisco, California, signed by JAFFE as West Coast Correspondent addressed to the Passport Agency, Department of State, San Francisco, California, relates that his Far Eastern trip will be made as a working journalist; that the trip will last approximately three months and he will visit such countries as Japan, Burma, Pakistan, India, Indonesia, Hong Kong, and Thailand. (c)

A letter dated 2/25/55 on the above letterhead, signed by JAFFE, as West Coast Bureau Chief, addressed to Mr. HARRY H. BOLDS, Passport Agency, San Francisco, California, relates that as the "Nation" magazine's West Coast Bureau Chief he is classed as a member of the Publications Board of Editors. Thus, he is in the position of an editorial executive. He wrote further that as he explained to BOLDS those in authority at their home office in New York are on vacation. While in the employ of Time, Incorporated, "Life" magazine, he made a trip to Asia in an editorial capacity; that BOLDS' New York office asked him to write a letter on "Life"stationery stating the purpose of his trip abroad though at the time he was making the journey for some other publications. He explained this and the fact that he was only a reporter. This, JAFFE wrote, seemed to make no difference as long as the New York agency had a letter on file. (c)

An application for amendment of Passport Number 36093, San Francisco series, as above, dated June 22, 1955, and signed by JAFFE, Imperial Hotel, New Delhi, India, was forwarded by the American Consular Service at New Delhi to the Department of State, Washington, D. C., for consideration and decision. The application reflects that JAFFE desired his passport be made valid for travel in Communist China. In the application he referred to an attached supplemental statement. (c)

The supplemental statement is dated 6/22/55 and is on the letterhead of Hotel Imperial, New Delhi. It shows the following: (c)

JAFFE asks that his passport be amended allowing him to travel in Communist China as a professional American journalist and he understands that he will personally assume all the risks in such an undertaking. If this request is not within the power of the Department of State to approve, he desires to know if the Department of State would have any objection if he deposited his passport with the nearest Embassy and entered Communist China, assuming all risks, as a private citizen. (C)

His purpose in visiting Communist China would be in the capacity of a professional journalist for the "Nation" magazine of America and other American publications to write on what is taking place in Red China today. He would also seek an interview with Red China's leader MAO TSE-TUNG and other Communist officials. He would try to interview the eleven American fliers held by the Reds and the Americans who have deflected to the side of the Reds. He would deport himself in the best interests of the U. S. and would provide information to his Government upon his return. (C)

He has excellent reasons to believe that the Red Chinese government would allow him to enter their country as a journalist. During the Asian-African Conference at Bandung, Indonesia, he obtained an interview with Red Chinese Premier CHOU-EN-LAI through the good offices of Prime Minister U NU of Burma. He filed a full report of this interview with the American Embassy at Rangoon, Burma on 5/20/55 and previously he had informed the American Consul at Singapore of certain statements CHOU-EN-LAI made to him during the interview. The Red Chinese know that Prime Minister U NU thinks well of him. (C)

He was also told by one KANG MAO-CHAO, Counselor for Cultural Affairs at the Red Chinese Embassy in New Delhi that he stood an excellent chance of being admitted to his country, as "My Premier was impressed by the way your story was handled." KANG MAO-CHAO added that also in his favor was the fact that CHOU-EN-LAI knew him as well as do others in his government. His request for admittance to Red China is presently being considered by the authorities at Peking. (C)

JAFFE concluded his statement by relating that he hopes that in making a decision the Department will realize that it would be in the best interests of our Government and our people that an American journalist be permitted to visit Red China to report firsthand on the state of affairs there. (C)

An Application dated 7/31/52 at New York City for a passport by Mrs. JAFFE, then JOSEPHINE CLARK WINTER, reflects the following: (C)

Her full name is JOSEPHINE CLARK WINTER and she was born 10/10/23 at New York City. Her permanent residence and mailing address is 215 East 73rd Street, New York City. She resided outside the U. S. in France and Italy from 6/20/51 to 7/51. Her last American passport, number 448639, was obtained from Washington, D. C., in June, 1951, and is lost. She has never married. (C)

MELVILLE N.Y.

Her father, LESTER CLARK WINTER, was born in Baltimore, Maryland, about 1907 and resides at Mission Road, Mission, Kansas. Her mother, JOSEPHINE A. CAVE, was born at Cleveland, Ohio, on or about 11/22/10 and resides at 19 East 72nd Street, New York City. (C)

WINTER

She applied for the passport to visit France, Italy, Switzerland, and England for pleasure. She planned to depart New York via TWA about 8/6/52 and intended to stay abroad one month. (C)

PAUL (last two names illegible), no relation, 4324 Colden Street, Flushing 52, New York, completed an affidavit that he has known JOSEPHINE CLARK WINTER for four years and that the statements made by her in the application are true to the best of his knowledge and belief. (C)

The application described her as 5' 7", brown hair, brown eyes, occupation - "none."

She completed an affidavit on 7/31/52 that she lost the American passport which was issued her about June, 1951; that she made an exhaustive search for it and it is not in her possession. She does not know where or when she lost it; did not give it to anybody, or let anybody take it. She reported the loss to the 19th Precinct, Police Department of New York City, East 67th Street. (C)

By letter dated 7/31/52, return address New York City, to the Department of State, Washington, D. C., she asked that her passport be issued in time for her flight on TWA, 8/6/52, because the trip is necessary immediately as her grandmother, sojourning in Paris, urgently desires her presence on the 7th. (C)

According to the application, she was previously issued passport number 631887 at Washington, D. C., on 6/9/39 and resided outside the U. S. in England from June, 1939, to 7/3/40. LOUIS PAVELEK, friend, 1448 121st Street, South Ozone Park, New York, completed an affidavit that he has known her ten years and to the best of his knowledge and belief the statements made by her in the above application are true. (c)

In connection with passport number 631887, as above, it is noted that she was six years old when it was issued. WFO did not ask the Passport Office to make the application for it available. (c)

SAMUEL ADASON JAFFE was searched through WFO indices with the following results:

A report of SA MARTIN CAREY dated 11/2/51 at New York entitled [redacted], New York origin, Bufile 62-77787-240, New York file 100-92701, WFO file 105-1105-30, lists chronologically the daily activities of the Soviet delegation, Byelorussian delegation, Ukrainian delegation, and also those Soviet nationalists attached to the U. N. Secretariat, all of which are in New York City. Pages 1, 8, 9, and 11 of the above report reflect that T-1, who has furnished reliable information in the past (Security Informant [redacted]), learned that on 8/29/51 a Mr. SAM A. JAFFE, stated he was contacting the delegation on behalf of the San Francisco Press Club, indicated that the club wanted to invite GROMYKO to speak informally before them. On the same date, 8/29/51, SAM JAFFE recontacted the delegation and since he was unable to contact GROMYKO in New York, indicated that he would have a friend contact GROMYKO in San Francisco. The above New York report then sets out parenthetically that it should be noted that this JAFFE is not identical with a person of the same name connected with the New York State Communist Party. (c)

(FEDOSEEV and SMIRNOVSKY, referred to below, are characterized as follows):

(The "Diplomatic List" of August, 1954, issued by the Department of State, reflects KONSTANTIN G. FEDOSEEV as a counselor, Embassy of the USSR, and MIKHAIL N. SMIRNOVSKY as a First Secretary, Embassy of the USSR.) (C)

On 7/13/53, one SAM JAFFY (phonetic), [redacted], asked E. P. PODGORNAYA for N. P. SAVCHENKO or anyone else with whom he could talk about a visa. PODGORNAYA advised JAFFY that no one was in the office as it was lunch time. JAFFY related he would call again after the lunch hour. U.S.S.R., D.C. (S)

The "Diplomatic List," July, 1953, issued by the Department of State, lists NIKOLAI P. SAVCHENKO as a Second Secretary, Embassy of the USSR, D.C., and ELENA P. PODGORNAYA as an Attache, Embassy of the USSR, D.C. (C)

On 12/30/53, FEDOSEEV contacted SAM JAFFE in New York regarding the letter he had sent to Ambassador ZARUBIN on November 24th. FEDOSEEV said per JAFFE's request ZARUBIN had sent this letter on to Moscow but to date no reply had been received, and further in line with JAFFE's letter of December 28th, FEDOSEEV would advise him when anything is received. JAFFE went on to indicate that he is coming to Washington tomorrow and that he is going to visit at the Legation of Yemen since the King of Yemen has granted him permission to visit Yemen to do the Islamic phase of the religious story. JAFFE mentioned that he is doing a series of articles and stories on the various religions. FEDOSEEV will contact JAFFE when anything is received from Moscow. (S)

On 1/20/54 SAM JAFFE, "Life" magazine, asked SMIRNOVSKY whether the Embassy had heard anything from Moscow about the thing he had spoken to him and Ambassador ZARUBIN about. SMIRNOVSKY said they had not. JAFFE pointed out that they wanted to do a completely fair job on all five religions, Hinduism, Islam, Buddhism, Confucianism, and Taoism, and they could not do justice to the last three without actually going to China. SMIRNOVSKY was very friendly and said he would try to see that the people in Moscow were reminded again. (S)

On 2/5/54, SAM JAFFEY (phonetic), asked SMIRNOVSKY if he received the letters and was told he had. JAFFEY asked if any action would be taken. SMIRNOVSKY replied that the Ambassador was not here to act upon it and as a result the matter will be decided upon in Moscow. JAFFE said he heard reports and has read in the newspapers that there are Chinese advisors in Berlin at the present time. SMIRNOVSKY replied (S) that he had read this also. JAFFE expressed considerable concern about receiving action on his proposal and then asked if SMIRNOVSKY knew of any place in the U. S. where one could buy Russian vodka and SMIRNOVSKY said he did not. (S)

On 2/18/54 SAM JAFFEY (phonetic), told SMIRNOVSKY that he planned to be in Washington next Thursday and wondered if SMIRNOVSKY would have lunch with him. SMIRNOVSKY said he would and suggested that he call him when he gets in town. JAFFEY said he is working on a story regarding the Indian caste system; that he already has the Hindu story laid out covering about 40 pages; that at a conference yesterday it was decided that photos would have to be taken in China, i.e, pictures of temples but still they have not received an answer from the Peking government. JAFFEY wondered if Ambassador ZARUBIN could be of further help in this matter if a wire were sent to him in Germany. SMIRNOVSKY said it would be all right to send the wire. They agreed to discuss this further Thursday. (S)

On 2/26/54 SAM JAFFE, "Life," tried to reach Ambassador ZARUBIN finally spoke instead with FEDOSEEV, with whom he went over again "Life's" project for photographic essays of religions of the world and their desire to get into China. FEDOSEEV promised that he and the Ambassador would do all they could, but that they just had not heard as yet. JAFFE emphasized that all he wants is a definite answer even if it is no. (S)

On 3/22/54, SAM JAFFE [redacted], asked whether FEDOSEEV had heard any word from the Peoples Republic of China regarding his request. JAFFE pointed out that the Chinese will be holding a big Confucius ceremony in April and he would like to cover it to get material for his story. JAFFE went into great detail explaining the importance for covering the ceremony in China proper since it is the birth place of Confucius. He said they would probably cover it in Korea and on Formosa. FEDOSEEV agreed to talk the request over again with the Ambassador and call JAFFE when something comes in. (S)

On 4/9/54, SAM JAFFE [redacted] tried to reach FEDOSEEV, was told that he was out to lunch now and to call back at 2 o'clock. JAFFE said that he wanted to know something about the "Red Star" magazine (Red Army magazine), and was told FEDOSEEV would help on this matter. (S)

On 4/9/54 SAM JAFFE again attempted to reach FEDOSEEV and was told by SMIRNOVSKY that he was not in the Embassy. JAFFE said this call did not pertain to the Chinese proposal but to a drawing published in the end of the March issue of the "Red Star" of the "H Bomb." (S)

SMIRNOVSKY said he had not received that issue as yet but to contact Mr. TARASOV in the New York office and see if he has that issue. JAFFE said he had contacted TARASOV regarding this matter and that TARASOV was checking on it. JAFFE said he would then recontact TARASOV. (S)

On 6/28/54 SAM JAFFE (phonetic), told FEDOSEEV that he was calling to say hello. He was in Washington up at the "Life" office for two weeks and he wondered if FEDOSEEV would like to have dinner with him and his wife one day during his stay here. FEDOSEEV asked JAFFE for his telephone number - REpublic 7-6050 - and said he would call JAFFE in a couple of days. FEDOSEEV asked JAFFE when it would be convenient for him. JAFFE said he would be free any time. (S)

On 7/2/54 SAM JAFFE asked FEDOSEEV if it would be all right if they postponed their dinner because he was just notified that EISENHOWER was making a trip this week and that he, JAFFE, was selected to make the trip too. He will probably be back on Monday. FEDOSEEV said he would be working on Monday and will call JAFFE about noon. JAFFE is living at the Mayflower Hotel, Room 877. He will be glad to have dinner with FEDOSEEV Monday night if the latter can arrange it. (S)

On 7/5/54 FEDOSEEV tried to reach Room 877 at the Mayflower but no one answered at the room. (S)

On 7/6/54 SAM JAFFE informed FEDOSEEV that he had expected to call him yesterday but that the President had decided to stay another day. JAFFE asked FEDOSEEV when they could meet and gave him a choice of Wednesday, Thursday, or Friday. JAFFE suggested that they meet (did not say where) at 7 o'clock and FEDOSEEV said he would call him back at his office either today or tomorrow to make it definite. FEDOSEEV asked JAFFE when he would be leaving Washington and JAFFE said he thought it would be on Saturday. (S)

On 7/12/54 SAM JAFFE told FEDOSEEV that he had just talked to Mr. HUNT about getting a picture of the ZARUBINs either today or tomorrow in the big room of the Embassy. FEDOSEEV promised to check with the Ambassador and call JAFFE back either today or tomorrow. (S)

On 8/19/55 SAM JAFFE, Nation magazine, calling from New York, told K. G. FEDOSEEV that he applied for a visa to enter Russia on June 6th, in New Delhi, India, where he was during an Asian tour for the magazine. He checked on the visa in Rome and in Paris, but got no word. He checked in London, where they had no information, but Mr. MOLCHANOV there promised to check with Moscow on it. Also, while in London, JAFFE said he contacted KINGSLEY MARTIN, of the "New Statesman," who had just (S) returned from Russia. MARTIN said he had a friend in the Soviet Embassy in London, a First Secretary, Mr. DENCHINSKY (ph), who also talked to JAFFE about the visa and promised to help. Just before JAFFE left London for the U. S., he received word from DENCHINSKY that the matter was being considered at the highest level, and word of the results would be given to the Soviet Embassy in Washington, or directly to the magazine in New York. JAFFE asked FEDOSEEV to help him. FEDOSEEV asked if JAFFE planned on being in Washington, D. C., soon. JAFFE said he hoped to be here next week. It was arranged that he will call FEDOSEEV the day before coming down to arrange to get together and FEDOSEEV will try to find out about the visa in the meantime. JAFFE and FEDOSEEV recalled that they had had dinner together some time ago. (S)

WFO indices also reflect the following:

WFO agents on physical surveillance observed the following:

On 7/9/54 at 8:37 pm FEDOSEEV and his wife, NONNA ~~N.~~ FEDOSEEVA, in the company of JAFFE and his wife departed the FEDOSEEV residence, Chastleton Hotel, 1701 16th Street, N. W., Washington, D. C., and walked to the Colony Restaurant, 1737 DeSales Street, N. W., which they entered at 8:58 pm. They departed the restaurant at 11:18 pm and walked to the vicinity of the FEDOSEEV residence where the couples separated. JAFFE and his wife then entered a taxicab and thereafter engaged in strenuous efforts to detect or lose the physical surveillance. (C)

The Bureau advised NY and WFO by letter dated 7/19/54 that on the following day, 7/10/54, a representative of "Time" and "Life" magazines contacted the Bureau alleging that he believed JAFFE had been under surveillance by the FBI on the previous night. A representative of "Time" and "Life" magazines stated that JAFFE has an assignment to write a story on contemporary religions and plans to go to Red China for the purpose of studying Buddhism. JAFFE was in contact with FEDOSEEV and other Soviets to obtain their co-operation in travel clearance. (C)

With the above letter, the Bureau sent to WFO for its information a copy of a letter dated 6/11/54 from New York to the Bureau captioned "SAM A. JAFFE, IS - R, and [redacted], [redacted]." For the information of San Francisco, this letter reads as follows: (C)

JAFFE mentioned to TARASOV he wanted to get hold of "Red Star" magazine, March issue, which contains a story JAFFE wanted to see. TARASOV said he would look it up and call JAFFE: (S)

Enclosed is a copy of Bulet to WFO, dated 7-22-54, captioned "[redacted]" For information of NYO, WFOlet dated 7-15-54, pointed out that it has been the experience of WFO, from persons interviewed, that the latter have been told by the Soviets they probably would be surveilled as a result of being in contact with the Soviets. (C)

Inasmuch as it is possible a similar situation may arise in the course of investigations being conducted by the NYO, it is suggested the possibility the Soviets may be advising persons contacting them to be alert for surveillances be brought to the attention of agents conducting such surveillances in the NYO. Reurlet dated 7/15/54 in the captioned case and Bulet dated 7/19/54 in the case captioned Sam A. Jaffe, Internal Security - R. (u)

It was pointed out in referenced Bureau letter that a study of the material relating to the surveillance submitted by you failed to indicate that Jaffe had any facts to support his belief that he was under physical surveillance and it appears merely to have been a suspicion on his part. (c)

Your observation that the Soviets very possibly are advising persons contacting them to be alert for surveillances may very well be true. It is desired, therefore, that at your next Surveillance Squad Conference that the surveillance of Fedoseev on 7/9/54 be thoroughly discussed so that all Special Agents employed on surveillances can again be alerted to the possible attempts by the Soviets to endeavor to cause embarrassment to the Bureau through any means. INTERNAL SECURITY - R

In Mr. Nichols' memo to Mr. Tolson dated July 13, 1954, it is reported that James R. Shepley of "Time" and "Life" magazines in Washington, called on July 10, 1954, stating that he believed the FBI had a surveillance on Sam Jaffe, a writer for "Time" and "Life" who has the assignment of writing a story on contemporary religions. Shepley stated that Jaffe plans to visit Red China to study Buddhism. (U)

Jaffe and his wife on July 9, 1954, had dinner with Konstantin Fedoseev of the Soviet Embassy and the latter's wife. Shepley stated the purpose of this meeting was to get Fedoseev's cooperation in travel clearance. The Director commented, "I want facts re this situation." (C)

WFO has submitted a memorandum of explanation from the Agents engaged in the surveillance referred to above. This memo states that at 8:37 p.m. on the night of July 9, 1954, surveilling agents observed Fedoseevs, accompanied by an unidentified couple leave the Fedoseev's residence and walk to a nearby restaurant. During this period the four persons under surveillance did not appear to be surveillance conscious. Agents did not enter the restaurant as they thought this would be indiscreet. The Fedoseevs and the unidentified couple left the restaurant at 11:18 p.m. and were immediately observed to scrutinize passing traffic and other pedestrians in the area. In view thereof, the surveillance was maintained from a discreet distance. After walking in a roundabout way to the residence of the Fedoseevs at 16th and R Sts., N.W., the unidentified couple took a taxi. The taxi followed a circuitous route to the Mayflower Hotel, during which time the unidentified couple constantly peered through the rear and side windows at passing automobiles and pedestrians. After leaving the taxi at the Mayflower Hotel at 12:26 a.m., the unidentified couple subsequently identified as Sam Jaffe and his wife, of "Time" and "Life" magazines, engaged in a series of maneuvers designed to determine if they were under surveillance. This included several entrances and exits ~~in~~to the Mayflower Hotel and excursions to side streets in the vicinity during which period they appeared to be looking for surveillance by hiding in store fronts and doorways and unexplainably reversing the direction of their travel. Six different agents participated (C) at one time or another in the surveillance on foot and three different automobiles were used at various times. Surveillance agents and automobiles were interchanged frequently and according to the agents, no situation arose indicating that their surveillance had been in fact detected. SAC Laughlin of the WFO talked to the agents who conducted it and states that during the period after the surveillance was initiated at 8:37 p.m. when the four individuals went from the Chastelton Hotel to the Colony Restaurant none of them indicated any awareness of surveillance or any consciousness of being surveilled; however, when the party left the restaurant at 11:18 p.m. they were noted to be on the lookout for surveillance and the agents proceeded with appropriate discretion. SAC Laughlin states that it would appear that something may have been said while the party was in the restaurant about being followed by the FBI which could account for the sudden awareness of the possible surveillance. It has been the experience of WFO from persons interviewed that they have been told by the Russians they probably would be surveilled as a result of being in contact with the Russians. (C)

SAC Laughlin further points out the taxi driver who was interviewed some twenty minutes after he left the Jaffes at the Mayflower Hotel stated that after picking up the couple at 16th and R Sts., N. W., they told him they were "newspaper people," had spent the evening with a "couple of Russians" and they probably would be followed. The cab driver was instructed to try to "lose them." The cab driver stated that the Jaffes were attempting to obtain license numbers but he did not think they were successful. He stated that he, himself, had not been able to detect any surveillance. SAC Laughlin further points out that on one occasion when Jaffe and his wife entered the Mayflower Hotel they looked back out of the entrance on to the street and were not aware of the fact that the surveilling agents had preceded them into the hotel lobby by a side entrance and were in the lobby at the time the Jaffes were looking outside for the surveillance. WFO subsequently identified the Jaffes through inquiries at the hotel and by reference to material in WFO files which was located the following day. (C)

In this connection, it is to be noted that Jaffe was already the subject of an investigation by reason of his previous contacts with the Soviets with a view to possible future interview with him for consideration as a source of information in regard to the Soviets. (U)

SAC Laughlin states that in view of the difficult circumstances under which this surveillance was conducted, it does not appear that it was handled indiscreetly and therefore, does not recommend any administrative action. (U)

OBSERVATIONS:

Fedoseev is a Counselor at the Soviet Embassy and his wife is in charge of the Press Department which has replaced the defunct Soviet Information Bulletin. Both are important figures at the Soviet Embassy and are suspected of Soviet intelligence activities. The importance of identifying unknown individuals who have personal contact with officials of Soviet establishments and in particular with persons like Fedoseev and his wife is an important and necessary part of our coverage of Soviet activities. It becomes even more important to identify such persons when they act in a suspicious manner or attempt to detect a possible surveillance. (C)

RECOMMENDATION:

1. As it appears that the surveillance was conducted discreetly under difficult circumstances and no specific fact has been developed indicating that the surveillance was in fact compromised, the statement of the "Time" and "Life" magazines representative would appear to reflect only Jaffe's suspicions that he was under surveillance. No administrative action is recommended. (U)

2. In view of the actions of Jaffe in the matter and as we now know the reason for his contacts with the Soviets, no further consideration should be given to an interview with him for possible development as a source of information regarding Soviet activities. A letter to the New York and Washington Field offices containing appropriate instructions is attached hereto. (U)

SUBJECT: [redacted]

Re telephone call from Mr. C. E. HENNRICH of the Bureau today regarding this matter.

Attached is a memorandum submitted by Special Agents ARTHUR J. ACHENBACH, KEVIN F. FLANAGAN, DONALD A. GRUENTZEL, JOHN H. KENOYER, ROBERT G. McGEARY and JOSEPH E. SCULLY describing the surveillance maintained by them on FEDOSEEVA, her husband, SAM JAFFEE and his wife on the evening of July 9, 1954. (C)

I have talked to the Agents who handled this surveillance which was being conducted in accordance with instructions issued under the Soviet Intensification Program. The purpose of these surveillances is to determine whether the subjects under surveillance are engaged in intelligence or espionage activities and to identify any contacts which may be observed in the course of the surveillance. (C)

As explained by the Agents, and as will be noted from the attachment, the surveillance was initiated at 8:37 P.M., at which time this party were observed walking from the Chastleton Hotel to the Colony Restaurant. During this period, which constituted approximately twenty minutes, no activities whatever on the part of the subjects under surveillance indicated any awareness or any consciousness of being surveilled. As the party left the restaurant at 11:18 P.M., they were noted to be on the lookout for a surveillance, even going to the extent of scrutinizing passing persons and traffic. The Agents noticed this awareness immediately and proceeded with appropriate discretion. It would appear that something may have been said during the time the party were in the restaurant about being followed by the FBI, which may account for the sudden awareness of a surveillance on the part of this group. It has been the (C) experience of this office from persons we have interviewed that they have been told by the Russians they probably would be surveilled as a result of their contact with the Russians. (C)

The remarks made to the taxi driver, as reported by him, plus the activities of this group, reflect a definite effort on their part to determine whether they were actually under surveillance. The admission by the taxi driver that he did not detect any surveillance seemed to indicate that it was handled properly and with discretion. This would appear to be borne out further by the fact that when Mr. JAFFEE and his wife entered the Mayflower Hotel they looked out of the Mayflower Hotel onto the street and were obviously not aware of the fact that Bureau Agents had them under surveillance in the lobby of the hotel. (U)

The surveillance of Mr. and Mrs. JAFFEE was discontinued at 12:42 A.M., when it was learned from the cab driver that they possibly were "newspaper people", but thereafter inquiries were made in the hotel to determine the identity of the JAFFEEs. (U)

In view of the difficult circumstances under which this surveillance was conducted, it does not appear that it was handled indiscreetly and, therefore, no administrative action is recommended. (U)

SUBJECT: [redacted]
IS - R
(Physical Surveillance of July 9, 1954)

The following summarizes the physical surveillance conducted on July 9, 1954, concerning the [redacted], KONSTANTIN G. FEDOSEEV, MRS. FEDOSEEV, SAM JAFFEE, and Mrs. JAFFEE. (C)

At 8:37 P.M., SAs DONALD A. GRUENTZEL and ROBERT G. McGEARY observed Mr. and Mrs. FEDOSEEV and an unknown young couple, subsequently identified as SAM JAFFEE and wife, leave the Chastleton Hotel, 16th and R Street, N. W., Washington, D. C. They walked directly to the Colony Restaurant, 1737 DeSales Place, N. W., by way of 16th Street, N Street and 17th Street, N. W. They were observed to enter this restaurant at 8:58 P.M. No attempt was made to keep the party under observation within the restaurant, because it was felt that this could not be done discreetly. (C)

At 11:18 P.M., SAs JOSEPH E. SCULLY, DONALD A. GRUENTZEL and ROBERT G. McGEARY observed the party leaving the Colony Restaurant. These Agents, who were on foot, observed the group walk west on DeSales Place, N. W., north on Connecticut Avenue to N Street, N. W. They observed that FEDOSEEV and JAFFEE walked together very slowly and appeared to be in deep conversation. It was also noted that FEDOSEEVA and Mrs. JAFFEE were walking together about 10 feet behind their husbands and were also conversing. The Agents noticed that the party on departing the Colony Restaurant appeared to be scrutinizing passing traffic and other pedestrians in the area. Consequently, the Agents maintained a discreet distance from the group. (C)

On reaching Connecticut Avenue, SA JOHN H. KENOYER took over the surveillance on foot and observed the party continuing to walk north on Connecticut Avenue, around Dupont Circle, N. W., at which time SA DONALD A. GRUENTZEL rejoined the surveillance on foot. The two Agents observed the party walk northeast on New Hampshire Avenue, N. W., to 16th Street, N. W., and then south on the west side of 16th Street, N. W., to R Street, N. W. While walking from Dupont Circle to this point, the Agents noticed that the party carefully observed other pedestrians and passing automobiles. At no time did a Bureau automobile pass the party or come within its sight. The cars were utilized solely (C) for maintaining contact with the Agents who were on foot. CONFIDENTIAL

Agents GRUENTZEL and KENOYER observed the party standing on the corner of 16th and R Streets, N. W., conversing for about three minutes. At 12:04 A.M., Mr. and Mrs. JAFFEE were observed entering Skyking Taxi Cab #60. At this time, the Agents on foot brought up a surveillance car occupied by SAs SCULLY and ACHENBACH. These Agents observed the taxi proceeding south on 16th Street to M Street, N. W. At this point, SA McGEARY, in another Bureau car, took over the surveillance and observed the cab proceeding west on M Street to 17th Street, N. W., then south on 17th Street, N. W., to I Street, N. W., at which point SA KEVIN F. FLANAGAN, in another Bureau car, took over the surveillance. SA FLANAGAN observed the taxi proceeding west on I Street and south on 17th Street to E Street, N. W. At this point, the first surveillance car took over the surveillance and observed the taxi proceeding east on E Street, N. W., then circle through the Ellipse back to 17th Street, N. W. At this point, SA McGEARY, in a Bureau car, rejoined the surveillance, and the Agents in both cars observed the taxi cab proceeding north on 17th Street, N. W., and Connecticut Avenue to the Mayflower Hotel. The Agents noticed that from the time Mr. and Mrs. JAFFEE entered the taxi cab until they alighted at the Mayflower Hotel, they frequently looked through the rear window of the taxi cab. The cab varied its speed noticeably throughout the ride. (c)

Scully At 12:26 A.M., Mr. and Mrs. JAFFEE were observed by SAs ACHENBACH, FLANAGAN and KENOYER leaving the taxi in front of the hotel. They looked up and down the street and then walked south on Connecticut Avenue, almost to L Street, N. W., whereupon they turned around and started back toward the hotel. At this time, SAs ACHENBACH and KENOYER entered the hotel through the DeSales Street entrance and seated themselves in the lobby. Agent FLANAGAN entered the hotel through the Connecticut Street entrance and proceeded to the desk. About three minutes later, Mr. and Mrs. JAFFEE were observed by these Agents entering the hotel through the Connecticut Avenue entrance. Immediately after entering the hotel, Mr. JAFFEE and his wife were observed standing in the entrance-way and looking up and down Connecticut Avenue. They then proceeded to the center of the lobby where they separated. Agents KENOYER and ACHENBACH observed Mr. JAFFEE walk toward the 17th Street end of the lobby and out of sight. All three Agents observed Mrs. JAFFEE walk to the hotel desk, at which SA FLANAGAN was filling out a reservation form under an alias. After completing the form, SA FLANAGAN walked out of the hotel. At this time, SAs ACHENBACH and KENOYER observed Mrs. JAFFEE purchase a package of cigaretts at the desk. She was then rejoined by her husband, and both Agents observed the couple (U) leave the hotel. During the time that Mr. and Mrs. JAFFEE were in the lobby, the Agents noticed that the JAFFEES were very observant of persons in the lobby. In view of the late hour, few people were in the lobby.

At 12:32 A.M., SA GRUENTZEL observed Mr. and Mrs. JAFFEE come out of the Connecticut Avenue exit of the hotel and, after looking up and down Connecticut Avenue, walk south on Connecticut Avenue to L Street, N. W. At this time, SA ACHENBACH joined the foot surveillance of Agent GRUENTZEL. They observed the JAFFEES crossing Connecticut Avenue at L Street and disappear from view going west on L Street. Approximately two minutes later, SA ACHENBACH observed Mr. and Mrs. JAFFEE in a doorway located on the L Street side of a business establishment at the intersection of L Street and Connecticut Avenue, N. W. He observed that they were looking intently through the plate glass windows of the store in the direction of the Mayflower Hotel. At this point, Agent ACHENBACH, who was standing on a streetcar platform at the corner of L Street and Connecticut Avenue, N. W., boarded a southbound streetcar. Mr. and Mrs. JAFFEE were next observed by SA~~s~~ ~~SCULLY~~ ~~and~~ GRUENTZEL running across L Street to the south side and walking west on L Street to 18th Street. After reaching 18th Street, they recrossed to the north side of L Street and returned to the Mayflower Hotel via L Street and Connecticut Avenue, N. W. They entered the Mayflower Hotel at 12:42 A.M. Surveillance was discontinued at this time upon receipt of information from SA McGEARY to the effect that Mr. and Mrs. JAFFEE were possibly "newspaper people." (U)

After Mr. and Mrs. JAFFEE alighted from the taxi cab in front of the Mayflower Hotel, SA McGEARY located and interviewed the cab driver, ROBERT S. DAVIS, at 17th and M Streets, N. W. DAVIS informed SA McGEARY that immediately after picking up the couple at 16th & R Streets, N. W., they informed him that they were "newspaper people" and that they had spent the evening with a "couple of Russians" and that they probably would be followed. The cab driver stated further that he asked the couple if he should try to "lose them." Mrs. JAFFEE replied, "Yes, if you can." DAVIS also advised SA McGEARY that Mr. and Mrs. JAFFEE were attempting to obtain license numbers, but that he did not think they were successful. He stated that he himself had not been able to detect any surveillance. (U)

After Mrs. JAFFEE had purchased the cigaretts in the hotel and had departed with her husband, SA KENOYER asked the night manager at the hotel desk whether he was acquainted with the couple and whether they were registered at the hotel. The night manager replied that he did not know. (U)

Approximately 20 minutes after the couple had entered the hotel for the second time, SA FLANAGAN, under suitable pretext, interviewed the elevator operator, who advised that a couple answering the description of Mr. and Mrs. JAFFEE had gotten off the elevator at the eighth floor. (U)

Upon receipt of the information from SA McGEARY, as obtained from the cab driver, that the couple were possibly associated with the Press, SA KENOYER contacted the appropriate supervisor and was instructed to discontinue the surveillance in view of the possibility that the unknown couple were associated with the Press. (U)

It was noted in the early stages of the surveillance that the individuals involved were extremely surveillance conscious and the Agents made every attempt to be very discreet. As set forth in detail above, the automobiles and Agents involved were rotated as much as possible to avoid detection by the persons under surveillance. Even though it was apparent to the Agents that the parties under surveillance were apparently looking for a tail, it was not felt desirable to discontinue the surveillance until the couple were identified. The importance of identifying unknown individuals who have personal contact with officials of the Soviet establishments has been impressed on the Field by the Bureau as a necessary part of the Soviet Intensification Program. (C)

On July 10, 1954, SA KENOYER ascertained that the files of this office reflect that SAM JAFFEE of Life magazine on July 6, 1954, discussed with KONSTANTIN G. FEDOSEEV the prospect of having dinner together. No definite plans were made for this dinner. The files also reflected that JAFFEE was residing in Room 877 of the Mayflower Hotel, which is the same floor to which the unknown couple proceeded on the night of July 9, 1954. This information was not available to the Agents conducting the surveillance on July 9, 1954. (C)

For record purposes, at 12:05 p.m., 7-10-54, James R. Shepley of the TIME and LIFE organization in Washington called Wick in my office. He said he could save us some work by reporting the following to us. (u)

A TIME and LIFE writer from New York named Sam Jaafe has been assigned the writing of a story on contemporary religions. Jaafe and a photographer are going into Red China for the purpose of studying Buddhism. (u)

Shepley said that on 7-9-54 Jaafe and his wife checked into Room 876 of the Mayflower Hotel (a suite maintained by TIME and LIFE) and that evening met with Konstantine Fedoseev of the Soviet Embassy at the Colonial Restaurant near the Mayflower where they had dinner. The purpose of this meeting was to obtain Fedoseev's cooperation in travel clearance. Jaafe has had several prior conversations with him. (c)

Shepley said he believed the FBI had a surveillance on Jaafe the evening of 7-9-54 and he just wanted us to know, in case any inquiries arose, the purpose of Jaafe's contact with Fedoseev. (c)

We must have been pretty obvious. H

Wick thanked Shepley for bringing this to our attention and said it would be made a matter of record.

This should be looked into.

ACTION TAKEN:

Supervisor Tom Jenkins of the Washington Field Office was advised of the above at 12:15 p.m., 7-10-54. Jenkins advised that the Washington Field Office was aware of this situation the evening of 7-9-54, had identified Jaafe as a TIME and LIFE employee and was fully cognizant of all the information passed on to the Bureau by Shepley.

SUBJECT: ASSASSINATION OF JOHN FITZGERALD KENNEDY
DALLAS, TEXAS
11-22-63

Reference my memorandum of 9-12-74 concerning contacts between Inspector Bowers and Don Donahue, Special Assistant to Senator Henry Jackson (D-Wash.), regarding the information and photographs Donahue had obtained from Michael Canfield which Canfield believes are pertinent to captioned matter. (u)

Late on 9-12-74 Donahue advised Bowers he had learned from Sam A. Jaffe, free-lance writer in Washington who has been involved with Canfield concerning this matter, that Canfield apparently has made a deal with Stern Magazine, a German publication described as the Life Magazine of Germany, for its use of the photographs Canfield has collected and the information concerning them. This magazine allegedly has arranged for a Swiss photographic expert to examine the pictures in an effort to determine if the three "bums" shown in the photographs might be identical to E. Howard Hunt, Frank Sturgis, and Thomas Arthur Vallee. (u)

Supervisor John Ruhl of Washington Field Office advised Bowers on the night of 9-12-74 that he had received a call from Jaffe who was seeking an FBI evaluation of Canfield's reliability and the information Canfield had regarding the Kennedy assassination. Jaffe told Ruhl he had given Canfield $300 as an advance toward a possible story which he might write regarding the photographs and information Canfield has developed. Ruhl furnished Jaffe no information. He is submitting a communication to the Bureau on 9-13-74 furnishing full details of his conversation with Jaffe. Ruhl also advised that Canfield had contacted him on 9-12-74 and promised to furnish him a set of the photographs he has obtained in accordance with a promise he had made to Ruhl some time ago.

Sam Jaffe

A confidential source, who has furnished reliable information in the past, advised a Special Agent (SA) of the Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI), that the July 15, 1972 issue of "UPI Log", the house organ of United Press International, reflected that "Sam Jaffe Special UPI correspondent has been granted a visa to visit China. He will arrive in early August and will file for the news wires, news pictures, and audio".

The source advised that Jaffe is not on the regular UPI staff, but has done free-lance work for the UPI, such as covering the United Nations General Assembly (UNGA) with a tape recorder. It was the source's opinion that the visa from Mainland China was not arranged for Jaffe by the UPI as they would have sent somebody of more consequence, if they had been able to get a visa. The source also noted that during the UNGA, Jaffe leaned to the Soviet Mission to the United Nations for "behind the scene" type news rather than trying to be friendly with the new Chinese delegatinn.

The source described Jaffe as a former Moscow correspondent for the Columbia Broadcasting System , who is, or has had, numerous close contacts with Soviet nationals. Source statedthat Jaffe later worked as a correspondent for the American Broadcasting Company in Southeast Asia and also did free-lance work for UPI in New York.

On 2/25/71, JAFFE advised that NICHOLAS DANILOFF, a United Press International correspondent is acquainted with YAROCHEVSKIY and other Soviet correspondents in Washington, D. C. JAFFE stated that DANILOFF speaks Russian fluently and has dedicated himself to becoming an authority on Soviet Union affairs. JAFFE recalled that some time ago DANILOFF attempted to interest JAFFE in their pooling expenses and arranging social affairs for Soviet nationals here. Purpose of this was to give them an entre to the Soviets for background information which might serve their correspondent careers. JAFFE was not interested. (C)

JAFFE stated that on the night of 2/25/71, DANILOFF telephoned him and stated that he had turned down an offer to become the head of the UPI office in Moscow. DANILOFF stated the conditions were not right. JAFFE took this to mean that the salary offered for the position was not enough. (C)

Enclosed LHM has been classified "Confidential" as it discloses investigative interest in a representative of a foreign power. (C)

SAMUEL ADASON JAFFE

On February 25, 1971, Samuel Adason Jaffe, a free lance correspondent was shown photographs of Boris V. Yarochevskiy, a correspondent for the Tass News Agency, an official Soviet news agency, and the latter's wife, Inna G. Yarochevskaya. Jaffe recognized the Yarochevskiys and recalled he had previously volunteered information concerning them.

(On April 29, 1969, Jaffe advised he met the Yarochevskiys at a Hungarian Embassy reception in Washington, D. C. (WDC) on April 17, 1969. Yarochevskaya had looked familiar to Jaffe. Yarochevskaya recognized Jaffe as having formerly been a correspondent in Moscow, Union of Soviet Socialist Republics (USSR), and indicated that she had been one of the translators for the Reuters News Agency in Moscow working for John Miller, and that later she had been a translator for Lares Bruger (phonetic), a Swedish newspaper correspondent and a friend of Jaffe.)

(On April 29, 1969, Jaffe indicated that Yarochevskiy was attending the Foreign Language Institute in Moscow while Yarochevskaya was working for Reuters. Later, YAROCHEVSKIY attended Mc Gill University in Canada, and his wife had flown from Moscow to meet her husband in Canada and they then traveled to the United States. On April 17, 1969, Yarochevskaya indicated that she and her husband had been in WDC for approximately a month and a half.)

SAMUEL ADASON JAFFE

(On May 14, 1969, Jaffe advised that recently he had had the Yarochevskiys to his residence for lunch. Present also were an American correspondent and the latter's wife.)

On February 25, 1971, Jaffe stated he has had no further contacts with Yarochevskaya, and has seen Yarochevskiy only once since he had them to his residence for lunch in May of 1969. Jaffe said he had seen Yarochevskiy in attendance at an anti-Vietnam war demonstration in Washington, D. C., in 1969, date unrecalled. Yarochevskiy was walking alone and carrying a camera, and it was not until he was right on top of the Soviet did Jaffe realize his identity. They exchanged only greetings. Yarochevskiy told Jaffe that they must get together sometime.

Jaffe stated he had never known Yarochevskiy prior to their meeting at the Hungarian Embassy reception on April 17, 1969. He had known Yarochevskaya previously, but only as one of a number of individuals whose services as translators, chauffeurs or house maids were made available to foreign correspondents assigned to Moscow by a Soviet government agency which Jaffe knew as "UPDK". It is Jaffe's impression now, that Yarochevskaya had been assigned by 'UPDK', as a translator, to Lares Bruger (phonetic), a Swedish national and a correspondent for a Swedish newspaper, probably in 1965.

Jaffe recalled that both he and Bruger (phonetic) left Moscow in 1965. Jaffe now has the impression that Yarochevskaya was not married when he knew her in 1965. Jaffe did not know her socially. He did not know her by her maiden name. He recognized her at the Hungarian Embassy reception in 1969 but only after Yarochevskaya had refreshed his memory by recalling Moscow.

Jaffe said he believes that the "UPDK" was controlled by the KGB (Ministry of State Security); however, all of the persons employed by "UPDK" were not necessarily connected with Soviet intelligence. Jaffe stated he has no information that Yarochevskaya is, or was, connected with Soviet intelligence.

Jaffe offered his opinion that Yarochevskaya may be connected with Soviet intelligence. He stated his opinion is influenced by the fact that in her 1965 employment as a translator in Moscow, Yarochevskaya had the opportunity of becoming acquainted with foreign correspondents assigned to Moscow. His opinion is influenced also by Yarochevskaya's subsequent marriage to a personable and younger Soviet who received an assignment to the United States as a Tass correspondent. Jaffe stated Yarochevskaya is the only Soviet national whom he knows who was employed by "UPDK" as a translator for foreign correspondents, who later came to the United States.

Jaffe stated that when he served in Moscow he and other foreign correspondents often heard references to a "Black Tass". The rumors were that the Tass News Agency abroad performed two functions. One was to gather news for dissemination to the Soviet people through Soviet newspapers and periodicals. The other, "Black Tass", was a form of intelligence gathering, the results of which were never made known to the Soviet people but were furnished directly to the KGB in Moscow for transmittal to Kremlin officials. Jaffe stated that an example of the "Black Tass" operation would be a Tass correspondent in Washington, D.C. feeling out his contacts to ascertain what the thinking of government officials might be in regard to some phase of the United States' foreign policy. Jaffe said that "Black Tass" would not necessarily relate to espionage.

Jaffe stated the only contact he has had in recent months with Soviet nationals occurred approximately in the end of January, 1971, exact date unrecalled. Jaffe had just stepped away from making a telephone call in the lobby of the Statler Hilton Hotel, 16th and K Streets, N. W., Washington, D. C., when Oleg M. Sokolov, a First Secretary, Soviet Embassy, walked into view. Sokolov greeted him warmly and asked Jaffe where he had been keeping himself and why no one had seen him. Jaffe replied that he has been in the Washington, D. C. area but that he receives no invitations to Soviet Embassy receptions. Sokolov stated that that was not his (Sokolov's) fault and added that there "are two people who like you, Bubnov and I". Sokolov gave Jaffe his business card and said that they must get together.

Jaffe stated Sokolov was referring to Igor D. Bubnov, a Counselor, Soviet Embassy.

Jaffe stated that he does not intend to initiate any contacts with the Soviets.

SAMUEL ADASON JAFFE
INTERNAL SECURITY - NORTH VIETNAM

On January 27, 1971, WF T-1, whose reliability is unknown, however, who is in a position to furnish reliable information, advised that he had received the following information concerning Samuel Adason Jaffe, a free-lance journalist and lecturer in the Washington, D. C. (WDC) area.

Viet Nam C.O.

Samuel Adason Jaffe an acquaintance of one TRAN VAN DINH, former Acting Charge d'Affaires of the Embassy of Vietnam, WDC, and currently employed as a free-lance researcher and lecturer, suggested to TRAN VAN DINH the possibility of arranging for a visit by an unidentified group of United States (U.S.) citizens to various camps in North Vietnam holding U.S. prisoners of war.

Vietnam France

TRAN VAN DINH advised Jaffe that he would correspond with an acquaintance of his one LE CHAN, Director of Press Relations for the Embassy of North Vietnam in Paris, France, and set forth Jaffe's proposal. In addition, TRAN VAN DINH advised he would prepare a letter of introduction to LE CHAN which Jaffe could hand carry. This letter would also set forth the proposal of visiting the U.S. prisoners of war.

France

On January 12, 1971, Jaffe arrived in Paris, France, and contacted LE CHAN at which time it was suggested to Jaffe that the proposal first be discussed with THICK THIEN CHAU, President of the Association of Vietnamese Buddhists in France.

France

Jaffe met with THICK THIEN CHAU for a two hour luncheon engagement on January 12, 1971. THICK THIEN CHAU was generally receptive to the proposal, however, he suggested that the proposal be handled through the National Liberation Front (NLF) representative in Paris, HA THANH LAM. Jaffe was not immediately receptive to this; however, THICK THIEN CHAU indicated that the possibility of any success with his proposal would depend on this course of action.

On January 14, 1971, at 10:30 a.m. Jaffe met with HA THANH LAM, Director of Information, NLF, Paris, France; however, due to a language barrier further discussions were arranged for 4:30 p.m. that day when each could obtain the services of a translator.

At 4:30 p.m. Jaffe returned to the offices of HA THANH LAM with Ann David an acquaintance of his from Sorbonne University, Paris, France. HA THANH LAM had at his office a Buddhist nun, THICK MAN DA LA, who spoke excellent English and who appeared to be very influential during the course of discussion. France

Jaffe emphasized to HA THANH LAM the great concern of the people of the United States for the U.S. prisoners of war in North Vietnamese prison camps and the necessity of allowing an unbiased group, including himself, of U.S. citizens to visit all the prisoners in all the camps and not just a so-called "representative number who may have been brainwashed."

~~SECRET~~ CONFIDENTIAL

After further discussion, the proposal was accepted by HA THANH LAM who advised that he would forward it to the proper North Vietnamese authorities, and Jaffe should again contact him.

On the following day Jaffe was advised that the proposal was accepted for consideration by the North Vietnamese representative in Paris and forwarded to Hanoi for their consideration. Additionally, Jaffe was advised not to expect an answer for at least four weeks.

Enclosed herewith are 9 copies of an LHM submitted in accordance with instructions in Bulet dated [redacted] (RADIO MOSCOW - KGB). One copy is enclosed for Bufile on NY 3507-S.

The confidential source mentioned in the LHM is [redacted], contacted by SA JAMES B. DAVIDSON. During the contact, it was emphasized to informant that his cooperation is strictly voluntary and must remain confidential at all times. It was impressed upon him that he is not a Bureau employee. Care will be taken in the handling of this informant to make certain that he is not a plant.

The LHM is classified "Confidential" as it reflects investigation of a Soviet national, the delicate nature of which requires State Department approval.

Concerning JAFFE, informant stated that he believes JAFFE has a drinking problem and that his current employment with UPI represents a "comedown" from his former positions with CBS and ABC. Informant said that he was at one time very friendly with JAFFE and also well-acquainted with SUKHODREV. He advised that he hopes to get together with both of them for a night "on the town". He will advise this office of future developments if any.

Referenced LHM cannot be disseminated in its present form, as the only connection between the information reported concerning [redacted] and Sam Jaffe is that each was in contact with the same source of your office within a relatively short period of time.

Information pertaining to different subjects which is unrelated should be reported in separate LHMs, so that selective dissemination is possible at the Bureau and in order to insure protection of your source.

In this regard it would also seem unnecessary to set forth in the LHM where specifically your source met Sukhodrev, unless there is some significance in his being on the second floor of the UN which is not readily discernible at the Bureau.

On October 16, 1970, a confidential source, who has furnished reliable information in the past, advised that on the preceding date, he had met Vitaliy L. Beloborodko, at the main gate to the United Nations (UN) Building, 43rd Street and First Avenue, New York, New York.

> Vitaliy L. Beloborodko is a Soviet national assigned to the United States as a correspondent for Moscow Television and Radio. Based on information and/or his activities, he is suspected of being affiliated with the Soviet Intelligence Services (SIS).

The source stated that Beloborodko was with two other Soviets, neither of whom appeared to speak or understand English, and was attempting to have them admitted to the UN grounds based on his own UN accreditation as a correspondent. He was unable to do this and had to go across the street and obtain passes. Source stated that he received the impression that the two unidentified Soviets were probably Beloborodko's superiors as he treated them with considerable deference and appeared to be uncomfortable in their presence.

Source described Sukhodrev as the most intelligent Soviet he has ever met and as the best Russian-English translator at the United Nations.

teacher at Foreign Languages Institute; June 10, 1961-September 1, 1961 with the Soviet Children's Book Exhibit at which time he was described as Senior Teacher, Moscow State Institute for Teaching Foreign Languages; October 18, 1962-November 2, 1962 with a group of Soviets to participate in a meeting of prominent Soviets and Americans at Andover, Massachusetts, at which time he was listed as interpreter; and January 13-28, 1969 with a group of Soviets to participate in the Dartmouth Conference, at which time he was described as "Translator, Docent of 1st Moscow Institute of Foreign Languages." (Shveitser also was in the United States in 1970 with a Soviet group to attend the 20th International Pugwash Conference, at which time he was described as Professor, Moscow Institute of Foreign Languages.)

Source commented that he did not recognize the individual depicted in the photographs of Shveitser and he never heard of this individual; however, he expressed the opinion that the large number of visits Shveitser has made to the United States with a variety of Soviet groups suggests he may be a KGB agent.

Source was asked if he knew of any connection of Soviet poet Yevgeniy Yevtushenko with KGB. (Referenced memorandum dated September 30, 1970 indicates that during interview of Samuel Adason Jaffe on September 24, 1970 concerning his contacts with members of the Soviet group attending the Pugwash Conference in 1970, Jaffe indicated he first met Shveitser a number of years ago when Jaffe interviewed Soviet poet Yevgeniy Yevtushenko with the assistance of Shveitser during the Youth Festival in Helsinki, Finland.) Source replied that he heard that Filip Denisovich Bobkov, identified by source as former Chief of Department in the 4th Directorate, KGB who since 1961 was Deputy Chief of the Second

Chief Directorate (SCD), KGB "was contacting Yevtushenko, trying to influence him - to use" him; however, source indicated Bobkov was unsuccessful, and source described Yevtushenko as a "tough nut" to crack.

"[redacted]"

Source was advised that during a recent visit of Shveitser to the United States with the Soviet group to attend the 20th International Pugwash Conference, Shveitser reportedly roomed at a hotel in New York City with Mikhail Ilich Bruk, another member of this group. (Source previously identified Bruk as a KGB agent.) Source stated the fact that Bruk and Shveitser roomed together while traveling abroad does not necessarily indicate that Shveitser also is a KGB agent. He said it would appear more logical for a KGB agent to avoid associating too closely with another KGB agent. Source stated Bruk is of Jewish background and he described him as a "very sharp agent - clever agent - he wasn't ordinary informer."

September 30, 1970

Reference is made to memorandum dated September 16, 1970, reporting interview of Samuel Adason Jaffe concerning members of captioned group, and memorandum dated June 30, 1970, [redacted] [redacted]" husband of Lyudmila Alekseyevna Gvishiani nee Kosygina, a member of captioned group.

On September 24, 1970, Jaffe telephonically advised he attended the party given on September 18, 1970, at the Harmony Club in New York City by members of the "Young Presidents of America" in honor of some members of captioned group. Jaffe indicated about ten couples attended the party and the only Soviets who attended were Mikhail Ilich Bruk, Aleksandr Davidovich Shveytser, and a young Soviet, about 27-28 years of age, whose name he could not recall, but who is the Novosti Press Agency (APN) representative in New York.

Jaffe indicated that almost immediately he "got off on the wrong foot" with Bruk when he asked Bruk about his old friend, Yuriy Nikolaevich Vinogradov. Jaffe described Vinogradov as his closest Soviet friend and said that while employed at the Soviet Mission to the United Nations, Vinogradov "was running around with girls and Russia pulled him back;" however, he is still connected with the Soviet Ministry of Foreign Affairs. Bruk replied "he and I don't see each other any more - we are not friends." When asked why, Bruk responded: "He called my cousin a dirty Jew."

Jaffe told Bruk he could not believe Vinogradov could possibly say anything like that. According to Jaffe, Bruk, who claims he is Jewish, is "always trying to convince American Jews there is no anti-Semitism in Russia." During the party, Bruk gave a long-winded speech and later Jaffe "sounded off" in a speech "and implied that he (Bruk) was the Soviet Union's House Jew." Jaffe indicated this incensed Bruk.

Jaffe noted that the Soviets are quite obvious in their efforts to convince foreigners they are not anti-Semitic. He was told by some of the "Young Presidents of America" who recently toured the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics (USSR) that the Soviets saw to it that Bruk escorted them and that their driver and their guides were Jewish. The Soviets did not encourage the group, all of whom were of Jewish origin, to visit any synagogues in the Soviet Union.

In an effort to convince Jaffe that the Soviets are not anti -Semitic, Bruk asked Jaffe if he was aware that the wife of Soviet leader Leonid I. Brezhnev was Jewish. When Jaffe answered in the negative, Bruk insisted that not only is she Jewish but that "she has a heavy Jewish accent."

Bruk indicated he is now head of the English Section of APN and obtained this position through his friend, Boris (Sergeyevich) Burkov, former head of APN. Bruk added that Burkov subsequently was demoted; however, this has not affected his own career in APN and he conveyed the impression his job is very secure. Bruk stated he has thirteen people working under him, all of whom he had "handpicked." Bruk commented that Georgiy Bolshakov is no longer working for APN, having been discharged because of heavy drinking.

(WF T-1, a former officer of the Soviet Committee for State Security (KGB) whose bona fides has not been established but who has furnished reliable information in the past, identified Georgiy Nikitovich Bolshakov as a Colonel in GRU (Soviet Military Intelligence) who in 1962-63 worked under cover as a department chief in APN.)

In Jaffe's opinion, Bruk has always been a "name-dropper" and during his conversation with Jaffe, Bruk mentioned seeing or hearing from several American millionaire friends of his. Bruk indicated he had contacted, apparently telephonically, Armand Hammer, head of Occidental Petroleum Corporation, in Los Angeles. He claimed to be in touch with Charles Stewart Mott, philanthropist and former General Motors Corporation executive; with industralist Cyrus Eaton, and with a Vice President of Morgan Guaranty Trust Company, name not recalled, who lives in a plush apartment on 5th Avenue in New York City.

Following the party, Jaffe invited Bruk and Shveytser to dinner and visited Bruk and Shveytser in the hotel room they shared at the Warwick Hotel on 6th Avenue in New York City. While there, Shveytser said the girl from whom Bruk expected a telephone call had not phoned. Bruk replied he was very anxious to hear from the girl, mentioning to Jaffe that he would like to have intimate relations with her, but he did not mention her name.

Jaffe recalled that in Moscow Bruk had the reputation of being a "girl chaser." During his current trip to the United States, Bruk showed Jaffe a photograph of his wife, Helen, and their daughter; and did not mention he had divorced Helen and remarried. Jaffe indicated he previously heard from members of the "Young Presidents of America" who visited the Soviet Union that Bruk had divorced his first wife and remarried, and had introduced members of the American group to his new wife.

Bruk asked Jaffe about his current activities and Jaffe indicated he was doing some free-lance writing and giving lectures. In response to Bruk's questions, Jaffe said his lectures are arranged by American Program Bureau, whose main office is located in Boston, Massachusetts, and he normally receives a lecture fee of $750 less expenses but sometimes get $750 plus expenses per lecture. When asked if he lectures on the USSR, Jaffe told Bruk very few people are now interested in this topic and he generally lectures about Southeast Asia, Vietnam and Cambodia. Bruk appeared to be greatly impressed by the amount of Jaffe's lecture fees and he asked Jaffe: "Could you arrange (speaking) tours for me?" When the latter hesitated, Bruk indicated he felt sure that even though he is a Communist, United States authorities would permit him to visit the United States for a lecture tour. Jaffe suggested that Bruk contact the American Program Bureau of Boston and Colsen Lee of New York City, pointing out that they are managers in this field. Bruk appeared genuinely interested in lecturing in the United States and Jaffe commented he would not be at all surprised to see him appearing as a guest lecturer at United States universities. Bruk indicated he had visited the United States last year, and expected to come again, possibly next year, when he expects to make an inspection tour of all Novosti bureaus abroad.

In discussing Aleksandr Shveytser, Jaffe indicated he first met Shveytser a number of years ago in Helsinki when Jaffe interviewed the Soviet poet Yevgeniy Yevtushenko with the assistance of Shveytser during the Youth Festival in Helsinki. Source described Shveytser as head of the English Department at the Foreign Language Institute; a "very nice guy," very humble and reserved in his conduct. Bruk, by contrast, he considers a vain, boastful, "name-dropping" individual whom he finds quite distasteful. While the three were eating dinner, Bruk commented that Shveytser was connected with KGB (Soviet Committee for State Security). It was obvious to Jaffe that Shveytser was very much upset by Bruk's statement. Jaffe told Bruk his statement was ridiculous per se adding that Shveytser was a very scholarly individual who rarely had contacts with foreigners. Bruk replied facetiously that this was the type of person KGB used; however, Jaffe got the impression Bruk was not sincere in his comments about Shveytser.

Jaffe said he inquired of Bruk concerning several of his Soviet contacts and the latter replied: "I don't see them any more." Shveytser asked Bruk why he still was friendly with him (Shveytser) when he had failed to retain many of his other friends. Bruk replied: "Well, you don't goad me and don't ride all over me." Shveytser replied: "I have let you have it on occasion when you are wrong." Jaffe added that although Bruk is a sharp individual, Shveytser is on a much higher intellectual plane, and expressed the opinion that Bruk probably did not fully comprehend many of Shveytser's comments.

Jaffe stated he has always been convinced that Bruk was a member of or "very close" to KGB and claims to have frequently warned his American associates to be careful of their contacts with Bruk since he was "always probing and picking your brains and reporting back" to KGB.

Jaffe learned from Bruk that Lyudmila Alekseyevna Gvishiani, daughter of Soviet leader Alexey Kosygin, would not depart the United States with the captioned group but would remain in the United States to do research. Jaffe understood she was a historian. He added that unlike some members of captioned group, who reside in hotels during their tour, Lyudmila Gvishiani lives at the Soviet Mission to the United Nations (SMUN) in New York City. Jaffe learned that Gvishiani was interviewed by a reporter of a Milwaukee, Wisconsin newspaper possibly the "Milwaukee Journal." She was willing to talk about the United States and her reaction to the United States, but she would not discuss her father. Jaffe indicated he informed a newspaper friend in New York that Gvishiani was staying at the SMUN; however, he does not know whether or not his friend succeeded in interviewing Gvishiani.

By communication of August 17, 1970, the United States Department of State (USDS) advised that among the Soviets who were issued visas to enter the United States to attend the 20th International Pugwash Conference, Chicago, Illinois, September 9-15, 1970 are:

Georgiy Arkadyevich Arbatov, born May 19, 1923, Kherson, described as Director, Institute of USA (United States of America), USSR Academy of Sciences;

Mikhail Ilich Bruk, born September 22, 1929, Leningrad, described as "Chief Editor of News Agency;"

Lyudmila Alekseyevna Gvishiani, born November 4, 1928, Kirensk, described as Senior Researcher, Institute of USA, USSR Academy of Sciences;

Aleksandr Davidovich Shveytser, born December 8, 1923, Moscow, described as Professor, Moscow Institute of Foreign Languages.

During interview of WF T-1 by Special Agents of the FBI, source was shown the photographs and limited biographic data of Soviets who applied for visas to enter the United States with captioned group. Source indicated he knew only Arbatov, Bruk and Lyudmila Gvishiani. Source stated he was aware that Arbatov attended the Institute of International Relations, finishing in 1948. (Source attended this Institution 1945-1950). Source indicated he was personally acquainted with Lyudmila Gvishiani nee Kosygina, since her family and source's family were friendly. Source's mother and Gvishiani's mother were quite close and Lyudmila Gvishiani also attended the Institute of International Relations. Source commented that the photograph of Gvishiani indicates she has aged somewhat; however, the photograph is a good likeness of her. In commenting on Bruk, source identified him as a KGB agent, and noted that he is now listed as a Chief Editor of APN. Source remarked he formerly was an employee of the International Department of the Soviet Ministry of Health and a very capable agent, "and he was writing his information (reports for KGB).good." Source indicated that although Bruk had some type of medical education, his work in the Ministry of Health dealt "with international relations" and source indicated that his present work probably is not very much different than his former work with the Ministry of Health.

By communication of August 17, 1970, the U.S. Department of State advised that among the Soviets invited to attend captioned conference were Mikhail Ilich Bruk, born September 22, 1929, Leningrad, described as "Chief Editor of News Agency," and Lyudmila Alekseyevna Gvishiani, born November 4, 1928, Kirensk, described as "Senior Researcher, Institute of U.S.A., USSR Academy of Sciences" and daughter of Soviet Premier Aleksey Nikolayevich Kosygin.

On September 15, 1970, Samuel Adason Jaffe (hereinafter referred to as source), former American Broadcasting Company (ABC) correspondent in Moscow, Union of Soviet Socialist Republics (USSR), who now resides in Bethesda, Maryland, telephonically advised a Special Agent of the Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI) that he had been invited to a party to be given on Friday, September 18, 1970, at about 8 p.m., at the Harmony Club in New York City, for Mikhail Bruk, a Soviet national currently visiting the United States with a Soviet group which includes the daughter of Soviet Premier Kosygin.

Source stated he received a call the night of September 14, 1970, from a very close friend, Jeff Jaffe, President of Ward Candy Company, extending an invitation for source and wife to attend the party. Source said Jeff Jaffe is not a relative of source, however, source's father at one time represented the Ward Candy Company. Jeff Jaffe is one of a group of American millionaires referred to as "Young Presidents of America," which recently visited the USSR. Before making the trip, source told Jeff Jaffe he might be contacted in the USSR by some of source's former Soviet acquaintances, including Mikhail Bruk. Source informed Jeff Jaffe that Bruk has acted as an interpreter for Americans in Moscow and has attended a number of Pugwash Conferences as an interpreter, and source indicated he suspected Bruk was connected with the Soviet Committee for State Security (KGB).

RE: [redacted]

After his return from the USSR, Jeff Jaffe told source that during a portion of the tour of the "Young Presidents of America" in the USSR, they were escorted by Mikhail Bruk. Source was told that "at one point in an elevator in the Ukraine," Bruk mentioned source's name to Jeff Jaffe and asked if source was a relative or friend of his. When Jeff Jaffe informed Bruk that they were close friends, but not related, Bruk asked Jeff Jaffe if he would mind taking a letter or note to source. Jeff Jaffe indicated he would be glad to do so, however, they parted that day and he did not see Bruk again for a couple of weeks. Just prior to his departure from the USSR, Jeff Jaffe met Bruk again and reminded Bruk of the letter to source, pointing out that he would be leaving the USSR very shortly, however, Jeff Jaffe got the impression he "was talking to a dummy." Bruk gave absolutely no indication that he recalled ever requesting him to deliver a letter or note to source.

Source stated that when Jeff Jaffe called him September 14,1970, and extended him the invitation to attend the party for Bruk at the Harmony Club, which source referred to as a very exclusive Jewish club, source inquired if Bruk was aware that source might attend the party. Source was told Bruk should not be aware of this. Source indicated he would be in New York City on business Wednesday, September 16, 1970, and might stay over to attend the party that Friday. He indicated his wife would not be able to attend because she has to remain home with their children.

Source indicated he has observed no indication that Bruk has attempted to contact him during Bruk's current visit to the United States; however, source noted that he and his wife were out of town the previous weekend and would not be aware if Bruk attempted to call him during that period.

In answer to a specific question, source indicated he does not know whether or not KGB would have been aware that he was a close friend of Jeff Jaffe prior to the latter's trip to the USSR. Source stated it is possible during his assignment in Moscow as ABC correspondent that he could have mentioned Jeff Jaffe to Mikhail Bruk. He said it also is possible that Bruk asked Jeff Jaffe about him merely because both have the same surname.

SECRET

During an interview on July 25, 1969, by Special Agents of the FBI, WF T-1, a former officer of the KGB whose bona fides has not been established, but who has furnished reliable information in the past, identified Mikhail Ilich Bruk as an employee of the International Department of the Soviet Ministry of Health and a KGB agent "of one of apparatus of one of regions of Moscow." Although not an agent of the Second Chief Directorate (SCD), KGB, Bruk knew several doctors stationed at the U.S. Embassy in Moscow and Bruk was used by officers of the First (American Embassy) Section, First Department, SCD, in their operations against American doctors stationed at the U.S Embassy in Moscow.

WF T-2, another government agency which conducts intelligence investigations, advised that WF T-1 furnished the following handwritten comments concerning his knowledge of the KGB operation against Samuel Adason Jaffe:

"Sam Jaffee, an American correspondent, arrived in Moscow in 1961. The Chief of the 1st Section, 1st Department (Vladislav Mikhaylovich Kovshuk, settled a question with 10th (Correspondents) Department, 2nd Chief Directory (Directorate), that the 1st Department would be working against Jaffee. I remember that he acquainted with a ballet dancer from Finland who was finishing her studies in Moscow and he was even thinking about his marriage with her. At that time we were thinking about a recruitment of this girl and I through (Johann) Preisfreund (identified by WF T-1 as a Finnish businessman and a KGB agent) became acquainted with her. As I found out there was not a sense (useless) as she was going to return to Finland or to Sweden.

"In 1962-1963 I found out from Kovshuk (and Gennadiy Ivanovich) Gryaznov (identified by WF T-1 as an officer of the 1st Section, 1st Department, SCD, KGB) that a senior case officer of the 1st Section, 1st Department, Kus_kov, Vyacheslav Aleksandrovich was working with Sam Jaffee. I don't know (if) he was an agent or an operative contact. I am not sure but it seems to me that he was approached on the basis (of being) connected with women.

"In March 1962 I have seen Sam Jaffee in Geneva. He with other correspondents visited a pair of times the Soviet representative there. He knew several Russian diplomats and among them Suslov, Vladimir (Vladimir Pavlovich Suslov; identified by WF T-1 as a Soviet diplomat and KGB operative contact)."

During interviews of Samuel Adason Jaffe by Special Agents of the FBI during March and April 1969, he identified from photographs of numerous Soviets who had been mentioned by WF T-1 as KGB agents, operative contacts or officers, the following as his Soviet contacts - Mikhail Bruk, Vladimir Pavlovich Suslov, Vladislav Mikhaylovich Kovshuk and Vyacheslav Aleksandrovich Kuskov (known to Jaffe as "Slava"). Jaffe denied ever knowingly being a KGB agent although he stated "Slava" might have thought that he (Jaffe) was "Slava's" agent. Jaffe stated he never told "Slava" or any other Soviet connected with Soviet Intelligence anything other than his own observations and opinions and denied furnishing any information from any government documents. Jaffe indicated that after the defection of WF T-1 was reported in newspapers, "Slava" told Jaffe he had worked with him ("Slava") and knew several of his contacts, including Jaffe. "Slava" then told Jaffe "If you are ever asked anything about me, deny any knowledge of me." Jaffe emphatically denied "Slava" ever made any arrangements to get in touch with Jaffe after Jaffe left the USSR and Jaffe denied ever having contact with "Slava" after his departure from the USSR.

Sam Jaffe

NY T-1 advised that Sam Jaffe, former American Broadcasting Company (ABC) news correspondent in Hong Kong, was present at the United Nations on September 9, 1969. Source learned that Jaffe is no longer employed by ABC and is presently seeking a new journalistic affiliation.

Source indicated that Jaffe is interested in some type of news agency being established in Europe by Simon Malley.

> Simon Malley, who has also been known as Simon Menache (true name), Selim Malek and Selim Menache, was born May 25, 1923, at Cairo, Egypt. He is a United States citizen. During November, 1962, NY T-2, another government agency which conducts security and personnel type investigations, advised [redacted]. NY T-3 advised during January, 1963, that Malley was possibly identical with a paid source of a known Yugoslav intelligence agent. Malley has been an accredited news correspondent at United Nations Headquarters, New York, representing a number of African and Arab news media. In 1967 Malley published a series of articles in the United States concerning travel to China, and in particular about the results of an interview with Chinese Communist Premier CHOU En-lai.

Jaffe was heard to comment that he has been interested in traveling to the Chinese mainland. He noted that he had recently received notice from the "Deputy Representative" of the China News Agency in Hong Kong to the effect that no visas

ReWFO let and LHM 4/29/69; -106 WFO airtel and enclosure dated 5/1/69 under caption "[redacted] IS - CH"; and WFO let and LHM dated 5/2/69. -107 — c —

The NYO agrees with WFO's conclusion that former [redacted] was an agent of the KGB during his service as an ABC Television correspondent in Moscow from 1961 - 1965. While he may not have considered himself as such, there is no doubt the KGB regarded him as their agent. His contacts with Soviet nationals since leaving Moscow in October, 1965, are of such nature that it is not possible to conclude whether or not he continues to serve KGB interests. As noted by WFO, the call he received recently from BORIS SEDOV of the Soviet Embassy in Washington, D. C., indicating SEDOV's desire to show him a photograph is suspicious and could well represent a KGB attempt to re-establish the former agent relationship with him. -S-

WFO's impression of former [redacted] as an aggressive type, a fast talker and a smooth operator is an accurate description and constitutes his basic qualifications for his professional capacity, that of a television reporter-correspondent. His former affinity for Russian matters led him into numerous contacts with Soviet nationals here in the United States and resulted in his being posted to Moscow in 1961. Following his expulsion from the Soviet Union and his subsequent posting to Hong Kong, former [redacted] turned his attention toward the Red Chinese. He undoubtedly views relations with Red China as the future primary concern of the United States and wants to be "in on the ground floor", so to speak. While this desire, in and of itself, does not reflect -Sunfavorably upon former [redacted] and is understandable for one in his position, the possibility that he could be used by the Red Chinese, as he was by the Soviets, should always be borne in mind. [redacted] had an exaggerated faith in his ability to "handle" the Soviets and probably feels the same way now towards the Red Chinese, but his personal conduct, especially in the past, has placed him in a position to be rather easily compromised. The NYO suspects there are still areas of his conduct and activities while in Moscow which he has not revealed. -S-

CIA's interest in [redacted] is undoubtedly based on the possibility of his getting into Red China at some future date. CIA is aware of [redacted] background and the Bureau's dealings with him and is therefore forewarned. - S -

In view of the above, the NYO agrees with WFO that no effort should be made by the Bureau at this time to direct the activities of [redacted] or to give him any assignments. Any information he might volunteer concerning his contacts with Soviet, Soviet-bloc or Red Chinese nationals (or their agents) should, however, be accepted and evaluated. He has furnished information of value in the past and could well do the same in the future. -S-

On April 29, 1969, a confidential source, who has furnished reliable information in the past, advised he had been informed of the following information by Samuel Jaffe, identified below: -S-

Samuel Adason Jaffe, American Broadcasting Company correspondent, recently learned of Dr. Paul Lin, a professor at McGill University, Montreal, Canada. Subsequently, Jaffe obtained additional information concerning LIN from a long-time friend, Mr. H. H. CHANG, a professor at Fairleigh Dickinson University, New Jersey, and from VAN LUNG, one of the owners of the Yenching Palace Restaurant, 3524 Connecticut Avenue, Northwest, Washington, D. C., with whom Jaffe dined in April, 1969. -S-

On April 8, 1969, Jaffe telephonically contacted LIN advising Lin that he had recently seen a New York Times article dealing with the restoration of Canada-China diplomatic relations and in which LIN's name appeared. Jaffe informed LIN that he had been in Hong Kong for about four years and was desirous of interviewing LIN. Additionally, Jaffe informed LIN that he had interviewed CHOU En-lai in 1955 and was one of about 18 journalists invited to visit the China Mainland in 1956. Jaffe also advised LIN that he knew one SZETO KUNG of the New China News Agency in Hong Kong. -S- -S-

LIN advised Jaffe to contact him later at which time he would have a definite answer as to a possible interview. -S-

On April 18, 1969, Jaffe recontacted LIN telephonically at which time LIN indicated a reluctance to grant an interview with Jaffe, feeling that granting such an interview would leave the door open to interviews by many other journalists. LIN, however, indicated a desire to talk with Jaffe and after exchanging telephone numbers and addresses a luncheon engagement was set for April 28, 1969, at the faculty lounge at McGill University, Montreal, Canada. -S-

On April 28, 1969, Jaffe flew to Montreal and met LIN for lunch as previously arranged. Jaffe expressed to LIN his strong desire to visit the China Mainland as a correspondent and suggested that it might be possible that the Chinese Government would permit foreign journalists to enter the China Mainland in connection with the October celebrations. LIN expressed the opinion that the October celebrations would make no difference in the Government's policy concerning the admittance of journalists. LIN suggested that Jaffe write a letter by the first of June, 1969, to the Chinese Government indicating that he desired to enter the China Mainland as a private citizen, stating that he had interviewed CHOU En-lai in 1955 as an American journalist and that if he is permitted to enter China, he would like to continue to pursue his career as a journalist. -S-

LIN indicated that the best way to establish contact would be through the Chinese Embassy in Paris; however, when Jaffe indicated that he knew no one there and the possibility existed that the letter would not be forwarded to the proper channels LIN stated he would "Be going East in early summer" and he would be willing to see to it that the letter would be properly dispatched. LIN also suggested that Jaffe's letter be sent to him for perusal prior to its dispatch as he possibly could be of assistance in wording the letter correctly. LIN emphasized that Jaffe should indicate in his letter that he was writing as a private citizen; however, he should not try to hide that fact that he is a journalist and state in the letter that he had previously been a journalist for "The Nation" and that he would like to write and produce films about China. -S-

LIN also stated that Jaffe should include in his letter the fact that he would be willing to leave his United States Passport in Hong Kong and when Jaffe indicated to LIN that he did not think that would be necessary, LIN stated that maybe "they would not want you to come into China with a U.S. Passport." -S-

According to Jaffe, LIN is a very brilliant individual well-versed in Soviet-Chinese relations and in United States relations with China and the Soviet Union. LIN appeared to be more concerned with Sino-Soviet relations than with the United States. LIN commented that Cyrus Eaton is very much interested in bringing China and the United States together and stated that Eaton had sent him an article from a Cleveland newspaper on anti-China hysteria whipping up in the United States. -S-

In commenting on the recent newspaper accounts of the speech of LIN Piao, Vice Primier, Communist China, LIN stated that he thought it was premature to make any judgment on the speech in its entirety; however, LIN ranked MAO Tse-tung, CHOU En-lai, and LIN Piao almost equally. LIN stated that he did not for a minute think that they believe the United States or the Soviet Union would launch an atomic attack. They do believe the Soviet Union is a serious threat but they do not think either the United States or the Soviet Union plan to launch a premature attack on them. In talking about moderates, LIN stated that CHOU En-lai is not a moderate; he is a tactician. LIN stated that MAO probably is the only man who really understands the Chinese people and believed MAO felt he had to start the Cultural Revolution because there were people in China who were doing things for their own self interest and MAO had to take action, including the unleashing of the Red Guard to prevent this. LIN indicated that he felt MAO has been successful. LIN stated that the Soviet Union is much like the United States but MAO knew -S-that if these people were allowed to gain a foothold that China would revert to the days of CHIANG Kai-shek when there was unlimited corruption and he felt this had to be settled once and for all. LIN stated that MAO, CHOU, and LIN Piao were unanimous and there was no disagreement among them. - S -

LIN stated to Jaffe that he would not set foot in the United States until the Vietnam war was ended; however, later when LIN asked Jaffe if he was aware of the fact that he (LIN) had been in Hong Kong in January, 1969, and Jaffe replied in the affirmative, LIN stated "I am sorry, I am not being completely honest. You know that I was in Seattle." LIN then explained that en route from Hong Kong to Canada he decided to return through Seattle to Canada against the advice of his friends in Hong Kong who indicated that there might be trouble. LIN stated that he was detained at the airport (Seattle) for two hours, was interrogated, and all personal effects were gone through. LIN stated he was sure everything was photographed and he was furious. LIN stated that he subsequently contacted an attorney, "the number one professor of law at Harvard University," who was also incensed over the incident. - S -

LIN inquired of Jaffe if he knew other news correspondents, such as Harrison Salisbury, Doak Barnett, or Frank Trader. LIN indicated that he knew Salisbury well and stated that he was sure Salisbury would speak well of him (LIN). LIN also discussed Mortin Schafer, Canadian correspondent, who entered China as a tourist and who apparently concealed a camera in a cigarette lighter to take photographs in China. Jaffe indicated that that was unfortunate as it has made it more difficult for foreign journalists to obtain permission to enter China. In commenting on correspondent Milton Nash, LIN stated that he thought Nash was "bright and understanding." - S -

LIN was shown a United States newspaper article concerning China and LIN expressed a desire to have a copy of that article. Jaffe promised to send him a copy of the article. - S -

Jaffe indicated to LIN that he intended to remain in contact with him and would forward to LIN his request of the Chinese Government for permission to enter the China Mainland. -S-

He asked subject when he would get an "advance" of the speach, and subject said he did not think ABC (American Broadcast Company) would get one until a half hour prior to the start of the broadcast. - C -

HAJDU also asked subject if he was aware of a report put out by the Institute for Strategic Studies at Georgetown University, Washington, D.C. about the situation in Europe and if subject could obtain a copy of it. SECRET

SAMUEL ADASON JAFFE

Reference is made to memorandum dated April 29, 1969 of the Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI), Washington, D.C. concerning captioned individual. U

Interview, April 16, 1969

On April 16, 1969, Samuel Adason Jaffe telephonically furnished the following information to an Agent of the Washington Field Office (FBI). U

Party Given by Jaffe, Attended by Hungarian and Polish nationals

Jaffe stated he recently held a party at his residence which was attended by a representative of the Hungarian News Agency, the Hungarian Press Attache, and the Polish Press Attache, whom he identified as Andrej Konopacki and described as a "hard-nosed" individual in his political outlook. C

Attempts to Contact Boris Nikolayevich Sedov

Jaffe said he had attempted on three or four occasions to telephonically contact Boris Nikolayevich Sedov at the Soviet Embassy, but was unable "to catch him in." He left word with the Soviet Embassy on one or two occasions for Sedov to contact him. C

(Sedov has been reported to be a KGB officer. Jaffe previously advised that Sedov told him that while thumbing through "our photograph files" he found a photograph of Jaffe taken in Moscow interviewing a Russian. Sedov indicated he thought Jaffe might want the photograph and suggested that they get together for lunch soon.) C

Farewell Party for Vladimir Ivanovich Bogachev

Jaffe advised that next week he will attend the going-away party for Vladimir Ivanovich Bogachev, Novosti Press Agency (APN) correspondent. C

(Bogachev has been reported as connected with Soviet Military Intelligence (GRU). The Novosti C Press Agency was newly established in Russia in February, 1961.) U

Contact with Vladimir Nikiforovich Vashchenko

Jaffe stated he attended the Hungarian Independence Day reception. He arrived late and spent considerable time talking to Captain Vladimir Nikiforovich Vashchenko, Naval Attache assigned to the Soviet Embassy, Washington, D.C. Vashchenko indicated he did not think the dispute between Russia and China will mean anything. He does not see any real trouble now between the two countries. According to Jaffe, Vashchenko did not "spout" the "Soviet line." Jaffe said this was the first time he was able to get a Soviet military man to talk to him for any length of time. C

(Vashchenko has been reported as connected with GRU.) C

Interview, April 22, 1969

On April 22, 1969, Jaffe telephonically furnished the following information to an Agent of the WFO, FBI. C

Contact with Vladimir Fedorovich Petrovskiy

Jaffe said he recently visited New York City in connection with his interest in interviewing a Chinese professor at McGill University in Canada and had a long conversation with Vladimir Fedorovich Petrovskiy and his wife, Mira Mikhailovna Petrovskaya. He also had contact with a Soviet named Loginov who used to be with the Press Department of the Soviet Foreign Ministry in Moscow. C

(Petrovskiy has been identified as connected with KGB.) C

Attempt to Contact Boris Nikolayevich Sedov

Jaffe also stated he "was invited up to the Hungarian Embassy" and while there he asked a Soviet Press Officer, "Where C is Sedov? He said, 'He doesn't work for me. He is in the Information Department.'" Jaffe continued: "They (Soviets) just say he isn't in. He has been in New York." C

Contact with new Tass News Agency Correspondent

Jaffe also indicated he recently met a newly arrived "Tass" correspondent whom he described as "sort of Ivy League," and his wife, whom he described as a "very attractive blond girl who remembered me from Moscow." Jaffe initially did not remember her but later recalled she was a translator for Reuters News Agency in Moscow and later worked for a Swedish correspondent in Moscow who is a friend of Jaffe. Jaffe remarked this couple have only been in the United States about a month. C

Interview, April 29, 1969

On April 29, 1969, Jaffe telephoned an agent of the WFO, FBI and on the same date voluntarily appeared at the WFO for interview. C

Farewell Party for Vladimir Ivanovich Bogachev

Jaffe advised he attended a farewell party for Bogachev at the Aviation Club. According to Jaffe, Bogachev appeared to be "very cold" and "a little stiff" in his contact with Jaffe. Jaffe asked him what he intended to do and he replied: "I might go back to 'Tass.'" Jaffe indicated the Soviets gave Bogachev an "atmosphere weather gauge" as a farewell gift. C

Attempt to Contact Boris Nikolayevich Sedov

Jaffe said Sedov has not yet returned his calls. Jaffe again indicated he met a Soviet Press Officer at a Hungarian reception (later he said he met him at the Aviation Club party) who told him Sedov was not in his department but was connected with the Soviet Information Department at the Soviet Embassy. The C

Press Officer indicated Sedov had been in New York but was now back in Washington, D.C. The Press Officer told Jaffe he would tell Sedov to get in touch with Jaffe. According to Jaffe, the Press Officer, whose name he cannot recall, displayed great interest in Jaffe and "practically begged" Jaffe to invite him to his home. The Soviet stated: "You haven't forgotten? You said you would have me over. You are a great fellow. You will have me over?" Jaffe said he replied in the affirmative. According to Jaffe, the Soviet "made very sure I knew he was Jewish, which was very obvious." Jaffe associates the Soviet's name with the Russian word for "potato." C

Boris Valentinovich Yarochevskiy, "Tass" Correspondent, and his wife, Inna Grigoryevna Yarochevskaya

Jaffe said he attended a Hungarian reception April 17, 1969 which also was attended by several Soviet journalists. The Soviets spent considerable time during the reception, which was held just after the United States "spy" plane was shot down by the North Koreans, in conversation with Bob McCloskey of the United States Department of State. C

Jaffe continued: "I met this young guy - the newest arrival from 'Tass' - Boris (last name unknown)(LNU) and Inna (his wife)." Jaffe described Boris as "very, very Ivy League" and "quite bright." Inna, who looked familiar to Jaffe, came over to Jaffe and stated: "Sam, how are you? You don't remember me? No? You are still a legend in Moscow. There is still talk about you." Inna then indicated that she was one of the translators for Reuters News Agency in Moscow, working for John Miller. Her last job was translator for Lares Bruger (phonetic), a Swedish newspaper correspondent in Moscow and a friend of Jaffe. C

Jaffe stated Boris apparently studied at McGill University in Canada and Inna apparently joined her husband in Canada just prior to his assignment in Washington, D.C. Inna indicated she and Boris have only been in Washington, D.C. about one or one and one-half months. C

Jaffe said Inna "is more outgoing than the others (Soviets)." Both Boris and Inna speak good English. Jaffe indicated that Boris was going to the Foreign Language Institute in Moscow while Inna was working for Reuters News Agency. He said John Miller, Inna's boss, knew Boris. Jaffe stated Boris followed up his studies at the Foreign Language Institute by attending McGill University. He said Inna flew from Moscow to meet Boris in Canada and they then flew to the United States. C

Jaffe said Boris, while studying at McGill University, met a Chinese professor at McGill University whom Jaffe interviewed at McGill University on April 28, 1969. According to Jaffe, this Chinese professor is closely connected with, if not a part of, the Chinese Communist Government. C

Jaffe said he learned from Inna that Yuri Nikolaevich Vinogradov, a contact of Jaffe in Moscow and in the United States, is now divorced. C

[redacted] C

Contact with Vladimir Fedorovich Petrovskiy and (first name unknown)(FNU) Loginov (Possibly Vadim Petrovich Loginov)

Jaffe stated: "I went to New York and called Vladimir Petrovskiy and his wife, Mira, whom I have known for years. We had lunch at 'The Plaza' and had a long relaxing conversation." C

SAMUEL ADASON JAFFE

Jaffe said he mentioned to Petrovskiy that Inna had told him Yuri Vinogradov is now divorced. Although Petrovskiy did not acknowledge that he was aware of this, he stated he was not surprised since he knew he had separated from his wife. Yuri Vinogradov is now in the "World Organization Department" of the Soviet Foreign Ministry as "an assistant to an assistant." Jaffe got the impression that Vinogradov's job is not important. C

Petrovskiy mentioned that Viktor Mikhailovich Sukhodrev and his wife also are now divorced. Jaffe said she had been in "show business." Jaffe continued: "Viktor decided he wanted a diplomatic career. He is working in the Foreign Ministry, but whenever they need a translator, they grab him." Petrovskiy indicated Sukhodrev is not happy with his new job because he likes to travel and "be a big shot." While working at the Foreign Ministry, Sukhodrev occasionally is used as an interpreter in important cases. C

Petrovskiy indicated that Vladimir Pavlovich Suslov is now "what you would call policy planner for United States affairs at the Foreign Ministry. He has the title of Ambassador. He has a very important job now." C

> (Suslov has been identified by WF T-2, a former KGB officer whose bona fides has not been established but who has furnished reliable information in the past, as a Soviet diplomat who is an operative contact of KGB.) S

Jaffe said he learned from Petrovskiy that Yuri Nikolaevich Chernyakov, Press Officer, Soviet Embassy, Washington, D.C., might be recalled. He also learned that Mikhail Nikolaevich Smirnovskiy, who used to be Chief of the American Department of the Soviet Foreign Ministry "is ill" and has been replaced as Ambassador to England. Jaffe got the impression it was a "political illness." C

Jaffe said Mira Petrovskaya is now working for the Aeroflot Section of Intourist in New York because "she decided she would keep herself busy." C

Jaffe continued: "Petrovskiy was concerned because 'The Washington Post' is on a deliberate kick to defame him." Jaffe indicated Petrovskiy has been accused of being responsible for the Soviet Union using the United Nations (UN) for its own advantage. Jaffe stated: "He (Petrovskiy) admits he made a mistake. He thought because it was made public and was given to a group, he was able to publish it, and this has caused embarrassment for the UN." Petrovskiy told Jaffe that "Robert Esterbrook has had two articles sort of attacking me. I admit I made a mistake. I was wrong. I told the Secretary General (of the UN) this. I didn't know you had a group through which this should be cleared. Why should this man continue to attack me? Two articles in 'The Washington Post' and one in the 'Los Angeles Times.'" Jaffe said Petrovskiy indicated the Secretary General of the UN was upset over the incident and Petrovskiy wonders if he should try to "pull the book back" (from publication), if it is still possible to do so.

Jaffe advised that the next day he visited the UN and talked to Petrovskiy and (FNU) "Loginov," who is (Soviet) Press Officer here (Washington, D.C.) and used to be Press Officer in Moscow. We had a conversation. He said he would be in Washington this week and would look me up. Loginov started to discuss the Chinese. I said I would like to go there. He said he had been in China and speaks Mandarin. He said he was very skeptical about one point in (United States President) Nixon's press conference, why he brought up Czechoslovakia in the press conference. 'Do you (Jaffe) think it was a slam at us (Soviets)?' He seemed to read a lot of stuff into it."

(Vadim Petrovich Loginov was in the United States October 27,1959-November 25,1959 as a group leader and member of a Soviet delegation of students. He was again in the United States September 4,1967-November 29,1967 as a temporary trainee at the Soviet Embassy. He returned to the United States February 12,1968 as First Secretary, Political Division, Soviet Embassy, Washington, D.C.)

SAMUEL ADASON JAFFE

Identification of Soviet Nationals Employed in the Press Department, Soviet Foreign Ministry, Moscow

Jaffe was shown photographs of several Soviet nationals and he identified Leonid Mitrofanovich Zamyatin, Boris Dmitrievich Pyadyshev, and Fedor Stepanovich Fedorenko as employees of the Press Department, Soviet Foreign Ministry, with whom he had contact while in Moscow. He was shown a photograph of Fedor Yakovlevich Semenov, but he did not recognize this individual and stated he was not identical with the Fedor Semenov he knew in Moscow as the Number Three Man in the Press Department of the Soviet Foreign Ministry.

Jaffe was asked if he observed any indication that any of these individuals were connected with Soviet Intelligence. Jaffe replied in the negative; however, he stated Boris Pyadyshev "is a very strange guy. A young man. Vladimir (Petrovskiy) told me he had risen to Number Two man (in the Press Department)." Jaffe recalled that on one occasion when he was accompanying N. K. Khrushchev on a trip, he invited Zamyatin to have a drink. Although Zamyatin ordinarily did not drink with Jaffe, he accepted his invitation on this occasion. Zamyatin indicated he was very tired of his position in the Press Department and planned to retire and write under a pseudonym. According to Jaffe, Mira Petrovskaya said she went to school with Pyadyshev. Jaffe said he found Pyadyshev to be a very bright, but very cold individual. Jaffe stated: "I have always felt that Mira Petrovskaya was connected with KGB;" however, she has never made any intelligence approach to Jaffe.

Jaffe then mentioned a Soviet national named Yuri Bekov (phonetic) and stated: "There is no question that he was KGB. (He was connected with) Press Department. He could do more things than the Press Department, but he was supposed to be an arm of the Press Department on trips. He knew all the overt KGB men."

(Fedor Stepanovich Fedorenko has been reported as connected with the Soviet Committee of Information.)

SAMUEL ADASON JAFFE

(Leonid Mitrofanovich Zamyatin has been reported as connected with the Soviet Ministry of Internal Affairs.)(MVD) C

Identification of Soviet Nationals in Contact with Jaffe

Jaffe was then shown photographs of individuals, all but one identified by [redacted] as [redacted], KGB, and whom Jaffe identified on March 21, 1969 as Soviets with whom he had had contact either in the United States or in Russia. When making these identifications on March 21, 1969, Jaffe was not furnished the names of these individuals, and he indicated at that time that although he has a very good recollection of faces of individuals he has met, he has a very poor recollection of names. On April 29, 1969, Jaffe was shown the names as well as the photographs of these individuals, the names of whom are set forth hereinafter: C

Aleshin, Yevgeniy Nikolayevich

Ratnikov, Nikolay Timofeyevich
Sagatelyan, Mikhail R.

Sumskoy, Mikhail Mikhailovich
Timofeyev, Viktor Dmitriyevich
Titov, Viktor Nikolaevich

Jaffe indicated he did not recognize the names of any of these individuals except Vadim Biryukov, Yuriy Fedorov, and Mikhail Sagatelyan. He remarked that many of these individuals have rather common Russian names. He made the following additional remarks concerning individuals depicted in these photographs.

He said he is sure he met Evgeniy Gromakovskiy; however, this name is not familiar to him and he may have known him as Granovskiy. He continued: "I think I knew him, possibly at 'Tass.' I don't think (I knew him) in Moscow." Jaffe stated he did not have close contact with this individual.

In regard to Vadim Biryukov, Jaffe stated: "I always thought that Vadim might have been with KGB. He got 'Life' into fantastic places. Then he worked for 'APN Novosti.' Now I understand he is no longer with 'APN.' He was really close to Ed Stevens."

SAMUEL ADASON JAFFE

([redacted]) C

When shown a photograph of Vladimir Krivoshey aka Krivitskiy, Jaffe stated: "He looks like a Russian. He looks familiar." Jaffe indicated he was not sure whether or not he had contact with this individual and he does not recognize him by name. C

In regard to Vyacheslav Kevorkov aka Chitashvili, Jaffe indicated he definitely knew this individual, but not under the name Kevorkov. He may have known him as Chitashvili, and recalled he was using the "cover of the secretary of the Union of Journalists." C

In commenting on Yuriy Fedorov, Jaffe described him as "an evil S.O.B. Apparently an expert on China. 'Slava' (Vyacheslav Aleksandrovich Kuskov aka Mislyuk, Kiselov, Kislov) said 'Fedorov is very upset with you (Jaffe), feels you don't like him. You never have him up to your home. You have other journalists (there).' I said I didn't like him. He said 'you should see him.' I just didn't. He just dropped out of sight." C

Jaffe indicated he recognized the individual depicted in the photograph of Viktor Dmitriyevich Timofeyev as an individual with whom he had contact; however, this name is not familiar to him. He then stated he recalled an individual named Timofeyev (phonetic) who accompanied Khrushchev on a trip to the United States. Jaffe referred to this individual as a "mystery man" who was very close to Khrushchev. Jaffe indicated that this Timofeyev was not the individual depicted in the photograph of Viktor Dmitriyevich Timofeyev. C

> (On March 21, 1969 Jaffe identified a photograph of Timur Timofeevich Timofeev as a correspondent who "at one time stood very high in Soviet hierarchy" and "came here on Khrushchev trip." Jaffe was told "he stood very high with Khrushchev and then something happened.") C

Jaffe was questioned specifically about Yevgeniy Nikolayevich Aleshin. He stated the name is not familiar to him but he recognizes the face and possibly he met him in the United States rather than in Moscow. He said he cannot recall that Aleshin gave any indication he was connected with KGB. C

Jaffe again identified Vyacheslav Aleksandrovich Kuskov as the Soviet national connected with KGB known to him first as "Slava" and later as Vyacheslav Kiselov. He did not associate the name Kuskov with "Slava". 6

Jaffe was questioned concerning previous comments he made that photographs of Nikolay Aleksandrovich Gavrilenko resemble "Slava's" KGB superior. Jaffe stated: "I can't say it (photographs of Gavrilenko) was 'Slava's' boss. He was less Russian looking. I definitely have seen this guy (Gavrilenko) but the name doesn't ring a bell." 6

When shown a photograph of Viktor Nikolaevich Titov, Jaffe commented: "This could be 'Slava's' boss." Jaffe said "Slava's" boss was a "fellow like this (Titov), younger than 'Slava.' (I was) never introduced by name. All he ('Slava') said was, 'this is my boss.' He ('Slava's' boss) said he can speak a little English. 'Slava' said, 'Better let me translate.' All we did was go over the accident report. At the end he said, 'I am aware of the case.' Then they spoke in Russian. ('Slava' asked) 'What do you think now that you have met Sam?' (The other Soviet replied) 'I would think there isn't anything to worry about.'" "Slava" then indicated to Jaffe that if his boss said there was nothing to worry about, Jaffe could forget about the incident. Later "Slava" tore the accident report up in Jaffe's presence. 6

(Titov arrived in the United States at New York City January 24, 1963, destined to the Soviet Mission to the United Nations with the rank of First Secretary. He departed October 1,1963 and returned to New York City November 19, 1963. He again departed the United States July 24, 1964.)

Jaffe again indicated he recognized photographs of Vladislav Mikhaylovich Kovshuk aka Vladimir Komarov, particularly the younger photograph; however, he does not recognize these names. He said he believes he had contact with this individual in the United States and not in Russia.

C

Jaffe stated his closest contacts among Soviet nationals in Moscow were:

Mikhail ("Mike") I. Bruk;
Yuriy Vladimirovich Fedorov;
Aleksandr "Sasha" Nezmanov, his translator;
Nikolai Sergeevich Kalinin;

C

Yuri Nikolaevich Vinogradov;
Lyudmila Borisovna (LNU), an artist who worked in the television section of APN. C

Jaffe stated he also had several contacts with Oleg Danilovich Kalugin in Moscow; however, he did not associate as closely with Kalugin as he did with the aforementioned Soviets. C

[redacted].) S

(Nikolai Sergeevich Kalinin has been reported as connected with KGB and with MVD.) C

(Oleg Danilovich Kalugin has been reported as connected with KGB.) C

Jaffe stated that another of his Soviet contacts, Vladimir Borisovich Barkovski, was definitely connected with KGB. Barkovski asked Jaffe to "write for their (Soviet) journalists because they don't know about the U.S." Jaffe said he mentioned Barkovski to "Slava," but "Slava" said he never heard of him. He also mentioned Kalinin to "Slava" and "Slava" denied knowing him. Jaffe said he believes Kalinin definitely was connected with KGB. He continued: "When I came to Moscow, who popped up of all people, but Nikolai Kalinin." Jaffe advised he once had his translator call Kalinin at a telephone number furnished by Kalinin; however, Kalinin was not known to the party answering the telephone. S

In answer to a specific question, Jaffe said it was Lyudmila Borisovna (LNU) who confirmed the "Khrushchev ouster exclusive" given him by "Slava." Jaffe said he accomplished this through a telephone call to Lyudmila at APN. Prior to contacting Lyudmila, Jaffe had not been able to confirm the story. C

United States Correspondents Currently in Moscow

Jaffe stated he recently received a letter requesting his advice from Irving Chapman who has been the American Broadcasting Company (ABC) correspondent in Moscow for only about three months. Jaffe said Ken Bernstein, who has been the National Broadcasting Company (NBC) correspondent in Moscow for three years, got an exclusive concerning the Chinese-Soviet border clash. Jaffe stated: "The pressure is on 'Irv' (Irving Chapman)," who has been told, "if you can't do the job, you might as well get out." U

In his letter, Chapman said, "I don't know how he got the film. I guess he got it through APN Novosti." Chapman reached the conclusion NBC apparently obtained the exclusive through Viktor Louis. Chapman stated: "I don't know how much NBC gives him, but he is riding around in a Porsche (automobile)." Jaffe then stated: "'Slava' was interesting, a Stalinist. Louis is a capitalist. I had very little to do with him. I was at his apartment once and I heard about his house." Jaffe indicated that because of his wife's curiosity, he and his wife visited the house of Viktor Louis, which he described as very "plush." S

Jaffe said Chapman "asked me for my contacts and how he can defeat NBC." Chapman's letter stated: "I met many of your friends. They send best regards and inquire about you." Chapman mentioned three individuals, Vetler Prog (phonetic), who is connected with the State Committee on Radio and Television of the Soviet Foreign Ministry; Mikhail Bruk, and Viktor Louis. The letter stated: "They all indicate there has been no correspondent with ABC (in Russia) since Sam Jaffe left. They don't think much of Watkins (Jaffe's successor as ABC correspondent in Russia)." According to Jaffe, Chapman's letter indicated that Jaffe's Soviet contacts suggested that "if Jaffe was there he would have such an exclusive." Chapman asked: "Can you help me out and tell me what you can do with Louis?" Chapman's letter concluded: "If a KGB agent like Viktor Louis is good enough for S. Jaffe, he certainly is good enough for I. Chapman." S

Jaffe said his advice to Chapman was: "Play one against the other, as well as with Viktor Louis, through the Embassy." S

SAMUEL ADASON JAFFE

Jaffe explained that he advised Chapman to clear all his contacts through the American Embassy, Moscow.

Jaffe indicated he was surprised when he learned recently that Viktor Louis had travelled to Taiwan and had written an article praising the Taiwan government. Q

Jaffe concluded: "Ken Bernstein should get out of there (Russia). He is a bachelor. I know he is shacking with Russian girls. I saw him in Hong Kong and asked, 'Are you going back.' He said he doesn't know exactly what he will do. (He said) 'I am going back for a while.'" U

Moscow Journalists Suspected by Jaffe of Being Connected With KGB

Jaffe was asked if he considered Edmund Stevens to be connected with KGB. He replied: "How can you stay in that country that long and get the things that he got without having some connection with KGB? How can he have this beautiful house? Then, when it is torn down (because of a roadbuilding project), he winds up in an ex-embassy!" In commenting on the Soviet wife of Stevens, Jaffe stated, "She is weird. How does she get Soviet art out of the country?" Jaffe stated Stevens appears to have dropped out of the newspaper field. Jaffe said he was once a syndicated writer, but "not any more. He had a deal in caviar and vodka, selling vodka and caviar to the Kremlin." Jaffe described his daughter, Anastasia, as a "nut" and said he understands she is now married. G

Jaffe emphatically expressed the opinion that Stevens, Viktor Louis and Henry Shapiro are connected with KGB. He described Shapiro as "an evil little man," "more Russian than the Russians." Jaffe stated: "He should get out and teach. He is no writer." C

[redacted]) S

In discussing Viktor Louis, Jaffe stated he "never had any doubts that he (Louis) was with KGB." In discussing Louis, Jaffe indicated that all important "exclusives" in Moscow pertained to security matters and not to "leaks" from the Soviet Foreign Ministry concerning political matters; therefore, KGB must have been responsible for the "exclusives." Jaffe indicated that Louis was the recipient of many such "exclusives." Jaffe also indicated that Louis appears to live far better than other correspondents from foreign countries and is permitted to travel extensively abroad, including countries such as the United States and Taiwan. Jaffe indicated that these factors convince him that Louis is connected with KGB. C

Jaffe concluded: "That is what they (KGB) do. They set this man up. If you want information," then contact a man such as Viktor Louis. C

Jaffe's Future Plans

Jaffe stated: "I like to keep contact with these people (Soviet and Chinese nationals) because it will pay off in the long run." Jaffe indicated he expects to attend the May Day celebration at the Soviet Embassy, Washington, D.C. He also indicated he was still actively trying to obtain an assignment as a newspaper correspondent in Mainland China but has done nothing more concerning his desire to obtain a similar assignment in Cuba. U

In discussing his desire to go to Mainland China, Jaffe indicated that he had interviewed Chou En Lai in 1955 and was one of 18 foreign correspondents selected to visit China in 1956. In the Fall of 1965 he went from Moscow to Belgrade, Yugoslavia, following his ouster from the Soviet Union, and conveyed to Chinese newsmen in Belgrade his desire to obtain a newspaper assignment in Mainland China. While in Hong Kong he made the same desire known to Szeto Kung of the Chinese News Agency. Finally, on April 28, 1969 he indicated to a Chinese professor at McGill University in Canada his desire to obtain a newspaper assignment in China and the professor agreed to forward a letter from Jaffe indicating U his desire to visit Mainland China. The Chinese professor has suggested that Jaffe mention in the letter that he desires to visit China as a private citizen rather than as a newspaper correspondent; however, Jaffe should be completely honest in the letter, mentioning the facts that he has been a journalist, that he interviewed Chou En Lai in 1955, and that when visiting China as a private citizen, he would like to continue his writing career.

of whom have been identified by informants as being connected with KGB or GRU. Characterizations of these Soviets have been included in the LHM; however, no attribution to sources was included in order to protect those sources who have not been surfaced. Although sources such as [redacted] and [redacted] and [redacted], who furnished information regarding Soviet Intelligence Service connections of some of JAFFE's contacts, have been surfaced, other sources, such as [redacted] and [redacted], have furnished information regarding many of JAFFE's contacts. To attribute characterizations by [redacted] of being connected with KGB of numerous Soviets and characterizations by [redacted] of being connected with GRU of many other Soviet contacts of JAFFE, would clearly suggest that the FBI [redacted] those establishments in the United States. (S)

As indicated in reWFOlet 2/28/69 requesting Bureau authority for interview of subject, approved by Bulet 3/12/69, JAFFE was invited to WFO and showed no reluctance to do so. Since he was on general assignment, he called his office at the beginning of each of the first two interviews to give the telephone number at which he could be located. He was contacted by his office during the first interview. On the third interview, he had what he called a "Bellboy" signalling device which he said would receive a signal from his office after which he would call. He indicated he used this device to avoid the office giving out the FBI telephone number to anyone, including Russians, who might call him. C

JAFFE gave the appearance of being a very aggressive, fast-talking, smooth operator. Prior to each interview, he had been drinking, but was not intoxicated. U

The first two interviews were handled as planned, by asking him to recount his experiences and contacts with Russians in the USSR and Hong Kong, including his experiences with "Slava". He expressed no hesitancy in talking about his contacts but constantly spoke in generalities, tending to "playdown" his relations with "Slava". He furnished more detail after specific S or leading questions were put to him. For example, the disclosures he made to [redacted] were confirmed in interview only after leading questions.

During the interview on 3/27/69, JAFFE was advised that interviewing agents were concerned regarding a number of aspects of his relationship with the Soviets and the FBI. For example, it was noted he had now disclosed considerable additional information about his relationship with "Slava", more than previously; that because of his past relationship with Agents of the NYO, the FBI had a right to expect that he would make immediate full disclosures of such relationship and his failure to do so raised questions about the relationship, whether he has been recontacted by KGB since he left Russia, etc. It also was pointed out that his expulsion from Russia after he had been ordered to Hong Kong and his replacement named, seemed somewhat suspicious, particularly since he had been warned that a defector knew of his relationship with "Slava"; that this defector had in fact reported this relationship and alleged that he had been an agent of and furnished information to "Slava". He was urged to now furnish complete information regarding his relationship with the KGB and to "square the record" with the FBI. C

JAFFE did not lose his composure at any time during the interviews, but, as indicated in the LHM, when pressed on 3/27/69 on his relationship with KGB and his failure to make complete disclosure to FBI, he offered the lame excuse, his fear of "Slava", but conceded this was a poor excuse for not reporting the relationship after his return to the United States. C

JAFFE was emphatically told that the FBI had not had any contact with the American Broadcast Company (ABC) with regard to him and had not in any way labelled him as a security risk to any other person or agency. He replied that someone had done so and indicated he was aware that some ABC officials are very close to CIA. C

JAFFE seemed very concerned that ABC did not give him the diplomatic "beat" or the State Department "beat" which he seemed to consider his right. It appears he will continue contacts with the Soviet Bloc people as a means of trying to get such assignments. To preclude his use of cooperation with the FBI as a means to this end, he was very emphatically told that the decision for such continued contacts was strictly his decision and the FBI would not ask him to do so. C

It also is apparent that JAFFE is intensely interested in getting an assignment to China or Cuba. He denied that he had any KGB instructions to do so, but this, of course, is a definite possibility. It is not possible to accurately assess this possibility at this time, and it also is not possible to conclude whether he is or is not still in contact with KGB and acting as an agent. He emphatically denied any intelligence contact since he left Moscow; however, the call which he said he received from BORIS SEDOV desiring to show him a photograph seems unusual and is possibly contrived. 6

JAFFE is in current contact with Chinese nationals, which he is reporting to [redacted], who appears to be very friendly with JAFFE and, of course, is interested in getting him into China. [redacted] 5

Since the interview of 3/27/69, JAFFE has telephonically furnished some general information regarding his current contacts with Soviet and Satellite nationals and his unsuccessful efforts to recontact SEDOV. C

Based on the interviews, WFO believes that we should continue to accept information volunteered by JAFFE regarding his contacts with Soviets, Satellites, and Chinese; however, it is believed no effort should be made at this time to direct his activities or to give him assignments, particularly since the possibility exists he would attempt to use any such relationship to support his attempts to get certain assignments from ABC, or otherwise advance his career. WFO will follow this policy, UACB. C

In the event JAFFE later reports that he has been recontacted by KGB to work in the United States, this matter will be re-evaluated and appropriate recommendations made. S

WFO will keep this file in a Pending status for a limited time to follow JAFFE's relationship with SEDOV and to see if this develops into a KGB follow-up. If it does not, the case will be closed. S

(It is noted that both of the above are now on their respective assignments in the WDC area and STENT continues to contact former NY 2524-S.) The name of captioned subject was furnished to STENT.

On 4/24/69, STENT advised that on 4/8/69 former NY 2524-S telephonically contacted LIN, advising LIN that he had recently seen a New York Times article dealing with possible restoration of China-Canada Relations and in which LIN's name appeared and he wished to interview LIN. By way of documentation, former NY 2524-S advised LIN that he had interviewed CHOU En-lai in New Delhi in 1955 and he was personally acquainted with SZETO KUNG, a New China News Agency representative in Hong Kong. Former NY 2524-S was advised by LIN to contact him later at which time he would have a definite answer. On 4/10/69, former NY 2524-S recontacted LIN, telephonically, at which time LIN stated that he would not submit to an interview however, he would be very much interested in talking to former NY 2524-S. A luncheon date with former NY 2524-S was set for April 29, 1969, at the faculty lounge at McGill University, Montreal, Canada. S

On 4/29/69, [redacted] contacted WFO and advised as follows: C

On 4/28/69, he met with PAUL LIN at the faculty lounge at McGill University, Montreal, Canada, as previously arranged through telephonic contact with LIN. (He had been furnished LIN's name by [redacted] and prior to that had never heard of LIN.) He spent approximately two hours with LIN and LIN was very receptive and friendly towards [redacted] indicated his desire of visiting the China Mainland, possibly during the October celebrations; however, LIN suggested that [redacted] may not have to wait that long. LIN suggested that a letter be directed to CHOU En-lai indicating his desires. When [redacted] suggested that the letter may never reach CHOU if sent directly, LIN suggested the possibility of sending it through the Chinese Embassy, Paris. [redacted] suggested that it S still may not reach the proper channels at which time LIN stated that he would be going "East" sometime soon and possibly he could insure its proper dispatch.

[redacted] intends to draft a letter in the near future and send it to LIN for perusal and necessary corrections, and when in acceptable form (according to LIN) submit the letter in final form to LIN for dispatch to CHOU.

C

Additionally, [redacted] advised that on 4/21/59 at the suggestion of one H. H. CHANG, with whom he recently lunched in WDC, he met with NELLIE MARANS, a French woman free-lance correspondent at the UN, NYC. CHANG had advised [redacted] that MARANS had previously interviewed LIN and therefore might possibly be of interest to him prior to his contacting LIN. [redacted] stated that he had given a report of this contact to [redacted]. [redacted]

S

As set out in referenced WFO letter, 4/29/59, WFO believes that we should continue to accept information volunteered by [redacted] regarding his contacts with the Soviets, Satellites, and Chinese; however, it is believed no effort should be made at this time to direct his activities or give him assignments, particularly since the possibility exists he would attempt to use any such relationship to support his attempts to get certain assignments from AEC, or otherwise advance his career. UACB, WFO will follow this policy.

I. Jaffe's Contacts with FBI, 1958 - 1961

Samuel Adason Jaffe, born June 19, 1929, San Francisco, California, advised agents of the New York Office, Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI) in July, 1958, that he was taking two Soviet employees of the Soviet Mission to the United Nations (SMUN) to dinner. At that time Jaffe was a Columbia Broadcast System (CBS) News Correspondent at the United Nations (UN). Jaffe subsequently furnished voluminous information concerning his contacts with Soviet nationals to the FBI from 1958 until November, 1961 when he assumed the position of American Broadcast Company (ABC) Television Correspondent in Moscow.

SAMUEL ADASON JAFFE

II. Jaffe's Contacts with FBI While Assigned to Moscow

U Jaffe furnished the following information to agents of the New York Office of the FBI on January 7, 1963.

U.S. Russia

C Jaffe stated he was acquainted with Yuri Vladimirovich Fedorov while in Moscow. Jaffe said Fedorov was with the Novosti Press Agency in Moscow.

C While Jaffe was in Moscow, in 1962, he became acquainted with a number of Soviet citizens both male and female. He said that he was dating one Soviet female by the name of Galina in the Fall of 1962. He became acquainted with her through other Soviet females with whom he was acquainted; however, he was unable to furnish her last name. Galina told Jaffe that she had been dating foreigners in the past and, because of this, had been called into KGB Headquarters and warned against continuing her association with foreigners.

C During the Cuban crisis, in the Fall of 1962, Fedorov told Jaffe confidentially that there was a bitter dispute among the Soviet hierarchy in the Kremlin concerning the manner in which the Soviets should deal with the Cuban crisis. Fedorov told Jaffe that Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev was able to muster enough support for his position and eventually won out over those in the Soviet hierarchy who proposed a tough uncompromising attitude.

Russia

C Jaffe advised that he used the information furnished to him by Yuri V. Fedorov concerning the dispute in the Kremlin over the Cuban crisis in a broadcast over the ABC network.

Russia U.S

C Jaffe recalled that the aforementioned information came to him from Fedorov on a Friday late in October, 1962. On the following day, a Saturday, Jaffe attended a social function at the home of Stanley Weyman, Life Magazine correspondent in Moscow. He brought his friend, Galina, with him and remained at Weyman's house until some time after midnight. When he departed from Weyman's house, he took Galina and a Soviet male with him. The Soviet male, whose name he could not remember, was also a guest at Weyman's house and Jaffe offered to drive him home. This Soviet male was associated with the Ministry of Foreign Affairs, according to Jaffe.

SAMUEL ADASON JAFFE

After Jaffe dropped the Soviet male at his home, he proceeded to drive toward Galina's home. At Galina's instruction, he made a turn in an area of Moscow which was unfamiliar to him. After making this turn he hit a deep hole and blew out several tires on the Chevrolet automobile which he was driving. Jaffe said that he sent Galina to obtain police assistance and, after she left, he noticed four male individuals driving by in an old Pobeda automobile. Shortly thereafter several truck drivers came by and assisted Jaffe. Fortunately, he had several spare tires in his automobile. At about 3:15 a.m., the police came by but showed no interest in Jaffe and apparently made no report of his situation. Jaffe then returned to his apartment.

Some time after Jaffe returned to his apartment, he received a telephone call from Galina. Galina told Jaffe that she had to see him immediately. She said that she was near the American Embassy in Moscow and Jaffe arranged to meet her in the vicinity of the Ukraine Hotel in Moscow.

When Jaffe met Galina he found that she had apparently been physically abused as she bore scars and marks on her arms and face. Galina told Jaffe that after she left him she went to telephone for assistance. As she was leaving the telephone from which she made the call to the police, she was accosted by two men. She immediately resisted efforts of these men to detain her and as she ran from them she was accosted by another man who knocked her to the ground. She told Jaffe that she was then taken to a police station where she was questioned at length about her association with Jaffe. The individuals questioning her wanted to know how long she had been seeing Jaffe, where she had been with Jaffe and they were particularly interested in her travels with Jaffe during the last several days. They wanted to know if Jaffe was in love with her.

Galina told Jaffe that they wanted her to sign a statement to the effect that she would not see Jaffe again. These individuals also wanted to know what, if anything, Jaffe had given her by way of gifts.

Galina told Jaffe that at approximately 6:00 a.m. another individual came in and questioned her about the same matters but did so in a very polite and refined manner. This was in contrast to the manner in which she had been questioned immediately subsequent to her arrival at the police station. Galina told Jaffe that she was quite upset and a doctor was also called to administer a sedative to her.

Before being released by the police, Galina was told by the police not to see Jaffe again. She said that they told her that Jaffe's name and her name would appear in "Izvestia". C

After hearing Galina's story, Jaffe called Fedorov and relayed the story of Galina's experiences to Fedorov. Fedorov told Jaffe that he would be right over to see him. 6

According to Jaffe, Fedorov immediately came to see him at his apartment. Upon his arrival Fedorov acted as though he were shocked by the whole story which Jaffe told to him. Fedorov told Jaffe that this was a very serious matter and that an article was then being written concerning Jaffe's association with Galina. He said that Jaffe would be depicted as an American who had led a Soviet female astray. This would serve as a lesson to Soviet citizens, particularly females, to refrain from associating with American citizens. Fedorov also told Jaffe that this article would appear in "Komsomolskaya Pravda". Fedorov said that he did not know what he could possibly do for Jaffe but suggested that a friend of his, who is a Deputy Editor with "Komsomolskaya Pravda", might be able to help. Fedorov suggested that there might still be time to stop the story. In Jaffe's presence Fedorov made a telephone call allegedly to his friend the Deputy Editor. After the call was made Fedorov told Jaffe that it would be okay for them to see his friend at 6:00 p.m. that night. 6

Jaffe met Fedorov at a restaurant in Moscow at 6:00 p.m. that evening in accordance with arrangements previously made. Fedorov's friend, the Deputy Editor, was to meet them there but prior to Fedorov's friend's arrival, Fedorov told Jaffe that his friend was not actually Deputy Editor of "Komsomolskaya Pravda". He told Jaffe that his friend was an old war buddy who just happened to be in the KGB. 6

When Fedorov's Kissla friend arrived he was introduced to Jaffe as Vyacheslav Kislov. Jaffe came to know this individual as "Slava". Kislov said to Jaffe "I guess you know who I am". He then went on to tell Jaffe that he was with the KGB. He said that he and his colleagues were not too pleased with Jaffe's conduct. He asked Jaffe who his source in the Kremlin was and then 6 suggested that information which Jaffe obtained concerning a dispute in the Kremlin came from someone in the American Embassy in Moscow. Jaffe denied that his source was in the American Embassy in Moscow but refused to tell Kislov the identity of his source. 6

Kislov then proceeded to give Jaffe a complete run down of everything he had done in Russia. He named females Jaffe had dated and told Jaffe all about his association with Galina. He went on to tell Jaffe that Galina was formerly a designer in a factory in Moscow but that she would be given a trial and be banned from Moscow. 6

When Jaffe asked Kislov about the story being prepared for "Komsomolskaya Pravda", Kislov told Jaffe that he liked him. He said that he might be able to kill the story while at the same time he looked at his watch. He then said that he would see what he could do, expressing the opinion that he could probably kill the story. Before Jaffe left Kislov's company, Kislov said that he would like to see Jaffe again and Jaffe agreed to see him although no definite arrangements were made. 6

On the following morning Kislov called Jaffe and told Jaffe that he had succeeded in killing the story. He asked Jaffe to have lunch with him and a date was made. At lunch Kislov told Jaffe that he had been in the United States. He then told Jaffe that it was necessary to watch Western correspondents in Moscow as the Soviets know that American citizens pay a great deal of attention to material written in newspapers. He said it was necessary for the Soviets to be careful what they permit Western correspondents to write and say. He said the Soviets would like to know Western reaction to Soviet moves particularly Soviet moves in situations like the Cuban crisis. 6

Kislov then went on to tell Jaffe that he was lucky to be in Moscow and itwas only because of his superiors that he was granted a visa. He told Jaffe that Jaffe killed his chances for obtaining a Soviet visa of his own accord because ~~of his~~ conduct during the trial of Francis Gary Powers on espionage charges in Moscow in 1960. At this time Kislov said that the Soviets concluded that Jaffe was employed by the Central Intelligence Agency (CIA) and had been assigned to keep track of Powers' wife, Barbara, since he spent so much time in her company. C

Jaffe was aware that upon his arrival in Moscow late in 1961, he was kept under surveillance for four solid weeks. Kislov called this to Jaffe's attention and told Jaffe that he had aggravated some Soviets who were surveilling him because of his activities. Kislov then went on to discuss the fact that the Soviets had exposed several United States Embassy officials as intelligence agents recently. Kislov told Jaffe that these were strictly retaliatory measures taken by the Soviets because of Soviet nationals associated with the United Nations who had been exposed in the United States. S

Kislov also asked Jaffe to bring him a miniphone recording machine from the United States. S

Jaffe said that during his stay in Moscow he has never experienced anything which would indicate that the Soviets were attempting to compromise him with the exception of the one incident related herein. C

Jaffe made one observation stemming from his visit in Moscow to the effect that the younger generation Soviet is more free thinking and independent than his elders. The younger generation Soviets, in Jaffe's opinion, do not have the unbending fear of the Soviet regime which has been characteristic of the Soviet people in the past. U

Yuri Vladimirovich Fedorov was in the United States from January 20, 1962 until May 1, 1962, with the visit of the Soviet Children's Art Exhibit to the United States. He is a Senior Editor of the periodical "East and Latin America" of the Novosti Press Agency. C

Jaffe was able to identify a photograph of Fedorov as the individual known to him in Russia. C

The Novosti Press Agency was newly established in Russia in February, 1961. C

Jaffe stated he was very displeased with his assignment in Moscow because of living conditions. He intended to fulfill his contract which called for his return to the U.S. in November, 1963. Jaffe did not intend to renew his contract as far as an assignment in Moscow is concerned. U

Jaffe made his home in Moscow at 19 Kutuzovsky Prospect, Apartment 133-134, Entrance 4, Floor 6, Moscow. U

During the year he had been assigned to Moscow, Jaffe traveled to Copenhagen, Italy, Finland, and Rumania. All of these trips were on business with the exception of his trip to Italy where he spent his vacation. Jaffe advised on January 7, 1963, that while in Moscow he had occasion to see the following Soviet nationals with whom he was acquainted in the United States: U during the week of December 30, 1962. Jaffe was with Dave Miller, "New York Herald Tribune" Moscow correspondent, at that time. Jaffe said that he and Miller spent about an hour with Bogachev and Turkatenko discussing life in Moscow.

Jaffe left the U.S. on January 13, 1963 for East Berlin, where he was to cover the visit of Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev to that city. He then would return to Moscow with Khrushchev and complete his assignment there. U

During interview of January 7, 1963, Jaffe asked if there was any way that he could possibly communicate information to interviewing agents. He explained that he does not expect to come into possession of any earth shattering or startling information, but he does believe that it would be possible for him to learn of information which would be of interest to the FBI from time to time. He had specific reference to advance notice which he might receive of information which might later become public knowledge through news media. Jaffe was discouraged from attempting to communicate with FBI agents in any manner whatsoever from Moscow. C

Jaffe said that he is not favorably impressed with State Department representatives in Moscow, at least the ones with whom he deals. He said that the people with whom he deals give him the impression of being naive in the field of security and intelligence work, and therefore, he has no desire whatsoever to furnish information to them. Jaffe had particular reference to the security officers in the U.S. Embassy in Moscow with whom he has dealt. U

Jaffe said that he does know one individual by the name of Sam Wise at the U.S. Embassy in Moscow in whom he has the utmost confidence. U

Jaffe advised agents of the New York Office of the FBI on January 18, 1965, that since he had been assigned to Moscow he has become very friendly with Yuri M. Vinogradov, who is presently assigned to the United Nations Secretariat. He advised that Vinogradov's wife is a top rated television star in Moscow on children's programs. On Monday, January 18, 1965, Jaffe had lunch with Vinogradov and his wife and James Hagerty, an official of the ABC. Conversation during this lunch C concerned itself with Vinogradov's wife's interest in making television shows in the U.S. for presentation in Russia. Jaffe said that Vinogradov's wife has been here for a very short time with her child and she is very upset about being in the U.S. and does not like it one bit. This in turn has upset Vinogradov and Vinogradov's wife's mother, who still resides in their two room apartment in Russia, is also very upset over the presence of her daughter and grandchild in the U.S. Jaffe said that Vinogradov's wife's mother lives with the family in this two room apartment in Moscow and by Soviet standards they live rather well.

Jaffe said that Vinogradov has good taste and is interested in the finer things in life and seldom fails to ask Jaffe to obtain a bottle of Scotch for him when he sees him. C

Jaffe said that Vinogradov does like the good things C in life.

He said that on Saturday evening, January 16, 1965, he visited Aleksandr N. Druzhinin in his apartment in the Schwab House for dinner. Druzhinin's son and wife were present as well as Stanislav N. Kondrashov and Georgi A. Kuznetsov. Jaffe said this was strictly a social visit related to his assignment in Moscow and acquaintance with many Soviet nationals. C

Russ

Jaffe said that he has seen Vadim A. Bogoslovski in the Soviet Union, however, of recent date Bogoslovski no longer acknowledges his acquaintance with Jaffe. Jaffe spoke to Vinogradov about this and Vinogradov told Jaffe that Bogoslovski is a member of the Central Committee of the Communist Party and as such is forced to give up many of his former friends and acquaintances. Vinogradov said that as much as he likes Jaffe, he would give up his acquaintance with Jaffe were he to be elevated to a sensitive position on the Central Committee. C

Jaffe said that he is acquainted with a Frank Dandridge, a Negro photographer. He met this individual through Mari Yanopsky, who is employed in the Publicity Department of ABC. Yanopsky introduced Dandridge to Jaffe for the purpose of soliciting Jaffe's cooperation in arranging a trip to the Soviet Union for Dandridge. Jaffe said he was never able to do anything for Dandridge. U

WF T-1, advised that on January 16, 1964, Frank Dandridge, a Negro photographer, told Oleg M. Sokolov he was referred to Sokolov by Sam Jaffe. He said he is planning a trip to Russia in March, 1964, with a Negro writer. They plan to do an article on Negros who have resided in Russia for 20 to 30 years. They are interested in facilities for Negros in the Caucases. Dandridge indicated he obtained information on this matter from the offices of "The Worker." Dandridge also indicated he would like to interview N. K. Khrushchev. Sokolov advised Dandridge to write a letter, with full details of his proposed trip, to Aleksandr I. Zinchuk. S

"The Worker" is an east-coast Communist newspaper. U

Jaffe advised that since former Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev was deposed there has been a very noticeable effort to change the image of the KGB in the Soviet Union through television programs, newspaper and magazine stories and the like. These television programs and newspaper and magazine stories resemble television programs, newspaper and magazine stories which might be read or seen in the U.S. and be classed as detective stories. They are designed to create a favorable impression upon the Soviet populace concerning the KGB as well as solicit the cooperation of the Soviet populace in combatting subversion on the part of foreign visitors as well as combatting crime. The Soviet populace is urged to report suspicious activity in both of these fields to the KGB. KGB personnel are depicted as competent, efficient, and friendly officials with whom the Soviet populace can readily do business. C

Jaffe has also noticed that Vladimir Semichastnyy, KGB Chief and member of the Central Committee of the Communist Party, has taken a more prominent place among Soviet officials at public functions than he formerly did and he can also be seen at diplomatic affairs circulating more freely than he would formerly circulate under the Khrushchev regime. C

Jaffe advised telephonically on January 19, 1965, that Yuri Vinogradov contacted him and asked him to take a package back to Moscow with him. Jaffe was to deliver this package to Vinogradov's wife's mother in Moscow. This package contained two "Bic" special ballpoint pens, six pacifiers produced by Baby Products, New York City, and all of these items were purchased at the Feldhammer Pharmacy, 1691 York Avenue, New York City. III. Allegations of WF T-2 Concerning Jaffe

WF T-2, a former officer of the Soviet Committee of State Security (KGB), advised in [redacted], that Sam Jaffe, ABC correspondent in Moscow, is a recruited agent of KGB. He was cultivated and recruited by Vyacheslav Aleksandrovich Kuskov, a case officer of the 1st (American) Department, Second Chief Directorate (SCD), KGB. WF T-2 indicated KGB probably would use Jaffe to introduce individuals connected with KGB to interesting targets and to obtain political information. S

On [redacted], WF T-2 prepared a handwritten report concerning Jaffe, stating that Sam Jaffe, an American correspondent, arrived in Moscow in 1961. Vladislav Mikhailovich Kovshuk also known as (aka) Vladimir Mikhailovich Komarov, Chief of the 1st (American Embassy) Section, 1st Department, SCD, KGB, settled a question with the 10th Department (operations against foreign correspondents), SCD, that the 1st Department would be working against Jaffe. WF T-2 recalled that Jaffe was acquainted with a ballet dancer from Finland who was finishing her studies in Moscow. Jaffe was actually thinking about marrying this girl. [redacted]. According to WF T-2, the Finnish ballet dancer could speak English and visited the American House Club. S

In [redacted] WF T-2 [redacted] Kovshuk and Gennadiy Ivanovich Gryaznov aka Grigoriy Ivanovich Lapin, Deputy Chief of the 1st Section, 1st Department, SCD, KGB, that Vyacheslav Aleksandrovich Kuskov, a senior case officer of the 1st Section, was working against Jaffe. WF T-2 wrote: "I don't know (whether) he was anagent or an operative contact. I am not sured but it seems to me that he was approached on the basis (of being) connected with women. In [redacted] I have seen Sam Jaffee in [redacted]. He with other correspondents visited a pair of times the Soviet representation there. He knew several Russian diplomats and among them (that he knew was) Suslov, Vladimir." S

SAMUEL ADASON JAFFE

During interview on [redacted] concerning his handwritten report, WF T-2 furnished substantially the same information. He stated he did not know whether Jaffe was a KGB agent or operative contact; however, he knew Kuskov was meeting with Jaffe and had obtained some information from him. WF T-2 indicated that Kuskov obtained an agreement with the 10th Department that the 1st Department would work against Jaffe in order to have an agent who could move in American Embassy circles in Moscow. WF T-2 said he thought Kovshuk had contact with Jaffe, probably posing as a diplomat and using the name Komarov. The informant does not know whether or not Gryaznov knew Jaffe.

S

WF T-2 was asked why he was sure Jaffe was actually a KGB agent or operative contact. He replied: "In [redacted] when we (KGB) were planning to work against a group of businessmen - very big businessmen - there was plan of work and there were different, different, one, two, three questions (of) which agents to use - not only 7th Department, but 10th Department, 1st Department - and there were put agents - to use the agents against this group - and 1st Department - Jaffe's name was there, and Kuskov was coming and giving information which he had received" from Jaffe.

S

WF T-2 recalled there was another case involving a visiting group in which KGB plans called for the use of Jaffe. WF T-2, who in [redacted], but who formerly had worked with [redacted] in the [redacted], telephoned [redacted] and asked: "How about [redacted]) receiving information from your agents on whom you can rely - you must help us." WF T-2 said [redacted] ordered Kuskov to use Jaffe against this group. WF T-2 stated: "I know they were received by Khrushchev and (it is) highly demanded in KGB everytime when Khrushchev was receiving anybody to know after that - what was said (by the individuals visiting Khrushchev)."

WF T-2 advised that probably in 1963 Kuskov was appointed Chief of the 2nd Section (operations against individuals suspected of being with American Intelligence and use of double agents against American Intelligence), 1st Department, SCD; however, "Kuskov still kept Jaffe as an agent or contact."

On [redacted], WF T-2 advised that the visits to Russia of the two American groups about which Jaffe reported information to Kuskov occurred in [redacted] and one involved a group of Congressmen who signed a treaty connected with limitations of nuclear explosions in the air and the other involved a "group of big businessmen" sponsored by "Time" magazine. WF T-2 said he recalls the businessmen group was sponsored by "Time" "because one of the managers of this 'Time' was coming, and a group of correspondents was accompanying them from - I think London, from Paris, maybe from Bonn." WF T-2 indicated that both groups met with Khrushchev and Jaffe reported to Kuskov "their opinions, their attitude." WF T-2 is of the opinion that Jaffe furnished his information orally to Kuskov who then prepared written reports. When questioned concerning the type of information Jaffe furnished, WF T-2 stated: "Oh, it's general - their opinion on something. Nothing important. Nothing from the point of intelligence - counterintelligence, in the meaning that he had given something only about special person, no, no, nothing. In general - their opinion and their attitude." S

WF T-2 was advised that Jaffe was expelled from Russia in the Fall of 1965 because of a critical story prepared by ABC but not by Jaffe. WF T-2 then commented: "I think - my personal opinion - that he couldn't be expelled. It could be a cover for Jaffe. They wanted to cover him, knowing the fact that I knew about his connection. I think it's possible for the sake of cover." S

WF T-2 was not aware of Jaffe covering the Francis Gary Powers trial and he was not aware of any "exclusives" furnished to Jaffe by the KGB. WF T-2 was not aware of any KGB officers from the 1st Department, with the exception of Kuskov and possibly Kovshuk who met Jaffe. WF T-2 stated: "I think maybe Kovshuk in 1962, beginning in 1963, could visit - meet him, but at the same time I doubt, because Kovshuk was playing the part of diplomat of Ministry of Foreign Affairs. He knew him in face, and I think Jaffe knew him (Kovshuk) in face - as Komarov." S

WF T-2 was asked if he had ever heard that Jaffe was in contact with KGB officers in the United States prior to Jaffe's Moscow assignment. WF T-2 answered in the negative and S stated: "But he was known to many diplomats - maybe some officers of KGB even - I don't know - on official base"(in connection with his activities as a foreign correspondent). WF T-2 continued: "Of course officers from 10th Department, from this section which was working against correspondents, knew him - Krivoshei (Vladimir Vasilyevich Krivoshei aka Krivitsky) and others could know him. He probably knew Krivoshei as Krivitsky - correspondent Krivitsky - because they were appearing" as offical contacts. S

WF T-2 stated Jaffe was approached by KGB in the second half of 1962, possibly at the end of 1962. S

On [redacted], WF T-2 was shown a newspaper clipping concerning the "Time" magazine businessmen group which visited Russia in [redacted]. He stated this was one of the visiting American groups about which Jaffe furnished information to KGB. S

IV. Allegations of WF T-3 Concerning Jaffe

WF T-3 advised that the American correspondent, Sam Jaffe, was approached by the KGB in Moscow but does not know the details concerning this approach. WF T-3 stated he did not know if the KGB had been successful in recruiting Jaffe but believed the attempt failed. He reported that Yevgeniy N. Aleshin commented that when Jaffe was in Moscow he personally controlled all of Jaffe's actions and knew all the details concerning Jaffe's activities. Aleshin also commented that he regarded Sam Jaffe as a hoax.

S

WF T-2 identified Aleshin by name and photograph and advised that until 1952 he was involved in Communist Party - Komsomol work; from 1952 - 1960 served in the 1st Department, SCD, KGB; and since 1960 or 1961 was Chief of 10th Department, SCD, KGB. While in the 1st Department he served in the 2nd and 3rd Sections; at one time was chief of the section dealing with Russians suspected of having connections with United States Intelligence, and from about 1959 - 1960 was Deputy Chief of the 1st Department.

V. Jaffe's Contacts with FBI Subsequent to Expulsion From Moscow, October, 1965

ALL

RUSSIA

On December 2, 1965, Jaffe advised agents of the New York Office of the FBI that he was notified of his expulsion from Russia in October, 1965, by Leonid Zamyatin, number one man in the Press Department of the Soviet Foreign Ministry. During his stay in Moscow he had contact with Zamyatin and Boris Pyadyshev, number two man in the Press Department; Fedor Semenov, number three man in the Press Department; Fedor Fedorenko, number four man in the Press Department; and Anatoli Kachev, number five man in the Press Department of the Soviet Foreign Ministry. All of these people were friendly to Jaffe and somewhat apologetic concerning the fact that he was being expelled from the Soviet Union. This was particularly true of Kachev, who told Jaffe that he hoped to be able to see him in New York City sometime in the future.

> Fedor Stepanovich Fedorenko has been reported as connected with the Soviet Committee of Information (KI).
> Leonid Mitrofanovich Zamyatin has been reported as connected with the Soviet Ministry of Internal Affairs (MVD).

According to Jaffe, Kachev also told him not to be concerned about his expulsion and that, if there were anything the Soviets could do for Jaffe, Oleg Kalugin was in Russia Washington, D.C. Jaffe said he is acquainted with Kalugin and knew Kalugin when he was the number three man in the Press Department of the Soviet Foreign Ministry, after Kalugin's return to Russia from his previous assignment in New York City and prior to his present assignment at the Soviet Embassy in Washington, D.C. Prior to his present assignment in Washington, D.C., Kalugin transferred from the Press Department of the Soviet Foreign Ministry to Radio Moscow in the American Department. Jaffe said Kalugin is very Americanized in his outlook and Jaffe knows Kalugin to be a very talkative individual.

SAMUEL ADASON JAFFE

Russia

Jaffe also advised on December 2, 1965, that he knows Vadim Evgenievich Golovanov, an exchange student studying at Stanford University, Palo Alto, California. Kalugin and Golovanov are acquainted with each other because of their journalistic backgrounds and assignments in the journalism field in Russia. Jaffe said Golovanov formerly was a Radio Moscow correspondent usually assigned to interview prominent American citizens visiting Russia.

Russia

During interview of December 2, 1965, Jaffe also furnished information on several other Soviet nationals. He said he had seen Vladimir P. Suslov briefly in Moscow since Suslov returned to Russia, and Jaffe indicated Suslov is now Andrei Gromyko's chief advisor. Jaffe stated Vladimir F. Petrovskiy and his wife, Mira, also were employed in Gromyko's office when they were in Russia. According to Jaffe, Petrovskiy and his wife attended Jaffe's reception at the American Embassy, Moscow following his marriage two and a half years ago.
